Mr. Martz made a number of transcibed interviews with farm leaders to be used on forthcoming broadcasts.

Waynesburg Borough council Friday night rescinded a sales tax Hery and replaced it with four levies in order to make up anticipated deficit of about $16,000.

Taxes to be levied are:

Buyers from six states attended the 7th annual sale of the Pennsylvania Hereford Breeders Association Saturday at the Greene County Fairground, which grossed $41,485.00

Average per head was $645. The average of the 44 heifers consigned was $665, with the 10 top heifers bringing an average of $845.

Average for the 20 bulls was $610.

W. H. Vodrey of East Liverpool, Ohio, paid $1,225 for a bull, which was consigned to T. F. Koblegard at Weston, W. Va. Top price for a heifer was $1,085, paid by the Adam Edimiler Enterprises, Inc., of Greensburg, and consigned to the Ball Hereford Farms at Zelienople.

At the show preceding the sale the Koblegard bull was judged grand champion, and the Ball farm heifer was also grand champion.

Another West Virginia bred bull, Pioneer Domino 1st, owned by F. F. McIntosh of Spencer, was reserve champion. Advance Royal Lady from the well known Harkaway Farm at Downing town Farm in Chester County, Pennsylvania, was reserve champion among the heifers.

Glenn A. Arnold of Waynesburg, secretary of the association, was in charge of arrangements. County farm agents in south western Pennsylvania cooperated. Homer Martz, Pittsburgh radio farm news commentator, who attended the sale, gave high praise to the facilities for such an event, as well as praising the quality of cattle.

CAPTAIN ANTHONY VANSICKLES

When Henry Vanmeter went to purchase land in Mason County, (West) Virginia, he was, a's he states in his will, accompanied by his son Absolom, and Zachariah Vansickles and probably the latter's son, Anthony Vansickles. Captain Anthony Vansickles was born in 1771, and married on April 29, 1799, to Patsie Vanmeter. He bought land on Old Town Creek in Mason County, where he removed in 1800, and became prominent as a Captain of Millita in the War of 1812. His wife Patsie Vanmeter was one of the daughters of Henry and Martha Vanmeter, probably Mary Vanmeter in the list of Henry and Martha Vanmeter's children. The indentification is strengthened by a report that she was also known as Polly Vanmeter, a nick ame for Mary, while Patsie usually is a nickname for Martha, and we know that their daughter, Martha Vanmeter, married Richard Swan.

Superhighways For All U.S. Urged

-Washington-

—Washington—
A $12,000,000,000 Federal transcontinental superhighway system has been proposed by Senator Harley M. Kilgore (D. W. Va.).
Kilgore introduced a bill in the Senate to create a "transcontinental streamlined highway corporation" to build and operate such a system on a toll basis.
His proposal also calls for a five-man superhighway commission to be appointed by the President with a salary of $20,000 a year plus expenses for six-year terms.

Pittsburgh Opera Society Presents La Boheme April 19 and 21

BRIAN SULLIVAN

For the final production of their most successful season, the Pittsburgh Opera Society will present "La Boheme," Puccini's beautiful opera, at Syria Mosque, on Thursday and Saturday evenings, April 19 and 21. To sing the leading roles in this opera the Pittsburgh Opera has selected four outstanding stars—Irma Gonzalez, famous Mexican soprano, in the role of Mimi; Brian Sullivan, Metropolitan tenor, in the role of R u dolph; George Chapliski, opera and concert baritone, in the role of Marcel; and Pittsburgh's fa vorite soprano, Mary Martha Briney, in the role of Musett. The part of Schaunard will be sung by Edwin Dunning; Colline by John Lawler; and Benoit by Ralph Telasko. Supporting these fine artists will be a large chorus of local singers. Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

Bee took a teaching position in Pittsburgh after graduation. Mc-Keesport High began making overtures to him. The school needed a coach as well as a teacher. But he went to Mansfield, Ohio, High as teacher and coach.

of the best known schools, degrammar and the contract.

In 1928 Clair had a chance to move up a notch, so he went to Rider College of Trenton, N. J.
In mid-1929, Bee talked with Paul
(Hap) Frank, Waynesburg basketball star. Through Bee's intervention, Frank was given a scholarship at Rider and became Bee's assistant.

By 1931, Long Island University was five years old. It was a "baby" among the great educational institutions of the land, but if was growing fast. Its president asked Bee to take over the Department of Accounting, and coach football, basketball, baseball and tennis Bee accepted on terms that excluded a contract.
"What good is a contract."
reasoned the talented mentor. "If effither party is dissatisfied, a contract is worthless." In twenty years at LIU, Bee has never had a contract. It was never necessary.

The first fall spent at LIU, Bee turned out a grid team that won seven out of eight. Only St.

Clair F. Bee began coaching and teaching before he left Waynesburg College. He assisted Coaches Red Roberts and Brit Patterson in basketball, football and baseball, while a junior and senior. During his final year, Bee taught economics.

Bee wanted to become a coach someday. He had learned more than the fundamentals of football, basketball, baseball, wrestling and track while at Waynesburg. But primarily, he wanted to be a good instructor.

Bee took a teaching position in Pittsburgh after graduate.

Bee was set to go all out at LIU in football, but the war dimmed his bright hopes. The sport will not be revived until it builds its own stadium. Basketball, not football, is the sport that has made Long Island University one of the best known schools, despite its comparatively young years.

From 1931 to the present LIU

This hard to say why, yet it's hard to deny that there is something about an egg that makes you want to break it. It presents a kind of challenge to the curiosity. Its very fragility invites destruction.

Basketball players do not come to him as finished products. If a boy can't pass, dribble or hoot, Bee teaches him.

He's a psychologist, too. Constant pepper talk by his boys unnerve opponents, particularly high-strung stars. Bee is called the Knute Rockne of Basketball.

Along with Dr. James A. Naismith (founder of basketball), Pitt's Charley Hyatt, Dr. Forrest C. Allen of Kansas, George Mikan, Angelo (Hank) Luisetti and others, Bee's name is enshrined in the Helms Foundation Hall of Greene County's first and only trout stream, Wheeling Creek, will be stocked with 1500 legal size trout for the April 15 open-ing.

The fish will be placed in the creek from Ryerson Station on down by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

Commission.

All streams in the county are what are known as warm water streams and it probably would be useless to stock such streams with fingerling trout because during July and August water stages become so low that a great toll of young trout would be taken. However, the Fish Commission has been stocking warm water streams with legal size trout in recent years to give fishermen an opportunity to fish for trout closer home, and in such instances only legal size trout are released.

MRS. E. E. DAIL

Mrs. Louise Linderman Dail, widow of E. E. Dail of Hollywood, Calif., formerly of Waynesburg, died Wednesday, April 4, 1951. Mrs. Dail was a native of Washington, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Dail resided in Waynesburg for many years and Mr. Dail operated a jewelry store.

I. MACK COWELL

I. Mack Cowell, 81 years, of Kirby R. D. died at 8:15 o'clock Monday morning, April 9, 1951, in the home of his niece, Mrs. Ira Haines of Kirby R. D., after a lingering illness. Mr. Craves was a former resident of Waynesburg for the last in the home of his niece, Mrs. Ira Haines of Kirby R. D., after a lingering illness. Mr. Cowell was born September 25, 1869, near home of Mrs. Transpering illness. Mr. Graves was a former resident of West Newton, and had lived in Waynesburg for the last incomplete in the church cemetery.

FRANK W. GRAVES

Frank W. Graves, 74 years, of closert Jeronk W. Graves was born March 29, 1877, at Petrolia, a son of Clark W. and Katherine Corson Graves. He had worked most of his life in oil and gas fields in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Mr. Graves was a former resident of West Newton, and had lived in Waynesburg for the last into the first Baptist Church of Waynesburg and had been a member of Morgantown, W. Va., Uhion Lodge No. 4, F. & A. M., for more than 50 years. Surviving are his wife, Donna Neely Graves; one daughter, Mrs. Esther Fox of Mt. Morris, and two sons, Archie R. Graves of Fairmont, W. Va., whom he was visiting when he became ill, and Donald W. Graves of McKeesport; six grandchildren, and one great-grandson. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Church Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. T. L. Rich. Interment in Laurel Point Cemetery.

Hospital to Have Chaplain Service

Officials of Greene County Memorial Hospital announce chaplain service through a plan suggested by the Rev. Arthur H. Blank, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Carmichaels, and who was dean of chaplains at Sharon General Hospital before coming to Carmichaels.

Ministers of the county will serve as chaplains with visiting hours two or three days each week. Emergency cases also will be handled by the chaplain on duty or a clergyman of the patient's faith who is called to his bedside.

The chaplains will devote their bedside.

The chaplains will devote their calls mainly to out-of-town patients and non-church patients. However, their services will be gladly offered to any other patients in the hospital desiring it. The program will be entirely non-denominational and a daily devotional booklet, such as "The Upper Room" will be distributed. While at Sharon Mr. Blank trained 28 pastors for that type of work in the Sharon General Hospital and will give a course in Method of Approach to all county pastors desiring to participate in the program.

him to make a special study of the subject. Publishing his findings in the British "Medical Press" Dr. Parkes Weber concluded it is not necessary to be "musical" to acquire the humming habit. It can become almost an instinct, he said, and most people who hum build up a large repertoire of tunes.

Fascinating Fashions Judy Seaton

Hardly a woman is now alive who doesn't know that accessories make the difference between a smart outfit and "just another dress." And, in the spring, the well-placed dash of color becomes more important than ever. But with a few scarves and a little ingenuity, any gal can work her own miracles.

Imaginative Mary Jane Higby, of NBC's "When A Girl Marries," says that she began collecting scarves and novel ways of wearing them quite by accident. It all happened when she spent much too much money on a very plain, tailored black dress. So, having to wear the dress every day she used to dream up a different scarf idea for each wearing "and it often looked good as new, too."

"My pet idea," Mary Jane confided, "is to knot a bold, Roman stripe, silk scarf (about 18" long) and fasten it with an antique stick pin or some favorite piece of jewelry. It's amazing what this simple bit of color does for both the dress."

libated.

Paper came out the next morning with a cleverly written story of the wedding, with all its scintillating appeal.

The Pittsburg papers said the wedding was postponed at the last minute, due to a heart attack suffered by the bride's mother.

1st Break Noted In Farm Prices

JEFFERSON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

—Washington—
The first break in farm prices since the beginning of the Korean war was reported Friday by the Department of Agriculture.
The decline, amounting to less than 1 per cent for the month ending March 15, dropped the parity ratio for farmers from 113 per cent to 111 per cent, a net reduction of two points for the month. Moderate declines in the prices 9:30 a. m.—Morning Worship. Semon by the pastor. Subject, "Guarding the Secret of Living" 10:30 a. m.—Sunday School.

Moderate declines in the prices received by farmers for food grains, dairy products and hogs, and sharper declines in the prices of many garden truck crops accounted for the easing off of the general farm price level.

Wholesale prices, as measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, remained unchanged during the week ended March 27. It was the first time in several weeks that the BLS index failed to show a new high record. CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE R. B. Acheson, Pastor 9:30 a. m.—Sunday School. Upset in Panama Halts Expedition

Moving westward from head-quarters in Colon, Republic of Panama, the National Geogra-phic-Smithsonian Instution arch-cological expedition to an area inhabited by the Guayyamis In-dians (near Cocle del Norte) is awaiting replacement of valuable reorder lost of damaged equipment.

The expedition is exploring an area reported by Christopher Columbus in his log of 1502. According to Dr. Stirling, there is almost a complete lack information from this part of Panama ever since. Columbus reported that the Indians were plentiful in the area and that they wore quantities of golden ornaments. Very little is known archeologically about the inhabitants, and it is this gap that the party hopes to fill with words, pictures, and relics.
