Leader's Tax Proposal Faces Fight in Senate

The House of Representatives Tuesday night after eight hours of wrangling passed Governor George Leader's excise tax bill with a number of amendments.

Fireworks are expected in the Republican controlled Senate.

The Democratic leadership in the House exempted coal from the manufacturers excise tax bill and threw a tax squeeze on the natural gas industry.

The squeeze was imposed by an amendment to the bill that will exempt from the proposed excise tax all utilities that pay the state gross receipts tax.

Natural gas concerns have for years successfully resisted the gross receipts tax, but a bill has been lying doggo for months in the House Ways and Means Committee to bring them under that impost.

With coal exempted, and natural gas likely to accept the less stiff gross receipts tax, oil and coal by-products such as disco, brickettes, coke, and the like, remained the only heating fuels subject to the excise levy.

Other amendments effecting exemptions were inserted into the bill. They were:

Fertilizer for farm use. Any manufactured product purchased by the Federal, state or local governments, except alcoholic beverages.

The exemption of alcoholic beverages will mean that liquor prices will go up in Pennsylvania. The Liquor Control Board, in buying whiskey manufactured outside the state, will have to pay the three and one-half cent excise tax into the State Department of Revenue.

The new exemptions will reduce the $420,000,000 that Governor Leader has estimated the proposed tax will produce in the 16 months of this biennium in which he intends to collect it. No one was able to estimate how much the reduction will amount to.

The Senate has recessed until Monday. While the governor hopes that the Senate will accept his "second best" tax measure without delay, there is every indication that Senate Republicans will take a long, hard look at it before giving the three votes the Senate Democrats must have to clear it.

Just Thinking!

By JIM DENT

The Children's Aid Society of Greene County

Of which I am proud to be a member deals with the results of human frailties neglected children.

There's something about these meetings that lets people let their hair down.

So many wonderful things amusing things disgusting things awful things and, we're glad to say, wonderful things are revealed in soul-searing sincerity.

This is goin' through the North Forty to get to my story of a Child's Dressing Table

A few weeks ago we carried a story about a fire

a home completely razed by fire

Children's Aid had just placed two wards

a boy and a girl

brother and sister

Foster parents lost everything

Children didn't have much but suffered also "complete loss"

a disaster to their youthful minds.

One of our Board Members in searching her attic for discarded an no-longer-needed furniture for the temporary alleviation of the veteran and his family

The little girl

espied a long-forgotten child's dressing table covered with years' of normal accumulation

A Dressing Table which was used by our Board member

as a child

Seeing the child's eyes brighten

She offered the decrepit broken-down forgotten Dressing Table to the child.

This little Dressing Table today is something out of Cinderella's story

It's the most beautiful most gorgeous most wonderful possession even a queen ever owned so much for so little!

The First National Bank of Carmichaels

First National Bank of Carmichaels last July completed 54 years of service to Greene County and southwestern Pennsylvania.

The institution opened with a capital stock of $25,000, which has now grown to $200,000. Total resources are now $5,000,000.

Several years ago an addition to the building was necessary because of increased business.

When this bank was founded in 1901, F. M. Michiner was president; J. Ewing Baily, vice-president; Stephen A. Burnett, cashier. Other officials were N. H. Biddle, Samuel Bunting, Isaac

B. Patterson, George W. Strawn, Oscar Hartley and John C. Dowlin.

During the past several years Carmichaels has grown rapidly, and the bank has been a predominant factor in this development.

Present officers and directors are: L. T. Laidley, president; Richard L. Baily, vice-president and cashier; Frank G. Huston, assistant cashier; Karl M. Baily, assistant cashier; Walter C. Montgomery and Gilmore F. Bell.

The bank is considered one of the strongest in Western Pennsylvania.

Greene County Children's Aid Drive Progresses

Greene County Children's Aid Society is in progress of a campaign for funds throughout the county.

All funds collected for this drive remain in the county and are used for aid of children.

The generous support the Society received in its initial fund drive last year, made it possible for the organization to finance and complete 128 investigations of dependent children, involving 73 families in Greene County.

As a result of these investigations the Society has been able to write off as "mission accomplished" 78 children, involving 36 families. . . . through the generous cooperation and financial support of residents.

Services rendered by the Society are, caring for children who are dependent or neglected; holding families together; caring for children who need substitute parental care; caring for children who are returned to their homes from foster homes.

The Society aids parents who seek help for their children; aids in healthy growth and adjustment of children; aids children seeking help in their own behalf, and seeks to improve parent-child relationship.

The Society gives services leading to the early discovery of children needing help and deals with behaviour problems of children.

A large part of all monies raised is used for medical and psychiatric treatment of children under the Society's care.

1,081 Free Turkeys Go In the Mail

—New York—

A prominent New York realtor shipped 1,081 turkeys Monday via parcel post to friends throughout the world. They average 20 pounds.

Charles F. Noyes began the custom back in 1924 with a dozen turkeys and has added to the list each year.

"It's just a good will gesture, nothing else," he explained.

Among those who will receive the free turkeys this year are President Eisenhower, former Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Novelist Fannie Hurst, President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Governor Averall Harriman of New York.

"I have friends in practically every state who are getting them," said the 77-year-old Noyes. "Others are being sent to Cuba, Mexico and South America."

Recently, at the insistence of friends, she submitted "The Prayer," and it was immediately accepted. Permission for use of the words was obtained from the famous British playwright's estate.

Christmas Season Kickoff Parade Next Friday Night

Notice to Fat Folks!

(Editor's Note—The following Thanksgiving story was submitted by "Jackie Sue" Hammers, nine years, as part of her regular work in her fourth grade. We saw the story and it was too good to keep. The embellishments are ours.)

The Unhappy Turkey

By: JACQUELINE HAMMERS

Once there was a turkey who was very unhappy. He was fat and farmers always pick the fattest turkey. He had no time to get thin, because Thanksgiving was just three days away.

He went to see the wise old owl. The owl said the only thing he could think of was to stop eating. Now this turkey liked to eat very much. He said he would try, but he did not think he could stop even for one day.

Thanksgiving Day the farmer came out with his ax. All the turkeys ran and hid behind trees. By this time the unhappy turkey was so thin you could see his ribs.

So the farmer left him alone. He came to a turkey just the right size. So he grabbed the turkey (though he had a hard time doing it) and chopped off his head.

Now the unhappy turkey is known as the happy turkey. His worries are over until next Thanksgiving.

Howard R. Urbany Named Supervisor

Howard Raymond Urbany, a son of the late Joseph F. Urbany of Carmichaels, has been appointed township supervisor.

The vacancy was created by the death of Joseph F. Urbany, who had served from January 1950, until November 13, 1955.

Howard Urbany was appointed to finish the term of his father and serve an additional six years in the office, to which his father was elected in the November 8 election.

The other two members of the board are Joseph E. Fell and Joseph Stofcheck.

Waynesburg's annual Christmas parade to herald the shopping season will be held Friday night, December 2, with Santa Claus, Miss Merrie Christmas and her court. This year's event is sponsored by Waynesburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Roy Hartley is chairman. Preceding the parade a program of Christmas carols will be given on the courthouse portico by Waynesburg College Choral-ers under the direction of Donald Marcase.

The parade will begin at 6:30 when the business section will be lighted with Yule lights furnished by the West Penn Power Company.

Waynesburg Post 4793, Veterans of Foreign Wars will set up the community Christmas tree Sunday on the courthouse terrace and it too will be lighted.

Miss Catherine Boggio of Nemacolin, a senior in Cumberland Township High School, will reign as Miss Merrie Christmas.

Greenway Manufacturing Company is making costumes for nursery rhyme characters to be worn by paraders who will give lollipops to children along the route.

VFW to Erect Christmas Tree Again

Waynesburg Post 4793, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will again give Waynesburg its community Christmas tree. The local unit has installed a tree in the court house portico for the past ten years.

The tree for this year has been donated by James T. Love of North Parter street, and will be erected and decorated Sunday. Virgil Hilverding is head of the committee.

The post is also again sponsoring a clothing and toy drive for needy families in the county. The committee is H. Leslie Shriver, Jack Hammers, Lloyd Curry, Daniel Greenlee and Scott Marshall.

Those who have donations may call any members of the committee or the post home, and members will collect donations.

West Penn to Give Yule Light Power

West Penn Power Company will again provide free electricity for community Christmas lighting, district manager J. B. Aiken has announced.

"We are glad to supply this electricity for community lighting from dusk to midnight during December," he said. "Whether the folks plan just a community tree, or to decorate their shopping centers and main streets with festive Christmas lighting, they can count on burning the lights all evening."

Mr. Aiken stated the groups concerned with community lighting can plan to make full use of their decorations and equipment this year. "Christmas lighting gives satisfaction to everybody," he went on to say, "to the merchants who decorate and light their store fronts, the youngsters and the townspeople at large—with the cheerful community lighting sparkling and glowing all evening long."

40-Pound Turkey Gift To President

The case of the missing housewife

There's a roast cooking to perfection in the electric range. Ice cream is being made—in the refrigerator. Coffee is percolating. The children's play clothes are being washed clean as new. But there's no one in the kitchen!

One clue solves the case—electricity. It works automatically—mother doesn't have to stay in her kitchen. Right now, she's attending a P.T.A. meeting. And when she gets home, the dinner will be ready, the laundry done!

Another clue—electricity works at low wages—costs less than 20 cents a day for the average family. Isn't it by far the biggest bargain in your family budget? The men and women in your electric company are constantly working to keep it that way.

Social Security Tips
By HENRY HARPER

TAXPAYERS—Don't overpay your social security taxes. Employees have to pay two per cent on the first $4,200 earned. Self employed persons have to pay three per cent on that same amount. If you do pay on more than $4,200 you can claim the excess tax as credit on your income tax return next year or you can file at any Internal Revenue Office right now.

RAILROADERS—If you are retiring and have worked for a railroad more than 10 years and have also done enough work under social security you can get both railroad retirement and social security. If you work less than 10 years for a railroad you get only social security.

CERTAIN SELF EMPLOYED PROFESSIONAL PEOPLE—Lawyers, physicians, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, veterinarians and optometrists are not covered by social security.

HOW MUCH WILL YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY BE?—The answer depends on three things. Your earnings, the number of your dependents, and the age of each member of your family. Just because you pay maximum taxes doesn't mean that you and your family will receive the maximum family benefits of $200 per month. Better investigate!

Henry Harper is the Manager of the Social Security District Office located at 180 South Main street, Washington, Pa. He has been an employee of the Social Security Administration since 1938. The Republican suggests that you write to him if you have a problem.

British Farmer Mails His Cow

—Bourne End, England—British post office authorities, who brag they can "deliver anything," had a hard time keeping their boast here recently.

Farmer John Lunnon was determined to test the post office's boast. He decided to send his cow, Flossie, to market by mail from here.

Started post office officials watched the cow lumber up to the post office. A conference was held. Then Flossie was "posted" in a hired truck accompanied by a mail man.

"The postmen were dead right about their claim," Mr. Lunnon said. "She got there and it only cost me $9.94 for a 15-mile journey."

Talks on Trip To Middle East

John Patton Miller spoke at the meeting of the Library Club Thursday afternoon and showed colored pictures of the recent trip which he and Mrs. Miller made in the Middle East. Mrs. Lloyd E. Pollock was the hostess and the meeting was held in the Presbyterian Parish House. Mr. Miller pointed out the different styles of architecture showing how conquerors had built on to previous civilization. He showed many street scenes in Istanbul, Cairo and Damascus. He also showed the holy sepulchre in Jerusalem. Mr. Miller discussed the divergent views of the Roman Catholic, Greek Catholic and Coptic faiths as to the location of certain events, such as the landing place of Noah's ark. Mrs. Thomas Baily, the president, was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Harold Simmons announced the following new books have been added to the club's library in Ivyhurst: "The Last Temptation," by Viertel; "Laurette Taylor," by her daughter, Marguerite Courtney; and "The Tontine," by Castain, given in memory of Mrs. Thomas Baily's father, Charles V. Slauchenhout, by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baily and Mr. and Mrs. Victor DeWeese. On order is "Crusade for Freedom," by Eisenhower.

Donated to the library by Mrs. Helen D. Howard, is DeMaurier's "Mary Anne." "The Student Nurse," by Hancock; "Cabin Fever," by Bower; and "Black Mountain," by Stout, were donated by Burt Temple. Tea was served with Mrs. Baily and Mrs. Gifford Dunkle at the table.

Guests were Mrs. Harry C. Schreiber, Mrs. Frank N. Wolf, Mrs. Charles T. Strosnider and Mrs. D. C. Pollock.

Odds Too Great For Custer's Force

General George Custer's last stand on the Little Bighorn River, June 25, 1876, was made by some 225 troopers of the 7th United States Cavalry against more than 2,500 Sioux and Cheyenne warriors. The Indians attacked from a massed encampment of 12,000 to 15,000 persons, the National Geographic Society relates in a new book on the American Indian.

Roads Bill Passage Seen

—San Francisco—
Congressional approval of new federal highway legislation in 1956 has been forecast here by George M. Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury.

During an interview immediately following his address before the American Petroleum Institute in the Current Theater, the secretary commented: "There was such great disappointment following failure to obtain highway legislation at the last session that members of Congress are coming back (in January) bound and determined to adopt a bill."

Later, after adjournment of the API convention, the institute's board of directors issued a new statement of policy on highway development.

The directors said three factors should be given top priority in carrying out highway development plans. They placed first emphasis upon "urgent needs" so that traffic congestion and bottle necks may be relieved as speedily as possible.

The API board, however, did not give ground on the major issue of financing a federal highway building program in part through an increase in the federal tax on gasoline sales.

To the contrary, their new policy statement contained these points: Federal aid for highways should properly continue to be financed from general revenues of the Treasury in the amount deemed appropriate by the Congress.

The federal government should, as soon as practicable, withdraw from the field of motor fuel tax, leaving that area of tax revenues exclusively to the states.

Washed Potatoes Bring Better Sales

—Ithaca, N. Y.—
Professor F. M. Isenberg of Cornell University's vegetable crops department says potatoes are in declining demand, but would sell better if attractively packaged.

Isenberg said a recent test in Maine showed that potatoes washed and displayed in transparent wrappers outsold unwashed spuds by more than five to one. He said growers were enthusiastic over the experiment.

Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

By GEORGE N. THOMAS

IN RETROSPECT

To continue the plight of the coach and his role in American athletics, generally he is one not to be envied.

Many coaches confide that their profession is one of least content, little satisfaction and few moments of rejoicing.

"In the name of Heaven," they plead, "don't let your son become a coach—or a politician!"

They explain how they spend their lives learning every intricacy of their particular sport, its ins and outs, the hard facts and rules and its scientific aspects.

Upon this knowledge they take a job, settle with their families in well-chosen communities, make numerous business and social friends.

They confront themselves with teaching a young group of athletes some of their vast experience in hopes they will remember to do the right thing at the right time so that, by ability, quirk or fortune, a goal or score is made—and enough of such goals so as to insure victory.

And enough victories insure that coaches will return to teach others all over again.

"Imagine it," philosophized one mentor, "my life, my reputation, my future and the welfare of my family depends upon the decisions of an 18-year-old quarterback!"

In almost every community and on almost every campus, when the teams don't win, there is an immediate cry and talk of a replacement.

And so the coaches, to protect themselves and their families, lay all their knowledge and skill on the line.

Because they know they constantly are being scouted by future opponents, coaches would like to teach their athletes just enough to win each game, saving something new for the next.

And therein, perhaps, lies the skill. Knowing just where to stop the lessons makes a coach a genius.

But just as important is having the raw material with which to work. Some coaches never have it, others don't know what to do with it when they get it.

And so, there is, in every field of sports a set of fundamentals that must be learned by beginners—fundamentals that often make the difference in victory or defeat.

It's a sort of "basic training" such as that of the armed forces. Throughout the tenure of an athlete under the guiding wing of a coach, he is drummed with advice that would make him a better-than-average player.

Some of this advice might be: There is no substitute for work, it is the price of success; Block downfield, too; You need ambition and enthusiasm in your work; Games are not won on the rubbing table, etc.

The consensus of experience is that, just as in life itself, success in sports comes generally as a result of sacrifices.

Coach Lou Little of Columbia says that he has witnessed those who have made sacrifices on athletic fields to be repaid 10-fold.

The extra effort or sacrifice, if not victorious at the time, becomes well worth the memories and moral learned therefrom.

This does not mean academic sacrifices, Coach Little points out, but rather the effort, time and subordination.

Very few remember the bruises that come about as result of an athletic contest.

Most coaches instruct their boys that they must work to be good at their positions. Better coaches tell them they must work hard!

Coaches know their weak spots and suffer with them only when they cannot plug them up. They know who will play the entire game and who will lie down later.

When they assemble what they consider their best lineup, they pray no injuries will ruin it.

Coaches watch some athletes protect themselves so they'll look pretty for the Junior Prom, and watch some play themselves into silliness and delirium.

Their father along boys who will be the citizens of tomorrow and try to impart to them a little knowledge that is good not only on the playing field but in the game of life.

"As an athlete or as a citizen," Coach Little says, "you never stand still. You either improve or you sluff off. Which do you want to do?"

Little League Head Files $300,000 Suit

The headquarters of Little League Baseball, Inc., was padlocked Monday by the Licking County Sheriff on a complaint filed by the commissioner of the organization for baseball promotion among youngsters.

Sheriff William King closed the headquarters on a "foreign attachment" petition filed in Licking County by Carl Stotz of Williamsport.

The prothonotary's office said Stotz filed the papers "to the amount of $300,000." The office said Little League Baseball, Inc., will have to post a bond of $600,000 before it will be allowed to open its office.

Stotz said in a statement that the foreign attachment papers are preliminary to a $300,000 law suit he will file against Little League Baseball, Inc., for "breach of contract."

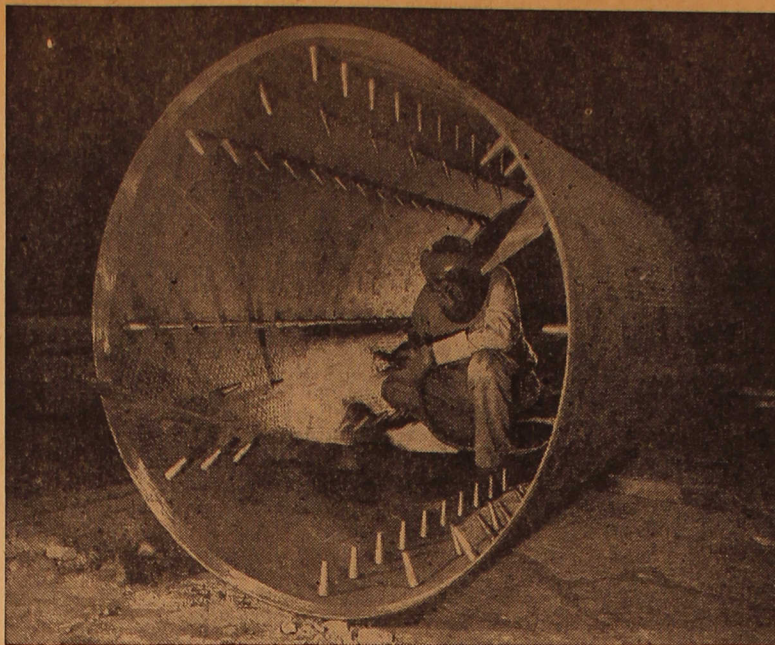

Little League was founded in Williamsport in 1939 to promote organized baseball among boys 12 years old and younger.

There now are 3,977 franchised clubs in the United States and some foreign countries. Some 250,000 boys participate in the program.

Stotz said in his statement that "over a period of time this contract has been breached to the point of endangering Little League in that the commissioner and volunteer field personnel no longer have a representative voice in Little League policy decisions."

"My original contract with Little League Baseball, Inc., included provisions which would enable me to safeguard the original concepts of the Little League program," the statement said.

United States Steel's New Mechanized 'Manicurist'

The Iron Maiden of medieval days had nothing on this modern torture chamber which is getting its finishing touches at United States Steel's Johnstown Works. Actually, this 8,000-pound device removes the "whiskers" or fin-like formations on newly-made nails before being packed for shipment. The whiskers fall through the small holes in the cylinder as it rotates to condition the nails for final cleaning and polishing. (Try this on your own nails sometime).

Pitt Accepts Bid to Play In Sugar Bowl

University of Pittsburgh's athletic director, Tom Hamilton, announced yesterday that an invitation to play in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans January 2, had been accepted.

Pitt, at the beginning of the season, looked as if it were headed for oblivion instead, but the recent upset of the strong West Virginia eleven and Penn State elevated the team to the bid.

Pitt's line, all year long, has been a hard-hitting combination, coached by our own Greene County Jack Wiley. Only within the last three weeks has the line paid off.

Pitt's opponent, as yet, is undetermined, but will come from the Southwestern Conference, and will be selected from Mississippi, Auburn, Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt.

Average Bowler Has 154 Record

—Milwaukee, Wisconsin— The average bowler among the 2,098,687 members of the American Bowling Congress has a season's record of 154.

Half of the members average less than 155. Fewer than one per cent of the nation's bowlers average 190 or better, while nearly five per cent average less than 125.

AA Title Game This Saturday

Mt. Lebanon and Aliquippa will play their Class AA football championship game Saturday at Pitt Stadium.

The game, scheduled for last Saturday, was called off in the morning because of the heavy, wet snow.

Both schools agreed to the week's delay.

Football Kills One in 100,000

—Chicago— The National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations reveals that only about one death per 100,000 youngsters occurs in high school football games.

They also noted that total deaths this year were about half the number of 1954.

Blue-Gray Clash On TV and Radio

—Montgomery, Alabama— The 18th annual Blue-Gray football game here December 31, will be nationally televised for the second year. The game will also be broadcast on a national radio hookup.

Saylor Releases WPIAL Grid Ratings; Jefferson High Second In Class B Race

High Intake Of Oxygen Helps Landy

—Stockholm— John Landy, the Australian miler who holds the world's record for that distance, takes in more oxygen when running than the normal person.

This ability to take in more oxygen is probably a factor that distinguishes champions from everyone else in endurance events, Dr. P. O. Astrand of the Kungliga Gymnastiska Centralinstitutet here reports in the British Journal, Nature.

Tests with Landy, two other middle-distance runners, the Swedish National ski team and 86 well trained male and female students showed the difference in oxygen capacity.

Landy had the highest value for oxygen intake for all those tested. The other runners' and skiers' intake was also significantly higher than that of the students.

Values for other reactions tested, such as maximum heart rate and pulmonary ventilation were about equal for all males tested, Dr. Astrand reported.

"The most striking difference between the students and the middle-distance runners and skiers," he said, "is found when comparing the capacity for oxygen intake."

This capacity, he concludes, is an essential characteristic of people with a high standard of physical fitness in events of endurance.

PCC and Big Ten To Swap Films

—Los Angeles— Pacific Coast Conference and Big Ten football teams contending for the January 2 Rose Bowl game, have agreed to exchange game films.

PCC Commissioner Cictor O. Schmidt and Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson completed negotiations which provide that each team can choose two game films of the other team in the bowl classic at Pasadena, California.

Unbeaten Aliquippa, Braddock and Sewickley Township, finished on top in Classes AA, A and B, respectively, in Roger B. Saylor's annual ratings of WPIAL football teams.

Saylor, Penn State economist, annually compiles these ratings under a system which lays major stress on the strength of schedule rather than wins and losses or sizes of scores.

Jefferson High School's grid squad wound up in second place in the B standing as they compiled a 7-0-1 record the past season. No other county school was able to break into the top ten in its class.

The top ten in each class and their ratings are:

Four More Nations Enter Olympics

—Melbourne, Australia— Bulgaria, Ceylon, Guatemala and Puerto Rico are the latest countries to accept invitations to compete in the 1956 Olympic Games.

Sixty-two nations now have accepted bids.

A Pledge In Response to President Eisenhower's Plea

Display of the safety pledge on all of the company's equipment is part of Associated's accident prevention effort in support of President Eisenhower's plea for an accident-free safe driving day and greater street and highway safety throughout the year. The professional driver's advice to his fellow motorists: Know and obey traffic laws . . . read and heed traffic signals and pavement markings . . . slow down—take your time when road and weather conditions are not perfect . . . stay alert!

AAU Official Fears Reds In Olympics; Urges Change In American Training

—New York— Secretary Dan Ferris of the National AAU has warned the Iron Curtain countries may have a definite edge in physical conditioning for the 1956 Olympic Games in Australia because of a short-sighted American training policy.

"That is particularly true in track and field," said Ferris. "Other nations, especially those behind the Iron Curtain, are rearranging their schedules and national championships so their athletes will be at a peak just before the Olympic Games."

"But we'll hold our Olympic track trials in June as usual and how do we know that a winner in June will be ready for the Olympic Games in November?"

The regular U. S. program, fine for use when the Games are held in June or July, was tossed out of kilter when Melbourne, Australia, was awarded the 1956 games and decided to stage them November 26 to December 8—early summer in its "reversed" seasons.

"Other northern nations faced the same difficulty," said Ferris. "At least they did something about it. It's not too late yet for us to do something but it's my personal feeling that if we don't we may not be in the best of shape for the Olympics."

As of now, the track and field set-up requires an Olympic trial in June at which three men and three alternates will be selected for each event. If all three winners can get away in November, they'll be on the team. Otherwise, the places will be taken by the alternates.

"I suggest we should pick 12 men for each event at the June trials and then take them to Los Angeles for a final tryout just before the team leaves for Australia," said Ferris.

"You know, a boy who is first in June might be fourth in November."

Ferris said there had been considerable opposition to his idea from some coaches and even athletes. One coach told Ferris it was a poor idea to have November trials because the athletes wouldn't be able to get in shape because of lack of pre-trial competition during the late summer and early fall.

"That's my point exactly," said Ferris. "If the boys couldn't get in condition for tryouts in November, how in the world could they expect to win an Olympic medal that same month?"

The swimming, basketball, boxing and wrestling teams also will face similar problems of reaching their peaks some three months or more before the games.

"So far, all we've done is talk about this situation," said Ferris. "The Olympic Games Committee will be meeting during our AAU convention at Louisville next month. Maybe something will be done then."

But he didn't sound too hopeful.

Little Says Coaches Like Grid Rules

—New York— Lou Little is of the opinion that the nation's college football coaches apparently are satisfied with the present rules.

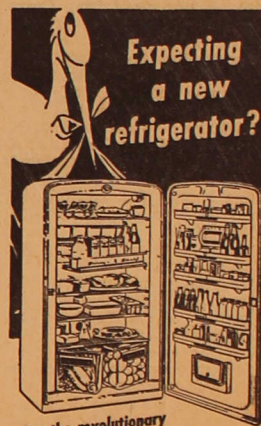

The veteran Columbia coach and chairman of the college football rules committee said he has received several hundred letters from his fellow coaches.

"They seem to be much less agitated than last year when they were crying for a more liberalized substitution rule," said Little. "The new sub rule apparently is universally well liked."

Under the 1955 sub rule, a player starting a quarter can be taken out and then returned once in the same quarter. Under the 1954 code, a player removed could only be returned in the final four minutes of the second and fourth quarters. Once he was taken out in the first and third quarters he had to stay out until the period finished.

Reproduction of Minutes Of the Redstone Baptists

(Editor's Note: We begin this week a series of articles on the minutes of the Redstone Baptist Association, beginning with the first meeting at Goshen Church in 1776. The minutes are in possession of Mrs. Raymond McRoberts of Coal Center. We were given a copy through the courtesy of Mrs. Laura Elms Morris of Waynesburg, who transcribed them. Spelling, abbreviations, and punctuation, in every instance, are exactly as in the original copy. Redstone Baptist Association is credited with being the first church of that faith west of the Alleghenies, and covered parts of what is now Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.)

Met in annual Association at Goshen, west of the Laurel Hill, Oct. 7th 1776 the following messengers from the several Churches Viz.—

Great Bethel: Isaac Sutton, Jas. McCoy, and Elijah Barclay; Goshen: John Corbly, Jno. Gerard, and Jacob Vanmetre; Ten Mile: James Sutton, David Enoch, Robert Bennet; Turkey Foot: Isaac Morris; Pike Run: William Wood, David Ruble; Yough: Samuel Luallen and John McFarland.

1st. The introductory sermon was preached by Mr. James Sutton, from these words, The Angel of Church, Rev. 2, 1 wherein the duty of messengers was clearly exhibited.

2nd. Proceeded to business. Brother Jno Corbly was chosen moderator and Wm. Wood as Clerk.

3rd. Resolved as a rule of business that every particular representation by the delegates met here, shall be addressed to the moderator, first, and that a due place be given for each to deliver his sentiments one at a time.

4th. A request from Cross Creek for the Constitution of a Church Granted. And our Brethren Jno. Corbly and Wm. Wood appointed to officiate in constituting the said Church.

5th. Request from the Forks of Cheat for a ministerial supply. Granted.—And our Reverend Brother James Sutton appointed to attend there the third Sabbath in this Instant, Oct. and brother Wm. Wood on the second Sabbath in Nov. ensuing.

6th. Proceeded to resolve the following queries—
Query 1st. In what State did Adam stand in Paradise, whether he pertook of the divine nature in his creation or not?

Ans. Adam was created in an upright state; but that he pertook of the Divine nature as the assent of God, we cannot suppose, only that he received so much of the Divine nature, as was sufficient to actuate his righteous Soul thereby.

Query 2nd. What are the common calls of the Gospel, out it to be dispensed to mankind in general, as a special purchase of Christ's death, or was it an act of his obedience to the preceptive part of the Law?

Ans. The common calls of the Gospel are an effect of Christ's active and passive obedience.

Query 3rd. Did Christ die Spiritually, temporally and eternally?

Ans. Christ did not die Spiritually; Temporally He did die; it is improper to say He died Eternally, though the sanction of Christ's death answered in the lieu of man's eternal death.

Query 4th. Is Faith the leading Grace of the Soul? Ans., Yes.

Query 5th. Whether a child be an actual sinner before born? Ans., No.

Query 6th. When a member commits a fault and removes with a letter and joins another Church before the fault be known, where must the fault be tried?

Ans. In the Church where his present standing is.

Query 7th. Is a member living in the neglect of family duty to be held in full communion? Ans., No.

Query 8th. Whether prayer be a duty or no? Ans., Yes.

Query 9th. Whether a minister of the Gospel ought not to be acquitted of the incumbrance of the world, so as to give himself wholly to the work of the ministry? Ans., Yes.

Query 10th. Whether a minister may not supply requests which interfere not with his own appointments without asking consent of his own Church. Ans., Yes.

7thly. Agreed that our Association be held annually at Goshen and that our next meeting be on Saturday before the first Sabbath in October, and our brother Wm. Wood preach the introductory sermon next year, and in case of failure, Brother James Sutton.

Adjourned till the next year.

Wood, James Rogers and Morris Brandy; Forks Cheat: Samuel Luallen; Yough; Tenmile; Simpson Creek: Wm. Davis and David Edwards; Gor. Creek: Joseph Barnett, Peter Jones; Cross Creek: William Taylor.

Proceed to choose, viz. our Brethren Wm. Wood moderator and Joseph Barnett, Clerk.

1st. Resolved as a rule of business, that every particular represented by the delegates of the several Churches met here be addressed to the moderator first, and that a due place be given to the messengers to speak, one at a time.

2nd. Received the Churches of Simpson's Creek, George's Creek and Cross Creek into this Association and enrolled their messengers names.

3rd. Received a request from the church at Simpson's Creek for a supply. Granted and appointed our Brethren Isaac Sutton to attend there the first Sabbath in November next, and Brother Isaac Sutton when most convenient to himself.

Columbus' Casket

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC:—This impressive leaden casket, embossed with Columbus' coats-of-arms as Admiral of the Ocean Sea and Duke of Veragua, titles granted by Ferdinand and Isabella, is opened on October 12 each year in the Cathedral of Santo Domingo. The Archbishop, Primate of the Indies, presides at the ceremony which is witnessed by high officials of the government, the diplomatic corps and a distinguished congregation. The casket contains an airtight crystal inner coffer holding the bones of Columbus and the medallion identifying them when they were found under the Cathedral floor in 1877.

46,400 Acres Opened to Uranium Seekers

—Pumpkin Buttes, Wyo.—
Hundreds of uranium prospectors braved freezing weather to stake claims on 46,440 acres of Northeastern Wyoming land opened to them Friday.

Law enforcement officers, primed for possible violence, reported no signs of trouble. The Pumpkin Buttes area, 40 miles southwest of Gillett, has been the stage for Indian massacres, cattle wars and gold rushes.

More than 500 prospectors were in the area. An estimated 300 slept overnight in tents and trailer houses on the fringe of the snow-covered, rolling hills in 15-degree-below-zero weather.

One legal wrangle broke out. District Judge G. A. Layman ordered the Campbell County clerk, Eileen Butler, to show cause by December 1, why all mining claims should not be filed with a newly-established mining district rather than the county clerk.

Layman advised prospectors to file their claims with the mining district to avert possible clouds on their claims.

Thirty claims were filed within the first hour after the land was opened.

The mining district, formed less than two weeks ago to adopt a code of ethics for prospectors and ranchers to follow to minimize the danger of disputes, recorded its first claims at 1:10 p. m.

Lost Oil Saved By New Method

—Bradford, Pa.—
Forest Oil Corporation scientists are taking part in research which may increase American oil reserve by billions of barrels.

Hellmuth Walter, research director for Worthington Corporation of Harrison, N. J., said: "This new method and related methods will take billions of barrels of oil from the list of the known but so far unrecoverable oil reserves. It is the equivalent of finding a new oil field."

Tests were made in a shallow field of thick oil in Southeastern Illinois.

The oil was not considered recoverable because the temperature, around 50 degrees Fahrenheit, was too low for the oil to run freely or be driven out of the sandy rock.

The scientists used hot combustion gases, steam and hot air to warm up this heavy oil and bring it to the surface.

The method is expected to be highly profitable for operations covering 100 or more acres.

The Worthington Corporation now is designing a large semiportable thermal oil production plant based on the results of the field tests.

Engineers working with the problem said it has been possible to extract only between 40 and 70 per cent of the known oil reserves.

The new method is expected to make it possible to extract close to 90 per cent.

fore the first Sabbath in October 1778 and that our brother, John Corbly, preach the introductory sermon, and in case of failure, Brother Isaac Sutton.

9th. Resolved that our brother Wm. Wood prepare a letter to the Virginia Association, Wm. Wood and Joseph Barnett to be our messengers of correspondence to that Association.

10th. Adjourned till next Association. (Continued Next Week)

ROAD SAFETY PLAN PROPOSED
The Pennsylvania Motor Federation offers a two-point program designed to overcome what it called an "alarming" increase in traffic fatalities in Pennsylvania.

The program, adopted by the Federation's Traffic and Safety Committee, urges:

Passage of legislation to increase the size of the state police force by excluding officers assigned to the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The state to expand all safety forces to cope with the "alarming and steady increase in fatalities."

A bill is now before the General Assembly to exclude state policemen assigned to the 120-man Turnpike detail from being counted in the 1,900 men allowed the entire force.

In urging the state to expand safety factors, the committee resolution pointed out that fatalities in Pennsylvania have increased 12 per cent over last year compared to the national average of six per cent.

Some 1,156 persons were killed on all highways in the state during the first nine months of 1955 compared with 1,036 for the same period last year. On the Turnpike, the figures were 60 and 39 respectively.

Israel Reports First Oil Yield
—Tel Aviv, Israel—
The first discovery of oil in Israel was reported recently.

Development Minister Dov Joseph told a news conference the strike was made at Heletz, 30 miles south of Tel Aviv and only six miles from the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

Mr. Joseph said the test well was producing from a depth of 4,966 feet. He added that the well pressure sent the first gusher 12 feet in the air.

Samples of the oil were rushed to the Weizman Institute of Science at Rehovot for testing.

Heletz was known under the British mandate as Hulikat. The Iraq Petroleum Company did considerable drilling there without striking oil.
