LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Young Jackie Kelk, who plays "Homer" on "The Aldrich Family"—radio and TV versions—has one of the most unusual superstitions in show business. He was eating an apple from his Poundridge, N. Y., farm the day he won the role. Ever since he has munched an apple from the farm before each show. Pressure of radio-TV work, incidentally, has driven a great number of actors in New York to the country life. The radio "Henry Aldrich," busy Ezra Stone (Thursday nights, NBC), commutes daily from a farm in Bucks County, Pa., where he arises at 5:30 a.m., helps to milk 24 cows. The television "Henry" (Sunday nights, NBC-TV), young, New York-born Dick Tyler, an Eagle Scout, is 18 and making plans for a farm. Meanwhile he sails boats on Long Island Sound.

NIGHT INTO DAY

Bert Parks, who heads the afternoon "Bert Parks Show" on television (Mon., Wed., Fri., NBC-TV), is the best emcee in the TV business, according to a comprehensive poll of newspaper and magazine editors. Now the Oglala Sioux Indians of South Dakota (who have christened Bert "Cloud Horse") say the same thing. That should make it unanimous. Vivacious Betty Ann Grove, Bert's TV sidekick, also is getting recognition. "Television's Best Female Singer," say the readers of a leading TV magazine. Anyway, the two create a lot of TV fun. Their show is generally credited as the first to bring nighttime talent to daytime screens. "The Heathertones," beautiful girl quartet, Bobby Sherwood's band, plus name guests, round out the thrice-weekly 30-minute performances.

After his second marriage Remembrance Hughes sold his saw mill at the mouth of Tenmile and went to Oregon. He joined the Gold Rush to California, where he staked a claim on Pitt River. For a time he prospered, then found a large nugget, which made him a wealthy man. He sold the nugget and bought a ferry, but a flood wiped out his ferry and with it his fortune. He died in California at the home of one of his daughters.

Reserve Unit To Have Two Weeks Of Duty

Company C, 326th Engineer Construction Battalion, Waynesburg Organized Reserve unit, will be ordered to active duty for two weeks, effective July 15.

Captain William Garrison said his company will train under the 11th Airborne Division supervision at Camp Campbell, Ky., from July 15 through July 29.

These physicals must be completed during the month of May.

Another physical examination will be taken by all company personnel before leaving for training.

Volumes of Vision

Selected from a possible 150,000, some 12,000 of Theodore Roosevelt's personal letters are being published by the Harvard University Press under the editorship of Professor Elting E. Morrison of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The following are quoted from his letters on politics and foreign affairs.

"Now, about the Russians, who offer a very much more serious problem than the Germans, if not to our generation, at least to the generation which will succeed us. . . . I look upon them as a people to whom we can give points, and a beating, a people with a great future, as we have; but a people with poisons working in it, as other poisons. . . . work in us.

"If Russia chooses to develop purely on her own line and to resist the growth of liberalism, then she may put off the reckoning; but she cannot ultimately avert it. . . . she will sometime experience a red terror which will make the French Revolution pale."

"It is just as true now as ever it was in the old days that every free people must face the very difficult problem of combining liberal institutions and wide opportunities for happiness and well-being at home, with the power to make head against foreign foes. I do not suppose this problem ever will be perfectly solved.

"Liberal institutions mean of necessity government by elected representatives, who must have a multitude of immediate and pressing personal interests both of their own and of their constituents to distract them from the considerations of great and far-reaching policies—especially foreign policies."

'Big Eye' Called Astronomical Key Of Next 100 Years

—Washington—

Dr. Ira S. Bowen, director of Palomar Observatory, says the 200-inch telescope atop Palomar Mountain in southern California will be an important astronomical research tool for 50 to 100 years.

Speaking before the National Academy of Sciences at its annual meeting here, Dr. Bowen said the "Big Eye" is at work on all good nights, picking up light from stars and galaxies as far as 1,000,000,000 light years away. A light year is the distance light travels in one year, six trillion miles.

The telescope has been "hard at work" scanning the far-off heavens since a final polishing job about a year ago, and it is now being turned to pick up light from rarefied clouds of gas surrounding stars.

Washington County Woman Is State's Mother of Year

—Harrisburg—

Mrs. H. L. Mollenauer of Eighty-Four, near Washington, Pa., was awarded a scroll as Pennsylvania's Mother of 1951.

"I know you are qualified in every respect to represent Pennsylvania as its mother of the year," said Lieutenant Governor Lloyd H. Wood, in making the presentation.

The 66-year old mother of six children said the honor was "one of the highest surprises of my life."

"It makes me wonder what I am doing here," she added, modestly accepting the award.

The selection of Mrs. Mollenauer was made by a committee of six women, headed by Mrs. Harold Bodtke Lansdowne, chairman, named by Governor John S. Fine.

Mrs. Bodtke said the Western Pennsylvania woman was selected for her qualities "as a mother, participation in community activities, interest in international affairs and the success of her children."

On hand for the presentation at a luncheon in the state capital building were four of Mrs. Mollenauer's children and her husband.

Senator William J. Lane (D-Washington) congratulated Mrs. Mollenauer "on behalf of all the state legislators" from her home district.

"We of Washington County are very proud of you," he said.

The Rev. William R. McKim of Canonsburg, Mrs. Mollenauer's pastor, delivered the invocation. Eight members of the church also were present.

How would you like to RE-BUY everything in your house?

- if everything burned TONIGHT?

The furnishings in your home are probably worth 5 or 10 times what you think they are.

You've accumulated them one at a time—a chair, a book, a picture, a suit of clothes, a set of dishes—so you underestimate their total value.

Your insurance on these things is probably only a fraction of what it should be. For example, just list the things in one room, and see! Or ask us for a form on which to make a complete inventory of your household possessions. And we'll tell you how inexpensive complete America Fore protection against fire loss really is.

WAYNESBURG HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL 1918 To 1921

Athletes and fans celebrated Armistice, for it meant a return of athletics, which were abandoned by both Waynesburg College and High School. Basketball because it did not require an excess of manpower, had been continued.

Although the high school participated in only a half dozen ball games during the winter of 1918-1919, they lost only to Claysville.

Waynesburg met Crafton High, late in January, in the opener at Crafton. The starting lineup was John (Freckles) Hoy and Howie Long, forwards; Bill Throckmorton, center; Carroll and Hawkins, guards. On the bench were Bob (Red) Rinehart, Lee (Acre) Hoffman, Sam (Cranz) Faddis, Abbie Black, Ganear, Sayers and Bradley.

Long and Throckmorton paced the school to a one-sided victory. Long, in the foul circle, dropped in 19 out of 25 for a school record.

Hoy, Long and Throckmorton were headliners that year. Only Claysville scored more than 20 points.

At Canonsburg, Waynesburg set down that team 30-5, establishing an all-time low score for any Waynesburg opponent.

Although that mark was tied in 1930, it has never been lowered. Black, Long, Hoffman, Faddis, Ganear and Carroll wore themselves out in defense in that contest.

Both teams entered Waynesburg College's third annual Intersection Basketball tourney here the following week. Waynesburg disposed of its early opponents, and Waynesburg worked its way to the finals by tripping troublesome Washington by two narrow points in the semi-final.

Waynesburg was on its way to repeat over Canonsburg when its key men were injured in the second half. The visitors pushed in a shot in the closing seconds to win by a point.

Waynesburg High, too, received a cup—but it was for the best cheering section.

Ancient Arsenal

The collection of old-time weapons—many of them dating back to pioneer days—which John Lair of Renfro Valley, Kentucky, has gathered together in the Renfro Valley Museum of early Americana, is one of the most comprehensive in the country. Old as they are, though, many are still in good working order, and a muzzle-loading Rifle Shoot is held yearly in the Valley.

A great deal of credit goes to Charley Hess of Waynesburg High—a little fellow not big enough to participate in sports, but a molder of character, nevertheless.

Charley has been proclaimed the best cheer leader the school ever had. He built sportsmanship solidly.

The 1919-29 opener sent Waynesburg to Blacksburg where the West Virginia school took it on the chin.

Varsity members that winter included John Hoy, Lee Hoffman, Bill Kyle, Abbie Black, Sam Faddis, Fred Kimbel, Paul Harkins, Hawkins, Allen and Crago.

The first Alumni-Varsity game was scheduled that winter. Dr. Paul Stewart, Waynesburg College professor, coached both college and high school quintets. His scholastic charges didn't do so well against fellows like Hoy, Ross, George Black and Frye.

Abbie Black had replaced his brother Gorge on the high school squad and Hoffman was dependable under the hoop.

At the end of competition results showed seven wins in ten starts.

And Albert (Abbie) Black continued as the outstanding Waynesburg player in the 1920-21 season. Along with Bill and Charles Kyle, Black formed the deadly trio.

Seldom did a foe tally 30 points against the locals, and Waynesburg won two-thirds of their games. They dropped, however, two contests to Washington the same season.

Camden A. Sims, who had done coaching and managing on College Heights, had taken over the coaching reins. With the Kyle-Black-Kyle trio Sims depended on Jacobs and Hawkins for the first team, backed up by Don Kroell, Bradley, Archibald, Sayers and Minor as subs.

Morgantown beat Waynesburg 25 points on the West Virginia floor. Two months later the high school played a post-season game in Waynesburg. Bill Kyle led the boys to a 40-8 win. Jacobs, who had been a sterling guard all season, tossed in his first basket of the year in celebrating.

Later, the Kyle brothers and Black enrolled at Amherst College where they became stars in basketball, football and baseball. Never before nor since, has Amherst captured so much athletic talent from Waynesburg in one fell swoop.

Raiders Placed In Section 11, WPIAL

Waynesburg High School has once more been transferred from Section 4, WPIAL, to Section 11, for the basketball season.

Waynesburg will compete with Georges Township, Point Marion, Redstone, Masontown, and Vernon. While in the Section 4, the Raiders competed against arch-rivals, Washington, Canonsburg, and Trinity.

Waynesburg has been switched from section to section in the past, but always seems to wind up back in Section 4. Whether or not this switch is permanent only time will tell.

Waterford Downs Opens Saturday, May 19

Horse racing will be introduced in the Upper Ohio Valley Saturday, May 19, when the modern one-mile track at Waterford Park, Chester, W. Va., opens a 40-day inaugural meet.

The track is located five miles south of Chester and is operated by the Charles Town Jockey Club, Inc., Charles Town, W. Va.

Eight races will be held daily, Monday through Saturday, until July 4, with a fall meeting to be held from October 3 through October 27.

Thoroughbreds from major racing centers, including Maryland, Florida, New York, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and New England, are expected at the new track.

Yellow Jackets 13-7 Victims of Washington & Jefferson Prexies

Hitting the High Spots

By JACK HAMMERS

Well they held the 77th running of the Kentucky Derby at Church Hill Downs last Saturday, and a rank outsider, Count Turf, showed his heels to 19 other three-year-olds. None of the so-called favorites even came close to winning, although Repetore took a commanding lead at the mile mark and held it till they headed down the stretch. Count Turf is not eligible for the Preakness, so we'll stick with our derby choice, Repetore, to wear the black-eyed susans come May 19 at Pimlico.

We doubt if you'll see any more rejoicing among the Pittsburgh Pirates till the day when they win the pennant than was held Sunday after Cliff Chambers had given the club its first no-hit, no-run game in 44 years. Chambers, who had just got out of bed from an attack of flu, nearly missed pitching at all. Had not half the other pitchers been in bed with the same bug, he probably wouldn't have started and thus missed the chance of tacking up his name in the Hall of Fame besides those of other baseball immortals. One had only to look at the grin on Cliff's face to see he was feeling pretty good.

Now that Jack Wiley has been notified he may be called by the army for active duty, wonder who will get the job of coaching the Yellow Jacket football squad? We can think of a good coach right here from town who should make a lulu. He's had good success in every school he's ever coached and we can see no reason why once more he can't lead a team to success. His name, Harry McHenry.

Pro-Football Stars Jumping To Canada

Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League said absolutely no bans would be imposed on players who jump to the lucrative Canadian leagues.

But the portly czar of pro football admitted that he wouldn't think very kindly of any "jumpers" who get their fill of Canada and decide to come back to the NFL.

Bert didn't say outright he wouldn't take a boy back into the fold but he warned guardedly:

"I'm paid to protect pro football. Anything detrimental to the game must be curtailed. And I'll say this, contract breaking is detrimental to the game."

Several club owners are reported even more incensed over the exodus above the border of some of the United States' finest grid talent—a situation paralleling the famous Mexican League jumping case in baseball.

Red Raiders Shutout Mapletown High, 6-0

Waynesburg High School shut out the Maple Leafs of Mapletown High Monday behind a neat 4-hit pitching performance by Lyle Wise. The victory put the Raiders back in third place of the county standings with a .500 mark.

Coach Frank Bonifield's Raiders scored all their runs in the second inning when they batted around and chased starting hurler Jim Gregor to the showers.

Bell of Waynesburg had 2 for 3 to lead the Raiders at the plate, while Wagner had a like number to lead the Leafs.

Atomic Commission Builds $85,000 Animal Hospital

The House has voted to penalize the Atomic Energy Commission for building an $85,000 cat and dog hospital at Los Alamos, N. M.

The penalty came in the form of a tentative cut of $85,000 in the Commission's appropriations for the year beginning next July 1.

Representative Lyle (D-Texas) offered the amendment to an appropriations bill to reduce the $1,140,017,750 budget tabbed for the AEC.

He said the AEC built the hospital despite objections by the House Appropriations Committee last year. It has been rented out to a veterinary renting for $150 a month, he said.

"This is disgusting and ridiculous," he declared.

He said he only wanted to bring the matter to the attention of the House and then asked unanimous consent to withdraw his fund-cutting amendment.

But Representative Crawford (R-Mich.) objected to backing down on the amendment. It was then adopted by a voice vote.

Jack Wiley Facing Army Call

Jack Wiley, former all-time great under the late Coach Frank Wolf at Waynesburg College, and a standout performer for the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National Football League, took his physical in Pittsburgh last week and now faces recall to active duty.

Wiley, who holds a captain's commission in the infantry reserves, graduated from Waynesburg College in 1941.

Although he has received no definite return to duty orders, the fact that he has taken his physical rumors once again are rampant as to who shall guide the destinies of the Yellow Jacket football team this fall. Wiley was supposed to have had the job nailed down.

Jack is the popular choice of the fans to fill the vacancy created by the death of Stan Keck, but it is doubtful if school authorities will name him to the post until his army status is determined.

Raiders Fail to Score In District Track Meet

—Washington, Pa.—

Mt. Lebanon High School won the Washington Invitational Track Meet for the 10th consecutive time Saturday with 5 1/2 points.

Washington High placed second with 42 points. Connessville and Central Catholic of Pittsburgh tied for third with 21 1/2 points.

Bill Rushel of Washington set a meet record in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 11 1/2 inches. The former record was 5 feet 11 1/2 inches.

Other schools scoring: Carrick, 21, Dormont, 20, Donora, 19 1/2, Penn, 16, Scottsdale, 15, Uniontown, 12, Brownsville, 6, and Canonsburg, 3.

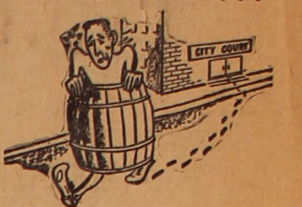

Hickory and Waynesburg failed to score.

Center High Blasts Richhill High Riders

Center Township High School's Panthers blasted 11 hits, good for 12 runs, and walloped Richhill Township High 12-1 in a game at Wind Ridge Monday. Bill Waychoff who relieved his brother in the second frame, fanned nine Riders.

Score by innings:
Center 100 235 1-12
Richhill 000 001 0-1

Pennsylvania Traffic Safety Record Leads U. S. A.

CAR INSPECTION IMPORTANT FACTOR

New Inspection Period Starts May 1st Ends July 31, 1951

- There is a direct connection between highway safety and car inspection
- Pennsylvania's twice-yearly checking of your car's "danger spots" makes your car four times safer to drive. Safety statistics prove this... up to 18% of fatal traffic accidents in America are attributed to mechanical failure of cars—compared to less than 4% in Pennsylvania. Twice each year official inspection checks:
- BRAKES—1. Stopping distance. 2. Lining and brake drum. 3. Emergency brake. 4. Line and cylinders. 5. Rods and clevis pins.
 - TIRES—1. For exposed breaker strip or cord fabric. 2. For cuts and bruises. 3. For ruptured casings.
 - GLASS—1. Windshield, side windows and rear window glass for cracks or breaks. 2. For discoloration.
 - MIRROR—1. For proper mounting and clear vision.
 - HORN—1. Press horn button. Horn must be audible for at least 200 feet.
 - EXHAUST MUFFLER AND PIPES—1. Muffler, manifold and pipe for leaks or loose connections.
 - REGISTRATION—1. Serial and registration plate numbers against owner's card. 2. Unobstructed view of license plates.
- STEERING and WHEELS—1. Front end wheel alignment, spindle, bushings and pins. 2. Steering wheel for excessive play. 3. Main shaft. 4. Cross shaft. 5. Steering rod ball sockets. 6. Pitman arm. 7. Shock absorbers.

LIGHTS—1. Headlights for beam candle-power... for aiming and proper distribution of light. 2. Tail and stop lamps. 3. All lighting equipment on car must work.

WINDSHIELD WIPERS—1. Hand or automatic for efficiency. 2. All rubber parts including hose and fittings.

Get an early start for safe summer driving. Have your car inspected in May. You will not be permitted to drive without this "inspected and approved" sticker after July 31, 1951.
