GOP Watches Gettysburg, Confidence Rises for 1956

Whatever President Eisenhower may have had in mind when he assured the Republican Committee meeting in Chicago that he would do "everything in my power" to help the next year's presidential campaign, it buoyed an overwhelming majority of the committee in their belief that he will become a candidate for re-election.

At the same time, a small core of responsible committee members, who asked with emphasis not to be quoted, were certain that the President meant only that he would be as active as he could for the party. But they felt that he had no intention to take on for another term what has been called the most demanding job in the world.

The GOP's strategy meeting was to laud Mr. Eisenhower, as administration spokesman to drown out Democratic leaders' attacks on the Eisenhower policies.

A rehearsal of Republican achievements in foreign affairs and in behalf of labor was particularly needed, with the Communists making propaganda headway in Asia and with leading Republicans, notably Senators William F. Knowland of California and Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona, charging that labor leaders are raising large "slush funds" to capture control of the Democratic Party and the government.

But the subject of Mr. Eisenhower was dominant.

No particular sagacity was needed to see that National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, as well as other administration spokesmen and most of the committee, wanted the President to run again, and were making the strongest possible case for it.

This was seen in Mr. Hall's relaxed observance that the timing of the President's decision was not important—that it could come as late as early March.

It was noted in the GOP leaders' frequent reminder to one another of how robust Mr. Eisenhower appeared. It was heard in the administration spokesmen's references to Mr. Eisenhower as the one responsible for current peace and prosperity.

At a table at which eight state party chairmen were seated at the Conrad Hilton, one chairman gently raised the question about other GOP presidential possibilities if Mr. Eisenhower should decide against seeking re-election. He found no one willing to entertain such an idea.

Emergency Funds Advanced for Polio Patients

A check for $4,350 from the March of Dimes headquarters in New York has been received by Greene County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to meet the serious need for funds to continue care of county patients.

The announcement was made by Attorney Ewing B. Pollock at a meeting Saturday in the Fort Jackson Hotel, to make final plans for the 1956 March of Dimes campaign to be held in January.

Attorney John I. Hook, Jr., will again be county campaign chairman.

The Mothers' Porchlight Parade will again be staged. There will also be a "Blue Crutch Day," a "Marine March," and several teen-age fund raising programs.

"The emergency money is an advance supplied by chapters operating in the black. When it was realized that more than 1,200 chapters would exhaust the March of Dimes funds available to them, National Foundation headquarters called in funds from chapters which had surpluses," Mr. Pollock stated.

The money received from national headquarters will help pay overdue bills for treatment and equipment of the county's 18 polio patients, most of whom will still need aid for some time.

The amount spent by the chapter this year is $8,213.02.

Army Speeding Rotation for Yule

The U. S. Army is speeding up its usual rotation of soldiers bound for the United States to get as many as possible home for Christmas.

Since mid-November, the Army reported, 3,850 U. S. soldiers have left Korea for home. Another 1,000, who normally would leave in January, will depart by mid-December.

Christmas Parade Successful Despite Rain

Despite a drizzle of rain Friday night a crowd estimated at 10,000 turned out for Waynesburg's Christmas parade.

A float with Santa Claus and Miss Merrie Christmas, who was Miss Mary Catherine Boggio, senior in Cumberland Township High School, led the line of march.

The Christmas lights for which West Penn Power donates the current, were turned on at this time.

Representatives of the various high schools in the county served as attendants to Miss Merrie Christmas. The girls rode in convertibles and were escorted by their school bands. They were:

Miss Shirlene Lemley of Mt. Morris, Waynesburg College Killie Band; Miss Priscilla McCollum of Waynesburg, Waynesburg High School Band; Miss Floris Morris of Garards Fort, Mapleton High School Band; Miss Irene McCracken of Wind Ridge, West Greene High School Band, and Miss Jean Largent of Clarksville, Jefferson-Morgan student, Rices Landing Firemen's Band.

Attractive floats, designed to carry out the spirit of the season, competed for prizes of $50, $25, $15 and $10.

First prize went to a float entered by the Waynesburg Moose Lodge. Built around the central theme of the Christmas tree, it depicted Christmas at Mooseheart, the lodge's home for children.

A float entered by James Farrell Post 330, American Legion, Waynesburg, took second place. It depicted the visit of the Wise Men to the birthplace of Christ.

Third place was won by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, which entered a float centered on the theme, "Christmas at Home." It carried a Christmas tree and youngsters grouped in front of a fireplace. Fourth prize went to a float entered by the Church of God. It centered on the nativity scene.

Brownies from Santa's workshop distributed lollipops along the street. Five thousand were distributed.

John Minor was parade marshal; Roy Hartley was general chairman, and Richard Hatfield, executive secretary of Waynesburg Chamber of Commerce, was master of ceremonies. The parade was sponsored by Waynesburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Judging of windows was completed Sunday under the supervision of H. Porter Rinehart, art instructor in Waynesburg schools. Other members of the committee were Miss Vivian Hughes, Mrs. Belle Heft and E. Wayne Martin.

First prize blue ribbon was awarded to Goldberg Specialty Shop; second to Inghram's Shoe Store, and third to Waynesburg Floral.

Honorable mention was given to the following 10 stores: James D. Thomas, Consumer Discount, Neubauer's Flowers, Streamline Market, Blair and Hampson's, Ross Drug Store, Levine's, Spriggs, Berryman's and Sutton Stationery Store.

Pine Bank Gives Variety Program For Children's Aid

Pine Bank community raised $75 for the Children's Aid Society of Greene County Saturday night at a variety program in the social room of Pine Bank Methodist Church.

There was a record attendance. Everyone was asked to perform if he could and even the audience had a stunt.

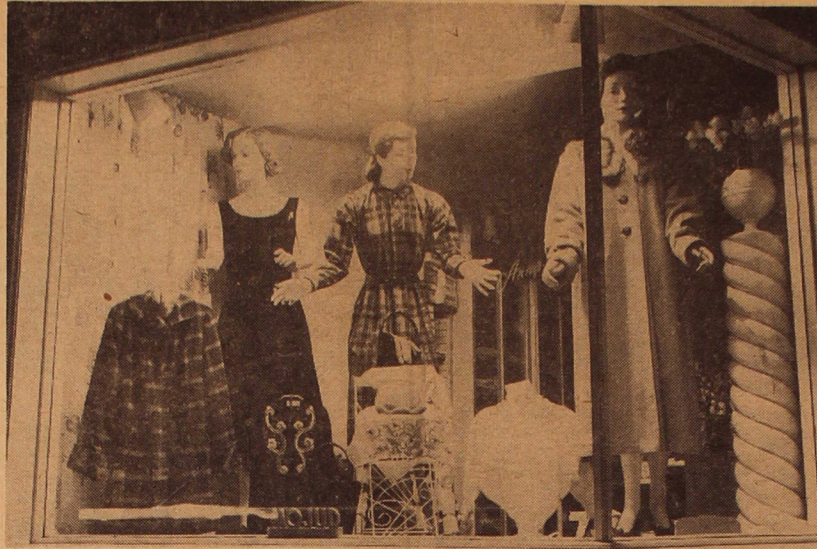

Following the program a bounteous supper was served and those present were asked to contribute what they believed it was worth. All responded generously.

A number of persons in the community who need financial aid were also given supper.

Visitors from Waynesburg were Miss Elizabeth Way Marlett, executive secretary of the Children's Aid Society, Mrs. Leroy Cummings, acting secretary of the board of directors, and Miss Elizabeth Elms.

Ann's Dress Shop on South Market street in Carmichaels, was opened in 1952, by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scott. They had previously conducted a business in Mt. Morris. However, they changed their location to Carmichaels because they have faith in the growth of the community and its wonderful resources which are just being developed. The store is one of the most modern in Eastern Greene County and features famous makes of dresses, coats, suits and hats. There is also a full line of handbags and costume jewelry. Employees are Marcine McMinn and Mary Prodan. Both Mr. and Mrs. Scott are active in community affairs. ## 'And a Little Child Shall Lead Them!'

Bonnie Simpson, who is only eight years old, but who has weathered eighty years, won't get home for Christmas.

Instead, her place at the table of the Simpson home at Fairview, W. Va., R. D. 2, will be vacant as it has been since last March when she was critically burned. She will spend Christmas, as she did Thanksgiving and other intervening holidays in the children's department in Greene County Memorial Hospital, Waynesburg.

Bonnie, brave and courageous youngster that she is, won't cry at not getting home—even though she had hoped she would. Hospital personnel, where Bonnie is

BONNIE SIMPSON

But in most other ways, it's certain to be a bleak one.

Practically every cent they could spare beyond their absolute necessities has been applied to obligations incident to Bonnie's long hospitalization.

To complicate adversities, Mr. Simpson's job at a plant in Fairmont, W. Va., was discontinued the next day after Bonnie was burned. Since then he's had only occasional work.

Most of all he wants a steady job so that once again he can help his daughter and family. He is, friends attest, a self-reliant man with a keen sense of duty to fulfill his obligations.

W. G. Sharpnack Is Honored by School Board

W. Glenn Sharpnack of Rices Landing, veteran school director, was honored Tuesday night at a surprise dinner in the new Jefferson-Morgan High School. More than 100 friends, directors and instructors were present.

Mr. Sharpnack, who is one of the county's oldest school directors in point of service, will retire from the board this month.

He was presented with a lifetime pass to all school activities by Robert E. Titus, principal of the school.

The board and faculty of the school presented him with a lounge chair.

In his response Mr. Sharpnack reminisced on the growth and improvements in the school systems. During the program it was determined that Mr. Sharpnack has been a school director for at least 30 years. He has been a member of the Greene County School Board since 1948, serving about six years as secretary of that board, and is at present the legislative representative to the State School Directors Association. The Jefferson-Morgan School was one of Mr. Sharpnack's prime projects.

Among those present were D. C. Longanecker, County Superintendent of Schools, who spoke briefly, as did Russell E. Headlee of Garards Fort, president of the Greene County School Board.

Father of Five Killed in Crash

Walter Andrew Richards, 36 years, of Mt. Morris, was killed Tuesday night between 7 and 8 o'clock when his automobile crashed into the abutment of a bridge on Route 19, two miles north of Mt. Morris.

A passing motorist saw the car down over an embankment and called the ambulance crew of James T. Maxon Post, American Legion. Mr. Richards was pronounced dead on arrival at Greene County Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Richards, a truck driver, had been unemployed for six months.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy May Bell Richards, and five children, Harry, Walter, Linda, Daniel and Barbara.

the "oldest" patient, in point of time, are quick to point out that the pleasant, brave youngster doesn't fret half as much at having to be away from home on the happiest holiday of the year, as last minute Christmas shoppers not being able to buy gifts they want.

Last March 28, Bonnie stood a little too close to a heating stove in order to dress for school.

Almost instantly her clothing was ignited and her tiny body was enveloped in flames. Only the fact that her grandmother was standing by and was able to finally beat the flames out, saved her from being fatally burned.

Medical science, combined with loving care administered on the part of nurses, their aides, and attending physicians, finally started paying rewards.

Twenty-five times during these long, weary months she had been wheeled into the operating room, mostly for skin grafts. In between those pain-racked journeys she was back and forth for blood transfusions. Through it all she was able to manage a heart-warming smile for the fortunate ones who shared in the merciful mission.

When Christmas comes Bonnie will lack nothing in the way of toys and entertainment and most important of all she will enjoy in full measure the love and affection which, for a child, is the very essence of the day.

There is, however, another side to the story.

Bonnie's parents, Lewis Simpson and Edna Brock Simpson, have of course, shared the suffering of their child.

In addition, there's been the matter of expenses incident to the care and treatment of the child. They have mounted steadily and the parents and others in the family have sacrificed even the most commonplace pleasures, and sometimes even the necessities of life in the effort to meet obligations.

It's a situation, friends of the family point out, which has been intensified by the approaching Christmas season when most folks are looking forward to expressing their love and affection for their children and friends with gifts.

In one way, of course, it will be the best Christmas ever for the Simpsons because of Bonnie having been spared.

Reproduction of Minutes Of the Redstone Baptists

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a series of articles on the minutes of the Redstone Baptist Association, beginning with the first meeting at Goshen Church in 1776. The minutes are in possession of Mrs. Raymond McRoberts of Coal Center. We were given a copy through the courtesy of Mrs. Laura Elms Morris and Mrs. Harold A. Russell, both of Waynesburg, who transcribed them. Spelling, abbreviations, and punctuation, in every instance, are exactly as in the original copy. Redstone Baptist Association is credited with being the first church of that faith west of the Alleghenies, and covered parts of what is now Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia. These records prove that many of the first families in what is now Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, were direct descendants of those Welshmen who procured 30,000 acres of land from William Penn and called them the "Welsh Tract." Here, in 1703, they built a Baptist Church near Inn Hill. This was one of the five original churches that formed the Philadelphia Baptist Association, the oldest in America).

Wayne Township Fire Hall in Use

Wayne Township Volunteer Fire Company is now using their new fire hall at Brave.

The concrete block and steel building, began in October was rushed to completion to provide housing for the company's new fire truck, which had been kept in an unheated garage.

Fire Chief Roy McNeely said that the structure, as it now stands, cost the company about $5,000. It will be financed primarily from receipts of a one-mill fire tax, which Wayne Township voters approved at the November 8, election.

The building measures 32 by 50 feet and is one story. Grounds will be landscaped in the spring.

The fire hall was built by Wilson and Tennant, contractors of Blacksville, W. Va., with members of the fire company doing some of the work. The lot, which is located in the center of Brave, was donated to the fire company by the Peoples Natural Gas Company, which operates a compressing station there.

The fire company was organized late in 1954, and a fire truck was purchased early this year through the civil defense program.

One hundred and ninety-one Waynesburg High School students took a mental ability test recently, Principal Victor Cello has announced.

Of this number one was rated very superior, and eight superior. Most were rated average.

"An interesting feature of the test," Mr. Cello said, "is the close correlation between 1955 and 1954 scores, as well as a close correlation with national norms."

Results of the test:
Very superior, IQ of 130 plus, one student; superior, IQ of 120-129, eight students; bright normal, IQ of 110-119, 26 students; average, IQ of 100-109, 46 students; low average, IQ of 90-99, 48 students; dull normal, IQ of 80-89, 40 students; borderline, IQ of 70-79, 20 students; mental defective, IQ of 60-69, two students.

Students who rated superior and very superior, Mr. Cello reported, were Emily Adamson, Robert Bartholomew, Thomas Blanch, Sam Church, Lee Henderson, Leona Johnston, Lawrence Moston and Michael Pincus.

Tokens of appreciation were presented to the pair in behalf of the group by C. Paul Duffield, vice president of the Franklin Township School Board.

R. Snowden Kiger, school board president, was master of ceremonies. The program included remarks by D. C. Longanecker, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Varner, who had been a teller in the First National Bank and was recently elected a Greene County Commissioner, has served 16 years on the board.

Mr. Simmons, also a teller in the same bank, has served 12 years.

Consolidation of the West Greene District and the Jefferson-Morgan District will cause retirement of a number of directors.

Goldberg is an established favorite with Pittsburgh audiences, who gave him a deserved ovation when he played here with the Symphony last year. ### Antlerless Deer Season In Pennsylvania To Be Observed December 12 and 13

The 1955 antlerless deer season in Pennsylvania will be observed December 12 and 13 only. On both days of the season hunting hours will be 7 a. m. to 5 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. The holder of a license for this special season is required to hunt deer without visible antlers only in the county in which the license was issued.

Persons who took a legal antlered deer in either the archery or "buck" season this year may not hunt for, take or kill, or stand on watch for another white-tail in the antlerless deer season. Farm occupants permitted by law to hunt without license may hunt for antlerless deer on the same land as for other game. If not possessed of a hunter's license, to which is attached a kill tag report card, such farm people who bag a deer are asked to report the fact to the Game Commission at Harrisburg.

Based on the findings of Commission personnel and forestry officials, and one the recommendation of sportsmen and farmers, the authorities established the 1955 season for these reasons; good herd management, and also in the interest of other wildlife; diminish damage to farm crops; reduce overbrowsing of forest growths; lessen the incidence of highway accidents involving human safety and property damage; prevent the waste caused by deer dying of malnutrition in winter. The Game Commission established county quotas in relation to the need of harvest in each locality. The license total for Pennsylvania's antlerless deer season of this year was set at 240,250. On December 1, county treasurers from only the counties of Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming still reported antlerless deer licenses available. Prior to season, non-residents who have a current Pennsylvania hunter's license may purchase a license to hunt antlerless deer. Past experience indicates one hunter in five or six licenses will bag an antlerless deer in the two day season. Therefore, the 1955 harvest will probably fall between 40,000 and 50,000 legal animals. Weather and other conditions will, however, be factors determining the total take in this special season.

Geneva Names Three Jackets

—Beaver Falls— Three members of the Waynesburg College football team are on the all-opponent team selected by members of the Geneva College eleven. Yellow Jackets honored are Mike Engro, Mike Pantely and Frank Gounder. Harold Davis, quarterback from Westminster College, was a unanimous choice for the third successive year. The team: Ends—Mike Engro, Waynesburg and Lucas Florante, Slippery Rock. Tackles—Joe Roman, Westminster, and Don Heald, Slippery Rock. Guards—Mike Pantely, Waynesburg, and Walt Sylvester, Westminster. Center—Don Baity, Lycoming. Backs—Harold Davis and Bill White, Westminster; Russ Hill, Thiel, and Frank Gounder, Waynesburg.

Greene Cage Tournay Planned Preliminary plans for the annual undergraduate basketball tournament were made at a meeting of the Greene County Coaches Association Thursday night at the Cascade Restaurant. The tournament, it was decided, will be held February 23 and 24 at Waynesburg High School, with all schools in the county eligible to enter teams. The coaches also voted to give shoulder patches to those county football players named this year to the first team of the All-Greene County football team. The patches, in maroon and gray and shaped like a football, will carry the inscription, "Greene County All Star Team, 1955."

Ed Cordray of Waynesburg High School, and Dale Kennedy of West Greene High School, were named a committee of two to order the patches and see to their presentation.

Antlerless Deer Problem Studied —Harrisburg— The problem of issuing antlerless deer licenses has been presented to the Legislature in a different form when four members asked for a House study and investigation of the problem. Four legislators submitted a resolution seeking to have the House Conservation and Wild Life Committee look into the matter. During the year nearly a dozen bills pertaining to the issuance of the permits have been introduced. The resolution states that the issuance of the licenses and killing of doe "is a matter of great concern to all sportsmen as well as to the general public."

Former Buc Infielder New Gray's Manager —Williamsport, Pa.— Danny Murtaugh, 38, former Pittsburgh Pirate's infielder, has been named manager of the Williamsport Grays in the Eastern Baseball League. The veteran of nine years in the major leagues will replace Larry Shephard in the manager's post. Murtaugh last played with Pittsburgh in 1954 and since that time was manager of the Charleston, W. Va., club in the American Association.

The True Saint Nicholas

THE NATIVE LAND of Saint Nicholas—or "Santa Claus," as his name has come to be written and pronounced in America—will honor him this Christmas by issuing a special stamp through the government's Post Office Department. If you're surprised to read that the North Pole has a post office, the explanation is that we're not referring to the North Pole, for St. Nick's native land was far from there indeed: he was born in sunny Turkey, in the palm-covered province of Antalya on the Mediterranean. The above portrait is found in Turkey in the church where he served as a bishop until his death in 342 A.D. Renowned for his many kind deeds, and especially for his loving generosity towards children, the good bishop has become a legendary figure in the folklore of many nations. To accommodate the many travelers who visit the church, located in the blue mountains of the city of Demre, the Turkish government has constructed a new road. Biblical tradition is very rich in the ancient lands of Turkey. In the city of Antioch, where the followers of Christ first called themselves Christians, the site where St. Peter led the first Mass can still be seen. Many other saints, including the Apostles Paul, John, James, Luke and Barnaby were born in this region. Mary, Mother of Christ, retired after the Crucifixion to the city of Ephesus, where her abode has been excavated and opened to the public by the Turkish government.

Carmichaels High School Cage Squad Opens 1955-56 Season With Two Wins

Carmichaels High School's basketball squad opened their 1955-56 season last week by scoring victories over Masontown All-Saints 57-42, and Waynesburg High School 42-40. Bill Bober had 14 points to lead the scoring for Coach Vic Lapkovic's Mikes in their game with All-Saints, but he had to yield game honors to All-Saints' Donnelly who had 18 points. Trailing by nine points at the end of the third quarter, Carmichaels held Waynesburg scoreless in the fourth quarter and added 11 points themselves to defeat the Red Raiders before a packed gym at Waynesburg. The last few moments of the game were hectic, as Waynesburg blew several opportunities to pull into a tie. Trailing by the two points, a Red Raider player missed two foul shots and two last-ditch attempts at field goals were also missed. Waynesburg made 14 of 28 attempts at the foul line, while the Mikes hit on 12 of 18 tries. Gary Milliken was high man for Waynesburg with 11 points, while Bober paced the Mike five with 12 tallies. Score by periods: Carmichaels 16 18 15 8-57 All-Saints 13 11 10 8-42 Carmichaels 7 10 14 11-42 Waynesburg 11 13 16 0-40

Pitt Wins 1955 Lambert Trophy

Sugar Bowl-bound Pittsburgh has been named as 1955 winner of the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of the Eastern College football championship. The Pitt Panthers received 11 first-place votes from a 24-man selection panel composed of eight coaches, eight newspapermen and eight radio-TV commentators. Navy, season-long leader until it lost to Army in its final game, was second in the balloting, drawing eight first place votes. Others among the first 10 on the ballots were Army, Syracuse, Yale, Colgate, Penn State, Princeton, Boston College and Trinity. Rhode Island, Holy Cross, Delaware, Cornell, Lafayette and Juniata also drew mention. Swaps Tunes Up At Santa Anita —Arcadia, Calif.— Rex C. Ellsworth's famed Swaps moved into Santa Anita Park Sunday to start serious training for the winter racing season which opens December 26. The California champion has been sidelined at the nearby ranch of his owner since sustaining a foot injury in his ill-fated match race against Nashua in Chicago last August. He underwent an operation to correct the injury and is reported in excellent physical condition to resume racing. Swaps' main objectives at the Santa Anita race track reportedly will be the $50,000 San Antonio Handicap February 11, and the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap on February 25. Argentine Horse In $100,000 'Cap —Arcadia, Calif.— Preadase, the Argentina-bred horse from Venezuela that finished second by a head to El Chama in the Washington International, has been nominated for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap. ### Hans Wagner Makes Last 'Home Run'

John Peter (Honus) Wagner, baseball's immortal "Flying Dutchman" and one of the all-time greats of the diamond, died in his Carnegie home Tuesday. A combination of age and injuries suffered in a fall at his home several weeks ago claimed the life of the man called by many as the greatest baseball player in all history. Members of his family at his bedside said, "He just slept away." His last public appearance was made last April 30, when a statue honoring him was unveiled in Schenley Park, just outside Forbes Field.

Melbourne Boasts Plenty of Room

—Melbourne, Australia— Organizers of next year's Olympic Games here now have a new headache. Somehow, they complain, the idea has got around overseas that all seats and accommodations for the games are booked out. "Nonsense," say the organizers, whose chief problem at present is selling the 800,000 seats still available. Americans who've left it until now will find it hard—if not impossible—to book hotel rooms in Melbourne for the games. Melbourne's friendly citizens, however, are rallying behind an official plan to open the city's homes to games visitors. So far they've offered to put up 15,000 visitors and more offers are coming in daily. You needn't worry about having to pay through the nose for such accommodations. Olympic organizers have set an official price scale. From $2.25 to $3.40 a day for "bed and breakfast."

Raiders Rally To Edge Beth. Joint

Coach Jack Cassidy's Waynesburg High School basketball squad rallied in the fourth quarter to defeat the Bethlehem Joint High School five 52-47 in an exhibition tilt on the local court last week. The game was the first of the season for both squads. Gary Milliken was high man for the Red Raiders as he connected on six field goals and four fouls for a total of 16 points. Hill was close behind in the scoring with 11 points, on three field goals and five fouls. The Bulldog attack was led by Boyd Finley, who tallied 15 points. Second high for the visitors was Ron Pezzoni, who connected for nine markers. Score by periods: Waynesburg 14 10 10 18-52 Beth. Joint 12 12 17 6-47

National Football League To Study Rules Proposal At Meeting In January

Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, has announced a rules proposal will be made at the January league meeting in Los Angeles to encourage more punt returns. Bell admitted that some pro circles feel the fair catch is being used to excess and one of the game's great picture plays, the punt return, is becoming as extinct as the drop kick. A check of NFL statistics shows that in any NFL game there are no more than three punt returns. Almost invariably the safety men throw up their hands signaling a fair catch. What has increased the fair catch and decreased punt returns? Bell said it's because the kicker is allowed to retreat 15 or more yards to get off his punt. As a result the defensive linemen have to do little blocking. They realize the odds against the punt being blocked are great and so concentrate on getting down field to nail the receiver. Then too, with all the time in the world to punt, the kicker takes his good old time and boots a thunderous, high kick that allows the linemen to reach the receiver almost simultaneously with the ball. Bell said the rule proposed to overcome this situation would limit the punter to no more than 10 yards from the line of scrimmage to get off his kick. If he retreats further than 10 yards it would be an illegal formation and a penalty. "Anything the fans want to see we have to give them. They pay the freight and are entitled to the kind of entertainment they want. They want punt returns, we'll see that they get them," the commissioner said.

Olson Defends Title Friday

A confident and ready Sugar Ray Robinson tries to climax his ring comeback at the age of 35, Friday night by recapturing the middleweight title from Bobo Olson, a fighter he licked twice in his heyday. The 15-round scrap at Chicago Stadium gives the Sugar Man some Harlem the chance to get some needed cash as well as the crown he gave up three years ago when he retired. It will be home televised with Chicago and a 150-mile radius blacked out. Six months after Robinson, who, in his prime, could be ranked among the greatest, exhausted himself in the intense heat at New York in a vain attempt to lift Joey Maxim's lightweight title, he decided to hang up his gloves for a song-and-dance career on the night club circuit. In the meantime, Honolulu-born Olson gained the world's championship by defeating Randy Turpin October 21, 1953, in New York. It was Turpin who beat Robinson to win the title in the summer of 1951, only to lose it two months later by a ten-round TKO in a re-match.
