'The Tenmile Country and Its Pioneer Families'

THE INGHRAM FAMILY

There has not appeared as yet, any authentic story of the origin of the Inghram Family which settled on Laurel Run. However, there is evidence that seems to connect them with Robert and William Inghram who lived in Potomac Hundred, Prince George's County, Maryland, as early as 1733. These two men were taxed there along with John Jones, John Jackson, John Smith, William Williams, William Brown, John Gray, and other names familiar among the Fort Jackson pioneers. In fact the above named William Inghram could well be the ancestor of the Inghram Family of the Tenmile. It seems quite likely that at least some of the children of the elder William Inghram were married before they came west, and these marriages point to Harford County, Maryland, origin. One Isaac Inghram came from Surry, England, with William Pennon the "Welcome."

Evans claimed that the first ancestor of the family was William Inghram, who came here and built his cabin on land situated on Laurel Run. He tells a story of how this William Inghram sought safety from the Indians by removing to the vicinity of Vanmeter's Fort during the Revolution, and either died there or went back over the mountains. He further states that the mother of the Inghram children later lived on Muddy Creek with two daughters and William Inghram, Jr. The story is further confused by the presence of another Inghram Family that did live on Muddy Creek, which would be expected to use Jacob Vanmeter's Fort. We do know that at least six brothers and sisters of this family did settle on Laurel Run, all of them living within two and a half miles of each other. Their names are furnished in a letter written by Sarah (Hill) Morris, from Woodfield, Monroe County, Ohio, to the Waynesburg "Messenger" on December 26, 1883, at which time Mrs. Morris was in her 89th year, and recalled 31 children of the six branches of the family. (She said five branches, but was con-Both Evans and Wychoff tell us that Arthur Inghram, head of one hears, with Thomas Smith, Billy Lafferty, and Waynesburg "Messenger on December 20, Rico, Rico, and Trealled 31 children of the six branches of the family. (She said five branches, but was confused in one.)

Both Evans and Wychoff tell us that Arthur Inghram, head of one branch, came here with Thomas Smith, Billy Lafferty, and Thomas Kent to plant a field of corn on Smith Creek in 1774, and became permanent settlers in 1776. No mention of a William Inghram being with them is made so it is presumed that he followed soon afterward. Evans says there were two sons and six daughters in the elder Inghram's Family, while Mrs. Morris names the two sons and but three daughters, and an error in her record accounts for another daughter. They were:

1. William Inghram, who died about 1809. His wife was Agnes Fee?

2. Arthur Inghram, born 1746, died October 28, 1834, married probably in Maryland, about 1775, Olive (or Allive) Smith, born 1754, died June 4, 1839, daughter of Thomas and Hannah Smith.

3. Mollie Inghram, married David (?) Porter. Mrs. Morris said she married James Porter, but the Journal of William Rhodes shows James Porter was married to Nancy. However, there is a letter from J. Smith, written from Penn Green, Ohio, in 1835, saying that Aunt Mollie Porter is still alive at that date, and asking about a legacy due him from his Uncle James Porter's estate.

4. Nancy Inghram, died November 27, 1810, married James Porter, born 1735, died August 4, 1822, dates taken from the William Rhodes Journal. Rhodes should know as he was a son-in-law.

5. Hannah Inghram died about 1808, married 1775, Thomas Rinehart, born 1746, died August 4, 1822, dates taken from the William Cathers, who died in 1815.

7. Inghram, said to have married a Mr. Kent.

8. Sarah (?) Inghram, there is a possibility that Job Smith's wife was an Inghram. Her first name as shown in deeds, was Sarah, and old letters suggest a close relationship with the Inghrams and Porters.

WILLIAM INGHRAM

Inghrams and Porters.

WILLIAM INGHRAM

The early records do not disclose much information regarding William Inghram, Jr. Evans says that he had land which he sold for "Continental Currency" which soon became worthless, leaving him bankrupt with plenty of money in his pockets. After this disaster he is said to have moved into his father's deserted cabin on Laurel Run. No record of such sale appears to how where his land was located, nor the year that he made his settlement. William Inghram, Jr., is not mentioned as having come with his brother, Arthur Inghram, who enlisted in the Fifth Maryland Regiment on March 18, 1777, and was discharged July 18, 1780, in Maryland. His name is found in the roster of Captain James Archer's Company of Washington County, Pennsylvania Militia, in the arrangement for 1782, (Penna. Arch. Series VI Vol. 2, pp. 17.) which indicates he was living on Laurel Run at this time. Evans further states that William Inghram, Jr., with his mother and two sisters, were living on Muddy Creek near Vanmeter's Fort during the days of the Revolution, but we are of the opinion that Evans had him confused with the brother of Meredith Inghram of the same name and apparently no relationship. Meredith Inghram and his brother, William Inghram, are said to have come directly from Ireland and did settle on the South Branch of Muddy Creek near Jacob Vanwby partition proceedings.

William Inghram, Jr., was probably the oldest son of William Inghram, Sr. No dates of his birth or death have been found, though it is probable that he died during the year 1809, as his son, whilm proceedings.

William Inghram, Jr., was probably fee) who joined him in a deed to sell a lot in Waynesburg to Thomas Wolverton on May 9, 1800. This lot at the corner of Greene and Cumberland streets, had been bought from George Sargeant on November 16, 1797, and was lot No. 197 in the original plan of Waynesburg. Agnes Inghram is also named his widow in the Orphan Court proceedings it is shown that his son, John, was of age, while his sons

John Inghram, born 1780, died March 4, 1851. He was a soldier in the War of 1812 and an important business man.
John Inghram built and operated the "Bulls Head Tavern" on the site of the present Fort Jackson Hotel. This was later moved intact to a location on Franklin street, where it served in late years as a hospital and then the home of Paul D.
Inghram, a direct descendant. He married Mrs. Catherine (Workman) Burbridge, widow of Thomas Burbridge, his business partner. Thomas Burbridge died May 1, 1808, leaving three children, J. W. Burbridge, Lucy Burbridge, who married Jesse Hook, and Fanny Burbridge, who married James B.
Lazear. Catherine (Workman) Burbridge was born in 1781, and died April 3, 1858. She was a daughter of James and Lucy Workman. Both are buried in Green Mount Cemetery.

Fires Take Heavy Farm Toll

five minutes on some American farm.

Here a barn goes up in flames. On another farm it is the home, and all too frequently, it is the entire farmstead.

Losses totaled $105,000,000 and $,500 people died in fires on farms last year, and the same pattern of destruction and death is being repeated in 1951. The National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13, says the tragic thing about this heavy loss of life and property is that 90 percent of all farm fires can be prevented by eliminating ordinary hazards.

Here are the principal causes of farm fires, according to the NFPA:

1. Careless smoking habits. Don't smoke in barns or in bed. Don't throw away a burning match or cigarette.

2. Dirty and defective chimneys and heating plants. Repair promptly and clean at least once

3. Flammable wood shingles. When re-roofing, use fire retardant roofing material such as asphalt shingles, asbestos or metal which resists flying sparks.

4. Defective wiring and appliances. Check capacity of the system before adding a range in the kitchen or another motor in the barn. Keep electric motors and fuse boxes clean. Make repairs promptly. Replace frayed extension cords.

5. Lightning. Protect main buildings with lightning rods and inspect periodically to be sure connections are tight.

connections are tight.

6. Flammable liquids. Don't store gasoline or kerosene in or near main buildings.

7. Rubbish. Don't store rags papers or magazines in closets attics or, barns, Clean out and turn in for salvage.

8. Spontaneous ignition. Don't put damp hay in the mow—only properly cured hay. Keep oily rags in metal containers.

Henry W. Shoemaker, President of the Pennsylvania Folk-lore Society, State Museum, Harrisburg, told the tale of Tim Gray, the famous elk hunter and pioneer of Tim Gray's Run, Lycoming County, and his fight with a panther.

"Pennsdale Cemetery, with Mount Tim Gray's tall spiral pinacle looking down where Tim Gray's Run, in the heart of Tim Gray's Run, in the polymer of Gray's Run, in the vicinity of Hagerman's Run, that it is called today, Elk Knob. It was in that locality, on a cold rainy day that Tim Gray's famous fight with a panther occurred.

"Says Mrs. Jane Collister, granddaughter of George S. Hughes, the noted deer hunter and historian of Cogan Station," I used to have the story of Tim Gray's panther fight told t ome as a child and it never failed to keep me awake at night, it was a real thriller."

a real thriller."

"Tim Gray served in the War of 1812, his father, James rGay, in the Revolution. Tim's grandfather was a Vermonter, who first settled at Muncy, prior to the Revolution. All of the family were noted for the unerring skill with the rifle and no doubt some of their long 'flints' still exist. "Tim Gray's career is immortalized by the story written by James Sampson, Cornish scholar, who resided for a time in Wilsamsport. The mauscript, unpublished for many years, was located among his son's papers after his death, by his secretary and printed in the 'Williamsport Sun,' in 1934, where it attracted widespread attention to the great hunter's memory."

critical material is available.

The reconstruction of Route 88 from Poland Mines to West Point Marion will be completed this fall; also the reconstruction of Route 121 south of Bobtown to the West Virginia Line. Work is progressing on Route 30039 from Bristoria to Ryerson Station although it is probable this reconstruction will not be entirely completed this year. Three short sections of Route 30020 are also in the construction stage and completion will depend on the completion will depend on the weather experienced this fall.

The Department has also authorized the stabilization of nearly 45 miles of dirt roads in the county this year. This work will consist of placing sufficient granular material on the existing surface to stabilize the road. These projects will provide a road usable the year around. This work is scattered in all sections of the county where dirt roads exist and where the most people will be benefitted.

which it has the needed steel in stock.

These Highway Department improvements in Greene County will entail an expenditure of over $1,260,000.00 and will benefit the rural residents as well as the people living in the urban areas. Highways are now economic necessities both in peace and war. The neglect of roads due to restrictions imposed during World War II played havoc with our system. Excellent progress has been made in repairing and rebuilding our highways and bridges but a repetition of that neglect may result in the complete destruction of thousands of miles of our highways. We hope that world conditions are such that the Department will be able to proceed in the next few years with many of the larger highway and bridge projects planned for this area. The whole southwestern area of Pennsylvania is finally getting the traffic facilities it must have to continue its growing industrial, mining and agricultural output.

K-K-KATY EASTERDAY Part One

Many nights after the victory Many nights after the victory-laden dust of the 1924 grid cam-paign had settled, Greene County citizens, whose mazuma had scat-tered that dust, sat around and wondered if it was worth it. True, it had been Waynesburg College's best sports year. No other team had won seven in one

But $25,000 was a lot of money to pay for a grid machine. No. they would have no more of it!

So, Brit Patterson sought greener coaching fields.
In February 1925, the Board of Trustees elected Dr. Roy E. (Katy) Easterday who had left Bethany to head Waynesburg's basketball squad.
Katy got his football training at Pitt. He was an apostle of the single wing as learned on Coach Pop Warner's famous 1916 team.

Hitting the High Spots By JACK HAMMERS

Question of the week: did the playing surface of Col-lege Field get so muddy for the game with West Liberty Satur-day night, when there hasn't been any rain, to speak of, for two weeks?" Guess all's fair in coach. He weeded out some of the "first and fifteenth boys"— players who waited for the first and fifteenth of the month for athletic cash allowances. He was permitted, however, to grant some scholarships (room, board and tuition).

grant some scholarships (room, board and tuition).

Generous alumni and businessmen often gave out-of-town boysmoney to go home and kept change jingling in their pockets. Many athletes adopted Waynesburg as a second home.

Bernard Veschio, junior half-back from Monessen who was elected 1925 captain, worked in Waynesburg all summer and kept in trim. He was a ball hawk and an exceptional blocker, and was compared with W&J's Joe Basista, one of the best defense men of all time.

Nineteen lettermen among 46 players reported to Katy August 15, when he took over as athletic director. Those who contributed to the Junior League tag day Saturday rate a big "Thanks." No money could be spent more worthily than giving youngsters a start in friendly sports. Your support in this cause, however, is always needed.

We know this is begining to sound awfully monotonous but we once again came up with a 8-2 week in football selections. This is the third straight week we have hit this figure and it makes the season record read 33 right, 15 wrong, and two ties for a percentage of .687. Here we go for this week:

Trinity over Canonsburg Jefferson over Centerville Cameron, W. Va. over Mount Morris
Washington over Monessen

The opener was with a team that sought revenge, West Virginia Wesleyan. Waynesburg had handed them their only defeat in 1924 when Wesleyan had beaten such teams as Navy and Syracuse. The West Virginians reached their goal—and Waynesburg's too, and won, 7-0.

But worse, "Coach" Cunningham, dependable end and back, was lost to the Jackets for the season.

Waynesburg High School's Red Raiders finally scored a win Friday night at Mapletown as they topped the host school 13-0. It was the first time in six starts this year that the Raiders have been able to put a mark in the win column.

which flourished in their island five million years ago.

Tree trunks which under the influence of time, burial pressure, and chemical action have turned into opal have been found during excavations at Macquarie Plains in the Derwent Valley.

It is estimated that these trees date back some million years before the beginning of the Ice Age.

fore the beginning of the Ice Age.

The opaline wood can be cut to shape and polished. The grain of the timber is clearly visible.

Apart from use as ornaments and curios, the discoveries have no material value, although to the natural scientist they are full of interest. Samples are to be sent to museums in different parts of the world.

Millions of years ago on the Macquarie Plains, volcanic action spread a covering of dark basaltic lava whose top surface quickly weathered to rich soil. On this grew a forest of trees at least 60 feet high. In volcanic cruptions, this forest was buried but not flattened. The standing trees are now being uncovered.

Carmichaels High, 21-0

Jefferson High School, led by their touchdown twins, Eddie Cipeic and Bill Komlo, came one step closer to nailing down their second consecutive Greene County title as they rolled over Carmichaels High 21-0 at Carmichaels Friday night.

Jefferson jumped off to an early lead in the first quarter. Komlo ran back a punt to the Mikes'-32 from where Brozanic shook himself loose to ramble all the way for the first TD. Cipcic kicked the extra point, his first of three for the Jeffs.

Komlo crashed over from one yard out early in the third period to cap a drive which started on the Carmichaels 40.

West Liberty put on a drive in the fourth quarter and went from the West Liberty 20 to the Waynesburg 3. The Jackets held and took over at this point. Two plays moved the ball out to the 22 from where Beadling flipped a pass to Marazsky who was forced out of bounds on the West Liberty two yard line after a gallop of 76 yards. Beadling took the ball over for the final score of the night.

Waynesburg will play away

Waynesburg will play away this week with the Bisons of Bethany College acting as hosts. Bethany hasn't been doing too much this year but always seems to make things rough for the Jackets. A good ball game is anticipated.
