Senator Martin Attacks Foreign Firm Contracts

Senator Edward Martin has again blasted what he called: "the activation of foreign policy by taking bread and butter out of the mouths of America workingmen."

The statement came as he took up the "Buy-American" cudgels again on behalf of Pittsburgh district firms losing out to foreign competition on bids for government contracts.

With letters to top administration brass, Martin is out to stop Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay from awarding a multi-million dollar contract for transformers to a Swiss firm whose bid has undercut the Pennsylvania Transformer Company of Canonsburg.

The dispute turns on the meaning of an executive order which President Eisenhower issued on December 17, 1954.

The order provides that such contracts go to American manufacturers when their bids are no more than six per cent higher than the bids submitted by the foreign firms.

But another section of the same executive order states:

"Nothing in this order shall effect the authority to reject any bids of foreign origin when domestic suppliers undertake to prove substantially all such materials in an area of substantial unemployment."

Pennsylvania Transformer is in such an area, Martin said. He added that the same is true of Westinghouse in whose behalf he intervened successfully in an earlier case involving the same problem.

In the present case the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers asked bids on the manufacture of 21 transformers. The transformers are for use in connection with the Dallas dam project on the Columbia river in Oregon.

Pennsylvania Transformer submitted a bid of $2,285,000. This was more than six per cent above the bid of Brown-Boveri, a Swiss firm whose bid was $329,000 lower.

Martin states his objections to awarding the bids to the Swiss firm in letters he is sending to Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker and to Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

The senator writes: "The activation of foreign policy by taking bread and butter out of the mouths of American workingmen is the very thing which the President sought to prevent in the buy-American executive order."

"We now know that it costs more in the long run to do business with these foreign firms because we have one breakdown after another following installation and a notable instance where transformers and generators didn't fit."

"The foreign manufacturers have neither the equipment nor the know-how in this country to service such equipment once it is installed."

Martin then charged that the foreign made transformers were inferior.

Last summer when objections from Martin forced cancellation of foreign contracts on which Westinghouse and Pennsylvania Transformer had been under bid, Secretary Wilson said the two cases established no precedent and each future case would be decided on its own merits.

Since that time English Electric has under bid Utegraff Company of Scotland, and on another project an Italian firm under bid Pennsylvania Transformer.

Martin says it is now time for a showdown to establish the policy of government buying from American firms in areas hit by unemployment.

Pennsylvania transformer has also sent a protest to Secretary McKay.

Trailer Home Badly Damaged by Fire

A trailer occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Huba permanently located on land belonging to Mrs. Huba's parents on Route 88, north of Carmichaels, was practically destroyed by fire Saturday night about midnight.

Firemen stated fire had apparently started from an overheated oil stove. A room had been added to the trailer which was almost beyond repair.

National Grange Raps Farm Policies

—Cleveland—

While a farm emergency exists at home, the government is blocking competitive sale of surplus crops overseas by encouraging old customers to raise their own farm products, the nation's oldest farm organization charged Saturday.

Such government practices are making "second-class citizens" out of the little and middle-sized American farmers, whose income has dropped to prewar levels, it was stated in a report adopted by delegates to the National Grange convention.

The Grange has a membership of $50,000 in 37 states.

The report said:

"American agriculture is in a state of emergency. 'Neither 90 per cent, nor 75 per cent, nor 60 per cent price support levels provide any assurance against the buildup of surplus stocks of major export crops as long as government policies block the competitive sale of those crops on the world market.'

"As one branch of the government is sponsoring lower price supports and advocating curtailment of production, another branch of the government is restricting foreign sales and incurring huge expenditures to expand the agricultural output of foreign nations that once were our customers."

"These foreign nations are now competing with us and underselling us."

Delegates were told that nine per cent of the nation's farmers produce 51 per cent of farm commodities that move commercially.

Some 1,500,000 farmers earn less than $1,000 a year, while on a somewhat higher scale are 3,300,000 family farmers.

Homemakers' Test Friday At High School

"Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" will be observed here December 6.

A total of 256,534 career-minded graduating girls in 10,222 of the nation's high schools simultaneously that day will test their aptitude for the career that awaits eight of ten of them—homemaking.

Included will be senior girls of Waynesburg High School who have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

General Mills, sponsor of this $100,000 scholarship program designed to assist the schools in homemaking education, announced this huge participation of nearly half of the nation's high schools. Last year, 187,463 girls in 8,040 schools were enrolled.

A total of 532 schools and 16,381 girls in this state will take the 50-minute written homemaking examination which will be the basis for selecting the school and state Homemakers of Tomorrow. The examination paper of the girl receiving the highest test score in each school will be entered in state competition with each state Homemaker of Tomorrow receiving a $1,500 scholarship and each state runner-up a $500 scholarship.

The 48 state winners and the representative from the District of Columbia, with their advisors, will tour Washington, colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia April 8-12 when interviews will combine with the test score in determining the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow who will be selected April 12. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000.

Each girl who takes the test will receive a homemaking guide. Each school winner will receive a golden Homemaker of Tomorrow pin designed by Trifari and her school will receive a cook book. The school of each state winner will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Two Burglaries Over Week End

The Greene County Motor Company and McCurdy Brothers Service Station, both on East High street, were burglarized late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Entrance to the Greene County Motor Company was made by prying open a window in the repair shop, after which mechanics tools were used to try to crack the office safe.

John Miller, owner, stated he had had a tear gas bomb rigged to prevent attempts to crack the safe. After the dial was knocked off the lock, other blows set off the tear gas.

Apparently nothing was taken from auto parts or accessories.

The burglary was discovered about 10 o'clock Sunday morning by Chester Mills, a mechanic, who came in to work on his automobile.

Entrance to the McCurdy Station was gained by prying open a rear door. The office was ransacked and cigaret machine and also a cracker machine were smashed for change.

Also a $300 movie projector machine was stolen.

The robbery was discovered by Daniel Loughman, Allen Thompson and Dale Mundell when they came to work.

The burglaries are similar to one committed October 29, police stated, when about $500 was stolen from the East End Motor Company, also located on East High street.

Rural Carrier Retires After 45 Years

Snowden A. White, 69-year-old rural mail carrier, retired Wednesday after delivering 45 years from Waynesburg Post-office, all on R. D. 3.

Mr. White started August 23, 1910, on a 23-mile route some times on horseback, and in good weather, in a two-wheeled cart for which he paid $150. Later he acquired a Model T Ford after roads were improved.

After improvement of roads, routes were lengthened and Mr. White's last delivery was 39 miles to 240 patrons.

Mr. White was so punctual on his route that patrons sometimes set their clocks by his arrival.

Mr. White was born and reared in Whiteley Township, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hiram White. He served as a bonded substitute until February 1, 1919, when he received his appointment as a regular letter carrier.

During his long term of service he served under six postmasters, starting with the late Allen P. Dickey. He subsequently served under the late C. K. Spragg, J. Walter Munnell, the late A. L. Moredock, W. R. Cumpston, and finally under E. O. Clayton, present acting postmaster.

He married Nora Blaker of Mt. Morris on December 4, 1912. They moved to Waynesburg in 1919 and have since resided at 783 East Greene street. They have two sons, Blaker and Riley, both of Waynesburg, and a grandson, Ray.

Charles R. "Buck" Berryhill of Waynesburg, will take over Mr. White's route Thursday. He has been employed as a rural carrier on Route 5.

Tie Votes Broken In Election

On Friday lots were cast to break tie votes cast in the November 8 election in four municipalities.

The results: Carmichaels Borough—Jean B. Darrah, Democrat, was the successful candidate for the office of borough auditor. She and her Republican opponent, Jean C. Gwynne, had each polled 114 votes.

Washington Township—Republican Andy Wise became the auditor-elect over Democrat W. K. Edgar. Each had polled 133 votes.

Jackson Township—Bentley Phillips was the successful candidate for the office of justice of the peace over four other candidates, all of whom had received the same number of write-in votes. The others were Allen Woodruff, David Kerns, Charles King and Glenn W. Morris.

Morris Township—Although two justices of the peace were to be elected, T. F. Ealy received both positions. At the election the same number of write-in votes was cast for T. F. Ealy, Thomas Ealy, Ruth Hopkins and Kenneth Kelley. When lots were cast the winning candidates were T. F. Ealy and Thomas Ealy. Since they are the same person, registration officials said, one of the offices will remain vacant.

'No Accidents' Goal For Dec. 1 Safe Driving Day

—Harrisburg—

Every motorist and pedestrian in Pennsylvania will share in the making of one of the year's biggest news stories on December 1, Colonel E. J. Henry, Pennsylvania State Police Commissioner, declared Wednesday.

"The press and other public information media, the law enforcement officers throughout the state, highway workers, traffic court judges, school teachers, safety patrols, and civic leaders all have taken part in alerting citizens to S-D Day," Colonel Henry said.

"Governor George M. Leader has joined with local chief executives in proclaiming this state's observance of Safe Driving Day, proclaimed by the President of the United States.

"What will be the outcome of this battle-test to keep our highways free of the scourge of accidents for a 24-hour period? 'Just as in war, the plan of attack may be ever so carefully drawn, but the outcome of the battle is in the hands of the G. I. Joes.'"

Waynesburg's annual Christmas parade which opens the Yule shopping season will be held Friday night at 6:30, with Santa Claus, Miss Merrie Christmas and her court. This year's event is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Roy Hartley is chairman, and John Minor is parade marshal. Preceding the parade will be a program of Christmas carols from the courthouse portico by Waynesburg College Choraleers under the direction of Don Marcase.

Yule lights in the business section for which West Penn Power Company donates the current, will be turned on until after New Year's.

Waynesburg Post 4793, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has again set up a tree on the courthouse terrace. The beautiful fir was donated by James T. Love of North Porter street, former borough patrolman.

Miss Mary Catherine Boggio of Cumberland Township High School, will be Miss Merrie Christmas. Her attendants are Miss Irene McCracken of West Greene High School; Miss Florence Morris of Monongahela Township High School; Miss Priscilla McCollum of Waynesburg; Miss Shirlene Lemley of Mt. Morris High School, and Miss Jean Largent of Jefferson-Morgan High.

Five high school bands and Waynesburg College Kiltie Band will provide music.

So far five elaborate floats have been entered in the competition for the prizes of $50, $25, $15, and $10. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts in Waynesburg each will enter a float, as will Waynesburg Moose Lodge and the Waynesburg Church of God. All floats will depict the spirit of Christmas.

Any organization or firm interested in entering floats or Yule-fide exhibits is encouraged to contact Roy Hartley, general chairman, or Richard Hatfield, executive secretary of the Waynesburg Chamber of Commerce, who is parade advisor.

Plans have been made to handle the traffic and parking problems that will arise before, during and after the parade. Waynesburg police force, directed by Chief Charles Hunnell, will be augmented by two dozen Civil Defense auxiliary police.

Window display judging will be completed Sunday afternoon.

Attend National Grange Convention

Fifteen members of Greene County Pomona Grange attended the recent National Grange convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

Thirteen members earned the Seventh Degree, the highest in the Grange. They are Francis Huffman and Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Plants, all of East Franklin Grange; Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller of Carmichaels Grange; Mrs. Pearl Moniger of Harveys Grange; Mr. and Mrs. James Abel and Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson, all of Dunkard Township Grange, and Mr. and Mrs. William Boyles and Pomona Master Reeves Barne of Kirby Grange.

Also participating in the National Convention were Mrs. Francis Huffman of East Franklin Grange, and Mrs. Wayne Keener of Carmichaels Grange.

Colonel Henry emphasized that "one pedestrian dressed in dark clothes, walking with traffic instead of facing cars at night on a rural highway, can show up on a county's spot map as the accident that ruined the county's showing on S-D Day."

Declaring that the records of cities, villages and counties will determine the record made by Pennsylvania, Colonel Henry has urged:

Every car owner should make sure his vehicle is in shape to meet the test of S-D Day. The possibility of snow, freezing rain and ice make it imperative that all safety equipment be up to par, and that tire chains be ready for use if warranted.

Every driver should be exceptionally alert, obeying all traffic signs, signals and pavement markings. Speed should be adjusted to road and weather conditions.

Every pedestrian should do his best to walk wisely. "Let's make S-D Day a success in Pennsylvania," Colonel Henry concluded.

Postal Hike Nearly Set Up

—Washington—
The Post Office Department said Monday the final regrading and reclassification under the new postal pay law will be finished by Saturday.

The new law, with an average eight per cent pay increase for a million postal workers, went into effect last June.

The bill provided a general six per cent boost, and retroactive to March 1 of this year, and a broad reshuffling of postal job classifications which provided an extra two per cent increase on the average.

The reclassification increases are effective next month.

Annual wage increases ranged from $160 to $4,400, with the average about $320.

The new law also changed the pay period to bi-weekly instead of monthly.

President Eisenhower signed the bill last June 10 after vetoing two postal pay hikes in the previous ten months.

The President called the final act "the greatest forward step for our postal employes in more than a century."

He said it would eliminate inequities "which for years have violated the principle of equal pay for equal work and discouraged employes from seeking advancement."

Dr. I. died Tuesday afternoon, November 29, 1955, in Greene County Memorial Hospital. She had been ill three days. Mrs. Baker was born December 22, 1885, in Europe. She had resided in Dry Tavern 19 years. She was a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church at Rices Landing, and of the Croatian Fraternal Union No. 740. Surviving are her husband and six daughters: Mrs. Steve Mosier and Mrs. Eli Vuicich of Rices Landing; Mrs. John Ozanich of Ronco; Mrs. Stanley Stepace of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. August Hruska of Carmichaels, and Mrs. Helen Dutley, address unknown; five sons, Mike Baker and Martin Baker, both of Vestaburg; William Baker of Cleveland, Ohio; Pete Baker of Rices Landing, and Joseph Baker of Carmichaels; 32 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Polish Pianist With Symphony

JAKOB GIMPEL

For the second week in a row, a world premiere performance of a new work will feature this Friday's concert, December 2, by the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra at Syria Mosque. William Steinberg, director of the Pittsburgh Symphony, has chosen to play for the first time anywhere the new Symphony No. 3 by Ernest Toch, one of today's most honored composers.

The work promises to provide exciting listening for the audience, as the score calls for some unusual instrumentation, including several seldom heard percussion instruments and a pressure horn.

Jakob Gimpel, the great Polish pianist who scored so impressively here last year with the symphony, will make a return engagement at this Friday's concert playing the Schumann Piano Concerto in a minor and Franck's Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra.

In a salute to the recent reopening of the war-damaged State Opera House in Vienna, at which Beethoven's opera "Fidelio" was performed, Steinberg will open Friday's concert with the overture to that opera.

The evening's solist, Jakob Gimpel, comes from a musical family. His brother, Bronislav, a famous violinist, appeared with him in Pittsburgh last season and brother, Karol, is musical director of the leading theaters of Warsaw.

Concert-goers are reminded that there will be no Sunday repeat performance this week. The concert will be given on Friday evening only, December 2.

Fifty-Year History of Greene County Sports

By GEORGE N. THOMAS

IN RETROSPECT

Athletics are such an integral part of American life—young and old—that the foreseeable future offers no change in the picture.

The American public has embraced sports and its many facets just as enthusiastically as its many religions.

And because we believe in sports so fervently, we try to make the most of them.

Such as many other undertakings, we seek to emerge ahead of others in the same race.

In sports it's called winning. But the tragedy—if it can be called that—of most sports is that someone almost always has to lose.

Some know how to lose gracefully and sportsmanlike. A very few never taste defeat in athletics. They're to be pitied.

A consensus of coaches reveals that victories and defeats actually mean little to them personally.

It's the pressure from students, alumni and the public that makes coaches' lives unpleasant. If the teams representing their schools and communities don't win these groups want an explanation—and generally a new coach!

That's why winning must be important to every coach. His present and future are dependent, in most cases, not upon the calibre of men his guidance can turn out, but rather how well his athletes perform at a given time against an opponent.

Of course, the defenders of the winners' theory contend that if a coach can teach his boys to do the right thing under athletic pressure, then they'll do all right as citizens with that inherent ability.

And who's to say they're wrong?

Most coaches, however, cast their life into the hands of Fate from the very first day as mentors.

They know that a good many games will be won and lost by the imperponderables.

Therefore, they seek the welfare of their young athletes, trusting and praying they will survive each contest physically intact and having learned something new about giving and taking.

Those who laugh at "character building" by athletic instructors are themselves to be laughed at.

One of the most laughed-about cartoons was the reporter who approached the coach at the start of the season with the query:

"Well, coach, will we have a winning team this year or are you 'character building?'"

If character building no longer is the purpose of athletics, then the righteous citizens who cry that we have an "over-emphasis" of sports might have something.

"I come from an unusual town," one coach reports. "The community supports the team with the attitude, 'It's our team, good or not.'"

Although winning is important to coaches, as we have pointed out, most of them realize that a good deal more of their athletes' lives still lies ahead of them and coaches are conscious of the corner-stone laying they do.

"Life is not all winning," another leader says, "no one knows that more than us. All we want to do is teach the public to admire the boys when they have given their best."

"Who knows what twist of Fate wins and loses ball games?"

But coaches cannot instruct their players to just do their best, regardless of the score. He must, and does, fire them up, urging them aim at victory.

A game worth playing, is a game worth winning.

Coach Lou Little of Columbia University is a firm believer that every youngster should participate in some type of athletic activity—according to his or her physical qualification.

God endowed some with superior sports skills, Coach Little believes.

But he stresses that developing the competitive urge in everyone should be a requisite for later years as a citizen.

What disturbs him most is that institutions of higher learning, in their zeal for winning, have neglected to re-evaluate their standards of admission.

Coach Little would like to see students required to meet certain academic levels before being permitted to study at a college and participate in sports there.

"Talk about a Sanity Code and financial inequity," he points out, "how about the academic inequity of some athletes!"

Perhaps such a move would bring about victory-equity, too.

Along the line of winning and losing, one time athlete, coach, and now educator, Marcus D. Davies of Waynesburg College, penned these poetic thoughts on the subject:

To the champions, Hats Off! raise a good lusty cheer! Give them banquets, awards and praises sincere.

Let ten thousand hands applaud their fame, For they finished the season without losing a game.

True, it's winning that counts, first place you must stand; To lose, you're disgraced, to win—my how grand!

But here's to those boys who strive and fight on And continue to fight gamely, though victory is gone.

They surely have learned that you can give all—and more, That you can play like the champions yet fall short on the score!

That preparation, sacrifice, courage and skill, Are not always enough to enjoy victory's thrill.

But life is like that, the ages have cried, To some goes the victory—to some it's denied.

If this truth, then, they've learned from those defeats they've been tossed, And if they can take it in stride then they've won though they lost.

In conclusion, this comforting selection from Ecclesiastics: "The race is not always won by the swiftest or the battle by the strongest."

THE END

County Gridders Receive Honors

Two Greene County high school gridgers, Gene Virgill and James Dukate, outstanding performers on the Jefferson High School grid squad this past season, have been named to the first team of the WPIAL Class B all-star football team.

Dukate, a guard, earned his berth on his fine all-around play. A tower of strength on defense, Dukate shone even more brilliantly on the offense as he threw key blocks for the backs time after time. He is a senior.

Virgill, a halfback, was named to the all-star squad particularly on his offensive ability. The speedy scabbard set a new scoring mark for the county during the past season and was a scoring threat to opposing elevens every time he carried the ball. He is a junior.

In addition to placing two boys on the first squad, Greene County schools had five boys who received honorable mention. They are:

- John Rappachak, Carmichaels, end.
- George Lewis, Mapletown, guard.
- William Nelson, West Greene, center.
- John Long, Mt. Morris, back.

Suspension Of Wes Santee Lifted

—Kansas City—

The Missouri Valley AAU Board of managers has decided to lift the amateur suspension of Wes Santee, this country's fastest miler.

The managers voted 21-7 to reject the decision of the Missouri Valley AAU Registration Committee which suspended Santee on October 30, on grounds he had accepted excessive expense allowances for three California track meets.

Santee's suspension will be lifted automatically if no one appeals the decision to the board of governors of the National AAU by December 1.

Let's make Safe Driving Day

(THURSDAY-DECEMBER 1)

the Goal of Every Driver

in the Safe Driver State

The success of S-D Day 1955 can start right here, in this community, because it depends on you. Safe driving starts with the individual—with his personal attitude and his sense of responsibility not only for his own life, but that of others.

Once you begin thinking and acting in terms of safe driving—and every other motorist and pedestrian here joins in—we will have a community where the spirit of courtesy and fair play rides every street and road. Then our community will be matched by neighboring cities and towns until it sweeps across our state, and across the country.

Remember the goal of S-D Day . . . December 1, 1955: not a single traffic accident during the 24-hour period—in daylight or darkness. If we can prove by individual and community cooperation that accidents can be reduced on one day, then we can look forward to a time when every day will be S-D Day, and Pennsylvania will truly be known as "The Safe Driver State."

Reproduction of Minutes Of the Redstone Baptists

(Editor's Note: This is a series of articles on the minutes of the Redstone Baptist Association, beginning with the first meeting at Goshen Church in 1776. The minutes are in possession of Mrs. Raymond McRoberts of Coal Center. We were given a copy through the courtesy of Mrs. Laura Elms Morris and Mrs. Harold A. Russell, both of Waynesburg, who transcribed them. Spelling, abbreviations, and punctuation, in every instance, are exactly as in the original copy. Redstone Baptist Association is credited with being the first church of that faith west of the Alleghenies, and covered parts of what is now Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia. These records prove that many of the first families in what is now Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, were direct descendants of those Welshmen who procured 30,000 acres of land from William Penn and called them the "Welsh Tract." Here, in 1703, they built a Baptist Church near Inn Hill. This was one of the five original churches that formed the Philadelphia Baptist Association, the oldest in America).

6th—A request from the church at Yough for the ordination of our brother Wm. Taylor was complied with, and our brethren Wm. Wood was appointed to officiate on the action, on Thursday after the 4th Sabbath, in this instant Oct.

7th—Request from separate churches on Shirtee to join our Association. Resolved that Wm. Wood, John Corby, Wm. Taylor, Isaac Light, David Phillips and Jno. Buckingham Williams be appointed to attend at Benjamin Runnos on Shirtee the Wednesday after the fourth Sabbath in Oct. to examine into the state and order of that Church; and if found to satisfaction, to receive them in fellowship with us.

8th—Resolved by the Association for to recommend to the serious consideration of the several churches to which we stand connected the following few, but necessary things to be put in practice (viz) (1) that there be men chosen and appointed to the office of Elders and Deacons amongst you; that they may take the several charges upon them that do resolve upon such, according to the order of a Gospel church; that those who labor in the work and doctrine, be somewhat freed from the incumbrances and disadvantages, which without their assistance they must necessarily labour under; and that often to the great hindrance of the progress of the word. (2) We would recommend to you the necessity of appointing stated times as may seem convenient to the state and circumstances of the churches to have the ordinances of the Gospel administered unto them; the great inconveniences that do often attend giving in of experiences, and account of that precious hope that is in them before a mixed multitude, the church only has a right to be satisfied in the confession of the faith of those whom she is about to receive into fellowship, (3) We further exhort you to examine well all those you receive in the fundamental doctrines of our holy profession, that none be suffered to creep into our churches, if possible, that may be avoided, that are enemies to any of the precious truths which we endeavor to maintain. (4) Likewise, Dear Brethren, we would have you to give diligent heed to the exhortation of the great Apostle, that those who are weak in the faith you are to receive, but not to doubtful disputation, whether they have faith or not, those that are weak we pray you to use every warranted means to strengthen; that they may become perfectly acquainted with those things that attend to the Christian comfort and consolation while in this howling wilderness; and his everlasting peace and happiness in the world of spirits, whither he is parting as fast as the wings of time can carry him. These few hints we leave with you, and to the blessings of God for Christ's sake. Amen.

Adjourned till next Association.
