We're in a war! However we please to call it, we're still in a war!

What does it matter how our boys lost their lives?

What does it matter whether they were lost in training or in actual combat?

They're dead!

And they died in defense of a cause in which they believed.

Do we, their progenitors, who taught them at our knees, believe as deeply?

The American Red Cross is asking us-

Not to take up deadly weapons; not to leave comfortable homes and warm firesides; not to expose ourselves to untold dangers; not to face a certain death by a wanton enemy-

They are asking us for money - the very least we can give, to save innumerable lives and to alleviate untold suffering among our sired.

Major Lytle has had several scrapes with North Koreans during his precarious operations and one time brought back a T-6 so badly damaged by ground fire that a "wheels up landing" was necessary and the plane was salvaged for what spare parts could be found on it.

CAPTAIN JESSE PIGMAN

The search for the Family of Captain Jesse Pigman has met with the same ill success, which has accompanied the search for the names of his millit Company. There seems little doubt that he was a native of Maryland before he came to the Tenmile Country. Nor are there any deeds to show just where he settled after coming here about 1772-73, but it is fairly evident that he lived in the vicinity of Forswan, and very probably at the site of the present town of Jefferson. His wife was Sarah Lucas, born in Maryland October 12, 1734, and daugnter of Charles and Elizabeth (Evans) Lucas, and through this marriage he was a brother-lin-law of John Swan, St. That he lived in the Muddy Creek Settlement." (Draper Mss. William Crawford thought it wiser to warm Pigman and his company of their enemies nearer home and went with four of his neighbors to Pigman's home. Pigman was an active man in the defense of his Country, and on hearing what was going on, went to John Swan's Fort taking every man as he went along. He addressed them in this manner. There is at this time a large portion of our fellow citizens in arms against the Country, and there must be no skulking between parties. Captain Jesse Pigman appears to have gone on a trip to Kentucky sometime in 1780 for on October 6, 1780, he entered claim for 1000 acres of land in Jefferson County, Kentucky, to be situated on Clear Creek. (Book A-177). Later on June 12,1784, he claimed another tract of 4000 acres. (Book A. pp. 383.) But there is nothing to show that he ever went to this land. He was back in Pennsylvania on February 4, 1782, at the head of a militia company of 7 officers and 70 children, whose names he refused to the Pennsylvania authorities. Nothing has been found to show when he left here, nor to what place he removed. An important clue is found by the presence of an Adam Pigman with the Harrods of a later generation in the State of Indiana. It may be that Jesse Pigman followed the Herrods and Newlands to presence of Joshua Pigman, Sr., in Lower Clermont, County, Ohio, at an early date.

Because of the dearth of records which might locate the final settlement of Jesse Pigman, no certain record of his family is encountered. The petition for the State of "Westsylvania" contains the Mrs. Clarence Hughes, president of the board, has announced. The following committees have been named:

Jesse Pigman, Jr., listed in the petition to the Continental Congress for the setting up of a new State to be known as Westsylvania. A deed in Washington County shows that he married Lurene Newland, daughter of Adam and Mary (Harrod) Newland. Her mother was a sister of Captain William Harrod, and after the death of Adam Newland, married (2) Evan Shelby. (Deed Book 1-F-pp. 64 dated August 29, 1789.)
Charles Pigman, in the Petition to the Continental Congress.
Samuel Pigman, in the History of Ross and Highland Counties in Ohio (Williams Brothers 1830) says she was the wife of Alexander Crawford, who in 1796, with his wife and four children, floated down the Ohio from Greene County, Pennsylvania, until he came to the mouth of the Scioto River, thence up that river with his flat boat until he landed near Chillicothe. He was a millwright and helped to build the famous "Floating Mill." Alexander Crawford lived at the mouth of Waugh's Run on Deer Creek until 1779 at which time he removed to Fairfield Township and lived for another six years. In 1805, they removed to Paint Township, Ross County, Ohio, and set up a mill on Main Paint at Hewitts Crossing, where in 1823, Alexander Crawford was drowned attempting to cross the creek in a canoe. They were the parents of:

Many people carry "just a little" insurance just to ease their minds.

But insurance should really INSURE. In case of disaster, you want more than, say, a fifth enough or half enough to rebuild your house or pay off a damage suit or meet some other loss

Capper's Farmer

—Topeka, Kansas—

Farmers are more likely to pay cash for automobiles and durable goods than city dwellers; the magazine, Capper's Farmer, said in an analysis of buying habits.

Reporting the results of a nationwide survey, the magazine said it found 72 per cent of farm buyers paid cash for motorcars, against 41 per cent of the buyers in the nation's 12 largest cities, and 55 per cent in other cities of 50,000 or more population.

The cash purchase figures on durable goods such as refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, and the like, the publication said, were 66 per cent by farmers, 47 per cent by residents of the 12 major metropolitan areas, and 33 per cent by residents of cities of 50,000 or more.

Victor Hawkins, the publication's research director, said the analysis not only reflects the strong financial position of the farm population, but indicates credit curbs will be less of a restriction on farmers than on city dwellers.

Colonel Bernt Balshen reports an all-year weather station has been established on a floating ice pack in the Artic Ocean about 200 miles north of Alaska.

The famed polar flier told reporters at a Pentagon conference that tests had proven the practicability of maintaining a group of men floating in the Artic Ocean. He said the group, which averages about 15 men at a time, is supplied solely by C-47 transports fitted with skis, gliders, and helicopters.

Colonel Balchen said that in addition to maintaining a floating weather observation station the experiments also are designed to improve clothing and equipment for the polar regions.

Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

By GEORGE N. THOMAS

COLLEGE BASKETBALL
IN THE TWENTIES
The 1920's turned out to be the "Age of Decision" for Waynesburg College athletics. In that decade, College Heights officials were to decide whether baseball was broke. With $600 as a goal, decade, College Heights officials were to decide whether baseball would form a sports triumvirate
along with football and basketgall, and whether Waynesburg College was going into big-time athletics.

so basketball and football were given green lights.

Two years before becoming college president, Paul R. Stewart lifted the school out of the doldrums by coaching the immortal "Six Iron Men." Art Brown, Halle Long, George Black, Ben Staggers, Jim (Cappy) Pollock and Hale (Fish) Howard played during the winter of 1919-20. George Black was not only the actual but the morale center of the team center, president Stewart recalls, as well.

The school did not follow up this successful campaign by engaging a professional coach. They waited for another like Dr. Stewart, who in the meantime had turned his attention to administrative duties.
However, a youngster named Camden Sims became student-coach during the 1920-21 season. Sims was fortunate in that he had such stalwarts as Howie Long, Harry McHenry, Carl Furman, Paul Acklin, Carl Hoffman, Raymond Call and Scott Freeman in the ranks.
Coach Sims often considered entering the fray for a bit of action. Players recall, however, a voing the local light school team, which completed the sesaon undefeated. Wolf had another satisfactory season during the winter of 1922-23. His boys weren't winning all their games but they were bring-

Sports-minded citizens arranged for Frank Wolf, fresh out of Penn State, to come to the college in the fall of 1921.

Wolf knew basketball, baseball, football and track, too. But he had a special liking for the floor game. Guarding was stressed by Wolf. Rugged body contact was not only condoned but encouraged.

About December 1 Manager Russell Pratt (today, cards are drawn up one to three years in fellow named Clair Bee.

Top Scorer

Eddie Cipcic, Jefferson High School ace, smashed all previous county scoring marks as he racked up a total of 409 points in 23 games. His single game high was 40 points, scored against Mapletown.

Like Wolf, Stewart stressed defense and this hard working crew held opponents to only 406 points in 23 games—a little more than 21 points per game—for an all-time record at Waynesburg. Stewart's charges smothered Carnegie Tech and Duquesne, and held the Dukes to 18 markers. Big Bog Snyder, Red Smith and John Hoy won several games with late spurts. TELEVISION - RADIO - HOLLYWOOD

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A current favorite of the network radio hierarchy is young humorist Robert Q. ("Q" for nothing) Lewis. A trade gag is that Arthur Godfrey is Lewis' winter replacement. Lewis has held down the morning Godfrey summer for the last four years. Now he is on television—"The Robert Q. Lewis ert Q. Lewis

Robt. Q. Lewis
Show," Sunday inghts (11 EST).
CBS-TV. The bespectacled, easygoing fellow is somewhat a ranborn-and-bred New Yorker. In a second manner he is practically unique. He made a formal study of his business—drama and radio production—at the University of Michigan. He plays around on TV in a vaudeville voice, chattering and singing, following no definite pattern in particular. Off the air he is a fairly quiet guy, dotes on serious reading (current favorites: contemporary French authors).

DAYTIME "ROBBERY"

The first really important-money, all-cash quizzer has come to daytime radio. It is a familiar one. Headed by a bouncy emcee, Bud Collyer, "Break the Bank," for four years night-time radio's biggest cash Santa Claus, has moved to NBC mornings (11 EST), Mondays through Fridays. You answereight reasonable questions on Bank" (before you miss two) and you walk away with at Bud Collyer least $500. You . . . at least $500 can do better, like the contestant the other morning who nailed down and carried home $3490. Like the Statue of Liberty, the show, for visitors to New York, is a focal point. Out-of-town requests for studio tickets go on a priority list.

THE ROAD OF CAVALCADE

of its kind on a regularly sponsored basis. The show's original aim was to present dramas about people, little known people as often as not, who have made significant contributions to the growth of America. In a business domin a t e d by changes, it is interesting that to-cand Hampdend ay, fiftee nyears later, "Cavalcade" hasn't changed its goal a bit. It is, as ever, a program about Americans of courage, resourcefulness, ingenuity; the manner of telling remains simple and direct in an idiom of reality that has held effectively throughout the years. Like the scripts, stars are widely varied: Helen Hayes, Bill Bendix; Charles Laughton, Fred Allen. A feature this month: Walter Hampden, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in "The Stepping Stones," story of the Mayflower Compact.

Waynesburg High School officials are to be commended on the efficient way the recent WPIAL Tourney was run off. Few persons realize the work entailed in an event of this size. As they say in the Navy, "Well done."

The proposal to accommend to stock Crow Creek in Richhill Township with trout will be taken Friday night at the meeting of the Wind Ridge Hunting and Fishing Club, to be held in the voag building of the high school. Floyd Campbell is president.

The proposal to accept the state game commissions offer to stock trout was turned down at a recent meeting. A technicality in the by-laws made another vote necessary. Johnny Russo is the only member of the Red Raider cage team to win a berth on the WPIAL Section four team. John is a good team player and deserves the honor.

Anglers should remember that it is forbidden by law to fish in any stream from March 15 to April 15. That's the time for stocking streams with trout.

Baseball season will soon before but it looks like the efforts to form a county league will not pan out. There doesn't seem to be anyone willing to do the work necessary to make a league of this sort click. Waynesburg was once a rabid baseball town.

Defeated In Tourney

Don Thomas, former Waynesburg values the Naval Academy, was upset in the finals of the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling To urney by George Graveson of Yale. Graveson was voted by competing coaches as the outstanding wrestler of the event.

The State Police Say:

If you are one of those drivers who feel that an accident could not happen to you, may we point out that in recent months a world famous movie actor, an exword heavyweight cahmpion, a celebrated author and two generals of the U. And if accidents such as you read about in your newspaper can happen to the people mentioned above, may we ask you a very frank question: Who do you think you are? Bellefonte, in 2:17 of t period. Canonsburg High got two champions out of the meet, Hulings (95) and M. Pihakis (103). Joe Solomon failed in his bid for the 154-pound crown and was pinned by Lentvorsky in 2:11 of the second period.

Washington High sent three men to the meet but none of the three were able to cop a champ-

Baseball Practice

Coach Roger Jorgensen and his Waynesburg College Yellow
Jacket baseball squad haye started indoor practice sessions for what they hope will be another successful diamond year.
Nine regulars, including three pitchers, are back again this year,
but will have to hustle as there are numerous newcomers to battle them for starting roles.

The schedule, although not complete, has both Pitt and Duquesne appearing on the local diamond. Jorgensen said he hopes a few night games can be arranged also.

Yellow Jacket Matmen Win 4-I Tournament

For the second time in as many years, Waynesburg College's Yellow Jacket mat team walked off with top honors in the 41 wrestling tourney held in Cleveland, Ohio, Friday and Saturday. In Copping the team title, Waynesburg piled up a total of 38 points and had four individual champions, in Tony Gizoni 123), who won his second title; George Lewis (130), also a former winner; Ray Schneider (157), and Ray Carlson (177).

Other schools which scored points were Toledo University, 20; Millersville State Teachers, 19; Kent State University, 18; Case Tech, 16; and Lock Haven State Teachers, 9. A total of 24 different colleges represented by 137 athletes competed.

In addition to the four first place winners, Waynesburg had two third place and two fourth place winners.

The victory scored by the Yel-low Jackets is even more brilliant due to the fact they represented the smallest college entered in Waynesburg expects to enter a full team in the National Tourney at Lehigh University in Bethlehem. Tony Gizoni will be defending the 123-pound title he won last year.

Jesus Faces Death

Lesson for March 18, 1951

MANY A STORY has been written around the theme of a man who knows he has only a short while to live. But the best of these is the story of Jesus. It is the best not only because it is true; it is the story of the best man known to history. We Christians go further than that. We benefician by prefection in all his human life. Jesus' way of facing death is the fight way to face it, the way his followers too will choose.

Heart at Leisure

For one thing, Jesus did not try to conceal from himself or others the fact that he would shortly die. Through all that happened, he was aware of his death. He neither shut his eyes to the inevitable, nor mourned over it.

Now in our sad times, with death so near to all of us, the approach of death is not something to talk about as if it were an event of the 21st century. Death may come to any of us soon; death is very likely to come to many of us soon; death is very likely to come to many of us soon; and sooner or later, death is certain to come to all of us. Facing death may bring out all a man's hidden selfishness. From the moment he knows his days are limited, he may think of nothing but himself and his "chances" to escape.

Jesus, on the contrary, under no illusions about escape, accepting death quietly, day by day thought of others rather than of himself.

His Friends and God

Many persons, in the felt presence of death, withdraw into themselves. They cut the ties that have bound them to others, they set their faces "outward bound." Not so with Jesus. While it was still day, he would not act as if it were night. So we find him tightening up the bonds of friendship.

It is an interesting fact that of all Jesus' living days, those which were remembered best were those which came just before his death. Part of the reason for this may be that his friends came closer to him in those days; there was an ino'clock, after a long illness. She cause he in any way turned his back on them.

Again, we find Jesus' prayer-life growing intense in those last days and nights. Nowhere else from Jesus' whole life is such a long prayer recorded as the one John buts into the story Mark and night, March 11, 1951, at 11 o'clock, after a long illness. She was born and reared in Shaler Township, Allegheny County Surviving are her husband, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. Frank Henzler, Mrs. E. J.
