New Taxes Levied by Boro Council

Waynesburg Borough Council Monday adopted ordinances imposing a mercantile tax and also an amusement tax in order to provide for an anticipated deficit at the end of 1951.

Text of these ordinances will be found on page 6 of this week's issue of the Republican.

The license year for mercantile tax will begin July 1. The borough tax collector will collect the special taxes.

An ordinance to install more parking meters and area for installations was also adopted. The area:

High street, from West to Maiden; West street, from Greene to Franklin; Washington, from Greene to Franklin; Morris, from Greene to Franklin; Church, from Greene to High; East side of Morgan between Greene and High; West side of Morgan from High to Strawberry; Cumberland from Greene to High; East from Greene to High; Montgomery from Greene to High; Porter from Greene to a point 380 feet north of the corner of Porter and High streets; and Maiden from Greene to Franklin.

One bid was received for rebuilding an arch in Redbird Hollow sewer. Bids will be accepted at a later date.

In other actions, council decided to impose a $75 fee for a four-inch opening into the borough sewers and $100 for openings of six inches or larger.

An extra policeman was granted a $25 uniform allowance. Since two women were recently bitten by squirrels in the park, which have spread through the town, the game protector will be requested to trap same.

Accounting Books Given to College

Complete accounting bulletins and literature related to latest accounting procedures have been presented to the library of the Waynesburg College department of Business Administration by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

The presentation was made to James P. Rice, head the department of business administration at the college and who is also a member of the national organization of Cost Accountants. It was made at a recent dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Chapter in the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh.

The material is of much value to undergraduates in business administration courses and similar presentations have been made by the Cost Accountants group to other colleges and universities and Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh. It includes references compiled over the past 20 years.

The presentation was made by Lamar P. Otis, president of the Pittsburgh chapter and Robert Logie, past chapter president who is president of the National Roll and Foundry Company in Pittsburgh.

General Bradley Sees Success

—Los Angeles—General Omar N. Bradley believes the fighting in Korea can be brought to "honorable and successful conclusion within the confines of Korea."

The head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff also said: "The Red offensive in Korea, in my opinion, can be stopped. We are in good shape from the standpoint that we have reserves up to division level."

General Bradley said that the United Nations will obviously have to give up some ground in the face of numerical superiority, but he added:

"I think the United Nations will stop the attack and inflict terrible casualties on the Reds for which we are aiming."

Army Association Elects Ex-Steeler Star

Dick Riffe, former fullback with the Pittsburgh Steelers, was elected president of the Pennsylvania-New Jersey Sector, Sixth Infantry Division Association. Riffe, of Adamstown, is a veteran of World War II.

Thoughts on Memorial Day

The following editorial was taken from THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, and was entitled "Thoughts on Armed Forces Day." We have changed it to "Thoughts on Memorial Day," for which we think it just as appropriate:

Next Wednesday is Memorial Day. It is already being observed on the fighting front by a heroic and, we are confident, effective stand against another massive drive by the Chinese Communists. It is being observed on the home front by parades and speeches and, best of all, by a minute of silence for prayer.

The highest tribute in words we can pay the armed forces is to express in one breath our sorrow that armies and navies still exist in the world to which Jesus ministered and our gratitude that so long as free nations must have instruments of force to protect themselves those instruments are well designed and sturdy. If a sword must be wielded at all, there is no virtue in wielding a dull one.

The only valid purpose of the armed forces of free and Christian nations is to make force unnecessary. Armies and navies, in battle or in readiness, neither build peace nor make a better world. But unless men of good will in arms successfully turn back the powers of tyranny and darkness, men of good will at home may have no freedom to work for a world of brotherhood, reason, and law in which wars will be unknown. And unless that work for a better world goes forward the men on the battlefield will have endured and sacrificed in vain.

The greatest tribute in deeds the nation can pay its fighting men, therefore, is to preserve for them a national way of life worth fighting for.

That way of life will not be preserved by sowing seeds of suspicion and mutual distrust under the guise of debating differences in policy.

It will not be preserved by exploiting an emergency-caused inflation while demanding restraints on the other fellow.

It will not be preserved by rooting out a conspiracy which would destroy individual liberties, in the manner of communism, with methods which could destroy those same liberties in the name of Americanism.

The ship of state is breasting a gigantic tempest. Americans all are aboard. And they must win through together or go down together.

Could it profit some to feast for a time if in so doing all might be made to fast for a generation? Could anyone gain by tactics to replace a less-than-adequate leadership if the ship should be wrecked by collapse of respect for all leadership? What merit could there be in hunting down the few apostates by methods which make loyal dissenters afraid to speak their minds? What hope could there be in dissipating energies on schisms and dissensions instead of joining hearts and hands against the perils which menace all?

On the fighting front today whites and Negroes, Jews, Protestants, and Roman Catholics, Republicans and Democrats, liberals and conservatives, the sons of mechanics and the sons of managers—all are facing a common foe together. For the home front to resolve to match their unity would make Memorial Day meaningful indeed.

Legion, V. F. W. to Observe Memorial Day Here

Rev. Wm. Gross Honored by Congregation

The First Presbyterian Church of Willoughby, Ohio, recently held a dedication and anniversary ceremony in honor of the 10 years of service of their minister, Rev. William Gross.

Mr. Gross is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gross of South Washington street, Waynesburg.

The dedication was held for the Anchor room which more than doubles former space for social gatherings and Sunday School classes.

The Lake County News Herald writing of the occasion stated:

"That Presbyterians in Willoughby have never stopped being grateful for the divine guidance that brought them a young, energetic, capable and inspired minister 10 years ago was clearly evident at the dedication and anniversary ceremonies which members of the First Presbyterian Church held. Inspired by the faith and courage which personify their pastor, Rev. William Gross, members were able to realize one more dream and mark it with a dedication service."

A number of ministers from the Cleveland area attended.

Poppy Day Saturday

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Waynesburg and throughout the United States.

Everyone is asked to wear a memorial poppy in tribute to America's war dead, and to contribute to the welfare of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans. Poppies will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers from the American Legion Auxiliary.

With our country preparing to defend itself against new dangers, wearing of the poppy will have increased significance this year. The little red memorial flower reminds us of the sacrifices made for the freedom and security of America in the past, and gives us inspiration for service to our country in the present emergency.

The poppies which the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute here have been made by disabled veterans of both World Wars. The work has been beneficial to them as well as giving them opportunity to earn money for themselves and their families. Many thousands of disabled veterans have been given employment in the Auxiliary's poppy program in hospitals throughout the country, and the more poppies worn on Poppy Day, the more veterans who can be given employment.

Contributions made by those who wear the poppies form a principal source of support for the vast rehabilitation and child welfare work carried out by the Legion and the Auxiliary, so by wearing a poppy everyone is aiding the living victims of war while they honor the war dead.

Committees from both posts will decorate graves on Wednesday morning.

Organizations wishing to participate are asked to contact Virgil Hilverding at the V. F. W., or Ernest O. Clayton at the Legion.

70,000 Saved From Cancer

—New York—The American Cancer Society has reported that 70,000 Americans were saved from cancer last year. Another 210,000 persons died from the disease.

Another 70,000 persons might have been saved, said Mefford R. Runyon, the society's executive vice-president, if their cancers had been detected and treated early.

The 210,000 deaths are a new high toll for the disease, Runyon said in the society's annual report. He said the increase may be due to the fact that more people are living to ages when cancer becomes more prevalent and to the fact that doctors are more accurately diagnosing cancer.

Parcel Post Rates Hiked

—Washington—The Interstate Commerce Commission has authorized the Post Office Department to make an average 25 per cent increase in parcel post rates.

Congress had refused Donaldson's request for general advances in virtually all postal charges, but directed that he take up the question of parcel post rates with the ICC.

The ICC left it to the Postmaster General to fix the date when the higher rates will go into effect.

The Post Office Department announced the rates will be changed in line with the authority on October 1.

Supreme Court Upholds Pochron Will Decision

Pennsylvania Supreme Court on Monday sustained the lower court in the contest over the will of the late Mrs. Gertrude Southard Pochron of Waynesburg and Dry Tavern, in which a will made two days before her death gave her estate to her young husband, John Pochron.

The appeal was taken from the lower court's decision by the Mining Engineers Society of Western Pennsylvania and Waynesburg College, both beneficiaries under a will made October 26, 1948.

Pochron had presented a will for probate dated July 2, 1947, in which he was the beneficiary, and during the legal battle presented a "surprise will" made two days before the elderly Mrs. Pochron's death.

The estate is valued at about forty thousand dollars. Mrs. Pochron's property in Dry Tavern had been deeded to her second husband previously.

The Supreme court also granted the appeal of James Stewart and wife of Chartiers Township, Washington County, in a suit against Dennis J. Loughman of Waynesburg. The Greene County court had granted compulsory non-suit after the plaintiff's case was presented. Under the appeal trial may proceed.

Stewart claims injuries in 1946 when he was struck by the propeller of a plane owned by Mr. Loughman as he was leaving the plane at the Greene County Airport.

Brannan Makes New Appeal

—Washington—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has made a new appeal for a broadened program of farm price supports to protect farmers against a sudden collapse in demand for their products.

In a somewhat delayed annual report for 1950, the Secretary said farmers—in the nation's interest—may produce even beyond the amounts they can sell at profitable prices. Brannan said:

"We want that extra amount as an anti-inflationary influence. We want enough to meet current demands and maintain safe reserves as a vital safeguard against hazards of weather and other unforeseeable forces."

The Secretary said that "in fairness to the farmer, can we expect him to bear the full burden of protecting the rest of the economy by producing to the extent of driving his own returns below a fair level?"

FAMILY OF SOLOMON HICKMAN

Solomon Hickman removed from Fayette County, Pennsylvania, about 1800 and settled near Jefferson, Pennsylvania, on the Waynesburg Road near Laurel Point, where his home is still standing. He was born November 10, 1770, probably in Maryland, and died in Greene County, Pennsylvania, on June 9, 1845. He is buried with his wife in Green Mount Cemetery at Waynesburg. He married, June 4, 1795, Elizabeth McCombs, who was born August 11, 1775, and died December 22, 1870. Their children were:

1. Joseph Hickman, born 1796, died young.
2. Archibald Hickman, married Barbara Cyphers.
3. Mary Hickman, born January 1, 1801, died September 13, 1854; married October 2, 1831, Charles Rex, born June 1, 1801, died September 13, 1854. (See Rex Records.)
4. Elizabeth Hickman, born May 1, 1803, died July 3, 1872; married Thomas Hughes, born April 8, 1801, died June 3, 1872. (See Hughes Records.)
5. Sarah Hickman, married (1) Hixenbaugh, (2) Bradley.
6. Solomon Hickman, Jr., married Eliza Cary.

8. Ann Hickman, married Elias McClelland.
9. Experience Hickman, born May 23, 1815, died September 9, 1899, married (1) Mathias Hunnell, born 1808, died September 28, 1846, she married (2) _____ Sharp. (See Hunnell Records.)

THE ROSEBERRY FAMILY

There are two versions of the ancestry of the Roseberry Family of Greene County, both of which are the result of much study and on the spot investigation and backed by existing records. Backed by proof furnished by deeds of record in Sussex County, New Jersey, and by much documentary proof, Mr. J. B. Orndorff of Graysville, bases his claim that the common ancestor of the family was Joseph Roseberry, who at one time owned 228 acres of land where the town of Phillipsburg, New Jersey, now stands. This Joseph Roseberry had at least two sons, John Roseberry and Michael Roseberry, the latter being the ancestor of the local branch of the family. Tradition further supports this claim as Mr. Orndorff, who is a careful investigator, says the Roseberrys were of English origin and this seems correct.

The other version of ancestry are from notes compiled by Mr. J. M. Roseberry, claiming the family is of German ancestry, descended from Michael Roseberry, who lived on the Susquehanna River during the Revolution, having moved there from the Tuscarora Valley on the Juniata River. It is true there was a Michael "Rausberry" in the Frontier Rangers from Northampton County, Pennsylvania, and that a Michael Roseberry from this section was on the Wyoming Expedition July 29, 1779, but this man doesn't seem a possible ancestor of the Greene County family. (Penna. Arch. Series III Vol. 23, pp. 300 and Series VI Vol. 14 pp. 32-33.) The similarity of names may have brought about this selection of an ancestor.

It is possible however that Michael Roseberry, immediate ancestor of the local family, did live for a time on the Juniata River. A "Michle Roseberry" was living there at the time of the 1790 Census, being the head of a family of 2 males over 16 years of age, three males under 16 years, and 2 female persons. No such person is found in the Census of Washington County for that year, nor in any other available records. His sons, John Roseberry and Mathias Roseberry (the latter but 15 years of age) are in the list of those living near Jefferson in 1790. Known records of Mathias Roseberry show that he was married October 8, 1795, so that the Census record of 1790 showing him head of a family of 2 adult males and one female may be taken as further proof that Michael Roseberry may have come west with his sons in 1784, and been living with his wife at a home provided by Mathias. In such event it would further substantiate the claims of Mr. J. B. Orndorff, that Michael accompanied his son Mathias to Center Township, where he died and is buried.

All claims say that Michael Roseberry married Mary Mapel for his first wife, and this points again to New Jersey ancestry. It may have been the only marriage made by Michael Roseberry, though Mr. J. M. Roseberry claims a marriage with a wealthy Ruth Chambers. Here again the Tuscarora Valley would be considered, but there is no evidence to support the claim that Ruth Chambers was the mother of the children of Michael Roseberry. All evidence would indicate that Mary Mapel was the mother of the children. The death of Michael Roseberry and his wife (or wives) is not given in any records.

Family of Michael and Mary (Mapel) Roseberry

1. John Roseberry, born April 28, 1761, died June 20, 1853 (or August 20, 1855), buried with his wife in the old Point Pleasant Cemetery, Mason County, West Virginia. He had removed from Greene County to Mason County, (West) Virginia in 1812, and was living there in 1832 when he applied for a pension for services in the Revolution. His application said he enlisted in Hunterdon County, New Jersey, on September 1, 1776, serving until 1781, during which time he took part in the Battles of Princeton and Trenton. He wintered with Washington's Army at Valley Forge and was with the Army when Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown. John Roseberry married Florence Cree, daughter of Robert and Janet Cree. It is not known where they were married nor is the date shown. Robert and Janet Cree were living in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania at the time of the Revolution, but settled on land near John Swan's Fort soon afterwards. If John Roseberry married before the end of the Revolution it would confirm residence of the Roseberrys on the Juniata, prior to their settlement in the Tenmile Country.

THE MILLIKEN FAMILIES

At least three separate Milliken (Milligan) Families are represented in Greene County. Rev. G. T. Ridlon in an excellent genealogy of the families, published at Lewiston, Maine, in 1907, gives some information on the three branches. One of these families was descended from Thomas Milliken, born in Northern Ireland as early as 1730, who with his brother, James Milliken, came to America about 1750-54 and settled first in Chester County, Pennsylvania. Between 1760 and 1770 he secured a grant of several hundred acres of land on the Juniata River, in what is now Sprucehill Township, in the Tuscarora Valley. At the outbreak of the Revolution, he with several of his neighbors walked to Lancaster, where they enlisted in a company of expert riflemen, which became a part of the Second Regiment of the Continental Line. The company arrived at Boston August 4, 1775, and participated in several engagements about Cambridge under General Lee. Thomas Milliken afterward joined Arnold in his march to Quebec, rendering valuable service as a spy. In 1778 he was sent home, broken in health by the long marches and exposure from cold and hunger, dying soon after his arrival at home. He is buried in the so-called McKee Graveyard. Records say his wife was Jane McConnell.

TAPS FOR EX-SERGEANT BANKS

Sergeant Banks went through some tough fighting overseas in World War II—suffered a slight wound.

Ex-Sergeant Banks was killed. He met death in a traffic accident close to his home. An American Legion bugler blew taps for him.

The Ex-Sergeant—and over five hundred other Americans—died during last year's Memorial Day holiday week-end... IN VAIN!

For a traffic death is a needless death.

You are offering up your life to your own vanity when you speed... when you fail to yield the right of way

...disobey traffic signs or regulations. Isn't this a futile sacrifice? Isn't it better to follow the rules of the road designed by experts to safeguard you?

Have fun this Memorial Day, but make it a day you will remember—happily!

"With my family of seven I NEED A SPEEDY RANGE"

... says Mrs. John Killian, Jr. of Chestnut Street, Springdale, Pa.

Mrs. Killian's electric range was really working at top speed when we called on her. It was only 10:30 in the morning, but she already had baked a delicious-looking chocolate layer cake—and a huge pineapple upside-down cake.

In the oven, she had a roast, a casserole of macaroni and cheese—and a stew was simmering in the deep well cooker. She finds it easier and more economical to cook this way to satisfy the hearty appetites of her five youngsters—and likes oven meals because they save dishes.

Mrs. Killian bakes a couple of times a week, often baking bread and 400 cookies at a batch. You can see why she likes her fast-cooking electric range, when she goes into "quantity production" like this.

"I should have had a freezer long ago, with my family," says Mrs. Killian. "Now I don't have to send the children to the store all the time, and I can plan my food buying to save us time and money." The Killian's buy half a steer at a time and have it cut and wrapped for the freezer. They freeze the chickens they raise themselves—also vegetables from their backyard garden to enjoy during the off-season.

Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

By GEORGE N. THOMAS

WAYNESBURG HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

No group of athletes wants to succeed an undefeated squad. But that's what happened to Waynesburg High School's 1922-23 basketball team.

The loss of John Hoy, Bill Kyle and Bob Rinehart was a blow, but Coach Frank Wolf still had hopes for another big year. Back to school the fall of 1922 came Freddie Kimbel. In two previous years, Kimbel had become a star in football and basketball, and he returned to captain the floor team.

Early in his high school days, Kimbel was tagged "Able," by Jim Sutton. Sutton got the name from Abe Kimble, a locksmith and general repairman about town.

Kimbel started it by calling Sutton "Creampuff."

Able was welcomed in Coach Wolf's camp because he was adept in scoring points. Annexing 17 or 18 points was a typical performance prior to his senior year. Once, while playing for Company K, he recorded 34 in the Armory.

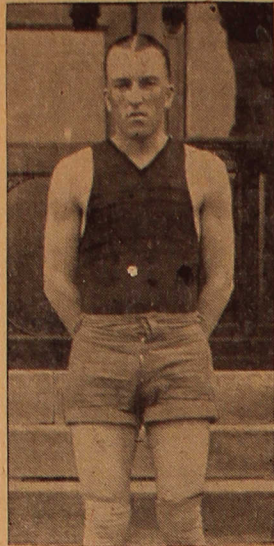

Basketball in the early 1920's was a scientific game. Guards were guards, not scorers.

Coaches chose one team member who shot all fouls for their teams. Kimbel was Coach Wolf's choice and it enabled Able to set two all-time records.

Against Morgantown, Captain Kimbel scored four field goals, and 31 out of 45 fouls, for a record total of 39 points. Not only was that an individual scoring feat as a total, but the 31 fouls shot was a new mark, too.

Lawson Bash, in 1910-11, and Paul Ross, in 1916-17, had scored 32 points as titleholders. Hallie Long was champion foul-shooter since he dropped in 19 free throws out of 25 attempts in 1918-19.

A few nights later, Kimbel and Long opposed each other in the annual Varsity-Alumni tussle. Able stepped to the foul line 26 times and sank 19 of them.

FRED (ABLE) KIMBEL

Fred (Able) Kimbel, class of 1923, now a Washington, D. C., contractor, holds the individual scoring record for one basketball game at Waynesburg High School. On December 28, 1922, in a game against Morgantown, West Virginia, at Waynesburg, he registered 31 fouls (also a record) and four field goals for an all-time record of 39 points.

While the crowd went wild at the amazing foul scoring of Able, his father sat in the front row and was enraged. In the dressing room, he scolded young Able for poor foul shooting. The old fellow knew of what he spoke, too, for he was an expert of the game.

Mr. Kimbel considered his boy one of the best. When more than 700 entered a foul-shooting contest sponsored by a Pittsburgh newspaper, he marched the lad into the arena. Able was nervous but he finished thirteenth. Whitey Littel won it and later became Able's team mate at Kiski Prep. Eventually, Littel played with the Cleveland Rosenblooms.

Although Able was a standout for WHS, he was not a one man team. He had support from Julius (Butch) Biery at the other guard, Lee (Acre) Hoffman and Earl (Fraz) Stephens at forwards, and Bill Ullom at center.

Valuable reserve men were Bob (Thug) Call, Sam (Caranz) Faddis, Lincoln (Bud) Dunn, Walter (Buck) Montgomery and Victor Silveus. Dick Hatfield was manager, assisted by Odell (Pooch) Cooper and Albert Day. Hatfield and Cooper were excellent cheerleaders as well.

This team won eight of 13 encounters. Headed for another big year, most of the varsity caught the grip in January and only Ullom was left to mold a team. The following month, Wolf resigned from Waynesburg College. That meant he'd leave the high school, too. But he agreed to finish the semester.

Waynesburg, with Kimbel, Ullom and Biery showing the way, romped over Washington, South Hill and Crafton. In a late season showdown, Carmichaels, winner of 10 straight games, bowed to Waynesburg for the county floor title.

Outside the county, Washington and Uniontown were the chief rivals. It was never proven that they did it intentionally, but Uniontown was noted for having the prettiest girls over Waynesburg's basket. If anything distracted Able's aim, it was those girls.

Uniontown had a crack team that year and they scheduled Passaic, N. J. (winner of 50 straight) in an inter-sectional test. As a warmup, the Fayette County crew carded Waynesburg.

Kimbel cracked that night to get "hot." He just couldn't miss and Uniontown was badly beaten. Almost inseparable pals were Kimbel and Center Bill Ullom. Able was made guard so that he and Ullom could control the tip-offs. Tipoffs followed each score

Jefferson Tops Carmichaels 8-6 In Section 24 Playoff

Jefferson High School pushed across two runs in the seventh inning to defeat Carmichaels 8-6 and win the WPIAL Section 24 flag in a playoff game at Waynesburg Monday.

The Rockets took an early lead in the game holding a 4-0 lead at the end of the third inning. The Mikes scored twice in the fourth to cut the lead to 4-2.

Jefferson started the sixth inning by adding two more runs on a single by Stefanik and a home run by Eddie Cipicic. Observers said the hit of Cipicic's was one of the longest homers ever hit at College Field.

Cumberland came right back in their half of the sixth to score four runs and knot the score 6-6. The stage was then set for Jefferson to score the clinching runs in the seventh.

Jim Moore, standout hurler for the Mikes, was tagged with the loss, while Kline, who relieved Kraich in the fifth, was the winning pitcher.

Jefferson drew a bye in first round competition for the WPIAL crown.

Jack Wiley Free From Army Call

The way has been made clear for Jack Wiley to accept the football coaching position at Waynesburg College as he has received official notification from Headquarters, Second Army, that results of a recent examination show that he is permanently physically disqualified from service in the active or inactive reserves.

Wiley said he thought the condition resulted largely from "too many games played without a noseguard."

In his lengthy career as a line-man at Richhill Township High School, Waynesburg College, and the Pittsburgh Steelers, he had his nose fractured repeatedly.

The grid coaching position at Waynesburg became vacant with the recent death of Coach J. Stanton Keck and the resignation of Assistant Benny Paul, and Wiley has been mentioned prominently as a likely selection for the post.

Pitt Coach Speaks At Raider Dinner

Members of Waynesburg High School's baseball, basketball, wrestling and track teams were honored at a banquet held for them last Wednesday by the Waynesburg Elks Lodge. Principal speaker was Rex Peery, wrestling coach at the University of Pittsburgh.

Peery, who was a national collegiate champion while at Oklahoma A. & M., spoke on wrestling in general.

Wrestling in the WPIAL is on a high par, he said, and high schools in this area turn out some of the best wrestlers in the nation. He urged that boys going on to college choose a school first by what it has to offer scholastically. The athletic program offered is also important, he said, but it should give way to scholastic opportunities.

He said he has watched both Waynesburg High School and Waynesburg College boys wrestle and that all show they are giving their best.

W. W. Montgomery, supervising principal of Waynesburg schools, served as master of ceremonies and introduced guests among whom were George Lewis of Waynesburg College, a former NCAA champion; Tony Gizoni, also of Waynesburg College and present NCAA champ for the second successive year; and Jack Wiley, Pittsburgh Steeler star and former Waynesburg College grid standout.

Henry W. Pharaoh introduced the various high school coaches, Frank Bonfield, Clyde Porter, Victor Celio and John Adamson, and the faculty manager, Edward Cordray.

The invocation was given by Paul G. Wade, lodge chaplain, and Albert Snyder, exalted ruler of the lodge, welcomed the guests.

Arrangements for the banquet were made by Rinehart Ganear and his committee.

Yellow Jackets Again Fall To Washington & Jefferson, 4-3

Waynesburg College's Yellow Jacket baseball team dropped a close 4-3 decision to the Presidents of Washington and Jefferson College in a game at Washington last Thursday.

Wash-Jeff moved off to a 1-0 lead in the second. Morrison reached first on an error by Clelland, moved to third when the throw at second to catch him went into centerfield, and then scored on a fly ball to left.

Waynesburg tied the score 1-1 in the seventh when Novotny singled, stole second and then rode home on Johnny Hoffman's single to right field.

The Prexies moved out front 3-1 in their half of the seventh as Czmiel and Morrison scored on Bak's error.

Coach Roger Jorgensen's crew came back to knot the count again in the eighth. Kirsopp scored on Novotny's single and Hrutky added a tally on an error.

Wash-Jeff scored the clinching run in the last of the eighth when Czmiel scored on Liehendarfer's single.

Waynesburg's Frank Mansfield worked his way to third in the ninth in an attempt to tie the game again but was left stranded there.

Joyce of Wash-Jeff got credit for the win while the loss was tagged on Gash.

SCRIPTURE: II Chronicles 36:11-21; Psalm 137; Jeremiah 29:1-14; Ezekiel 11:1-3; 11:14-21; Daniel 1:1-6. DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 137:1-4.

Displaced Persons

Lesson for May 27, 1951

"D.P.'s" are no 20th-century novelty. The displaced person has for centuries dotted the international landscape. We can define a displaced person as one who, unwillingly or unintentionally, is a long way from a home which no longer exists. A D. P. would usually go home if he could, but he can't. His home has been bombed out, or perhaps his whole town destroyed. Perhaps he and his neighbors have been forcibly moved out by a government that wants some one else in their places.

The D. P. is usually at first poor in the nature of the case; a foreigner where he is, sometimes without even a native land to go back to, to say nothing of a home town. Perhaps the most tremendous uprooting of people in recent times has been in Korea, where war victims have had to move out by the million.

The Innocent With the Guilty

But the story is not a new one. Back in Bible times many of the Hebrews became D. P.'s. After the downfall of Israel and Judah, thousands of Jews were taken to the country along the Euphrates and Tigris rivers, there to fend for themselves as best they could.

The Bible writers always looked on that experience as a punishment of the nation, and so it was. But the experience illustrates a number of things. One is that the innocent often suffer with the guilty.

Not all those who were forced into those long death-marches had been to blame for their country's wrong-doings. Bad decisions of king and council resulted in personal disasters to thousands who had had nothing to do with their king's bad policies or their aristocrats' debauched lives.

D. P.'s Taking Root Another thing to be noticed in the Bible story of these Hebrew D. P.'s is the way they took hold, wherever they were, and helped to build up the country and help themselves at the same time. They took root, in short, and even when later on their descendants were free to go "home," relatively few ever went back to Palestine.

From that time to this, the Jews have been scattered over the wide world, living (where it has been possible as local citizens of whatever lands they call their own. We can still read Jeremiah's letter (ch.29) to the D. P.'s from Judah, urging them to buy land, to lay out vineyards and plan houses and generally make themselves at home in Babylon.

We read of an Ezekiel, owning a home and settling down in Babylonia. We find Daniel the boy as a page in the royal household of Nebuchadnezzar, and as a man rising to prominence and power. Many of the D. P.'s took their places among the best citizens of their perforce adopted lands.

So it has often been since. The United States alone owes a great deal to D. P.'s. The famous statue of Liberty is a welcome-sign to such people. The Pilgrims who came over in the Mayflower were D. P.'s, already twice uprooted. The Huguenot protestants, driven from France by official persecution, became top-level, successful citizens in England and America.

Revolutionary troubles in Europe a hundred years ago brought to American shores Carl Schurz, for example, a fugitive from the police of two countries because he was a revolutionist; here in America becoming a top success in many fields: general of the army, minister to Spain, Secretary of the Interior, prosperous business executive, editor of great city newspapers, writer and orator of international fame.

Not all D. P.'s become famous; but many thousands of them, throughout the troubled ages, have been a blessing to the lands that sheltered them.

So it may be in our time, that as God has before now brought good out of evil, he may in our troubled world bring even from the cruelties of deportation and homelessness again new understandings, fresh beginning, and in interweaving of many strands of humanity into a stronger fabric than before.

Truman Chooses Green Shower

—Washington—

The word is that President Truman will have blue-green walls on his shower stall when he moves back into the White House about the beginning of December.

Mrs. Truman has tentatively picked pale mauve for her bedroom according to those in the know. Daughter Margaret still has not made up her mind about her bedroom and sitting-room in the remodeled White House.

While Major General Glen E. Edgerton, executive director of the official renovation commission, wasn't talking about the color scheme the Truman's are picking, he admitted the work is about a month behind schedule. Even Presidents have trouble with priorities.

Mr. Truman and his family will have free choice of decorations for the second floor where their personal quarters are located. It is understood, however, that their tastes do not run to bizarre designs or weird color combinations.

They figure the next occupants have to be considered, too.

State reception rooms on the first floor of the 150-year-old executive mansion, such as the famed East Room and the oval Blue Room, will be restored carefully to the same decor prevailing before the construction gangs went to work.

U. S. Casualties Up to 65,523

—Washington—

Announced United States casualties in Korea reached 65,523, an increase of 1,468 since last week.

The total covers casualties reported to families through May 4, and includes 9,848 killed in action, 44,669 wounded, and 11,006 missing.

Of the wounded, 1,163 later died. Also 101 of the missing were known dead. This raises the total of deaths to 11,112.

Korea Vets' Aid Bill Signed

—Washington—

President Truman Thursday signed a bill giving veterans of the undeclared Korean war all the medical benefits previously granted survivors of other wars.

Congress hurriedly passed the bill Wednesday to remedy a legal situation which found Korean veterans denied treatment at Veterans' Hospitals. Mr. Truman asked for the bill even as Congress was considering it.

Sofia Girl Gymnasts at Soldiers and Sailors Hall

The internationally famous Sofia Girl Gymnasts from Stockholm, Sweden, who appear at Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall, Oakland, Pittsburgh, on Friday evening, May 25, at 8:30, are better known as "Sweden's Best Good Will Ambassadors." Their youthful beauty, effortless grace and simplicity characterize them and have added something new to feminine charm. Like great ballet dancers they perform their many breath taking and spectacular gymnastic feats with a repetition of what ancient Greece gave us, the right harmony between systematic and purposeful physical education and creative development of the art of moving oneself. They have met acclaim everywhere and created a sensation in international gymnastic circles, and have given hundreds of exhibitions all over the world. To close the program the Sofia Girls will perform Swedish folk dances in costumes acquired from Skansen, Stockholm's noted outdoor museum. Tickets are now on sale at Volkwein's, 632 Liberty avenue (AT-lantic 1-2196) Pittsburgh, 22, Pa., also Gimbel's and Horne's.
