Bishop Pardue to Tour Air Force Polar Bases

The Right Reverend Austin Pardue is preparing for the longest and coldest night of his life.

Actually, it will be a week of nights, during which the bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Pittsburgh will visit hundreds of lonely soldiers in a tour of the Air Force's northernmost bases in the Arctic Circle.

This will be the bishop's fourth straight year of carrying "moral talks" to far-off bases and giving homesick servicemen an opportunity to discuss their problems "with somebody from the outside." Last year he was in Korea.

As the result of that mission, he was asked to fly north this year by General Glen O. Barcus, former commander of the Air Force in Korea and now in charge of the United States' polar ring of air defenses.

The bases the bishop will visit are about 2,000 miles from Russian soil and only 700 miles from the North Pole. They form the last defense posts at the top of the world.

"The temperatures up there average from 40 to 60 degrees below zero," said Bishop Pardue. "The wind gets up to 150 miles an hour. Of course, it's dark there now 24 hours a day."

"The boys get into some pretty deep fits of depression understandably. They want to talk to someone 'from home.' The Air Force is aware of that. That's why they've asked me to go."

As far as he knows, Bishop Pardue will be the first non-military chaplain to visit the bases. He leaves January 25 for Torbey, Newfoundland. There he will shed all his worldly possessions, except a typewriter and voice recorder, and don a complete set of arctic clothing.

He will be flown from there to Labrador, then northward to Thule Air Base on the upper rim of Greenland, said to be the costliest base ever built. By a helicopter-on-skis he will make a number of "hops" to other bases in the defense ring.

Bishop Pardue hopes to be back in Pittsburgh early in February, if I "don't get 'socked in' up there."

Family Homeless, 100-Year-Old House Burns

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Masters, their three daughters and two sons, and a 75-year-old uncle, John Williams, were left homeless early Tuesday morning, when fire gutted their home on West Main street, Jefferson.

The house was one of the oldest in Jefferson. It was more than 100 years old, part of it being logs. When Monongahela College was in its heyday it was occupied by John Kendall, a member of the board of trustees. Years later Mrs. Mary Ellen Bane purchased the property and resided there until death when it was bought by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holbart, the present owners.

The fire was of unknown origin. Mrs. Masters stated she was in the front of the house and suddenly the kitchen burst into flames.

All clothing and furnishings were lost. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

The family are residing with Mr. and Mrs. Mac Moredock, Greene County Chapter, American Red Cross has provided temporary relief aided by residents of the community.

Jefferson Soldier Wins in Pistol Match

Sergeant Dewey Mosholder, Jr., U. S. Infantry, serving at Yang-Gu Valley in Korea, was a member of the 24th Division Champion Pistol Team which participated in the Far East command finals held in Japan. He won third place in the meet and was promoted to Sergeant and presented with an engraved lighter by General Meade.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Mosholder of Jefferson, and has been in Korea since September 1953. His wife, the former Shirley Sprague, and 13-month-old baby, which he has never seen, reside with her mother at Crucible.

The following is part of a letter written by Sergeant Dewey Mosholder to his parents after Christmas:

"Our platoon brought six Korean orphans from the Yang-Gu orphanage for Christmas dinner. They sure were cute. We got a lot of stuff for them. We tried to get all the things we could that they could use. We gave them soap, towels, wash cloths, soap trays, tooth brushes, tooth paste and candy, all the things we could get at the PX. It really made me feel good doing a little thing like that. It made it seem like Christmas to see little kids around the tree all starry-eyed. They sure were happy. When they were eating their big dinner I just happened to think what it would be like to live in this place and to be eating the best meal I had ever eaten in all my life, as these kids were doing. Small as they were, these kids were really thankful. They bowed down and gave thanks for what God was giving them."

Preston Station To be Taxed in Franklin Township

Greene County Commissioners have been upheld in giving the right to tax Preston pump station of New York State Natural Gas Company to Franklin Township, by a commission appointed by the court in a dispute between Washington and Franklin Townships.

Members of the commission were Attorney Glenn R. Toothman of Waynesburg; S. R. Reed, Waynesburg civil engineer, and Russell Knight of Pine Bank.

The commission's decision has yet to be approved by the court. The station until last year had been taxed in Washington Township. It is located on the former Z. K. Bonham farm and since the homestead was located in Washington Township it was by custom taxed there.

The commission ruled that "the disputed boundary between Washington and Franklin Townships is a line which follows Brown's Creek from a point where Mudlick Run empties into Brown's Creek, and thence along Brown's Creek to a point in said creek where Washington and Morris Townships boundary line intersects said creek."

Preston Station is located on 48 acres on the Franklin Township side of Brown's Creek. A barn and two sheds are located on 49.17 acres in Washington Township.

The commission stated that since 1876, Brown's Creek has been the dividing line and that there is no evidence to contradict this.

The commission rejected suggestions that it would be desirable to make a new and straight line between the two Townships. They were not appointed by the court for this purpose, but to establish the existing line.

"The dispute came before the court when Greene County Commissioners ruled that Franklin Township was entitled to levy on $434,293 of the $456,498 total assessment on the pump station and that Washington Township was entitled to levy on only $22,205 of the assessment.

Prior to that time, Washington Township had regarded the entire station as lying within its boundaries, and had levied on the entire property. The income from this source constituted almost half of the township's entire tax income.

U. S. Jobs Show November Gain

Civilian employment in the executive branch of the government was reported by a Senate House committee to have climbed again in November—largely because of temporary hiring by the Census Bureau.

Senator Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, as chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, said the payroll in November reached 2,343,707, as compared with 2,322,997 in October. The November figure still was 23,623 less than the total for November 1953, Byrd added.

The figure embraces civilian employees of both civilian and military agencies. It counted 1,204,220 employed by civilian agencies, up 22,204 over October, and 1,139,477 in military agencies, 1,494 fewer than in October. The committee's report said U. S. employment has increased in each of three months since July 1952. The other monthly increases were in June and October of last year.

He was born February 14, 1896, in Coudersport. Mr. Currier was a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and began his career with West Penn immediately after graduation at Bellefonte. He was later transferred to Charleroi, and then served 16 years in Donora, before coming to Waynesburg.

American Road Network to Be Autoist's Dream

America's highways of tomorrow—the roads that President Eisenhower and congressional public works committeemen are talking about today—what will they be like?

A pretty accurate idea of what the American road network is going to look like can be gained from a study of the standards used by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads when it set out last Summer, by direction of Congress, to find out what adequate roads would cost.

The bureau sent out a 33-page set of instructions to each state highway department which stated exactly what kind of roads the bureau was talking about.

The inter-state system, as planned, will be a superb national network, dwarfing the German Autobahn and Italian Autostrada or any other road system.

The inter-state system is less than 40,000 miles in length, but it is a true national network. It provides seven routes to cross the country from east to west, eight routes north and south and various diagonal connecting highways.

To build this system to bureau standards throughout its length will cost an estimated $23,914,000,000 plus about $4,000,000,000 for urban connections.

For this $28,000,000,000, the motorist will get a divided highway as wide as is necessary, with most crossings at around 55 miles per hour and through urban communities at about 35 to 40 miles per hour.

Colonel Burchinal Sets Jet Plane Flight Record

Colonel David A. Burchinal, 39 years, son of Warren S. Burchinal of Washington, commanded a six-jet B-47 bomber last month which set a new distance and endurance record for jet aircraft when it was flown 21,000 miles and stayed in the air 47 hours and 35 minutes, in a repeated flight pattern from North Africa to England.

Colonel Burchinal was the senior officer on the plane which covered the equivalent of four-fifths of the distance around the world.

The flight was one of a series of missions by the Air Force to explore combat range potential of the bomber, which is now the backbone of the U. S. air striking force. The bomber was refueled in the air, and flew an average speed of about 445 miles an hour.

Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbot called the flight "mute testimony of the ability of the Air Force to fly its aircraft to any point on the earth's surface."

Colonel Burchinal has been in the Air Force since June 1939. He was graduated from Brown University in 1938 and the following year entered the Air Force, earning his wings in March 1940.

He earned the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross, Legion of Merit and the Air Medal with clusters during World War II service in the Pacific.

With the colonel on the record flight were Captain Stephen Franko of Struthers, Ohio; Major Forrest A. McCory of Torrington, Wyoming, and Major Pat H. Earhart, San Antonio, Texas.

DR. L. J. LEWIS

Dr. Lewis To Talk On Polio Vaccine Here Monday

Dr. L. J. Lewis, assistant to Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who developed the famous Salk polio serum, will be the speaker at Waynesburg Parent-Teacher Association, Monday night, in Waynesburg High School auditorium.

He is a son of Mrs. James Lewis of Waynesburg R. D. 4. Dr. Lewis is a graduate of Waynesburg College and of the University of Pittsburgh Medical School.

The meeting is open to the public in the interest of the March of Dimes.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has stated it is believed due to the Salk vaccine, which has been tested nationally, that polio has been conquered.

The restored quotas thus partly satisfy protests said to have been voiced by General Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, when the ground forces were ordered cut from 1,343,000 men last November 30, to 1,100,000 by mid-year and to 1,000,000 by mid-1956.

Defense Takes 300,000 Acres

The United States Government acquired more than 300,000 acres of land during 1954 for national defense purposes, including such projects as guided-missile bases designed to guard major cities.

This was reported by the Justice Department's Lands Division, which handles government land purchases and disposals. The head of the division, Assistant Attorney General Perry W. Morton, submitted his year-end report to Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr.

Based on actual figures for the first 11 months of 1954, he said, the government's land acquisition through condemnation proceedings or direct purchase involved about 13,000 tracts aggregating more than 600,000 acres and costing approximately 60 million dollars.

—Washington—
The Defense Department has conceded after receiving a letter from President Eisenhower that reductions in military manpower will be about 35,000 less than previously announced.

Because of a slower pace set for the 18-month reduction program, the difference on next June 30 will be about 60,000 men. The Army is to get about 70 per cent of the restored quota.

Mr. Eisenhower's letter released at the White House, was addressed to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson. The letter expressed formal approval of a 350,000-man reduction in armed strength, and endorsed further aspects of Wilson's military program.

But the President suggested armed strength of about three million men on June 30, 1955, and 2,850,000 on June 30, 1956. Pentagon schedules announced December 20, called for 2,940,000 next June 30, and 2,815,000 in 1956. Armed strength last November 30, was 3,215,000 men.

In addition, Mr. Eisenhower said his 1956 figure was merely a "goal." He said:

"It would not be wise at this time to fix rigid targets for 1956."

The Pentagon's schedules had contained no suggestions of flexibility.

Defense Comptroller Wilfred J. McNeil said there was "no strategic significance" to the change. He declared that, in going over the December 20 schedules, the Pentagon command had found that more men would be needed than previously thought for projects that had been approved.

However, in the 18-month end strength now approved, the Army will get nearly 25,000 more men, enough to fill an 18,000-man combat division if they are used for that purpose.

The restored quotas thus partly satisfy protests said to have been voiced by General Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, when the ground forces were ordered cut from 1,343,000 men last November 30, to 1,100,000 by mid-year and to 1,000,000 by mid-1956.

Borough Street Commissioner Dies

Charles H. Zollars, 61 years, of North Liberty street, Waynesburg borough street commissioner for 25 years, died Thursday morning, January 6, 1955, in St. Margaret's Hospital, Pittsburgh. He had been ill several months.

Mr. Zollars was a son of Henry B. Zollars and Isadora Spicer Zollars, and was born September 24, 1893, in Greene County.

Mr. Zollars began to work for the borough in 1927 and was appointed street commissioner several years later upon the death of Bert Hughes.

He was a member of the Waynesburg Volunteer Fire Company from August 8, 1929, until he retired January 1, 1948. During his period of service he was captain for three years and director of the company's Relief Association for eight years. Mr. Zollars was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Frankie Moore Zollars; two sons, Donald B. Zollars of Rome, Georgia, and Glenn H. Zollars of Waynesburg; two grandchildren, Susan and Glenn H. Zollars, Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Henderson of Waynesburg R. D. 2, and Mrs. Evelyn Lemley of Waynesburg, and two brothers, James B. Zollars of Waynesburg R. D. 2.

Funeral services were held Sunday in the Church Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Henry A. Young. Interment in Greene County Memorial Park.

The Pioneer History of Greene County, Penna.

By L. K. EVANS

During the early part of Thomas Jefferson's presidential term, and while Mr. Gallatin was Secretary of the Treasury, he was on his way to the seat of the Government, on horse back, the best mode of conveyance then in vogue. Having put up for the night at a popular tavern in the mountain known as "Tomlinson's Old Stand," and having partaken of such refreshments as the wayside inn afforded, his attention was attracted by singing in an adjoining room. On inquiring he learned that the singers were a company of German glass blowers on their way to Limestone, now Maysville, Kentucky, designing to establish themselves there to engage in the manufacture of glass. He at once sought their chamber and after listening till their music was done, which consisted of German Lutheran hymns, engaged them in conversation, for he could speak the German language as fluently as French or English. He found they had left Monocacy, (now Frederick City) Maryland, with the intent as above narrated. With characteristic shrewdness, and exercising great foresight and wisdom, he drew their attention to the superior advantages of New Geneva for the enterprise. He showed his faith in the enterprise by proposing to take a large amount of stock. He brought to bear all his great reasoning, descriptive and persuasive powers, and finally so much impressed them as to secure an assurance that they would first visit New Geneva and make the necessary observations to a rational conclusion. He then wrote a letter back to his manager to entertain them well and use every possible effort to induce them to locate at New Geneva and giving the matter much consideration. They were favorably impressed with the facilities for manufacturing and exporting glass at that point; but decided to send a committee of three of their number to examine and report upon the sight contemplated in Kentucky before they would make a final decision. The three proceeded down the river in a "piroque," or canoe, to Maysville, made their observations and returned, polling their little craft all the way up the Ohio and Monongahela against the current, a distance of about 500 miles. Upon their arrival it was decided to accept Mr. Gallatin's proposition and go into operation at New Geneva, the advantages, all things considered, being regarded as superior. They selected a point on George's Creek, three-fourths of a mile from its mouth, and erected what is now known as the "Old Glass Works," and this was the first glass factory ever established west of the Allegheny Mountains. Here they enjoyed the greatest facilities for the business, manufactured largely, made an excellent article and found a ready market at remunerative prices. The company prospered. In the year 1807 the factory was moved over to Greene County, three-fourths of a mile below Greensboro, Mr. Gallatin still retaining his interest in the concern. However, becoming engaged in more important affairs, he subsequently sold his interest in the factory to the Kramers. Here the business was successfully conducted for many years and was still in operation within the recollection of the author of these sketches, who has hauled many a cord of wood to the works. Mr. Gallatin sold his place at New Geneva about the year 1820, to a French gentleman of fortune by the name of Malier, who built a large and valuable steam mill property at New Geneva, and projected sundry other enterprises. After disposing of his New Geneva home, Mr. Gallatin resided for a time in Baltimore before making a final settlement in New York.

As a fitting close to this sketch, it is due to say that the party of German glass-blowers induced by Mr. Gallatin to establish a glass factory on George's Creek consisted of Christian and Baltzer Kramer, Adolphus Eberhart, Lewis Reitz and Gabriel, all of whom are still represented about Greensboro by a long line of respectable descendants, and most of whom the author hereof has known intimately all his life.

On the Fayette side of the river a short distance below Greensboro is a curiosity which has elicited the attention of all classes. I have reference to the Pictured Rock. The numerous tracks and shapes found impressed or carved upon that rock have furnished a theme of conjecture and speculation for over a hundred years. Many claim that they are "footprints" of the ages and award them a geological origin; whilst the sceptical shake their heads and attribute them to the artistic skill of an Indian sculptor. I would respectfully suggest to the Waynesburg and Monongahela Colleges, that a scientific examination be made and if sufficient merit be accorded them, that specimens be secured for their respective cabinets.—L. K. EVANS.

Benjamin Franklin, whose birthday is January 17, was expert in handling money and his advice is as found today as 200 years ago. All quotations here are from his booklet, "The Way To Wealth," published 1760.

Ben Franklin gives you some expert advice about Payroll Savings

"What though you have found no Treasure, nor has any rich Relation left you a legacy, Diligence is the Mother of Good Luck."

Have you ever wished you had $1,000, $5,000 or more—to buy a car, get a home, help you toward retirement? Today, it is actually easy to save such large sums! Because, today, you can have your saving done for you—with automatic diligence—through the Payroll Savings Plan.

"If you would have a faithful Servant, and one that you like, serve yourself."

Serving yourself means keeping some of the money you make each week and investing it, for yourself. Here's how: you just name a sum to your company's pay office—a few dollars or as much as you want. Each payday, that sum will be saved from your pay, before you get your check and invested for you in one of the world's finest investments, U. S. Series E Savings Bonds!

"Little Strokes fell great Oaks."

Because Savings Bonds earn good interest, they're soon worth more than the money you've invested in them. And how your savings mount up! Sign for as little as $5.00 a week and in 9 years, 8 months, you'll have $2,850 cash. In 19 years, 8 months, you'll have $6,872!

"One To-day is worth two To-morrows, and farther, Have you somewhat to do To-morrow, do it To-day."

For your own sake, don't put off joining the 8 million Americans who are making their dreams come true through Payroll Savings. Sign up for Payroll Savings today. Or, if you're self-employed, invest in Savings Bonds regularly where you bank. If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds which pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.

"Remember what Poor Richard says: Many a Little makes a Mickle."

Choose your own savings goal

	If you want approximately $5,000	$10,000	$25,000
Each week for 9 years and 8 months, save.....	$8.80	$18.75	$45.00
Each week for 19 years and 8 months, save.....	$3.75	$7.50	$18.75

This chart shows only a few typical examples of savings goals and how to reach them through Payroll Savings. Remember, you can save any sum you wish, from a couple of dollars a payday up to as much as you want. The important thing is, start your Plan today!

District Manager Outlines Services Rendered by Social Security Office

Henry Harper, District Manager of the Washington Social Security Office has announced this his office is now ready to cooperate with individuals, groups, both large and small, as well as with employing organizations to explain the technicalities of the recent amendment to the social security program. All of the recent amendments became operative January first. People, he explained, have a greater stake in social security than ever before; that they are paying in more money in taxes and receiving greater amounts in benefits. Therefore, Mr. Harper, stated, since his office has no way of knowing when persons retire or die it is up to people to protect their rights under social security. To help persons from all walks of life become better acquainted with the program the local office is ready to explain to all just what their individual rights are. For the convenience of persons residing outside of Washington, representatives from the office visit Charleroi, Monongahela, Waynesburg, McDonald and Burgettstown on a regular basis. Pamphlets which contain general statements as well as pamphlets dealing with specific problems may be obtained for the asking. There is no charge for any service. Also, the local office has some limited material in the way of visual aids, i. e., films and exhibits. Any or all of these materials and services may be obtained by merely writing to or calling at the district office located at 180 South Main street, Washington, Penna. It is up to the individual to exercise his own initiative in knowing what rights are under the program. Whenever anyone fails to safeguard his rights by applying for benefits promptly or reporting deaths of loved ones then it follows that a lot of people lose actual benefits or are inconvenienced to a great extent.

Jane Russell Signs Million Dollar Pact

Jane Russell has signed a movie contract that will give her a million dollars for six pictures in five years, but the payments will be spread over a 20-year period. The contract gives the shapely actress the privilege of making pictures for other companies, including Fussfield Corporation.

Is he kidding?

No, nobody ever asks us to insure only one end of his house against fire, windstorm, etc.

But, in effect, many people DO carry insurance on only a fraction of their property.

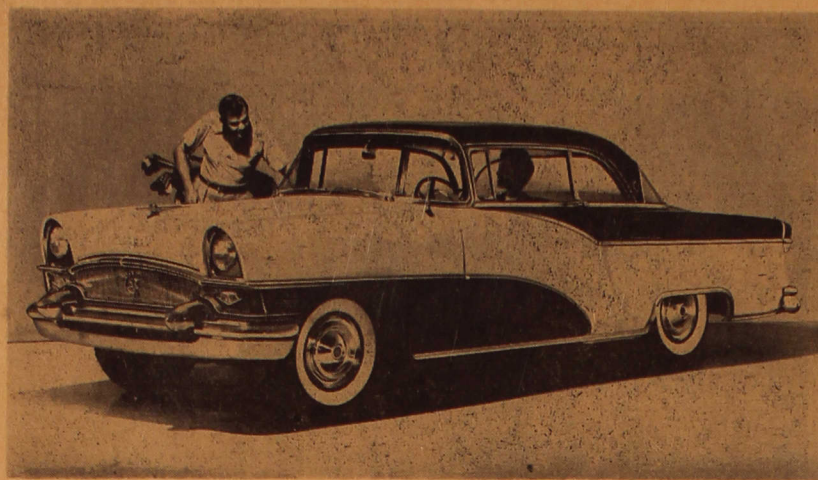

We mean, they carry only a percentage — perhaps 40% or 50% or 60% — of as much insurance as they should.

They insured their property when property was worth much less. Insurance should be carried not on original cost, but on present replacement costs, less depreciation. (This depreciation is normally very little for well maintained property.)

Packard Introduces New Clipper Constellation

This Constellation is the powerful star of Studebaker-Packard Corporation's line of 1955 model Clipper cars. In addition to its sleek two-tone styling, the Clipper Constellation features "Torsion-Level" ride, a dramatic new suspension system which eliminates customary coil and leaf springs, but instead uses long torsion bars interconnecting the front and rear wheels. The Clipper Constellation is powered by a new 245-horsepower V-8 engine. Packard models, in the luxury car field, have a new V-8 engine with 260 horsepower. Both the Packard and Clipper lines will have their public announcement in dealer showrooms next week.

Greene Street Garage Showing New Packard and Clipper Models for '55

Packard-built cars have always been the ultimate in relaxed comfort, but new Packards and 1955 Clippers strike the most dramatic note in this year's new model parade with the introduction of a revolutionary, new kind of safe comfortable ride, according to Milton N. Reed, owner of the Greene Street Garage, local Packard and Clipper dealer.

Mr. Reed said that adoption of torsion bar suspension as standard equipment on the new Packards and 1955 Clipper custom models marks the first major improvement in riding comfort and riding safety since the introduction of front-coil springing in 1934.

The torsion-level ride, as developed by Packard engineers, is expected to be heralded as an industry-first comparable in importance to automatic transmissions. It brings to motorists these long sought riding qualities: A flat, level ride; greatly reduced pitch; adequate load-carrying capacity with less tendency for bottoming or bumping on the rear axle under road shock; constant car height regardless of load; and an improved boulevard ride which, at the same time, gives greater stability in handling at high speed ranges permitted on modern highways.

Moreover, with the torsion-level ride, Packard has made great progress toward solving a safety problem that has long plagued automotive engineers—precision aiming of headlights in night driving. The flat, level ride characteristics keep a bright beam of light on the road at all times. It has been proof-tested in over a million miles of all-out testing on roads and highways, and the Packard Proving Ground in Utica, Michigan.

In simple terms, Packard torsion bar springing is a method of using a long solid bar of spring steel to replace both the front coil spring and the rear leaf spring in providing riding comfort. However, the torsion bar does the job far better and more effectively.

However, the car would ride level for only one kind of load condition and changes in height or level would occur due to load distribution unless something else were added. Packard's answer is a load compensator, or "car-levelizer," the function of which is to hold body height on an even keel regardless of passenger and luggage loads. This is a revolutionary new feature in any suspension system.

Mrs. J. I. Hook was re-elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of Greene County Memorial Hospital for two years, Monday.

Other officers elected were Mrs. E. O. Clayton, vice president; Mrs. Ray McClure, vice president; Mrs. Louis M. Waddell, recording secretary; Mrs. Clyde Thomas, secretary; Miss Catherine Sayers, treasurer.

More than $1,500 in equipment for the hospital has been purchased during the past year.

Funds for the purchase of equipment and supplies came partly from Donation Day contributions and from "twigs." It was announced that the regular Donation Day will not be held in 1955, but that a membership drive will be conducted during Hospital Week in May.

The Auxiliary has two funds—a regular fund and a Donation Day fund. Miss Sayers reported that $752.60 was expended from the Donation Day fund and $705.81 from the regular fund during the past year.

Mrs. Clarence Thompson of Carmichaels, chairman of the sewing committee, reported that 500 towels had been hemmed during the year for use at the hospital. She also stated there are four bolts of material ready to be hemmed.

THE LIFE STORY OF BILLY GRAHAM. In Sunday's American Weekly, with the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, famous evangelist Billy Graham tells for the first time the powerful story of his life and his crusade! Billy Graham relives his childhood and his days at Bible college! He tells you about the dramatic moment when he opened his heart to Christ... when he realized he must become a preacher! Read "I Was Born Again" by Billy Graham—in The American Weekly with Sunday's SUN-TELEGRAPH.

Described as the man who "made the most amount of nothing," Dr. Alpert has produced densities a million billion times as rare as the atmosphere at the surface of the earth.

In the laboratories of the physics department of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, of which he is manager, this vacuum is achieved by a system known as "ion pumping." Ion is the name given to a gas molecule that carries an electric charge. In this system of pumping, the gas molecules are first charged and turned into ions, and then collected by electrical attraction on a surface from which they cannot then escape.

Mrs. Hook Again Heads Hospital Auxiliary

Mrs. J. I. Hook was re-elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of Greene County Memorial Hospital for two years, Monday.

Other officers elected were Mrs. E. O. Clayton, vice president; Mrs. Ray McClure, vice president; Mrs. Louis M. Waddell, recording secretary; Mrs. Clyde Thomas, secretary; Miss Catherine Sayers, treasurer.

More than $1,500 in equipment for the hospital has been purchased during the past year.

Funds for the purchase of equipment and supplies came partly from Donation Day contributions and from "twigs." It was announced that the regular Donation Day will not be held in 1955, but that a membership drive will be conducted during Hospital Week in May.

The Auxiliary has two funds—a regular fund and a Donation Day fund. Miss Sayers reported that $752.60 was expended from the Donation Day fund and $705.81 from the regular fund during the past year.

Mrs. Clarence Thompson of Carmichaels, chairman of the sewing committee, reported that 500 towels had been hemmed during the year for use at the hospital. She also stated there are four bolts of material ready to be hemmed.

Seven Soloists With Symphony

William Steinberg has elected to feature seven of the regular members of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra as soloists for the tenth pair of concerts of the season, this Friday night and Sunday afternoon at Syria Mosque. Bernard Z. Goldberg, Wilbert Frisch, and Harry Franklin will be soloists in the seldom performed Bach Triple Concerto in a minor, for Flute, Violin, and Piano with String Orchestra. Following this will be the equally seldom heard Hayden Symphonie Concertante for Violin, Cello, Oboe, Bassoon, and Orchestra. Murry Feldman, Theo Salzman, Arthur Krilov and Arthur Kubey will be soloists in this work.

Wilbert Frisch is the assistant concertmaster of the Orchestra and is in his eleventh season with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, having made his first appearance with the Orchestra when he was 17.

Murray Feldman is principal of the second violin section and is in his thirteenth season with the Orchestra. He has played with the NBC Symphony Orchestra and also with the "Firestone Hour" orchestra.

Theo Salzman, solo 'cellist, was a regular soloist earlier this season and received warm critical praise for his performance then.

Bernard Z. Goldberg, principal flutist, is in his eighth season with the Pittsburgh Symphony and was formerly with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra.

Arthur Krilov, principal oboist, came to Pittsburgh from the Dallas Symphony in 1952. Arthur Kubey, principal bassoonist, has been with the orchestra for 16 seasons and once played with Stokowski's All-American Orchestra. Harry Franklin, regular Symphony pianist, has been with the Orchestra for nine seasons, and started his orchestra career as a tympanist.

Each of these artists, though regular members of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, are recognized as among the finest instrumentalists in America, and play a major role in making the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra one of the world's most highly regarded orchestras.

Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

By GEORGE N. THOMAS

GREENE COUNTY TRACK CHAMPIONSHIPS

Since the advent of sports on the scholastic scene in Greene County, Waynesburg College has undertaken the role of guardian angel.

When interest in some sports dipped to a dangerous low, coaches, teachers and students from College Heights hastened to rescue an apathetic situation.

In the yearling days, few records were kept of interscholastic sports. Coaches and officials used intercollegiate rules and measurements.

Athletic Director Roy (Katy) Easterday and his camp helped bring back track as a high school sport in the mid-1920s. Then they turned over the project to a group called the Rural High School Athletic Association which dedicated itself to foster track with the assistance of college personnel.

After Waynesburg High had been excluded because of its overwhelming victories over the other smaller schools, the county championship had no permanent home.

Jefferson won in 1927, Carmichaels in 1928, and Richhill in 1929.

In a very tight meet, Jefferson squeezed ahead of its two chief rivals in 1930 for the county toga, winning with only five points separating the first three teams.

Richhill's Walter Headley became a triple champion that day, winning the discus and setting two records—one in the 400 (54), and the javelin throw (147 feet, 8 1/2 inches).

Jefferson's George Sabol won two sprint events, running the 220 in :24 record time. Other new marks were set by Murphy of Richhill in the 880 (2:10); Headley of Carmichaels, mile run (5:01), and Mossburg of Mt. Morris, pole vault (10 feet, eight inches).

Jefferson had 34 points, Richhill 31, Carmichaels 29, Aleppo 8,

Mt. Morris 8, Nineveh 8, and Rogersville 1.

The following year, the Rural group decided that, with the new athletic field in the county seat completed, the sponsorship of the meet should be transferred to Waynesburg College—and to the capable hands of Athletic Director Frank N. Wolf, and Faculty Manager James M. Miller.

Eight teams were invited to compete—every county school but Waynesburg High. Their enrollment still was too high, officials felt, for fairness.

Although girls carrying Jefferson High colors won their division in an effort to give the Jeffs their second straight crown, Carmichaels piled up a commanding lead to take home the team trophy.

Two new records went into the books that day. John Mossburg of Mt. Morris, pole vault, 11 feet; and Miss Sorovetz of Mapletown, 75-yard dash, :09.8.

Behind Carmichaels and Jefferson, finished Mt. Morris, Rogersville, Mapletown, Aleppo, Nineveh and Richhill.

A new system was instituted in 1932. Schools with the largest enrollment (Carmichaels, Jefferson and Mapletown) were grouped as Class A, the rest into Class B.

Carmichaels won its division, followed by the Jeffs and Maples; Rogersville copped the junior honors, ahead of Richhill, Mt. Morris, Nineveh and Aleppo, in that order.

The Mike's Paul Kott broad-jumped to a new distance of 20 feet, and Ben Parker of Jefferson high jumped to a new high of five feet, 8 3/4 inches.

Late in the spring of 1933 the Rural High School Association suddenly announced it no longer would sponsor a county-wide track meet.

Scholastic track appeared to be doomed. But the college again came to the rescue. Coach Wolf and Dr. Miller volunteered the institution's facilities and the competition was saved.

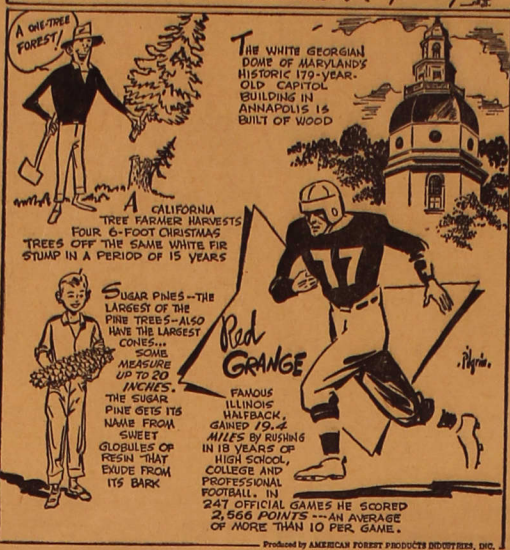

For simplicity, the new sponsors eliminated the Class A and B distinctions. Besides, it only would have complicated matters inasmuch as the schoolboys shared the field that day with the Waynesburg College-West Virginia Wesleyan dual meet.

Out of the bedlam of spikes and thimblads, Jefferson—whose Bill Haywood set a 440 mark of :53.8—emerged over-all county champs, trailed by Carmichaels, Waynesburg (allowed in the competition for the first time since 1926), Rogersville, Mapletown, and Mt. Morris.

But it was the 1934 county meet which perhaps remains the most memorable, if for no other reason than the weather was ideal and seven records were smashed while two others were tied.

Davis, of Cumberland, ran the 100 dash in :10 flat; Povich, of Jefferson, the 440 in :53; Neroni, of Jefferson, the mile in 4:49; Jefferson's mile relay team (Alexander, Johnson, Vukmanic and Povich), 3:41.4; Churney, of Waynesburg, the shot put, 44 feet, 1 1/2 inches; Martin, of Rog-

Jacket Cagers Stage Rally to Defeat Bethany

Coach Ray Williams' Waynesburg College cage crew drove hard in a second half rally to cop a 69-64 victory over Bethany College at Bethany, W. Va., Thursday night.

The victory was the first win in seven starts for the Yellow Jackets, while Bethany now has five defeats against no wins.

Joe Lafko, substitute guard, rang up the high score for the Yellow Jackets with 19 points. Guards John Vuchetich and Bob Kelly joined Lafko in the point parade with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Ed Johnson paced the Bethany five with 15 points, closely followed by Bob Hettler and John Palafourats with 14 points each.

The Jackets were behind 36-29 at the intermission but went on to score 40 points in the second half to 28 for Bethany to take the lead and the contest.

Scoring 21 out of 32 four shots Waynesburg outclassed their hosts at the charity line. The losers made but 10 of 24 free throw attempts.

Small Game Kill Below 1953 Report

The State Game Commission has reported that the 1954 kill of most small game was below that reported in 1953.

Without giving any overall estimate of the November small game season the commission said that based on protector's reports the 1954 kill of squirrel, raccoon, woodchuck, grouse and pheasant fell below the previous year. The rabbit and turkey kill was considered above 1953 totals.

ersville, discuss, 112 feet, one inch, and Stoll, of Carmichaels, broad jump, 20 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

In addition, Long, of Waynesburg, tied the high jump mark, five feet, 8 3/4 inches, and Walters of Carmichaels, tied the pole vault height of 11 feet.

Jefferson repeated as county champions, beating out Carmichaels, Waynesburg and Rogersville. It was Coach W. Walter Montgomery's second straight title, and his fourth in eight years.

And the cry throughout the county changed. Now, it was not, "Stop Big Waynesburg!" but rather, "Stop Little Jefferson!"

Jefferson Rockets Defeated Twice

Coach "Butch" Biery's Jefferson High School basketball squad had their unbeaten streak broken and found themselves among the bottom teams of the WPIAL Section 8 race as a result of games played last week. The Rockets were defeated twice, bowing to Centerville 48-37, and to East Beth 43-38.

Centerville had to utilize the second half for its victory as the Wildcats and Jeffs were knotted 18-18 at the half. The winners moved into a seven-point lead at the end of the third period and added four more points to its margin in the final frame.

Bob Clish and Tom Halligan each had 12 points to pace the Wildcats, while Tekavec netted a like number to lead the Jeffs.

East Beth outscored the Jeffs in the first three periods and then put down a fourth period rally to register their win. Trout was high man for the winners with 17 points, and Tekavec lead the Rockets with 13 tallies.

Waynesburg College Wrestlers Defeat Ohio University for Second Victory

Coach Bucky Murdock's Yellow Jacket grapplers of Waynesburg College won their second victory in as many starts this season, by defeating Ohio University 20-10 at Athens, Ohio, Saturday night.

John Barish, heavyweight, and Chuck Williams, 177, had falls; Elroy McMannes, 157, and George Terembes, 167, two Jefferson High graduates, had decisions, while "Ace" Adams and Harry Rinehart had draws to account for the Waynesburg points.

The Yellow Jackets had to come from behind to win after Adams drew in the 123-pound opener and Joe Ayersman, 130, and Bill Patton, 137, both former Waynesburg High matmen, lost decisions in their bouts.

Slow calls deprived the Yellow Jackets of two more falls in the 157 and 167 pound bouts, while Adams was thought by many fans to have earned a predicament point which would have given him a decision.

Both McMannes and Terembes appeared to have their opponents pinned but had to settle for decisions. Williams was not given a fall until his man had quit struggling.

One of the highlights of the season occurs this week when the Yellow Jackets host the grapplers of Ohio State University on Saturday night.

Summary:
123—Adams, (W), and Hertel, drew, 3-3.
130—Nevits, (O), decided Ayersman, 7-2.
137—Sforzo, (O), decided Patton, 5-3.
147—Rinehart, (W), and Rudo, drew, 1-1.
157—McMannes, (W), decided Bloom, 10-0.
167—Terembes, (W), decided Karbon, 8-0.
177—Williams, (W), pinned Fox, 7-0.

Red Raider Cagers Drop Section Tilts

Waynesburg High School's Red Raider cage crew dropped two WPIAL Section 4 contests last week, bowing to the Mounties of Mt. Lebanon High 89-42 at the local gym, and then losing to defending champion Washington High 75-42 at Washington.

George Shoepner was hot as a fourth of July firecracker against the local five as he poured 20 field goals and 15 fouls through the hoop for 55 points to pace Mt. Lebanon to their victory. Bennett collected a total of 13 points to lead the Raiders.

Jim Kimbrough paced Washington to their win over the Red Raiders as he tallied 29 points. Jim Chastain was high man for the Waynesburg crew with 14 markers.

Raider Grapplers Bow to Uniontown; Maul Cougars 35-13 for First Victory

Coach Frank Bonfield's Waynesburg High School wrestling squad opened their 1955 season last week and were defeated by Uniontown High 30-23 before defeating Charleroi High 35-13, Foom, 5-1.

Waynesburg dominated the first half of the meet with Uniontown, copping matches in all divisions from the 88-pound to the 138-pound class, except for Dick Faris' pin over Sigley, Waynesburg, in the 95-pound class, and in the 120-pound division when Patterson of Uniontown scored a 10-8 decision over Wright. At the end of the 138-pound bout the score stood 23-11 in favor of the local crew.

However, Ron Crossland and Lloyd Anderson scored pins for Uniontown in the 145 and 154-pound classes; Myden decided Hopkins in the 165-pound bout, and Ray Miller of Uniontown added the clincher when he pinned Rattigan in the 185-pound tussle.

In chalking up their first win of the season the Red Raiders scored a total of three falls, four decisions, a forfeit and one tie against Charleroi, while the Cougars, in addition to the tie, scored two decisions and one fall.

Maple Grapplers Win Two Meets

Coach Roy Yanosh's Mapletown High wrestling squad got their 1955 season off to a fine start last week as they won two dual meets, topping Carmichaels High 44-8 and German Township 29-24.

The Maple Leafs won ten of the 12 bouts with the Mikes to easily gain that victory and spoil Carmichaels' return to the mat sport after an absence of several years.

Against German Township the Maples scored four falls and one decision, while the host team tallied on two falls and three decisions. Two bouts ended in a draw.
