Obituaries

Series of CD's by James Fordyce contains images of obituaries found in the Cornerstone Genealogical Society's microfilmed newspaper collection. CD's include original images of death notices, obituaries, memorial notices and other articles relating to the deaths of Greene County area individuals found in the pages of the issues of the Waynesburg Republican, Waynesburg/Greene County Democrat and Democrat Messenger on microfilm at the library. The images were taken from the microfilm reader while compiling the Society's obituary index, and since they were not originally taken with the aim of publication, their quality varies. While most are completely readable, some may be quite difficult to read or partially illegible due to the condition of the microfilmed newspaper, the quality of the microfilmed image or the quality of the digital image taken from the microfilm reader. The obituaries are arranged by the issue date of the paper in which they were found, and an alphabetical name index is included on the CD.

Tax books

Greene County's surviving tax records go back to just a few years after the formation of the county from Washington County in 1796. The tax books list all of the adult male inhabitants and female landholders of each township and are helpful in determining when a family lived in the township. Most of the early record books are in rather poor condition and are stored in the basement of a county building. Although they are accessible to researchers requesting to use them, the room in which they are stored is not convenient for research purposes and no copy facilities are available at the storage site.

These Greene County Tax Book CD-ROM's make the records easily accessible to the researcher and contain digital images of the surviving earliest tax book for each of the townships in the county (except the newest townships: Gray and Freeport). They are stored in Adobe Acrobat files for easy viewing and printing, and a copy of Adobe's Acrobat Reader is included on the CD for those who do not already have it installed on their computer. The CD's can be viewed on any Windows 98/ME/XP (or higher) computer using a web browser and Acrobat Reader.

9 volumes of these CD's by James Fordyce (2006) are available. Per volume price: $10.00 each, shipping $3 per CD
