

Waynesburg Republican

Mrs. H. A. Russell
Box 363

MIS-DATED
should be
July 26

PUBLISHED WEEKLY — READ DAILY — SINCE 1833

VOLUME CXXIX

ESTABLISHED 1833

WAYNESBURG, PENNSYLVANIA, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1962

A GOOD HOME PAPER

NUMBER 13

Jacktown Fair Opens Wednesday, August 1st

Co. C to Depart For Training On Saturday

Company C, (Company K) 110th Regiment, Pennsylvania National Guard, will leave Saturday, for the annual two weeks' training.

This year the 28th Division is training at Camp A. P. Hill in Virginia, 60 miles south of Washington, D. C. This is the second year the division has encamped there.

The company will leave in a convoy Saturday morning at four o'clock and will return home on Sunday, August 12. Going to camp the guard will spend Saturday night at a temporary camp at Winchester, Va.

Camp A. P. Hill has no permanent facilities and the guard will live and conduct operations in tents.

Following is the roster: Captain Joseph W. Carroll, in command, Danny J. Edgar, First Lieutenant, First Sergeant—Mark G. Shultz, Waynesburg.

Platoon Sergeants and Master Sergeants—James F. Kirby and Stanford B. Zimmerman of Waynesburg.

Sergeants First Class and Staff Sergeants—William H. Bennett, Dunns Station; Mark F. Kirby, Washington; Ernest S. Palone, Dry Tavern, and Thomas J. Dulaney, Paul W. Huffman, Robert E. Rice and Robert G. Wood, all of Waynesburg.

Sergeants and Specialists E5—John R. Barna of Waynesburg; Edward J. Barry of Mapletown; John G. Brodak of Washington; Richard E. Ceconello of Greensville; Thomas F. Crouse, of Claysville; Robert L. Gwynn of Waynesburg; Robert K. Morris of Waynesburg, R. D.; Richard E. Patterson of Waynesburg, R. D.; John R. Tharp of McKeesport, and Patrick J. Wright of Waynesburg.

Specialists E4—Joseph V. Ayersman, Howard Crawford, Jr., William M. Funk, Louis Lacava, David G. White, all of Waynesburg; Jackie A. Fike, Charles Roberts, Jr., James A. Rush, James A. Strope and Robert L. Throckmorton, all of Waynesburg, R. D.; John H. Jacobs of Rutan; John C. Morgan of Rogersville; Kenneth L. Phillips of Claysville; James E. Pierson of New Freeport; Harold R. Scott of Houston, and George H. Winter of Uniontown.

Privates First Class—Richard L. Bennett of Dunns Station; George J. Brodak and Larry R. Crayne, of Carmichaels; Philip R. Carroll of Minneapolis, Minn.; Jack R. Cumpston, Samuel S. Fuller, James M. Scott and Harold A. Toland, all of Waynesburg, R. D.; Earl W. Edwards, Willard A. Morris, both of Waynesburg; Curtis R. Efav, Guy L. McKahan, Ivan L. McKahan all of Nineteville; Charles R. Ely of Rogersville; Robert E. Hall of Mt. Morris; Melvin M. McConnell of Claysville; Harry M. Rishell of Jefferson, and Franklin E. Stroman and Joseph Yanak, Jr., of Clarksville.

Privates—John L. Fox of Carmichaels; Charles R. Huffman, Cary W. Rush, Jr., Charles Shriver, Jr., Raymond E. Waychoff and Floren T. Strope, all of Waynesburg, R. D.; Richard J. Kalist of Mt. Morris, and Robert G. Kinney and John W. McCall of Waynesburg.

Scouts Serenade Royalty in Japan

TOKYO — An American Boy Scout troop gave a flute concert Sunday for Crown Prince Akihito, Princes Michiko and their 2-year-old son Prince Hiro.

The 75-member Los Angeles Boy Scout Troop 379 consisting of Japanese-American boys, marched into the garden of the Crown Prince's residence in Tokyo with flags of the Boy Scouts and the Stars and Stripes flying. The scouts are in Japan to participate in the first Asian scout jamboree on the slopes of Mt. Fuji, August 3-8.

All roads will lead to Wind Ridge next Wednesday when the famous Jacktown Fair opens for the 97th consecutive year.

Only the Stoneboro, Mass., fair vies with Jacktown in years. The fair will run Wednesday through Saturday, day and night. Admission is free.

The midway, which is furnished by Keystone State Shows, will open on Tuesday, a day before the fair begins.

For entertainment there will be an amateur show on Saturday evening, concerts by West Greene Band and the Citizens' Band of Waynesburg.

Thursday and Friday evenings will feature light and heavy-weight horse pulling contests and on Saturday night there will be a large display of fireworks.

The directors have scheduled more classes for 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America entries with attractive premiums.

Entries in all classes must be placed by noon on Wednesday.

In recent years the fair has been more in the nature of a homecoming. Former residents come from long distances because they know old friends will be at the fair.

Throughout the year, the buildings and grounds are allowed to be used for family reunions, picnics and various meetings.

Jacktown Fair, which is sponsored by the Richhill Agricultural Society, was started by selling shares of stock to many families in the area. Then a number of years ago the society bought the stock and many contributed their shares to make the exhibition a free fair.

The board of directors reads like a list of early settlers in the district. All are direct descendants of the founders.

The fair is noted for its fine livestock and farm produce exhibits. The needlework department is always beautiful.

While horse racing and the colorful traders' alley are long since gone, we doff our hat to the maintenance of this fine old tradition.

Celebrates 94th Anniversary

Robert Ullom, well known resident of Aleppo, celebrated his 94th birthday anniversary Sunday at a family picnic at his home.

He has engaged in farming and stock raising and still has more than 60 head of sheep. Mr. Ullom rides a horse about his farm and he also tends a large garden which he planted himself.

He is a son of Harrison and Rebecca Yates Ullom, and was born July 20, 1868, in Aleppo Township. On February 10, 1898, Mr. Ullom married Ida Moore. Both are members of the Aleppo Brethren Church, and Mr. Ullom taught a Sunday School class until recently. Mr. Ullom has served as a school director and also as a road supervisor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ullom are parents of 11 children, all of whom are living. They are Mrs. Charles Nichols, Cameron, W. Va.; Mrs. Edward Pounds, Follansbee, W. Va.; Mrs. Michael Miller, Elkins, W. Va.; Mrs. Perry Riffe, Aleppo; Mrs. Edward Hinerman, Aleppo; Mrs. Randolph McCracken, Sugar Grove; Rex, and Mrs. Howard Jones, of Aleppo; David of Kittanning; James W., Moundsville, W. Va., and Robert, Washington, R. D. 2.

There are 15 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Mr. Ullom has three sisters living, one of whom is in her 96th year. She is Mrs. Katherine Wilson, of Cameron, W. Va. The other sisters are Mrs. C. E. Ullom, Croton, Ohio, and Mrs. Effie Welner, Aleppo Township.

Many Americans Move, But Nearby

WASHINGTON — One out of every five persons in the United States moves each year, but most of the movers remain in the same county. This has been the pattern shown by Census Bureau annual surveys over a period of many years.

The Philadelphia Inquirer Says:

Hamilton Accuses Dilworth Of Blackmailing Indorsers

Republican City Chairman Wilbur H. Hamilton on Tuesday accused former Mayor Richardson Dilworth of "blackmailing" City and State Democratic political leaders into indorsing him for that party's nomination for Governor.

He said Dilworth had made a private investigation of State and City officials and that if the nomination had been blocked, "you would have seen the most exciting scandal in history."

And because of the "evidence" the former Mayor's investigators found, he is still "running City Hall," the Republican leader declared.

Hamilton delivered his broadside at a luncheon meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Sales and Finance Companies at Bookbinders', 15th street, near Locust.

Hamilton charged that Dilworth had a special investigator and staff working for months "gathering all sorts of evidence to force support of his candidacy." If Dilworth had not been nominated, he said, "we would have had these scandals brought out—without a grand jury investigation."

"He planned the greatest undercover campaign that ever took place. This was the finish fight in his political career. "If the Democratic State Committee had failed to indorse him, we wouldn't have needed a grand jury investigation in Philadelphia," Hamilton declared.

"He had everything prepared about State leaders and everybody in the City Hall gang. If he had not been successful (in gaining the nomination) he would have exposed everybody."

Dilworth, he said, is a private citizen today, but this did not stop him from calling City Solicitor David Berger into the strategy meeting that resulted in the appeal to have the grand jury probe begin immediately, instead of September 4. Berger, he said, had no right to ask Dilworth what he should do.

"Imagine the audacity of this man. No longer Mayor, he sits down with the City Solicitor to decide whether they should appeal (Judge Eugene) Alessandrini's decision to hold the probe in the fall.

"Thirteen months ago, Dilworth shed crocodile tears to stop it (the investigation). He was still the Mayor. Now he's not the Mayor, he's a candidate for Governor, and he wants to get it over with fast. I know he and the City Hall gang are really sad they did not have the investigation 13 months ago."

Hamilton characterized Judge Alessandrini as "the one person on the bench who knows how to handle it from a legal, judicial and investigatory standpoint.

"He won't permit the wool to be pulled over his eyes. He will be eminently fair."

He indicated that Dilworth would not have the opportunity to repeat the "fakery" he used to "fool the people" when he went before Judge Raymond Pace Alexander in January 1961, to block a grand jury inquiry of City Hall corruption.

Judge Alexander, Hamilton asserted, gave Dilworth "all the latitude in the world" and the result was the former Mayor "made one of the best political speeches I ever heard."

"Dilworth knew long in advance he would quit as Mayor and run for Governor. His advisers told him he would have to make a clean break," Hamilton said. "He informed the Democratic Party he would not stand for defeat and he used the evidence of his undercover investigation to blackmail it (the party) into indorsing him."

The City Hall scandals unearthed in the Dilworth administration, Hamilton said, had served to revive the two-party system in Philadelphia.

Commissioners Ask State to Construct Highway Overpass

Greene County Commissioners have requested the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to build an overpass for pedestrians between the fairground and the Central Swimming Pool in order to cross the proposed new highway which will be an approach to the Waynesburg interchange of the North-South highway.

The new highway will connect Morrisville with Route 21, and since many people walk to the fairground and the swimming pool from Morrisville, the commissioners also asked that a pedestrian sidewalk be built.

The requests were made because the commissioners feel that the new highway will present a dangerous pedestrian situation in this area.

Letters have been sent to N. G. Bill, district engineer located in Uniontown; to Park H. Martin, Secretary of Highways; to Assemblyman Stephen McCann, and State Senator William J. Lane.

Six Bad Boys Put In Dresses by Judge

ORANGE, Texas — Orange County Judge Sid J. Caillavet sentenced six boys to spend 30 days in girls' dresses for juvenile offenses ranging from shoplifting to stealing milk bottles.

The Orange, Texas, boys, ranging in ages from eight to 10, pleaded guilty to the charges.

Judge Caillavet said he decided on the punishment when he recalled that his mother used to make him and his brother wear their sister's dresses to discipline them.

"It's the best way to keep boys out of trouble I know about," he said. "Parents have no difficulty keeping them at home when they're wearing girls' dresses."

Tri-County Council To Meet August 1

The quarterly meeting of the Washington-Fayette and Greene Tri-County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held on Wednesday, August 1, at 11 o'clock, with the Board meeting at 10:30.

Council President Mrs. Edward Yankovich requests all unit presidents to send delegates to this important meeting. Business of the day will be election and installation of officers.

U. S. Study Seeks Cancer-Virus Tie

WASHINGTON — The Public Health Service Sunday announced the award of a $99,459 contract to the Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park, California, for studies that "may provide new clues" to the possibility that viruses cause human cancer.

The project will involve the production of tumors through the inoculation of rats with a chemical known as D. M. E. A.

"Recent advances in laboratory techniques and rapidly accumulating knowledge of animal tumor viruses should make this research more fruitful than was possible heretofore," the Health Service said.

Rices Landing Girl Wins First in State Auxiliary Contest

Miss Helen Hildebrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brice Hildebrand of Rices Landing, has been awarded first place in the State Americanism contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Pennsylvania.

Her essay on "Americanism—What It Means To Me," also placed first in the district contest sponsored by the junior high division of Filer-Sadlek Post No. 954, American Legion, of Jefferson, and second in the Tri-County Council.

Miss Hildebrand received a citation and a check award of $40 from Mrs. Robert Rockwood, State Americanism chairman of the Auxiliary.

She will be a sophomore at Jefferson-Morgan High School this year.

Mrs. John Titus was chairman of the district contest.

Floridians Defend Old Indian Names

AUBURNDALE, Fla.—A move by a group of residents to give Pilaklakaha Avenue a less tongue-twisting name brought instant response from those who want to retain such Indian names in Florida.

Mayor Fred Jones said, "What would Florida be without Tallahassee, the Caloosahatchee River, and towns like Istachatta?" Auburndale would fold without Pilaklakaha Avenue, said the mayor.

Mayor Jones said for those who could not pronounce the name "PK Avenue" would get them there.

Mrs. Whyte Named Officer in State Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Harold R. White of Waynesburg, on Friday, was elected western district vice president of the Auxiliary to the Department of Pennsylvania, American Legion, at the convention in Philadelphia.

She has been state chairman of the by-laws and constitution committee and also state finance chairman.

Mrs. Whyte has been chairman of all committees in the James Farrell Post Auxiliary, and has also held all major offices. She is a past president of the Washington-Greene Council.

Mrs. Whyte was nominated by Miss Gertrude Wood of Waynesburg, who is active in Legion work.

Mrs. Whyte recently retired from teaching in Greene County schools. She began teaching in 1917.

She is a member of Greene County Salon, 8 et 40, the Rebekah Lodge and the Daughters of America.

Other members of the Auxiliary who attended the convention were Mrs. Catherine Morris, president, Mrs. Harry Inghram, Mrs. Bryan Varner and Miss Sara Ann Dille.

North Carolina Wants Fletcher

North Carolina authorities have requested extradition of James Morris Fletcher of Bobtown, on alleged theft and later violation of parole, Sheriff Mark G. Shultz announced over the week end.

He was acquitted of a murder charge in a second trial in June, and was released from jail when bond was posted after a hearing on a fugitive from justice charge.

The charge is based on a detainer filed eight years ago by North Carolina officials in which they charge that Fletcher escaped from a prison road gang there in 1942 after serving less than a year of a three-to-five year sentence.

Fletcher was serving a life sentence in Western Penitentiary when the detainer was filed. He had been convicted of the shotgun slaying in 1954, of Gerald Tanner of near Mapletown. Subsequently he won a second trial.

The charges in North Carolina, it is understood involve the theft of three hams from a home. Fletcher was first given a suspended sentence and later was sentenced for violating his parole by allegedly getting into a fight.

Rain Day Sponsored By Rainsburg JayCees

County Republican Women's Council Plans Two Affairs

Greene County Council of Republican Women will hold a garden party Saturday afternoon, August 18, at the home of Mrs. Albert A. Sayers of North Morris street.

The Council will also hold a dinner meeting Tuesday night, August 29, in the Greene County Country Club. Husbands of members will be guests.

The council held a meeting Friday night in the headquarters on South Washington street. The president, Mrs. Dan McCoy presided.

Kenneth Baily, state committee man, introduced E. Bryan Jacobs, the recently elected county chairman.

Attorney Albert A. Sayers of Waynesburg, candidate for Assembly from Greene County, spoke for the Republican ticket and described the nominees as capable of giving a good administration.

It was announced the Greene County Council has been invited to attend a tea in Washington, when the wife of the Republican candidate for governor, Mrs. William Scranton, visits the county.

Mrs. McCoy appointed the following committees for the dinner and other functions:

Place for dinner and arrangements: Mrs. John Baily, Mrs. Carl Walker, Mrs. Robert Thompson, and Miss Catherine Sayers.

Devotionals for dinner and meetings: Mrs. Thomas S. Baily and Mrs. John Lessner.

Reservations: Waynesburg — Mrs. G. C. Edson, Mrs. A. R. Morgan, Mrs. Margaret McCall, Carmichaels — Mrs. Charles Hartley, Mrs. Richard Baily, Mrs. Viola Thompson; Greensboro — Mrs. Forney M. Gape; Mt. Morris — Mrs. Helen Lemley; Jefferson — Mrs. Nelle Lewis; Aleppo — Mrs. Nettie Stockdale; and Dunns Station — Mrs. L. P. Shipman.

Other committees named were: Program for next meetings — Mrs. Albert Sayers, Mrs. Kathryn McKee, Mrs. Jesse F. Ullom, and Mrs. Arthur Biddle.

Finance — Mrs. J. Russell Milliken, chairman; Mrs. Rudolph Lindquist, Mrs. Thomas Morris, Mrs. Louise H. Waters, Mrs. Lucille Broadwater, Mrs. Sarah Carter, Mrs. Carrie Belle Smith, Mrs. Lois Burwell, and Mrs. Anna Martin.

Six in County On Dean's List

John Shefcheck of Crucible; Barbara Dennis of Garards Fort; Carol Headlee of Garards Fort; Bryan Kimble of Cameron Star Route, Graysville; Henry Beghini of Greensboro; and Lois Rothenberg of Waynesburg, qualified for the Dean's List at Pennsylvania State University, during the spring term.

John Shefcheck is a junior majoring in mechanical engineering.

Barbara Dennis is a sophomore majoring in arts and letters.

Carol Headlee is a senior majoring in business administration.

Bryan Kimble is a sophomore in secondary education.

Henry Beghini is a senior, majoring in chemical engineering.

Lois Rothenberg is a senior majoring in arts and letters.

Waynesburg Woman Injured at Crossing

Mrs. Lee Frank of East High street, was injured Tuesday about 1:30, when she was struck by an automobile as she was crossing Washington street from the Ullom and Baily drug store corner.

She was treated for multiple abrasions and contusions at the Greene County Memorial Hospital and released.

Officers stated the car was operated by Howard William Tustin, 18 years, of Woodruff, W. Va., R. D. 1, who had stopped for the traffic light and was then turning onto Washington street.

The annual Rain Day Festival sponsored by Waynesburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, is in full swing and will continue through Saturday.

The rides and other attractions of the Howard Shows are set up on the borough parking lot on North Morgan street, a half block from High.

On Saturday, the JayCees and the Greene County Track Club are sponsoring a 30-kilometer (18 miles) walk-race, the first ever staged in the county. It has been sanctioned by the National A. A. U. and the Allegheny Chapter of the organization.

John Deni, internationally famous Pittsburgh walker, will be honor guest and director of the championship race which will start at 1:30 in front of the court house. It will move west on Route 18 to Sycamore.

Entries have been received from Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Ohio, Virginia, and one from Toronto, Canada.

There will also be a championship race for entrants under 17 years of age.

Proceeds from the street fair will be used by the JayCees for their community improvement program, the current project of which is the establishment of a park and recreational facilities near the Central Swimming Pool in Franklin Township, one mile east of Waynesburg near Greene County Fairground.

Waynesburg's annual Rain Day, July 29, which was made famous by GIs around the globe during World War II, will fall this year on Sunday.

Records show that there has been some rain on July 29, in Waynesburg, 75 times out of 85 years. Just what the mystic trick is no one knows.

Attorney John Daily, is the rain prophet. He inherited the title from his father, the late Byron Daily, who in turn assumed the record keeping from the late Abner and James Allison, well known pharmacists in the Rogers' Drug Store. A farmer had mentioned the fact to them and they noted the annual rain in the prescription books. The books are in the Headlee Drug Store.

Eleanor Schano, Pittsburgh television weather forecaster, who lost last year, asked to try her luck again. So she joins the long list of celebrities, who have been "suckers," including Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Jack Dempsey, and who have lost their hats to Mr. Daily.

To Attend State Farm Co-op Meeting

Over 30 former directors of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, Harrisburg, and a past minister of agriculture for India, will attend the next meeting of the regional cooperative's board of directors, July 30 and 31.

George G. Connor, executive vice president and general manager of the farmer-owned cooperative, said an area farmer, Harley Swart of Waynesburg, is among those invited to the two-day event.

Mr. Swart formerly represented Greene Farm Bureau Cooperative Association on the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau board. Clarence P. Grimes, Waynesburg, R. D. 1, will attend the meeting as the current director.

Dr. Panjabrao S. Deshmukh, former Minister of Agriculture for India, will be a featured guest during the opening day's meeting. He is touring the United States with 11 other Indian agricultural leaders, studying our nation's farming methods.

Reception for New Minister

The congregation of the Washington Street Methodist Church will hold a reception for their new minister, Dr. H. M. Eagleson, and Mrs. Eagleson, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the social rooms.

Members and friends of the church are invited. Refreshments will be served.