His story was about Charlie Fix.

Charlie Fix was a young minister, tall, lithe, clean-cut, and a straight thinker, whom Feller invited to New Orleans

during training season

It was Saturday,

Then we'd start a stampede.
But mother admonished us to clean our feet before invading the kitchen.
Then she'd take care of our dirty face, hands, and ears.
Then she'd feed us.
Remember?

We're grown up now. Have children of our own. Should know better.

We can do it! Do you know how?

Here's what Bob Feller did:

"In front of my staunch friend I solemnly took the vows and accepted the responsibilities that go with church membership—vows that I will try my best to live up to every day of my life."

Fine Asks Income Tax For Additional Revenue

Montgomery Ike's Deputy

General Dwight D. Eisenhower has named British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery as his deputy commander in the Atlan-tic Pact Army.

General Elsenhower also appointed eight other high ranking officers to his staff. He chose Air Chief Marshall Sir Hugh Saunders of the British Royal Air Force, as his air deputy.

A senior naval officer may be named later "if the need becomes apparent," a headquarters spokesman said.

Governor John S. Fine Wednesday asked the Legislature to enact a flat state income tax of a half of one per cent.

The governor also proposed an increase in the corporate net income tax of from four to five per cent to provide the balance of the $163,487,253 of additional revenue needed in the coming biennium.

Fine said the tax would be collected on the same payroll with holding basis as the Federal income levy and therefore would have "distinct advantages for collection purposes."

distinct advantages for collection purposes."

He estimated the income tax will produce 119 million dollars in revenue and the one per cent boost in the corporate income tax will yield another 44 million dollars.

will yield another 44 million doliars.

A joint session was called in the House to hear the governor's long-awaited tax message. The chamber was crowded with spectators as the Chief Executive began his speech from the speaker's rostrum.

The governor declared:
"I firmly believe that the financial requirements of the commonwealth have outgrown our present revenue system. I am firmly convinced the situation demands a brodening of the tax base. To further postpone this imperative step would be the timid answer to political expediency."

The budget is $1,240,843.88 higher than the amount estimated to be spent during the 1949-51 fiscal period, which ends

May 31.

With the exception of the $29,000,000 soda pop tax, Fine recommended the retention of all normalizations.

Secretary of State Acheson, as United States representative, is expected to urge each of the 21 nations:

Not only to prepare its own defenses but also, through the Inter-American Defense Board, to join in developing an overall strategic plan.

To increase and speed up its military program with possible U. S. assistance.

To designate some units for United Nations service to oppose aggression anywhere in the world, on the theory that the strength of the UN is an essential part of hemisphere security arrangements.

'The Tenmile Country and Its Pioneer Families'

(COPYRIGHT, 1950, By HOWARD L. LECKEY)

THE HENRY VANMETER FAMILY

Who was Henry Vanmeter, Sr., and wife, Martha, and from whom did he purchase the land on which he settled in 1769, when he brought his family to the Tenmile Country with the Swans, Hughes, Hillers, and O'Neils? This was the party led by Thomas Gist, which settled on land sold by Indian Trader, John Owens, of Fort Pitt, in 1757 to Abraham Teagarden of Frederick County, Maryland. It was the land on which John Swan and Henry Vanmeter each built a fort, on separate branches of a run, variously known as Enoch's Run, Swan's Run, and now Pumpkin Run.

Virgil A. Lewis, former State Historian of Point Pleasant, West Virginia, in his "Ploneer Families of Mason County, West Virginia" published in the Weekly Register on April 17, 1886, says he was a son of Isaac Vanmeter, the later a son of John Vanmeter, the Indian Trader, and that he was born on the South Branch of the Shenandoah River in Hardy County, Virginia, in 1740. Smyth's "Duke-Shepherd-Vanmeter Family" suggests that he was a son of Henry Vanmeter, another son of John, the Indian Trader, and that he was born in Virginia in 1742. It looks as though both of these are wrong, because the evidence clearly shows that Henry Vanmeter and his wife Martha had children before 1750, probably as early as 1744-46. Their sons, Joseph and Jesse were grown men at the time of the Revolution, when both served as officers of the Frontier Rangers, and Joseph was old enough when the family settled on the Frontier in 1769 to take up land in his own right, adjoining the land of his father. Sarah Vanmeter, daughter of Henry and Martha, was twelve years old at the time of the migration, and born in 1758, according to her tombstone, appears to have been about the middle child of the thirteen, indicating that a brother or sister was probably born about 1745-6. The birth of Martha Vanmeter, the eldest daughter of which we have a record, on December 24, 1754, would just about disprove either of the historians above named, as they would leave Henry Vanmeter but 12 to 14 years of age at her birth. Comparing the ages of the other heads of families in the Swan-Hughes-Vanmeter Party, we find that John Swan was born in 1721, and Felix Hughes in 1723, we are inclined to believe that Henry Vanmeter cemetery, which stood on the hill above their home, has been destroyed and no certain date can be given.

SIGNATURE OF HENRY VANMETER

Joseph Vanmeter, named in the will as the eldest son, was lieutenant in Captain Jesse Pigman's Company of Frontier Rangers in 1777, according to the pension application of James Pribble. Later he served as captain of the same company. He patented the tract of land adjoining his father and which is now owned by Mr. Randolph. Cyrus Vanmeter of New Castle, wrote that Joseph had removed to Indiana and came back to Pennsylvania on a trip. The horse which he was riding came back to Indiana without its rider, and backtracking they found the body and the will was truck a low overhanging branch, as there were no signs of any struggle. OILER GROOMS 10,000 HORSES

FIRST IN A SERIES OF STORIES ABOUT THE MEN WHO MAINTAIN AND RUN THE BIG INCH NATURAL GAS SYSTEM IN YOUR COUNTY.

▼IM ARTHUR* is an enthusiastic attendant to the 10,000 mechanical horses that pump natural gas in this Texas Eastern compressor station.

Like other Texas Eastern men near your community, he has one big objective in his job: to keep natural gas moving through the Inch Lines 24 hours a day, every day in the year.

On his skill and conscientious work depends the steady operation of giant compressors which boost the gas along to homes and industry - industry which, today, is working at top speed to fill our increasing national defense

Oiling scores of huge pipe line valves is another never-ending chore for Jim Arthur. Valves may only be opened or closed once a month, but then they must operate with hair-trigger efficiency.

*Jim Arthur's name is fictitious. He represents the men, who, in real life, work at 25 natural gas compressor stations on the Inch Lines.

At this master reservoir, Jim

Arthur checks the cleanliness and circulation of oil going to each cylinder of the 1,000-horsepower engines. Oil is the life blood of the machines he tends.

Historic Religious Meeting By 3 Divines In Centre County

James Hennen JEWELER 2nd Floor, Silveus Bldg.

Henry W. Shoemaker, President of the Pennsylvanian Folk for Society, State Museum, Harrisburg, said an unusual meeting of theologiams occurred about 1781-83 at Spangler's Fort, in Miles township, Centre County, with Francis Asbury, Wesleyan missionary; John Albright, founder of the Evangelical Church, and George de Benneville, organizer of Universalism, as the conferees.

"This memorable three days feast of reason is a constant topic of discussion among older people in romantic Brush Valley," Shoemaker said.

"Asbury was on his way to hold a series of revivals in Bellefonte; de Benneville was returning from establishing a congregation in Huntingam; but the purpose of John Albright, then cally in his early twenties and still a sincere adherent to the Lutheran faith, has thus far been mystery.

"Albright had a companion, a still younger lad, Michael Boehm, perhaps a brother of Martin Book in Whose meeting with Philip William Otterbein in the de Long orchard near Lancaster, was a founding cause of Orecbein's The Brethren in Christ.

"No doubt many of the ideas clarified at Spangler's sunk deep into Albright. His meeting with the learned Asbury and de Benneville influenced him profoundly, causing him to abandon the trade

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

You needn't necessarily have your subject facing into the camera to get a good picture, as is shown in this very natural shot of a young home-maker busily doing her chores.

Pictures at "the Awkward Age"

IT IS almost impossible not to make an appealing picture of a chubby, cute baby—whether his mood be one of laughter or tears, of a little smile or lusty howl. Sturdy little boys and demure little misses are also sure-fire subject material.

But what about the child that has reached the "awkward age"—that in-between-stage of braces or missing teeth, of 'tall, growing thinness or extra pudginess? This child isn't certainly in his or her most attractive period. He may easily be very self-conscious—and never more so than when he comes face to face with a camera.

Many adults recall with an embarrassed grimace the pictures of themselves at whatever was for them the "awkward age." It know one young woman whose father recently presented her with a snapshot of herself, taken with her eighth-birthday cake. The accom-

It's their way of financing a new school.

Gold is still mined in the area, but not in the quantities it was when 60,000 residents supported 25 schools. Now the 1,200 people have two schools for 375 students. Both are more than 50 years old.

The pupils' fathers and miners have mined 80 tons of ore which the mine owners contributed. Boxes lined with cotton are ready to be packed. As orders come in, the youths will break the big chunks into little ones.

Early Bird

Ed Schaugheney

Ed Schaughency has been one of the "early birds" at KDKA, famous for his Ed & Rainbow show every morning at 7:10. Known as the "Ole Getter-upper," he has become a household institution because of his cheery chatter and gags in which he is ably assisted by "Rainbow Jackson." Essential features of the show are his constant reminders about the correct time, the weather and driving conditions.

Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

The Mountaineers came to Waynesburg in Katy's first year. It was their first and last briphere, even though they won a successful season (15-8).

Amateurism prevailed during the Easterday era. Some scholarships were given to the needy, but that's as far as the schoolwent. Citizens made gifts to outstanding athletes, even to the distribution of spending money. Games were played in the Armory on North Washington street. Crowds stood around the walls, and players, rushing under the baskets, ran into people.

Easterday came to Waynesburg from Bethany where he coached football, basketball and baseball. Before that, he starred for Pitt. Red Irwin, guard and captain, was the only letterman on hand to greet him. Others were Ross Minor, Burlyn Willis, Leon (Jake) Etnyre, Marc Davies, Paul Harkins, W. Walter Montgomery, Harold Mays and Clair Bee, Newmomers included Bob Call, Julius Biery, Jr., John Weitzel, Wesley Gault, Dave Newell, Glenn Wood, Ward, Ray Welsh, Frank Olmstead, Mayn ard Wood, Med Schmidt, Ken Heider, Mox and Jacobs.

Easterday's boys trounced his former team, Bethany. Throughout the year, Heider, Woodward, Irwin and Weitzel were powerful offensive men. Freshman Welsh drew special notices on his guarding. Waynesburg's defense, thanks to Welsh, was superb. In the season's opener against Adrian, the halftime score was 54 with the Yellow Jackets leading. The locals eventually won, 15-11,

As Commissioner for Players

Officials and members of the Wind Ridge Hunting and Fishing Club are to be commended on their action to stock Crow Creek with trout. For years anglers have been forced to travel out of the county for this game fish but at long last their dreams of a trout stream within a short distance have come true.

The ban put on televising football games by the NCAA and the ECAA, is a great loss to the many fans who couldn't possibly see the game in person. Then too, there are those who are in hospitals and sanitarium statument the games pow described the county who will be denied the county who will be players that the part of the players the players that the players th

On the Cross was the battle with the dark powers, and the victor; or triumph. Baysinger was born August 6, 1895, at Nettle Hill, Jackson Township, a son of the late Daniel and Sarah Mundell Baysinger. He was a glassworker and spent most of his life at Washington, where he was a member of the Church of the Nazarene. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Dessie Barnhart Baysinger, whom he married in 1927; a stepson, Veral Baysinger, in the Air Force in Korea; two sisters, Mrs. Julia Tennant, and Mrs. Rebecca Duncan, both of Waynesburg; and one brother, Joshua Baysinger of Jollytown. Two brothers and one sister are deceased. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Jollytown Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. A. M. von Alman. Interment in Highland Cemetery.

MRS. FLORA WAGGOENER Mrs. Flora Waggoener, a for mer resident of Aleppo, died Thursday, March 15, 1951, at the hord was all the victor. Finley, Pa., and Mrs. Flora McCoy of Columbus, Ohio, six grandchildren. Funeral services were held Wednesday in the Johnson Fun

The New Testament represents the Resurrection in many lights. One of the most striking is that it was a reward, a reward for the Cross. That is, God "highly exalted" Jesus because of his willingness to die on behalf of others (Isaiah 53:12; Phil. 2:8). The Cross was the battle with the dark powers, and the victory; the Resurrection was the march of triumph.

Mrs. Namne Elizabeth McCoy Knight, 64 years, wife of Rex Knight of Holbrook R. D. 1, died suddenly Tuesday morning, March 20, 1951, at their home. She had been in failing health for sometime. Mrs. Knight was a daughter of Samuel and Ella Loughman McCoy, and was born September 9, 1886, in Franklin Township. She was a member of the Holbrook Christian Church. Surviving are her husband and three daughters, Mrs. Hildred Stolze of Scenery Hill; Miss Ferne Knight and Miss Elsie Knight, both at home; two brothers, Charles McCoy of Dallas, W. Va., and William McCoy of Holbrook. Private funeral services will be held at 1:30 Thursday afternoon in the home, conducted by Rev. Earl B. King. Interment in Rosemont Cemercy.

S. CLARK NEWMAN
S. Clark Newman, 82 years, retired farmer, died Monday, March 19, 1951, in the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. H. Hammers of North avenue, Cameron, W. Va. Mr. Newman was a member of the First Christian Church. Surviving are his daughter and two sisters, Mrs. Belle Raymer, West sters, Mrs. Belle Raymer, West day night.

himself.
But at the Resurrection Christ But at the Resurrection Christ rose above nature, as nature's Lord. The early church preached both Cross and Resurrection; and it has never forgotten either one.

"As He is, so are we . . ."

There is another important truth about the Cross and Resurrection. From the very heir.

truth about the Cross and Resurrection. From the very beginnig, the church has refused to think of these events as concerned with Jesus alone. The Christian who has begun to work deeply into the meanings of his faith will see farther than the child does. He will see both Cross and Resurrection from the inside.

Cross and Resurrection from the inside.

The church has long taught that on the Cross God was doing something for us, and that through the Resurrection God is doing something in us. Paulexpresses the life of a Christian as of one who is "dead with Christ" and "risen with Christ."

The Christian life is thought of as one which has undergone both death and resurrection. Death to sin; rising to a new kind of life; death to a kind of existance in which we are slaves to what its worst in us; rising to a kind of life in which we are "more than conquerors."

Not all Christians have understood this, to be sure. Perhaps the greater number of Christians think of their, life as one of simply trying (not very hard) to do the best they can, and usually failing. But the really high-level Christians have discovered something more profound: that the Christian actually has access, by
