Two-Months' Drought Broken by First Rain

LT. JOHN G. MCKAY

Awarded Air Force Pilot's Wings

First Lieutenant John G. McKay, Jr., of North Charleroi, has been awarded United States Air Force pilot wings following his graduation from pilot training at Moody Air Force Base, Georgia. Lieutenant McKay, who attended Pennsylvania State University, flew T-37 and T-33 jet trainers during the year-long flying training course. He also received special academic and military training. He is being reassigned to a permanent base for duty. The lieutenant, who entered the service in July 1956, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. McKay of Bridge street.

Rices Landing Bank to Open Mt. Morris Branch

Rices Landing National Bank has announced it will open a branch in Mt. Morris, and will probably have it in operation by January 1, 1963.

William W. Lopp, executive vice president and cashier, has received approval by the comptroller of currency to establish a branch.

Rices Landing Bank, which has operated continuously since it was chartered in 1903, has also declared a 50 per cent stock dividend.

The bank is negotiating to purchase the property of the Mt. Morris Bank which closed in 1928, and which is owned by the Perry School District. If the purchase is completed the building will be remodeled with modern banking facilities.

Rices Landing opened a drive-in facility at Dry Tavern in 1956. The operation has proved very successful with an average of 130 cars per day patronizing it.

Officers of the Rices Landing Bank are Isaac Moredock, president; Russell McKee, vice president; John W. Clarchick, vice president; William W. Lopp, executive vice president, and Jack A. Bayard, assistant cashier.

Directors are Isaac Moredock, Morgan Hartley, John W. Clarchick, Russell D. McKee, Lee D. Albacker, W. Glenn Sharpnack, A. T. Tapper, Leroy Ross and John Lucas.

British Open Own 'Mt. Vernon'

BATH, England—A copy of the rose garden at Mount Vernon, George Washington's home in Virginia, was opened Wednesday by the American Museum in Britain at Claverton Manor here.

By coincidence, the old formal garden at Claverton has the same outline and dimensions as that at Mount Vernon. The surrounding brick wall and picket fence and the octagonal schoolhouse in which Washington taught his step-grandchildren have been reproduced through the generosity of the Colonial Dames of America.

All the plants needed for this Somerset reproduction of an 18th century Virginia garden have been raised in British nurseries, except for 12 trees of malus coronaria, a flowering crabapple, which were flown from New Jersey.

Southwestern Pennsylvania, which has been in the grip of a drought since the first of May, was blessed with a 24-hour, gentle rain which began about 9:30 Monday night.

Waynesburg Water Company's pump station, just west of town, measured .46 of an inch rainfall at 6:30 Tuesday morning. Rain continued off and on until about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The dry spell, which is the worst since 1936, has cut the hay crop in half and left farm land a patchwork of burned out pastures.

Pittsburgh Weather Bureau Chief Henry Rockwood had an explanation for the hot spell during which temperatures have hovered in the high eighties and pushed into nineties.

"The problem dates back to May," Mr. Rockwood said. "The normal rainfall here for that month is 3.77 inches. This May was had 1.87 inches.

"Things got a little worse in June. Going into the last two days of the month we measured 1.82 inches as compared to a normal 3.81 inches."

The last rain which could be measured in the county fell the last week of April.

Greene County farmers last week requested permission from various government agencies to use diverted acreage from crop production for immediate pasture for their livestock.

This was a move to forestall early sale of cattle due to pastures which have been burned out by the drought. Some farmers have resorted to using winter feed in order to avoid selling livestock, but auction sales have been much higher than this time of year in the past.

Grain and garden crops have been ripening prematurely. Crops have been reported off yield by 30 to 50 per cent.

Springs and wells of rural residents have been exhausted and farmers have been hauling water from nearby towns or from creeks which are low.

The Shannopin Water Company, which services Mt. Morris, Bobtown and Dilliner communities, has been having to pump water from Dunkard Creek.

Section of Route 19 To Be Widened

Bids will be opened July 13, for major improvements on a section of Route 19, north of Mt. Morris.

A 3.51 miles of highway between the north side of Bally's Hill and the Whiteley-Perry Township line will be widened from 18 to 22 feet and resurfaced.

Charles Rohulich, Greene County maintenance superintendent, said that plans have been submitted for the resurfacing of Route 19 south from the Whiteley-Perry line to Mt. Morris. The only widening involved will be on curves. This work will be done by the local Department of Highway maintenance crews.

Plans are to do both of these projects this summer and fall. He also said that plans have been submitted for the resurfacing of Route 19 over Gordon Hill, south of Waynesburg.

Advance plans call for improvements on Route 19 north of Waynesburg, but this project will probably not be done this year.

Fire Destroy's Barn Near Stoney Point

A barn owned by William A. Thistlethwaite of Waynesburg, R. D. 1, near Stoney Point, was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon.

Damage was estimated at $2,400. Seven hundred bales of straw and some machinery were stored in the barn.

The fire is believed to have started from combustion due to the intense heat. Firemen were hampered by lack of water. The heat was so intense that firemen had to stand about 25 to 30 feet away to spray water. Trees and some small buildings were scorched.

Notice to Washington and Harrisburg

Basic American Principles

"No free government or the blessings of liberty can be preserved by any people but by a firm adherence to justice, temperance, frugality, and virtue, and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles."

Those words were spoken by Patrick Henry in the early days of the quest for freedom in America. In this year of 1962 we need to go back to them, and we can make them the basis for our own personal renewed Declaration of Independence. A restatement of the basic rights of individual American citizens, with a list of more important of their grievances, may cause responsible Americans to re-examine what is happening to their liberties.

Thus, we may proclaim anew that men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

We may reassert the self-evident truth that all men are created equal before the law. The United States Government and its agencies have been instituted to provide this equality and freedom under the Constitution of the United States of America, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

We may declare that whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter it. Prudence will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes. Nevertheless, we hold the right to change.

Firm in the belief that a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is essential to the security and perpetuity of a free government, we, the people of the United States, in order to retain a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense and promote the general welfare, to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, may well recite the evils that beset us and at the same time reaffirm the basic principles of American freedom and justice.

Our Government has created a multitude of new offices which have adopted endless rules and regulations, having the force of statutory law, but without the sanction of the people. It has sent forth swarms of officers to harass the people and eat out their substance with unbearable taxes.

It has inaugurated, and continues, a giveaway program of foreign aid under a guise of improving commerce and friendship—neither of which has been forthcoming. This tremendous giveaway, together with pay for the military and civilian staffs handling it, has resulted in burdensome and unconscionable taxes.

By its adherence to the United Nations, our Government has combined with other governments to subject us to jurisdictions foreign to our Constitution and unacknowledged by our laws.

It has imposed grievous taxes in the forms of fees, licenses, and stamps on us, without our consent.

It has abrogated the Bill of Rights and has substituted arbitrary rules and regulations of a multitude of its agencies, changing the rela- (Turn to Page Four)

State Certifies Hospital Wing for Nursing Home

The Pennsylvania Department of Welfare, Office of General and Special Hospitals, has notified Greene County Memorial Hospital that the north wing of the hospital has been certified as a 28-bed nursing home facility. It received the highest classification for a nursing home.

Greene County Commissioners will use the wing for nursing home care for county patients, thus providing modern care and comfort at the most economical cost.

Bids for renovation of the wing will be advertised this month, and the architect has stated the work will take 60 to 90 days.

After completion of the wing, some patients in the Curry Home will be moved to the north wing.

'Get Into Politics' Business Warned; Ike Calls for Action

GETTYSBURG—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower led some 100 Republican leaders Saturday in a free-swinging attack on the New Frontier with special emphasis on the Kennedy Administration's policies toward business.

Declaring that he was proud to have the G. O. P. labeled "the party of business," Mr. Eisenhower advised businessmen to "wake up . . . take a look at what's happening to you . . . and you better get in politics quick."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and other Republicans also cut loose at the Democrats on both domestic and foreign issues.

With sights trained mainly on the 1962 congressional and gubernatorial elections, their oratory brimmed with forecasts of Republican victories in November.

The "All-Republican Conference" a new body set up to speak for the G. O. P., met at Mr. Eisenhower's farm here, beneath a green and white tent on a pasture about 50 yards from the former President's house.

They fired salvo after salvo at the Democrats, blaming them for business woes, accusing them of power grabs, and changing the Administration with "me-too" foreign policies.

"For my part, I think our country is facing a very critical period, and I believe that only some resurgence of Republican control over government can keep things on a more level keel than they are going on at the moment," Mr. Eisenhower said. His welcoming remarks set the tone for the get-together of Republican front-rankers. Among them were governors, members of Congress, national committeemen, and Eisenhower cabinet members.

Judge Waychoff, County Bar Dean, Dies at 85 Years

Former Judge Challen W. Waychoff, 85 years, widely known jurist, died Tuesday morning, July 3, 1962, in his home on Library road. He had been in failing health for some time.

Judge Waychoff was a son of Professor Andrew Jackson Waychoff and Cernantha Mundell Waychoff, and was born July 10, 1876, at Carmichaels. His father later was one of the best known instructors in Waynesburg College.

Mr. Waychoff attended the public schools and graduated from Waynesburg College in 1899. He taught school for a time and then read law with Robinson and Frank Downey, well known Waynesburg attorneys. He also was in the office of Judge James B. Inghram, and was admitted to the Greene County Bar September 30, 1901.

Judge Waychoff had practiced law almost 62 years. He was admitted to practice in the U. S. District Court on May 10, 1905; in the Pennsylvania Superior Court on October 3, 1910; the State Supreme Court on October 1, 1917, and the U. S. Supreme Court on October 3, 1931.

Mr. Waychoff entered the political field when he was elected district attorney serving from 1908 through 1911. He was elected judge of the Greene County Courts and served from 1936 through 1946. Judge Waychoff had presided in courts throughout the state.

Judge Waychoff was first associated in practice with his brother, the late Roy J. Waychoff; then with Attorney W. Robert Thompson; after World War II, with Attorney R. Wallace Maxwell, and his son, Attorney Andrew Waychoff, Jr., and later with his son only.

He organized Greene County Memorial Park in 1930, and had served as its president. Judge Waychoff was also one of the organizers of the South Penn Telephone Company and was still serving as secretary-treasurer at the time of his death.

He had been a trustee of Waynesburg College for 42 years. Judge Waychoff was a member of Washington Street Methodist Church, and had taught a Sunday School class for many years. For a number of years, he had also acted as JayCee Carnival Changed to North Morgan St.

It was announced at Waynesburg Borough Council meeting Monday night that the Junior Chamber of Commerce Rain Day Festival the week of July 23, will be held on the borough parking lot on North Morgan street, rather than on High street, as first announced.

The change was made after the fire company and police objected to blocking High street.

Council held A. C. Moyer of Uniontown, to his bid of $7,463.20 for resurfacing Ross and Race streets and Cherry avenue. Mr. Moyer attempted to withdraw his bid stating that he had forgotten several items, but council had already accepted it. The only other bid was about $1,800 higher.

Council agreed to lease the eastern end of the borough parking lot to Company C, 429th Engineer Construction Battalion, when the local Army Reserve unit returns from active duty August 9. The company will use the area for vehicles and will enclose it with a cyclone fence. At the present time borough equipment is stored in that section of the parking lot.

Paul Puglia, owner of the Opera House, appeared before council to object to a drive being made to collect delinquent amusement taxes.

Council refused to make any adjustments and also indicated it will attempt to collect taxes for the V. F. W. carnival held recently, for record hops, and for other forms of amusement.

Attorney William P. Thomas was appointed to the Waynesburg Planning Commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Catherine Sayers.

There was some discussion of a pension plan for borough employees, but no action was taken. Mayor Roy Shultz reported that departmental earnings for June amounted to $2,184.25, broken down as follows:

Parking meter receipts, $1,578; parking tickets, $145.50; motor vehicle fines, $85; borough fines, sewer taps, $150; telephone call, 35 cents.

School District Hires Manager

Central Greene School District board at a meeting Friday night, hired Howard Craft of Waynesburg, as business manager-secretary.

Salaries were also established for the three top administrators of the school system. Supervising principal W. Walter Montgomery will receive $9,500. Assistant supervising principal Stidger Loehr will be paid $8,000. Craft's salary was set at $5,000.

The board rehired all non-professional employees in the district in the same capacities in which they have been serving.

There was discussion concerning bringing Mt. Morris High School students to Waynesburg High School.

The board fixed opening of schools for September 4, and closing as May 31.

The next meeting of the board will be on Monday July 16. A tentative budget will be presented.

GI Insurance Privilege OK'd

WASHINGTON — House and Senate leaders and the Budget Bureau have reached an agreement for early congressional action to let Second World War and Korean War veterans reinstate lapsed GI insurance or take out new policies.

Both pieces of legislation are given a good chance of final passage.

A meeting of the Greene County Republican Committee has been called by John B. Carter, county chairman, for Monday evening, July 16, at 8 o'clock, in the court room of the court house in Waynesburg.

Voting may be by secret ballot on motion; otherwise by acclamation, according to the by-laws.

The purpose of the meeting is to elect a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, assistant secretary and treasurer for the coming year, and for such other business as may come before the meeting.

Will you leave these freedoms to your children?

Men have died to leave you these 4 symbols of freedom:

A Holy Bible—symbol of your right to worship as you wish. (First Amendment, U. S. Constitution)

A door key—your right to lock your door against illegal government force and prying. (Fourth Amendment, U. S. Constitution)

A pencil—freedom to speak or write what you think, whether you agree with the government or not. (First Amendment, U. S. Constitution)

And a free ballot—your right to choose the people who represent you in government—your protection against government tyranny. (Article I, U. S. Constitution)

In half the world today, these symbols and the things they stand for have been destroyed.

And Khrushchev says it can happen here. He boasts that our children will live under socialism.

Unthinkable? Yes—but only so long as America guards its freedoms well. Against threats that come from inside our country, as well as from the outside.

In these critical times you would think that all of America's energies and financial resources should be concentrated on strengthening our country's defense.

But there are some people who would weaken this effort through needless government spending. For example, they want to use billions of your tax dollars to put government deeper into the electric power business.

Such spending is unnecessary because the investor-owned electric light and power companies can supply all the additional power a growing America will need.

Each time the government moves further into business—any business—it is another step on the road to socialism. And socialism is one thing Americans do not mean to leave to their children—or grandchildren—despite what Khrushchev says.

Stand for Something

"Give us clear vision that we may know where to stand and what to stand for—for unless we stand for something, we will fall for anything."

These great words echoed across the hall of the Senate of the United States a short time ago. Great words — they have been reprinted many times since first uttered in prayer by the Senate chaplain.

Yet there are many of us who believe in this thought, but find it hard to follow in these perplexing times. Can our churches be of help here?

If you are a member of a church, you need no answer to that question. You know that your church does not try to tell you how to stand on a question. That is your personal choice as a free American. But it does help you to separate the wheat from the chaff, the right from the wrong, so that you may stand for the right, knowing and unafraid.

Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught. II Thes. 2:15

Someone has said that the human race is divided into two classes—those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit back and inquire, "Why wasn't it done this way?"

Stand for something! Your church will help you with the most powerful incentive and champion that anyone may have—the knowledge that you are making your stand on the moral code of your God.

Basic American Principles

tions between sovereign states, upsetting traditional laws of the same sovereign states, and creating unconstitutional power to hold over state legislatures and over the people.

It is timely that Americans, as citizens of a blessed land, should set forth in all seriousness, frankness, and good intent the following principles:

No person shall be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law.

No person shall be compelled to perform the duties of any Federal agency, including the collection of taxes, fines, duties, and licenses, without just compensation for the services required, nor be punished for declining to perform such services even if compensation is made.

No fiction as to the general welfare shall be used by any branch or department of the Government to impose laws, regulations, or rules of doubtful application to legalize the desires, programs, or objectives of the Federal Government or its agencies, bureaus, commissions, or officials.

Programs or projects designed for the general benefit or interests of the people shall be inaugurated and carried out only upon petition of those who are to benefit by them. Such programs or projects shall not be planned, authorized, or carried out by any Federal agency except upon specific direction of the people as expressed by petition, or as the result of a public election in which the majority shall have approved of such actions.

The police powers of the Government shall not be used to harass, coerce, or otherwise influence citizens to comply with arbitrary rules, regulations, projects or programs of government agencies, commissions or bureaus without specific approval, after review by Congress.

Arbitrary penalties and punishments promulgated by Federal Government agencies, commissions, departments of bureaus, without the express approval of Congress, shall be carefully reviewed by competent counsellors before becoming the basic law of the land. Failure to have such review and approval by Congress shall be construed as to make such penalties and punishments null and void and of no effect.

As between states, neither the Federal Government nor any of its agencies or bureaus will favor or support one state against the other. The courts shall render decisions upon the basis of justice and equity between states, being mindful in all cases that the rights of the people are first, state rights second, and national rights third, regarding any disputes concerning property and resource. In no case—except upon the consideration of national defense, security, or emergency—shall the Federal Government impose its will or desires upon the states or their people, to satisfy bias, prejudice, or advantage because of the viewpoint of the states concerned.

All political power is inherent in the people. The Government derives its powers from them and has been established to protect and maintain individual rights as opposed to bureaucratic privilege. The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage other rights retained by the people. The powers not delegated to the Government by the Constitution—nor prohibited to it by the states—are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people.

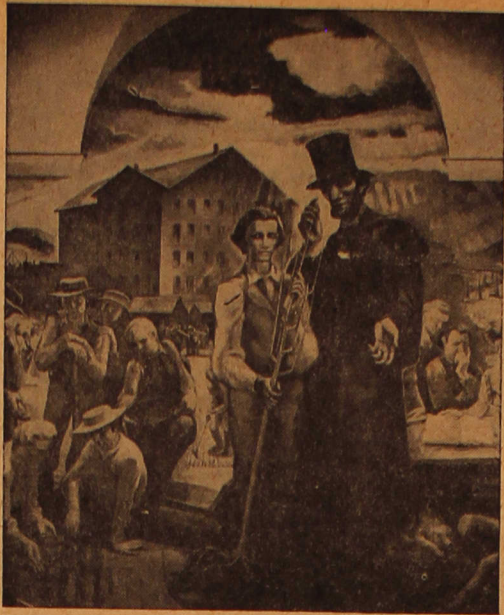

These are fundamental principles. They are principles upon which our Government of the people, by the people, and for the people was established, and they are principles which are as sound today as they were then. Are we not well advised to re-examine them at this time as a means of bolstering our fight to save freedom in America—and throughout the world?

Cicero said, "The administration of government, like a guardianship, ought to be directed to the good of those who confer, not of those who receive the trust."

We, the people, confer the trust, and the moral is self-evident.

Whenever you find people doing anything in behalf of freedom's cause, compliment them. They will be encouraged in the actions they are taking if they know you approve. If you are for freedom and say nothing, you are sadly in default. You are being outnumbered although the odds may be 98:2 in your favor. This is one of the explanations of why we are losing so fast to such a vicious minority.

Penn State Mural Envisions Agindustry

A century ago President Lincoln signed the Land Grant Act commemorated by Penn State's mural on the walls of Old Main. Twenty-five years later the Hatch Act provided the first substantial support for the Pennsylvania and other State Agricultural Experiment Stations. Resulting development of agricultural science has paralleled advances in all technological fields. Scientific discoveries have been applied to agriculture as vigorously in town as on the farm. Tillers of the soil can not make tractors, refine fuels, generate electricity, synthesize chemicals, or perform a thousand other services now required by farm operators. Nor can farmers convert raw products into convenience foods. No other country has experienced a movement such as that started by the Land Grant College system and none can match American agindustry.

Duck Supply Smallest in Decade; Breeding Areas Hit by Drought

The Fish and Wildlife Service has indicated the supply of ducks this fall may be the smallest in more than a decade.

Reports from waterfowl survey teams who are covering the breeding grounds in the northern United States and Canada indicate that the breeding population is smaller than any year since summer waterfowl surveys began in 1951.

The continent's primary "duck factory"—the prairie pothole region of North Dakota, South Dakota, and Minnesota in the United States, and Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta, Canada — has been plagued with drought for several years.

One bright spot in this year's picture is the improvement of water and habitat in the Dakotas and Minnesota. Increased production from this area, however, is not expected to compensate for lack prairie provinces.

Aerial survey flights in southern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba have been completed.

Reports indicate a 37 per cent decrease in the breeding population there. Mallard ducks are 12 per cent of the total continental duck production, the Fish and Wildlife Service said.

"The significance of this region becomes even more evident when only those ducks important in the harvest are considered," it said. "In 1956, from 75 to 95 per cent of the mallards, pintails, blue-winged teal, canvasback and red heads were produced in this area. These species collectively make up approximately two-thirds of the total duck kill in an average year."

The duck meeting areas will be surveyed again by the aerial teams in July.

Captains Named For Track Team

Barbara Kennedy and Susan Thomas have been elected captains of the Greene County Track Club's Women's Team, according to Women's Chairman Gayle Voelker.

Miss Kennedy, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odie Kennedy, Pittsburgh, is a junior in high school. She currently leads the team in scoring with 53 points.

Barbara, a newcomer to the local ranks, competed for the Ammon Recreation Association, Pittsburgh, in 1958-61. The speedster won nine gold medals in previous seasons in the sprints, relays, and broad jump. She owns club standards in the 100 (:12), 220 (:29.9), broad jump (13' 8"), high jump (4'), and softball throw (134' 3).

Miss Thomas, 15, who resides with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thomas, Waynesburg, will be a sophomore this fall at Waynesburg High. She was third in scoring (55 1/4) last season and currently ranks second with 46 1/2 markers.

Susan, who competes in the low hurdles, 100, and 440-yard relay, owns the club record in the 80-yard low hurdles (:14).

She was vice-president of her freshman class, secretary-treasurer of her home room, historian of Forencis, and a member of the Girls Athletic Association at Waynesburg High.

Susan's hobby is showing horses.

CHIPMUNKS HELPFUL

The eastern chipmunk is often a true friend of the gardener. Its diet includes June bugs, wireworms, cutworms, millepedes, beetles, slugs and even young field mice.

The odds on a bowler shooting a 300 games in a sanctioned league is 1,200,000 to one, reports the American Bowling Congress.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Costly Oversight

It costs exactly $2,100 in nomination, entry and starting fees to get a horse into the paddock for the Santa Anita Handicap. Therefore it might safely be assumed that anyone paying those fees feels that his horse has a good chance to win the race. The ignoring of this assumption proved to be a costly oversight on the part of Jockeys Willie Shoemaker and Alex Maese earlier this year. There was a three-horse entry in the big Santa Anita race; Shoemaker was on Prove It and Maese on Olden Times, both owned by Rex Ellsworth and the third horse in the entry was Physician, owned by Lynn Boice. It was because Boice trained a 2nd string for Ellsworth that his horse had to be included in the entry. Jockeys Shoemaker and Maese got together and agreed to a 75-25 split of the usual 10 percent of the $100,000 race, should either win; they completely ignored Don Pierce, Physician's jockey. Experts agreed that, had Physician not been coupled in the betting with the Ellsworth pair, he would have been 100 to 1. Physician charged from last place in a field of 13 and Pierce, riding in New York this Summer recalls that as he passed Prove It, Shoemaker shouted an encouraging "Your in, Donnie, keep him going!" Pierce kept Physician going and won by better than two lengths. He then laughed all the way to the bank with 10 per cent of the purse which he did not have to share.

Pilots Stage Close Race For Best Job

NEW YORK — It'll take some thoughtful balloting to elect the "Manager of the Year" in the American League this season.

Over in the National, the pennant-winning manager probably will grab the honor but in the junior league several pilots are doing remarkable jobs.

Among the top candidates at this point are Sam Mele of the Twins, Mel McGaha of the Indians, Bill Rigney of the Angels and Hank Bauer of the Athletics.

By September, when the dipsey-doodle flag chase should be straightened out, some or all of them may be distant also-rans but it may be well to remember then their work against tremendous odds in the early going.

Who'd figured the Indians, Twins and Angels would stay up so high so long?

In the National, it's hard to see anyone named unless he leads his club to a pennant.

There's nothing startling in the standings at the moment — although Houston is doing well under Harry Craft in its debut campaign.

One thing is sure. Casey Stengel is not in the running.

Greene Lassies Win Two Medals

HOMESTEAD—Two Greene County Track Club athletes won first places in the Women's Track and Field Meet sponsored by the Pittsburgh Junior Chamber of Commerce here during the week end.

Gold medals were won by Gayle Voelker in the shot put (31 feet) and Barbara Kennedy in the broad jump (14' 2"). Both efforts were new records for the Greene County team.

Coach Mary Harwick's crew finished in a deadlock with the Kay Boys Club for third place with 19 points each. Defending Allegheny Mountain Association champ Ammon (42) won with A. B. Heldman (23) runnerup.

Seconds were captured for Greene County by Miss Kennedy in the shot put (29, 6") and by the 200-yard relay team (:32) for 10-11 year olds of Rene Kerr, Claudia Baldwin, Lisbeth Bryner, and Barbara Tennant.

Thirds were won by Miss Tennant in the 50-yard dash for 16-11s; the 440-yard relay team (:59) for 14 and over of Susan Thomas, Florence Buckley, Thelma Townsend, and Miss Kennedy; and the 300-yard relay team (:46) for 12-13s of Sally Waddington, Loretta Tennant, Barbara Tennant, and Diane Waddington.

One of the hottest apprentice jockeys in some time has joined the jockey colony at Waterford Park for the summer meeting of 55 days which started on Monday July 2. The lad in question is jockey Kenneth R. Pichette of Southington, Conn.

This boy cracked all records at Wheeling for an apprentice by booting home 52 winners during the 32-night meet to cop top honors among the jockeys there. His nearest rival was veteran Terry Lipham with 32 victories to his credit.

This is the first time an apprentice won the jocks' race at the Island Course in many years and is the first time any apprentice has entered the winners circle on as many occasions as did Pichette.

Naturally small in stature he chose the riding profession because he was unable to compete in other sports due to his size and weight. Having a keen interest in all sports and a determination to win makes him a formidable opponent to most veterans in the saddle.

The curly headed youth got his first start at Lincoln Downs where he rode his first race last year for his contract employer Harry Hoffman of Hot Springs, Arkansas. Since then he has won with 96 mounts to place him in the top-ranking list in the national standings.

Pichette's agent is former jockey Ray Wenzel who handles all his engagements and keeps the boy's accounts as well as selecting the mounts when there is more than one call for his services in a race.

Last year, 145,291 cows were bred by the use of these sires with the highest individual bull having 19,129 services.

That's because down in The Beautiful Caverns of Luray, Virginia, it's always a comfortable 54°, no matter what the outside surface temperature is like! Luray Caverns' 64 acres of stalactites, stalagmites and columns are just 264 feet below the Shenandoah Valley, but can be as much as 40° cooler in summer. By contrast, you'd have to climb to the top of the 4,000-foot peaks of nearby Shenandoah National Park along the famed Skyline Drive to find temperatures even 20° lower than those at ground level.

Children's Aid Given High Praise By Welfare Official

The Children's Aid Society of Greene County has received praise from the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare for the excellence of its work with children who receive care under its program.

The Society is a private agency, but the Bureau of Children and Youth under the State Welfare Department periodically evaluates the work carried on by the organization.

Medical care for children was rated excellent, as well as the housing and boarding arrangements. The supply of clothing and incidentals were also approved.

The office and other working facilities of the Society were approved and all services for which the Society was organized being furnished.

The work of Miss Elizabeth Way Marlatt, executive secretary, was praised by the state department visitor, Mrs. Elizabeth Welton. The report showed that the staff meets all qualifications, including one which stipulates that all staff members working directly with children must have college degrees, preferably a master's.

In addition to regular staff members two case aides also are working at the Society's office. They are Linda Helphenstine and Janet Greenlee.

At the annual meeting two new directors were elected. They are Robert Lee of Waynesburg, and Joseph Dell of Carmichaels. Present officers were re-elected as follows: president A. W. Hesse; vice president, Miss Catherine Sayers; secretary, Mrs. William W. Bartholomew; treasurer, John Minor; assistant treasurer, Dr. Edward Cordray.

College professors will be chosen by administrators at California, Clarion, Slippery Rock, and Penn State, the state colleges and university within West Penn's electric service area.

Announcement of West Penn delegates will be made in August. One of the interesting features for the more than 600 students and teachers attending this year's conference will be an all-day tour of Argonne National Laboratory and the world-famous Museum of Science and Industry. Argonne serves as a principal center for the design and development of nuclear reactors.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, commented in a letter to West Penn officials:

"There is no doubt in my mind that education has been enhanced by the participation of faculty members from our State Colleges and our public schools in the National Youth Conference on the Atom."

"Your company should be commended for this cooperative effort between industry and education."

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to put your name on a Freedom Document

Most of us have deep beliefs in the things America stands for... the freedoms that 56 men signed into existence 186 years ago at Independence Hall.

Those old-timers didn't have an exclusive on endorsing freedom, however. You can still put your name on a freedom document by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

The money you put into Savings Bonds helps build Uncle Sam's financial strength, an important asset in furthering the causes of freedom wherever men want to be free on this globe of ours.

This money also helps build your own financial strength. And frankly, the more living comfort you have, the higher your living standard, the better you demonstrate one of the advantages of being a free people.

Tens of millions of American families use U.S. Savings Bonds as a way to save for the future and help their country now. How about adding your family to the roster?
