Glenn R. Toothman Polls 11,147 Votes In Contest For District Attorney

Judge John Inghram Hook, Democrat, established a precedent Tuesday when he was re-elected for a second term.

No judge, in the history of Greene County, has ever succeeded himself.

Judge James Inghram served two terms, but not successively.

Attorney W. Robert Thompson, Republican candidate for judge, polled a surprising vote for a predominantly Democratic county. He lost by about 615 votes, according to unofficial tabulations.

President To Address Nation Twice On Friday

President Eisenhower will take off for Washington at 11 a. m., EST, Friday, and the nation will hear his voice for the first time since his illness in an informal farewell talk at the airfield.

There will be another little talk on his arrival in Washington around 3:30 or 4 p. m.

Television and radio will cover both events.

"The President," said Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, "told me to say he would suspect he would say a few words."

Nothing profound or tremendously important is expected, Hagerty told a questioner. For example, he wouldn't think the Chief Executive would discuss anything like foreign policy.

Rather, Eisenhower is expected to voice his appreciation for the treatment he has received since his September 24 heart attack.

John G. Baily, incumbent Republican county commissioner, was not opposed for the board of auditors.

In Waynesburg borough councilmen elected were Roy W. Clovis and Charles Clark from the north ward; Floyd House from the south ward, and Raymond Scott from the east ward.

The daily medical bulletins, now nearing an end, reported Tuesday that "the President's condition continues to be satisfactory," Hagerty said the bulletins will be discontinued when the President leaves the hospital.

Waynesburg's Christmas parade will be held Friday night, December 2, sponsored by Waynesburg Chamber of Commerce and also by the Jaycees.

This year Miss Merrie Christmas will be selected from each of the county high schools and other candidates will be attendants. She will be selected Tuesday night at Jefferson-Morgan High School.

War I, a "bomb" will halt the parade, and the courthouse bell will toll. Taps will be sounded and a second "bomb" will signal the parade start.

It will continue east on High to Morgan, thence to Greene, back to Washington, and again pass the courthouse.

All veterans' organizations in the county will participate. Waynesburg College Kiltie Band and high school bands from Waynesburg, Carmichaels, Jefferson, West Greene and others will be in the line of march.

Richard Hatfield, secretary of Waynesburg Chamber of Commerce, will be master of ceremonies.

Driving Schools To Get Assistance From Ford Loans

—Philadelphia—
The Ford Motor Company has announced inauguration of a $7,000,000 automobile national loan program to spur school driver training classes.

The incentive plan, which includes a discount to Ford dealers on each automobile loaned to a school, was announced at the 62nd annual conference of the International Association of Chiefs of Police currently in progress here.

Ford said its dealers plan to place more than 3,500 cars at the disposal of school authorities this year and to increase this number in the future. The figure, Ford said, represents almost half of all cars used through the nation for driver training last year.

The Fords will be equipped with the safety steering wheel, cushioning on instrument panel and sun visors, safety door latches, seat belts and safety mirror that are standard or optional on all 1956 models, the announcement added.

U. S. Satellite Cost Five Million

Defense sources have estimated that the first earth satellite to be launched by the U. S. in 1957 will cost about five million dollars.

It was learned also that the huge rocket which will shoot the satellite into outer space will burn alcohol as its principal fuel.

The two disclosures gave the best idea so far of the probable size of the satellite rocket, which may be about 100 feet high and may weigh close to 50 tons.

Exact estimates of the size of the rocket are impossible to ascertain at present because weight of the satellite has not been determined. Calculations have been drawn up for a satellite weighing anywhere from 30 to 200 pounds.

Tonic For Old Tables

That old table that's being discarded might turn out to be the center of attraction in your living room. With just a little effort and a few inexpensive materials, tables can be refinished to new loveliness and life. It's simple. First remove all paint and varnish. Wash and sand table. Then apply wood stain. Beachwood, birch, pale oak, or any other attractive finish will further enhance and enrich the beauty of the natural wood grain. The last and very important step is application of clear varnish to provide a protective covering. Here's a wintertime project that will add a plus factor to the budget and to your home.

German Woman's Embroidery Needle Activates Army's Chain Of Command

Elsa Taake of West Berlin, is an expert with the embroidery needle. Because she is, this story unfolded:

Frau Taake decided she wanted to make an embroidered writing case for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Commander in Chief, General Alfred M. Gruenther.

As General Gruenther comes from Nebraska, Frau Taake decided she should embroider Nebraska's State Flag into the case design along with the NATO coat of arms and the United States Flag.

So she wrote the adjutant general of the United States Army Forces in Europe asking a color reproduction of Nebraska's flag.

He didn't have one. But he figured the adjutant general at Washington would have it. So on went the request.

The adjutant general at Washington didn't have one. But he figured the chief of the Nebraska Military District at Omaha would have one. On went the request.

Colonel John R. Dey, the Nebraska district boss who told the story, didn't have one. But he figured Nebraska Adjutant General Guy N. Henninger would have one. On went the request.

General Henninger didn't have a color reproduction. But he had an answer. He sent Colonel Dey his own real Nebraska flag from Lincoln.

And now Donald P. Christensen, a civilian engineering employe of the Nebraska district, is busy with brush and paint making the color reproduction that Frau Taake wants.

It will go out in the mails to keep Frau Taake's needle busy.

And down the line the word can be passed, "Mission accomplished."

Home Warning System Near

—Washington—
The Federal Civil Defense Administration is developing a private air raid warning signal system that can be installed in almost every American home for less than $10.

Civil Defense engineers predict that 99 out of 100 U. S. families will have the alarm system in their homes within a few years.

The home devices would supplement regular siren air raid warnings and radio broadcasts that would be used in event of an enemy atomic attack.

Tentative plans already are being mapped to test one type of home signal in an unidentified Western city.

The agency reported that preliminary studies on an indoor warning system were made earlier this year at the University of Michigan.

More than 100 different proposals were suggested for devices which could be activated by use of electric power lines, telephones or radio. One type would have sounded by varying the pressure on water mains going into American homes.

A vice president has been elected and a new major department created by West Penn Power, which also announced the promotion of several executives.

A new planning department has been formed to set up basic long-range plans and policies, and appraise the contributions made by current operations toward established goals. Selected to head this new executive staff department is Vice President Harry Restofski, a 41-year veteran with the utility who has been in charge of marketing functions.

Key activities of the new department will include forecasts, economic studies, projections of organization and manpower needs, and coordination of individuals and specialized departmental planning as it applies to utility's long-range plans. In addition, the new department's scope will include rate research development and administration, formerly a marketing function.

Restofski, who has been marketing vice president since November 1951, has served West Penn through his long career in every major department. After several years in meter and substitution work after joining the company in 1914, he became successively assistant to the vice president in charge of the power department, general safety director, an assistant to the president, assistant general manager of the West Penn Appliance Company, training director, personnel director, sales promotion manager, and general sales manager.

Robert G. MacDonald has been elected vice president by the board of directors, and will head the marketing group. A West Penn since 1931, he has been serving as manager of the company's general services.

After five years at Butler, Kittanning and New Kensington, MacDonald joined West Penn Power's general staff in 1936 as assistant director of personnel. He returned to Kittanning a year later as assistant division construction superintendent, where he remained until 1943, when he was advanced to the district manager at Bellefonte.

In 1946, he was promoted to Keystone division manager, with headquarters at Ridgway. Rejoining the general staff in 1952 as assistant to the operating vice president, MacDonald was promoted to assistant vice president in 1953, and to manager of general services early last year.

The marketing operations for which he will be responsible include sales, municipal relations, market research, area development, advertising and public and employe information.

J. F. McQuillin, manager of methods engineering, has been promoted to manager of general services to replace MacDonald. McQuillin's new responsibilities include the utility's building and land, meter and general shops, purchasing, transportation, stores and methods engineering.

Since joining West Penn, McQuillin has served as a staff engineer in the Power department, chief mechanical engineer, and as manager of methods engineering.

John E. Mueller, executive assistant to the president, has been named manager of planning.

During his 28-year career with West Penn, John Mueller started as a salesman and rose to the position of residential and commercial sales manager. The past two years, he has served as manager of policy administration and as executive assistant to the president.

New manager of methods engineering is Earl J. DeChambeau, advanced from senior methods engineer. DeChambeau started with West Penn with the meter department at Connellsville. In 1948, he was named supervisor of training for the operating department, and joined the methods engineering department when it was formed in 1953.

You haven't forgotten the night they called—just about a week after you had moved into the new town and were lonesome for the other town in which you had lived for so long.

It wasn't that you didn't like this town. There were good stores, and streets with big elms, first-rate schools, and a clean beach nearby that the children would enjoy in the summer time.

But yet, you were "strangers." You didn't know a soul.

But one night you had these callers. Friendly people. The same kind of people you had left "back home." The same kind of people you had hoped you would meet here—and finally had.

"We'll be seeing you again," they said as they left. "Look for us in Church next Sunday."

A man that hath friends must show himself friendly. —Prov. 18:24.

Thanks to them and their invitation, your family is a part of your new town now. For you found friendship in your neighborhood Church. Your children found playmates in the young people's groups, and for you, there were fellowship and worship meetings that welcomed your arrival. After your first morning in Church, it wasn't a strange town any more!

You'll find this true in any town in our America. For it's one of our traditions that Church people are friendly people—sharing your faith and your beliefs, sharing your interest in making your town a better town for you and your children.

"We'll be seeing you again . . ."
Your Church is waiting to say that to you!

Ancient Doctors Knew Chemistry

A University of Pennsylvania professor says that the oldest known medical prescriptions show the ancients had "a broad acquaintance with chemistry" and used material which required skills for preparation.

Dr. Samuel Noah Kramer, research professor of Assyriology at Pennsylvania, said the ancient prescriptions are on clay tablets which lay buried 4,000 years in the sands of Mesopotamia, and are written in Cuneiform script developed by ancient Sumerians. Kramer told the American Association of the History of Medicine, the ancient doctor used potassium nitrate, table salt, ground snake skin and turtle shell in his prescriptions, as well as botanicals made from seeds, bark, roots or leaves of cassia, myrtle, thyme, willow, pear, fir, fig and date.

"The prescriptions," he added, "reflected the long-standing confidence of the ancients in orderiferous principles of botanical elements. Asafetida was included."

Samuel Thaviu To Be Soloist With Symphony

One of the outstanding programs of the current season of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra will be presented this Friday night only at Syria Mosque. Samuel Thaviu, the orchestra's concertmaster, will be the soloist in the beautiful Bruch Violin Concerto in g minor, and district concert-goers will have their first chance to hear the unusual and exciting "Carmina Burana" songs by Carl Orff, for soloists, chorus and orchestra, with William Steinberg conducting.

Featured in this latter work will be three internationally known soloists, Sylvia Stahlman, Leslie Chabay and Morley Meredith, and the Student Chorus of Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Leslie Chabay has been heard in Pittsburgh many times, most recently this past spring as tenor soloist in the symphony's production of the Bach b minor Mass. Miss Stahlman, of Nashville, Tennessee, has appeared in opera, concert and the Broadway stage in New York, and for two years was the leading coloratura at the Theatre Royal de la Monnaie in Brussels, Belgium. Mr. Meredith young American baritone, was Fritz Reiner's choice for this same role with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Samuel Thaviu is well known for his frequent solo appearances with the symphony, in addition to his outstanding year-round activities as concert master. The Bruch concerto will allow him full reign to display his mastery musicianship.

The manuscript collection from which the texts of Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana" were taken dates back to the 13th century, and contains two hundred songs, ranging in style and content from earthy simplicity to unabashed, almost cynical worldliness.

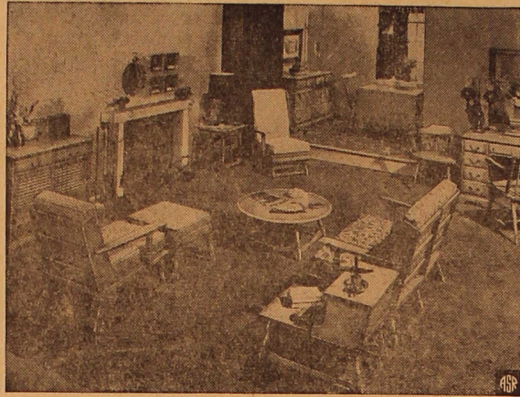

In Orff's musical interpretation, the work can be performed either in concert style or with full or partial staging. The Pittsburgh Symphony production will be in concert style and promises to be a highly rewarding evening.

Friday night's concert will open with Wagner's Prelude to Lohengrin.

Mrs. H. Ray Call Fractures Hip

Mrs. H. Ray Call of East Greene street, suffered a fracture of the right hip Friday evening in a fall in the kitchen of her home. She is a patient in Greene County Memorial Hospital. Her condition is satisfactory.

Decorator's Notebook by Alicia Joyce

Now that the holiday season is definitely on the way, the living and dining areas of your home are certain to get double and triple duty. If you plan them with furnishings like these, your holiday living and entertaining should be as enjoyable for you as it will be for your family and friends.

Furniture in Early American styling with a fine patina wood finish will set a warm mellow mood to any room. Both practical and fashionable are the louvred sliding doors on the buffet and chest pieces. At the same time, each has more than adequate drawer space. There are deep drawers under the storage section for linens, and shallow drawers above for silver and other miscellany.

This grouping is especially ideal for the living room with a fireplace. The seating pieces are lounge and comfortable. The lovely and attractive linen upholstery over foam rubber cushions is zipped along the sides for simple removal when cleaning is necessary.

You'll appreciate, too, the variety of sizes and shapes of occasional tables in this group. There is the dainty square for a small corner, a circular for the center of a grouping, and a step table for chair-side use for still another variation.

This surely is a furniture grouping designed to answer all the requirements for functional holiday living for you, your family and your friends.

Volcano Activity Spotted Off Hawaii

—Pearl Harbor, Hawaii—

Volcanic activity in a supposedly deep ocean area west of Honolulu has been reported by crewmen of two planes, one of whom said a land mass was visible.

The first report came from Lieutenant Legrande Beaton of Gonsalves Garden, Columbia, S. C., pilot of a Navy plane flying to Wake Island.

He said he saw a land mass a half mile long 375 miles west of Honolulu and 180 miles south of Necker Island, in the Hawaii group.

He said surf was breaking on the northwest shore and brown streaks ran north and south 20 miles each way from the mass. His plane flew over the area at 10,000 feet.

The second report came from an Air Force C-125 Globemaster, which said volcanic activity was sighted 300 miles west of Honolulu.

Charts of the area of both sightings show only deep water.

Crewmen of the third plane said they covered an area 100 by 50 miles with good visibility at 1,000 feet altitude but saw only the orange streaks in the water.

Tests Could Ease Scientist Shortage

—New Haven, Conn.—

Psychological tests administered to grammar school children could, in time, alleviate the shortage of scientists in the United States, says Frank Auld, Jr., assistant professor of psychology at Yale. These tests, Auld adds, would show which children have the talent required to pursue a scientific education.

Flavored Sprycrust— A Whole New Concept in Pie-making

Now you can make as many different flavored piecrusts as there are flavors — chocolate, honey, fruit, coffee, just to mention a few. Flavored Sprycrust developed in the Lever Test Kitchens is based upon a creamy "Whip" made by whipping Spry with a chosen liquid. "Hungry Boy" Apple Pie features "Dutch-Whip" Sprycrust made doubly delicious with the tingle of buttermilk and roll-ins of grated sharp cheddar cheese. Here is the recipe:

"Hungry Boy" Apple Pie
 1 recipe "Dutch-Whip" Pastry 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/2 cup granulated sugar 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed 6 cups pared, cored thin apple slices
 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 2 tablespoons flour

Shape pastry into a flat oblong. Roll between 2 sheets of waxed paper into an oblong about 8" x 11-1/2". Peel off top paper. Sprinkle 1/4 cup grated cheese over pastry, recover with paper, and gently roll cheese into pastry. Turn paper and pastry over and repeat process, rolling in remaining cheese. Put sugars, salt, flour, spices, and lemon juice in a large mixing bowl and mix well. Add apple slices and mix well with sugar mixture. Turn into 6" x 10" baking dish. Dot with butter. Peel top paper off rolled pastry and lay pastry over baking dish, pastry side down. Remove top paper. Trim pastry about 1/2" beyond edge of dish all around. Turn edge under, moisten rim of dish, and flute pastry, pressing onto dish. Cut a few steam vents. Bake on lower shelf of hot oven (425° F.) 40-50 min. Makes 6 servings.

"Dutch-Whip" Pastry
 1/2 cup less 1 tablespoon Homogenized Spry 2 tablespoons buttermilk
 1 tablespoon boiling water 1-1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt

Put Spry in mixing bowl. Add boiling water and buttermilk and whip with fork until all liquid is absorbed and a thick, smooth mixture is formed. Sift flour and salt together onto Spry whip and stir quickly into a dough. Pick up and work into a smooth, blended dough. Makes enough pastry for a 9" pie shell or a 6" x 10" deep-dish pie.

Rembrandt Etching Bought for 35 Cents

—San Diego—
 John Gallucci, 70, whose hobby is rummage sales, disclosed that an etching which he picked up a year ago for 35 cents is a Rembrandt.

He quoted Miss Erbia Feinblatt, print curator of the Los Angeles County Art Museum, as confirming the find. In Los Angeles, Miss Feinblatt said the picture definitely is from a Rembrandt plate, showing a rare second state of "The Entombment."

"I hesitated a little on the paper whether it was 17th Century or not but the etching definitely is from Rembrandt's 'The Entombment.' It is very interesting because it shows the state seldom seen by collectors," she added.

Navy Seeking Aviation Personnel

Attention all young men and women interested in aviation. The U. S. Navy is interested in you. The air arm of the Navy offers, to those who qualify, schooling at the aviation fundamentals school in Norman, Oklahoma. Here an airman is given a basic knowledge of the entire aviation field as it pertains to the Navy. Then, upon completion of the fundamentals school, advanced technical training is available to those who demonstrate exceptional ability in specialized fields. These specialists range from the highly technical fields of the aviation electronics technician and air controlman to the highly skilled fields of the parachute rigger and aviation photographer's mate. And, don't forget, "You earn while you learn." The Navy pays you as you go to school. So contact your Navy recruiter at the Post Office in Waynesburg every Monday and Thursday, and enlist.

Tuesdays Safest Day on Highways

—New York—
 The safest day of the week on the highways is Tuesday. A study of 1954 highway accidents showed that only 11.7 per cent of each week's accidents—fatal and non-fatal—occur on Tuesdays.

Of course, the accident rate is somewhat higher on Tuesdays that follow a three-day holiday week end.

Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

By GEORGE N. THOMAS

IN RETROSPECT

From the period of several hundreds of years before Christ, through the ancient Olympic festivals of the Greeks, to the submission of and then the revival in the early 1800s, sports have belonged to royalty and citizenry as well.

While for centuries Greene County lay dormant as a child of nature without knowing the footsteps of man, sports had no place in its sun.

But almost simultaneously with the awakening of organized sports in the world just after the middle of the 19th century, county citizens displayed remarkable alertness and adeptness.

That is to say that not everything comes late to Greene County.

Not only did the pre-Civil War male students of Waynesburg College show they were athletic-minded, but they also proved they possessed ability in their cricket games.

Then, a few years later when organized baseball was not yet organized, the Grecian Benders toured the district with ferocious mustaches and baseball bats that made opponents fear and respect them.

In the 1890s when few U. S. colleges were existing, let alone playing baseball, Waynesburg College took great pride in its diamond men whose calibre also was equal to the name.

And through the years thereafter the college led the way in all county sports.

After baseball came football, basketball, track and field, girls' sports and wrestling.

On the college fields and in its gymnasiums were tried, approved and handed down the major sports we recognize today.

The high schools and sandlots carried the ball from there until, at the end of the first half century, sports activity had so encompassed so many individuals in so many age groups that frequently a full newspaper page daily failed to cover all events.

And that's remarkable when one stops to consider that society did not always live in such sports splendor.

While the ancients, even those who lived through the Dark Ages, played informal games, some early kings of England did not approve of certain recreational activities.

Several ordinances declared some sports permissible, others not.

Author Joseph Strutt chronicles in "Sports and Pastimes of the People of England" that young men of good families were taught to run, leap, wrestle and joust.

On the other hand, Roger Ascham in "Toxophilus" declared that "running, leaping and quiting be too vile for scholars."

And so the struggle went on for decades. Were sports harmful to students and society?

The 20th century brought the answer. Because colleges and universities—that is, the "institutions of higher learning"—condoned sports, the lower schools and communities adopted them.

Perhaps without knowing why, society stamped approval of all sports.

And through peace and war wise men have been saying athletics are fine, and, at the same time bringing out reasons.

In peace, they say, sports tend to bring about "sound mind and body."

In war, they claim, it has brought us victory.

Supporting the latter contention, General Douglas A. MacArthur, when superintendent of West Point, penned:

"Upon the fields of friendly strife, Are sown the seeds That upon other fields, on other days,

Will bear the fruits of victory"

Most leaders of athletics conclude that sports activities for both girls and boys teaches them to think when they meet certain situations in a contest, and later they carry that ability into life.

Very few don't taste defeat in sports and actually that's good for them.

It helps adjust them for some defeats later in life which they inevitably must endure.

The close association and co-operation teaches them to mingle with and work with groups, and both are necessary to success.

But as a society we're spoiled. We not only want the best we can afford in food, clothing and other material things, but also demand the best athletic team to represent our community or school.

Win, win, win at any price has become the cry and we have often gone beyond reasonable and practical means to achieve victory.

And the young have witnessed our shameful activities and zeal for winning, and our fearful reaction to defeat.

In a poll taken not too long ago by Professor L. A. Averill of Worcester (Mass.) S. T. C. for "School Society," more 12 to 14 year olds said they wanted to be like Ted Williams than Jesus Christ or George Washington.

First Week's Hunting Good

Pennsylvania sportsmen had a successful first week of small game hunting, the State Game Commission reported Sunday.

The agency said the number of kills are higher than during the corresponding period in 1954, particularly in cottontail rabbits, male ringnecked pheasants and turkeys.

It reported an increase in the number of squirrels where food is plentiful and few in "former haunts where the nut crop is poor this fall."

The agency also said there was an overall increase in the state's bobwhite quail population, "but many hunters are refusing to shoot them."

Many hunters appeared to be after the wild turkey since hunting pressure declined in some farm areas, but increased in the woodlands, according to the commission.

This Quarterback Just Too Good

—Stockton, Calif.— The faking of a quarterback was so good Saturday that he fooled the referee and cost his team 27 yards.

It happened as College of Pacific bowed to UCLA, 34-0.

College of Pacific quarterback Junior Reynosa faked a handoff to halfback Tom Perry. Referee Joe Vigna was so sure Perry had it that when the Bruins piled up the halfback Vigna blew his whistle.

As it tooted, the ball was sailing downfield from Reynosa to Roger Linn for a 30-yard gain to the Bruin 35. But since the whistle's sound had caused the Bruin defenders to slow down the referee nullified the pass.

Dr. A. S. Hazzard Named Assistant Fish Director

—Harrisburg—

The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has appointed as assistant executive director Dr. Albert S. Hazzard of Ann Arbor, Michigan, who is now and for many years has been, director of the Michigan Institute for Fisheries Research.

Dr. Hazzard, who will take over his new assignment on December 1, is one of the most widely known and highly regarded fresh water fisheries technicians in the nation and is, indeed, considered around the world as an authority in his field.

Dr. Hazzard will become supervisor of all Fish Commission work in the field except law enforcement.

In announcing this key addition to the Fish Commission staff, executive director, William Voigt, Jr., issued the following statement:

"The appointment of Dr. Hazzard marks the starting point in the development of a system which eventually will put eight regional technicians in strategic locations across Pennsylvania.

"These are to be qualified biologists capable of carrying out a variety of specialized duties relating to stream and lake studies, stream improvement to increase fish carrying capacity, watershed management to reduce siltation damage, pollution investigations, and other important aspects of fishery management.

"The biologists will be stationed where they can reach trouble spots on short notice. This is expected to help considerably in the management program of the Commission, particularly in reducing the time lag between the reporting of a difficulty and getting a technician on the scene to investigate.

"It also will assist in keeping current our information on the condition, carrying capacity, improvement or deterioration from various causes, and other factors affecting Pennsylvania fishing waters.

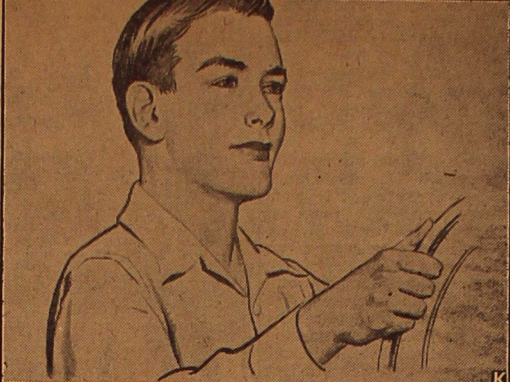

"The assistant executive director will be answerable to the executive director who, in turn, reports to the members of the Fish Commission, of which R. Stanley Smith of Waynesburg, is president.

"The Commission feels that the action pattern now made possible will provide the well integrated and highly knit organization it desires in order to give the license buyers of Pennsylvania the best possible fishing opportunity over the long pull."

At 19... An Expert

This kid knows his stuff when it comes to driving. Sure, he's young... but he's smart. And he knows what's smart behind the wheel. He's got perfect timing... constant control... and good road judgment. He's got them all because he practices them... all the time. Because of his timing, he never needs to dart from lane to lane. Rather he glides his car smoothly, anticipating his next move long in advance. As for control... it lets him blend with the flow of traffic without those jerky starts and stops.

And he'll be the first to tell you that anyone with road judgment will keep at reasonable speeds... not too fast, not too slow. He's young... but he's an expert. And he's proud of it!

There's this about driving... You can always spot an expert!

Jefferson Rockets Defeat Cecil High; Virgili Sets New County Scoring Mark

Paced by Gene Virgili who scored all three touchdowns, the Jefferson High School football squad scored a 21-6 victory over the Cecil High School gridgers in a Class B contest at Jefferson Friday.

The three scores gave the fleet halfback a season total of 17 TDs for a total of 102 points to establish a new Greene County scoring mark. The previous record of 99 points was held by Larry Krutko while he was playing at Carmichaels.

Virgili ran 37 yards for his first touchdown; went 27 for his second one, after Steve Ferencak returned an intercepted pass to that point from the 50, and went three yards for his final tally to cap a 77 yard Rocket drive.

Shepherd ran five yards for the lone Cecil TD to top a 51 yard march.

Score by quarters: Jefferson 14 0 0 7-21 Cecil 0 6 0 0-6

Mikes Defeated By Beth. Joint

Scoring once in every period, the Bethlehem Joint High School grid machine scored a 28-18 victory over the Carmichaels High School football squad in a game at Carmichaels Friday night.

Paul Meyers started the Bulldog scoring with a 20 yard TD run early in the opening quarter. Martin Nivert plunged one yard for the second Bethlehem tally in the second quarter while Norman Williams traveled the same distance in the third quarter for the third Bulldog TD. The winners got their final score in the last period on a two yard plunge by Campbell.

The most exciting play of the game came late in the final quarter when Arkie Smith took a screen pass on his own 30 and behind a wave of Carmichaels blockers, rolled 70 yards for a TD.

The other Carmichaels scores came on a five yard run by Don Whipkey in the third quarter, and a two yard plunge by Harry Ellsworth early in the last period.

Bethlehem Joint held a 14-10 edge in first downs.

Score by quarters: Beth. Joint 7 7 7 7-28 Carmichaels 0 0 6 12-18

Red Raiders Down Georges

Racing to a first half lead of 20-0, Coach Mike Baker's Waynesburg High School football squad scored a 26-13 victory over the gridgers of Georges Township High School in a contest at York Run Friday night.

The Red Raiders scored two touchdowns in the first period, the first on a 27 yard pass from McClure to Clovis, and the second on a five yard run by McClure. They added another six pointer in the second quarter on a four yard run by Bernaducci.

Georges hit the scoring column in the third period on a 10 yard TD run by Strele, but Berdine equalized the score by going 15 yards for another Waynesburg tally.

Georges scored their second TD in the fourth quarter on a 19-yard pass from Strele to Beckwith.

Waynesburg held a slim 13-12 edge in first downs. Score by quarters: Waynesburg 13 7 6 0-26 Georges 0 0 6 7-13

Waynesburg College Yellow Jackets Defeat Washington And Jefferson, 50-13

Displaying a varied attack that netted them scores in each period, Waynesburg College's football squad racked up an easy 50-13 victory over a visiting Washington and Jefferson College eleven before a large crowd of fans at College Field Saturday night.

Entering the game as heavy favorites to defeat the Prexies, the Yellow Jackets soon had the contest under control and could, in all probability run a much higher count had they so desired. Although outclassed, W. & J. displayed determination throughout the contest and was fighting back as hard at the finish as they were at the beginning of the game.

Waynesburg's scoring was divided among seven players with Frank Gounder, freshman sensation, racking up two tallies. The other TDs were scored by Joe Zychowski, Harry Rinehart, Art Walker, John Beazell, George Terembes and Lou D'Aurelio.

The Yellow Jackets got their scoring spree under way the first time they got their hands on the ball. The Prexies received the opening kickoff but on their third play they fumbled and Zychowski recovered on the Wash-Jeff 49. Beazell rambled 24 yards on the first play and Williams picked up 21 on the second attempt to put the ball on the four from where Zychowski cracked over. Engro added the extra point and the Jackets held a 7-0 edge.

A few moments later Waynesburg took over on their own 32 and once more drove for a score. Runs of 27 yards by Beazell and 21 yards by Rinehart put the oval on the two from where Rinehart scored. Fletcher's attempt for the extra point failed but Waynesburg now held a 13 point edge.

At this stage of the game Coach Popovich started to substitute freely, but the Jacket attack continued. Taking over on the Jay 40, the Waynesburg crew quickly moved to the 16 from where Frank Gounder scored. He also tacked on the extra point to push the count to 20-0.

Unable to move the ball Wash-Jeff was forced to punt with Art Walker returning 29 yards to the W&J 44. Croftcheck and D'Aurelio picked up yardage to place the ball on the 32 from where Walker scored to push the score at the half to 26-0, Waynesburg.

Freeman Fletcher took the second half opening kickoff for the Yellow Jackets and rambled back to the Jay 20 before being pulled down. In two tries Johnny Beazell scored and Waynesburg was well out in front 32-0.

Wash-Jeff came back to pick up their first tally, taking the ensuing kickoff and putting on a determined drive that was capped when Stacey went over.

Shortly after the fourth quarter got under way, the Red and Black tallied again, this time on a pass from Stacey to Halter.

Waynesburg got back in the scoring column a few moments later when Gounder took a lateral from Beazell and rolled 33 yards for a TD.

Georges Terembes picked up another Yellow Jacket tally as he ran 45 yards with an intercepted pass, and D'Aurelio tacked on the final six pointer on a one yard plunge.

Mike Engro suffered a rib injury early in the contest which may sideline him for the final game of the season with Kent State University this Saturday.

Score by quarters: Waynesburg 13 13 6 18-50 Wash-Jeff 0 0 6 7-13

This service provides for a receipt to the sender and a record of delivery at the office of address. No record is kept at the office at which mailed. There is no insurance coverage provided.

All mailable matter of no intrinsic value on which postage is paid at the first-class rate will be accepted as certified mail. This does not include articles of a non-negotiable character and other matter which would involve a cost of duplication if lost or destroyed. Certified mail may be sent by air on payment of the required postage.

Return receipt service may be requested at the time of mailing only, and special delivery services are available on payment of the prescribed fees.

Fee, in addition to postage, 15 cents. Return receipts, (a), showing to whom and when delivered, seven cents; (b), showing to whom, when, and address where delivered, 31 cents; (c), deliver to addressee only, 20 cents.

A certified mail stamp is available for the fee. However, the fee and postage may be paid by ordinary postage stamps, meter stamps or by permit imprints.

You may mail certified mail at any post office, branch or station. It may also be deposited in mail drops in post offices or in street letter boxes, provided you follow specific directions.

Obtain blank certified mail coupons (no charge) at the designated window of your post office station. Obtain also, blank return receipt forms if needed.

Enter on the receipt portion of the certified mail coupon the name and complete address of the person or firm to whom the mail is addressed.

If return receipt service is desired, check block on the receipt to show the specific service requested. Enter the certified mail number on the return receipt card, address it yourself and attach it to the back of the envelope. If you desire the return receipt to show the address where the letter was delivered, there is a block at the top of this form which must be checked by you.

Be certain to affix sufficient postage to the envelope to pay for the certified mail fee, first-class postage, return receipt fee, or special delivery fee. If you want a postmarked sender's receipt, attach the certified mail sticker to the letter and present the letter and completed coupon to the employee at the post office.

If a postmarked receipt is not desired, attach the certified mail sticker to the envelope directly above the address, detach your receipt, and deposit the letter in a letter box. Mark your receipt to show the mailing date.

If you mail an average of three or more letters at one time, you may use mailing books, Form 3877A, which are furnished by the postal service without charge. Specially printed mailing bills may be used and provided at your expense. A series of numbers will be furnished you. The sheets of the book, Form 3877A, become the sender's receipts and should be presented at the time of mailing.

be presented at the time of mailing.

You may also obtain at your own expense a stamp for endorsing the certified letters, or you may have your envelope overprinted with the endorsement. The endorsement must be facsimile or proportionate enlargement of the official endorsement. Insert the word "certified" in the space provided at the top of the form.

Endorse and number the letters. If return receipt or special delivery services are requested, mark the letters "return receipt requested," "return receipts requested" showing address where requested, or "special delivery." Prepare and attach return receipt to the back of the envelope with the receipt side showing.

Show on the form the number of each article and the name and address of addressee.

Enter only the amount of fees paid for return receipts.

Affix necessary postage to the articles.

Deliver to the post office. The accepting employee will count the items, receipt the bill for the total number, and return the bill to you.

Mail for delivery by carriers is taken out on the first trip after it is received. The mail will be delivered to the addressee or his authorized representative after the delivery receipt is obtained by the postage employee.

The mail carrier will leave a notice of arrival if he cannot deliver the certified letter for any reason. The letter will be brought back to the post office and held for you. If the letter is not called for, it will be returned at the expiration of the period stated by the sender, or after 15 days if no period is stated.

If addressed to a post office box, a notice of arrival will be placed in the box and the letter may be called for at the designated window.

If a firm receives a large number of certified letters, the letters will be listed by number on a firm delivery bill and the addressee, or authorized agent can give receipt by signing the bill.

Certified mail can be deposited in any post office or in a street letter box. The receipt provides a record of mailing. No record is kept at the office of mailing. Certified mail is handled in transit as ordinary first-class mail. A signed delivery receipt is obtained and is retained on file at the delivery office for six months. There is no indemnity coverage and only matter of no intrinsic value is acceptable.

Registered mail must be deposited at a post office. A record is maintained in the mailing office of the receipt and dispatch of each registered article. Registered mail is receipted for at every exchange point in transit, and is charged out to the delivering employee at the office of address. A signed delivery receipt is obtained and is retained on file for three years. Indemnity coverage is provided against loss or damage up to $1,000. Letters containing matter of value should be registered.

Inquiry on Form 1510 concerning the loss of a certified letter may be made at the post office on payment of a fee of 10 cents. You must present your sender's receipt at the time an inquiry is filed.

Please complete legibly the address on certified mail and place the return address in the upper left hand corner of the letter to assist us in handling your mail as efficiently as possible.

Pakistan Cuts Price; Bagpipers Wail

Scotland reeled at the disclosure that firms in Pakistan are trying to sell bagpipes to the Scots.

The Pakistan bagpipe companies have shocked the proud Scots firms by offering their products at half price of local instruments.

Robert Reid, head of one Glasgow firm, said: "Our prices range from $56 for pipes of plain polished wood, to $280 for a set with ivory and silver mountings. 'We can sell no cheaper if we are to make a profit.'"

"But the Pakistan makers, with easier access to ivory and fine woods, can beat our prices by half. They have been attacking our foreign markets but now have carried the fight right into our own camp."

"I have just received a price list from one Pakistan firm accompanied by an offer to sell their instruments—to me."

Deserves Recognition 'Bill of Rights Day'

For more than a century and a half this important date in our history went virtually unrecognized, yet is probably second in importance to Independence Day.

In recent years, however, there have been spasmodic efforts by groups and individuals to give December 15 the commemoration it deserves. Two years ago, for example, on the occasion of the 160th anniversary of the ratification, the Legion of Guardsmen asked each post to recognize the date in a public program.

And this year the American Federation of Labor is asking all of its unions and locals to recognize Bill of Rights day at union meetings, through the schools and through the press.

Who knows? Perhaps in time December 15 will be given nationwide recognition equal to the historical holidays we now observe. It is past time it is so recognized, for as the AFL points out "there is no problem of human rights which cannot be answered within the Perimeter of the Bill of Rights."

Truly it is a date to remember.

Oil Boom Town Nowhere In Sight

—Burburnett, Texas—

There's not a single trace of Bridgetown, once an oil boom town of 10,000 population near here. It mushroomed in the great oil boom of 1920 and disappeared when it was over.

Now is the time

★ TO SAVE SENSIBLY- AND MAKE PROSPERITY- PAY OFF FOR YOU!

TODAY, we people of America are riding high on the greatest, longest ground swell of prosperity this country has ever known. Total national income over $300,000,000,000.00! Total national product—the value of goods and services produced—$381,000,000,000.00!

It's wonderful! And it can continue—if we handle this prosperity with common sense. If each of us, as an individual citizen, manages his own financial affairs with care.

One of the most important things to do is to save sensibly—now. Right now, when your earning power is at a peak, put something away for yourself every payday—systematically. The best way is to sign up for U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This automatically does your saving for you. As little as $3.75 a week will give you over $1000.00 cash in just 5 years. Another way is to buy Bonds regularly where you bank. A Bond a month, at $37.50, in 9 years and 8 months builds to $4,913.40! Make yourself do it today—you'll thank yourself tomorrow!

Here are three reasons why U. S. Savings Bonds should be an important part of your investment program. They are safe—your principal is never subject to market fluctuation. They're sure—Bonds pay an average of 3% per year, compounded semiannually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months). And they can go on earning 3% for another 10 years after that. They're liquid—you can always cash them, if you have to, after you've held them for two months.

Treasury Secretary Humphrey said, (on June 24, 1955), "We believe at this time of great prosperity that all of us—Government, business, and individuals alike—should exercise self-restraint in the use of public or private credit and the accumulation of debt." Let's apply his words to our private affairs—and preserve this prosperity for ourselves and our children!

For your prosperity, and America's, 100 — invest in U. S. Savings Bonds!
