Waynesburg High School Majorettes Are Champion Twirlers of Western Pennsylvania

ter, Linda Throckmorton, Kay Rohanna, Jane Carroll, Deanie Blair, Kay Gooden, Beverly Gray, Helen Bowling and Cindy Huffman. The contest was the first the local girls had ever entered. Miss Gusic also won a medal in solo baton twirling on August 10, in a contest held at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, West Virginia.

The Philadelphia Inquirer Says:

Robots Cut Prices . . . and Jobs

Automation is completing its first decade without working all the wonders or doing all the damage some had foreseen for it. It was ten years ago that a lawyer's son fresh out of college popularized the word and concept by publishing a book, "Automation: The Advent of the Automatic Factory." The author, John Diebold, was to become wealthy and internationally prominent as a top automation expert.

In the same year, the Ford Motor Company linked seventy-one machines into a line 1,600 feet long which took in rough castings at one end and, almost without human help, cranked out finished auto engine blocks at the other. This was to become the model for "Detroit automation," the robot production line.

Looking back, how has it fared so far, for better or for worse? Some said its electronic brains would solve traffic puzzles and could tip off national election results almost from the instant the polls close. But traffic is still a snarl and in 1960 one of the brainiest of these machines issued this crisp early election analysis: It's Nixon.

Still, industry officials say automation efficiency has helped pare the price of automatic washers, television sets and power lawnmowers; that it has helped electricity, gasoline and baby bottles withstand inflation.

But this will cause some to laugh mirthlessly. Where automation holds sway, jobs die, say the former packinghouse worker waiting in a Chicago unemployment office, the lathe operator making disappointing rounds in Detroit, the Pennsylvania coal miner idly staring into a sooty valley, the former steelworker drawing half his former pay at an Oil City, Pa., shoe factory.

Statisticians, granting these painful individual cases, say it doesn't appear that automation has actually thrown many people out onto the streets. However, in 20 computer installations almost 3,000 jobs were eliminated but only nine people actually were fired. It's hard to tell in any case, which people who are out of work got there specifically because of automation.

But statisticians have noticed that total employment in manufacturing decreased during the automation decade, while production increased. Some experts have estimated from this that using machines to boost workers' output eliminates about 200,000 jobs a year.

Statisticians have also noticed that hard-core unemployment—those people jobless for a year or more—have grown in recent years.

An new office in the Labor Department is closely watching the good and bad that automation is doing, by way of helping find ways to minimize automation pain while enjoying its pleasures to the utmost. The solution, Government, unions and management all agree, is a souped up economy. This would create more jobs than automation would destroy, they contend. Assured of sufficient new openings, planners could perfect the retraining and adjustment systems that have been only mildly successful so far.

The Kennedy Administration has heard contrasting advice on how to speed up economic growth and on whether to push or slacken automation's progress. It has, so far, trod a middle course. To industry's calls for hurrying up, it has eased depreciation allowances and sought tax credits in new laws. It has opposed labor's push for a shorter work week.

To the union "protection-first" appeal, it has pushed through Federal money programs to aid automation-stricken workers and has supported the principle that labor should share in productivity (automation efficiency) gains.

Central in considerations where the emphasis should be placed are two contrasting pressures growing increasingly strong. One is the way Japanese and European competitors are automating with breakneck speed. "We are in greater danger of being buried economically by our friends than by our enemies," said a General Electric executive.

The other is the threat of a recession in the U. S. in months to come, a slump that automation layoffs might intensify.

The story goes that when Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, was being shown a bank of new automated machines at an auto plant, a company official patted one of the machines and said: "How are you going to get these fellows to pay union dues?" Reuther answered, "The same way you are going to get them to buy Fords."

Federal Census Bureau Report Shows State and Local Taxes at New High

WASHINGTON — Tax collections by state and local governments rose to a new high last year but spending increased even faster, the Census Bureau reports.

Tax collections totaled $38.7 billion, an increase of $2.6 billion over the previous year. Spending increased by $5.4 billion to $66.4 billion.

The difference between spending and tax receipts was offset by Federal grants, new borrowing, and various kinds of non-tax revenues such as receipts from publicly operated utilities and liquor stores.

"These figures show continuance of the strong upward trend in state and local taxes that has marked the period since World War II," the report said. "In the past 15 years, state and local tax revenue per capita has nearly tripled, moving from a nationwide average of $71 in 1946 to $211 per capita in 1961."

Federal tax collections have grown less rapidly. As a consequence, state and local governments collected one-third of all taxes last year, compared with 22 per cent at the end of the Second World War.

Per capita state spending amounted to $363 last year.

More than one-third of all general expenditures by state and local governments was for public schools and other educational purposes. Ranking next were highways, public welfare, and health and hospitals.

Young G. O. P. Club To Be Organized

A young Republican Club of Greene County will be formed at a meeting Wednesday night, September 5, at 8:45 o'clock, in Albert's Restaurant, West Waynesburg.

Howard Craft of Waynesburg, acted as temporary chairman at a recent meeting, and appointed Michael Lucas, Jr., of Carmichaels, Robert Smith of Waynesburg R. D. 5, and Wilma Beddion of Nineveh, as a nominating committee.

Queen Adopts Personal Flag

LONDON — Queen Elizabeth has adopted a new personal flag for use when she visits Canada. Buckingham Palace said it will show the arms of Canada in the center with the Queen's monogram, wreath and crown in gold on a blue field.

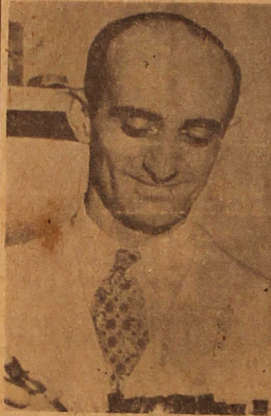

Mrs. MacElwee to Speak at Meeting

MRS. HELEN C. MACELWEE

Mrs. Irvin Reed MacElwee, president and board member of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, will be guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Greene County Council of Republican Women at six o'clock Tuesday, August 28, in the Greene County Country Club. In 1960, she was named by President Dwight Eisenhower to the 1960 Asday Commission. Mrs. MacElwee is a member of a number of charitable and civic organizations in the metropolitan Philadelphia area.

Dr. L. J. Lewis Works for Victory Over Viruses

DR. L. J. LEWIS

The Knickerbocker News in Albany, N. Y., recently published a feature article on the work of Dr. L. James Lewis, a native of Waynesburg, who spent 10 years with Dr. Jonas Salk in the development of the Salk polio serum.

He is a son of Mrs. James Lewis of West Waynesburg, and is a graduate of Waynesburg College.

Dr. Lewis, who has been at Sterling-Winthrop Research Institute for three years, is engaged in research to control viruses.

"Viruses," Dr. Lewis explained, "which are smaller than bacteria and harder to get to, can cause just about everything from common cold to hepatitis. They respond to no known medication."

Virus-battling scientists have turned up more information about virus diseases in the last five years than was gleaned in the previous fifty years, Dr. Lewis stated.

A theory for the control of viruses was advanced recently by Dr. Salk at a public health conference in Syracuse, N. Y. He suggested that safe and effective multi-virus vaccines might be possible if the two components of virus could be separated.

Almost half of the decade he spent with Dr. Salk was devoted to determining different types of polio viruses, Dr. Lewis said. In this time, 111 strains of polio viruses were studied.

After the serum had been tested on monkeys, it was later tested on individuals. Dr. Lewis' son, then 10-months-old, was among the first to be vaccinated, along with Dr. Salk's own children.

The vaccines, Dr. Lewis declared, are approximately 90 per cent effective on all three types. "Any child in the United States who comes down with polio today can blame his parents for not having him vaccinated," Dr. Lewis said.

Pipeline Links France, Germany

NANCY, France—The last link of a 460-mile oil pipeline from Marseille to Karlsruhe, Germany, was welded into place this week, a month ahead of schedule.

It will carry Sahara and Mid-east crude oil to Common Market users.

School to Open September 4 With New Schedule

Waynesburg borough schools will open Tuesday morning, September 4. The tardy bell will ring at 8:45 o'clock.

All prospective high school pupils who have not registered should do so by Tuesday, August 28. The office is open daily from nine to four.

High school pupils will have just 24 minutes for lunch and all students will take their lunch to school and all will remain in the building during the lunch period.

The lunch bell will ring at 11:58, and a passing bell will ring at 12:17. The fifth period class will start at 12:22.

Dismissal will be at 3:30, one half hour earlier than has been the custom. This was done in order to arrange a bus schedule for pupils who will be transported under the new school merger.

Freshman home rooms, numbers 25, 26, 27 and 28, will meet in Washington Street Methodist Church until the new building is completed on the lot north of Moore's Bakery. All other home rooms will be in the new building. Various classes as scheduled will also meet in the church until time to move to the new building.

Carmichaels Schools Open Next Monday

Carmichaels Area District schools will open on Monday, August 27.

J. William Kerr, supervising principal, states that school buses will operate on the same schedule as last year.

Two changes have been brought about by the merger of Carmichaels and Cumberland Township School districts. Eighth graders from the Central and Borough schools will be at the Borough building; the first seven grades from Central and the Borough will be in the Central Building. Mr. Kerr also announced that the two special education classes will be on the first floor of the Borough Building.

New students in the district, including first graders, who have not registered may do so by contacting the principal of the various schools, he said.

U. S. Debt Soars to 3 Hundred Billion

WASHINGTON—The total national debt, has reached $300 billion for the first time in history, the Treasury said Tuesday.

Announcing figures calculated as of last Wednesday, the department said the total public debt was $300,133,027,610.51. This represented an increase of nearly $1.6 billion over last Tuesday's total.

At the present level, the debt amounts to about $1,600 for every man, woman and child in the country. But this per capita figure is well below the World War II peak of nearly $2,000 per person because the population has been increasing faster than the debt.

Postal Clerks to Wear Uniforms By Christmas, Says Postmaster

PORTLAND, Oregon—Post Office window clerks throughout the nation will start wearing government-supplied uniforms, according to an announcement made by Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

The clerks who are in daily contact with the public now wear their own clothes on the job, but have wanted uniforms for many years.

The 30,000 clerks are employed in 15,000 post offices around the country. They will all be in blue uniforms by Christmas, similar in color to uniforms now worn by postal truck drivers. The new uniforms were dis-

Council Discusses Problems of Trash, Garbage Disposal

Waynesburg Borough Council has appointed Elmer Everett, Harry Thomas and Ray Inghram, as a committee, to meet with State Department of Health officials for the purpose of solving the borough's refuse disposal problem.

The State Health Department some time ago notified council that the borough dump would have to be closed and a land fill established to dispose of garbage.

The council committee and Luther Renner, department environmental sanitarian, will discuss installation of a refuse collection program, the elimination of trash burners which often cause bad fires, and opening of a sanitary land fill.

There are 2,100 families in the borough and about 40 per cent have garbage and trash hauled away by a private contractor. The others do their own hauling to the dump. Also many persons burn trash in back yards. This is not permitted in the fire zone, but it poses a hazard, annoys the neighborhood with smoke, and brings rats.

It is believed that a disposal program could be set up costing each family about $2 per month, and would include collection and operation of a land fill.

Council accepted the resignation of the borough secretary, William Harper, who has served for a year. Mr. Harper has accepted the position of principal of Richland Township Senior High School, Johnstown, and has moved there.

The borough clerk, Mrs. Patricia Loy, will act until the position can be filled by a resident of the borough. Applications are now being accepted for the part time position.

Flooding on Woodland avenue, which for some time has created a problem at the Pinell Cleaning plant, was discussed at length.

Since water runoff from Greene street is believed to cause most of the problem, council decided to install a drain to divert some of this water from Greene street into Jackson Run.

If this does not work, council will consider the installation of a storm sewer on Woodland avenue.

The Greene County Branch of the Pennsylvania Economy League was asked to make a study of a pension plan for borough employees.

Council approved the request of Chief of Police Charles L. Hunnell restricting parking on the south side of Lincoln street and the alley adjoining Waynesburg High School and Cumberland street, between 8 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., to provide space for school buses to load and unload.

The remaining $1,600 in State aid will be used to put sealer coating on blacktop streets which are beginning to wear.

Congressmen Get Ten-Day Vacation

SAFE DRIVING TIPS KEEP PENNSYLVANIA "THE SAFE DRIVER STATE"

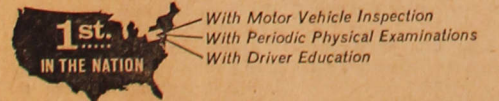

By Staying Awake at the Wheel

No one ever fell asleep at the wheel deliberately. It happens to drivers who thought they could stay awake, even though they were tired. Don't risk dozing off as you drive—you may never awaken from such a nap!

Rest stops are important for safe driving. Take one at least every three hours. Drink coffee or tea, but avoid dangerous "pep" pills. When fatigue begins, drive off the road, away from traffic, and take a nap.

If every motorist had observed these common-sense suggestions last year, 2,298 accidents, and 67 fatal accidents might have been prevented!

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA "THE SAFE DRIVER STATE"

David L. Lawrence Governor, Charles M. Dougherty Secretary of Revenue, O. D. Shipley Commissioner of Traffic Safety competition makes a difference When records are broken, it's usually because the winner was pushed to his best performance by strong competition. This also is true in industry. Companies do their best when others are trying to pass them. Your natural gas company—although government regulated—is in competition with other fuels and with electricity. Each energy source is seeking to expand its sales to homes, commercial establishments, and industry. In this tight competitive situation, the gas industry is steadily increasing its share of the energy market in the United States. Each year more and more customers are attracted to gas by its convenience and economy. Competition is one of the reasons your gas company—a part of a genuine growth industry—must keep rates as low as possible and maintain high standards of customer service.

Dusk-to-Dawn Lights Satisfy Owners

Have you seen a lot of new lights springing up around the countryside—ones that look like city street lights? No doubt, you've been seeing the new Dusk-to-Dawners! Nearly 10,000 West Penn Power customers have had these mercury-vapor lights installed around their homes, farms, stores, motels, gas stations, restaurants, and even church and school parking areas.

Why do people want the Dusk-to-Dawn lights? Here's what some owners have said: "It lights our dark lane, making it easier to find on dark nights." Another customer says, "The whole family gets more use out of our patio now with the outdoor light—we picnic, play badminton, and entertain our friends outdoors in summer." Still another comment: "Our Dusk-to-Dawner is just like a 'friendship' light when we come home after dark because it lights up the driveway, garage, and walk to the house. It's the best investment we ever made!"

You, too, can have this popular Dusk-to-Dawner as your own private street lamp for only pennies a night. Just imagine how it would bathe your house and lawn with light. It would banish dark shadows and make you feel a lot safer when coming home late. It would beautify your home and landscaping after dark, too.

The Dusk-to-Dawner automatically comes on at dusk and stays on all night. It's actually an all-night guardian, standing guard over your property. Call West Penn Power and get your outdoor light soon.

Social Security Tips

By PAUL A. BENNETT

Can you afford to lose up to $254 a month? Not knowing your rights under the Social Security Act can cost you that much in social security benefit payments. This is money that you will need for the necessities of life if you, the family breadwinner, suddenly find yourself to be too disabled to work. Furthermore, it is money towards which you have contributed by paying social security taxes on your earnings while you worked. Your employer also contributed an equal amount in social security taxes.

July 1962, marked the fifth anniversary of the payment of cash disability insurance benefits under the provisions of the Social Security Act. Now, five years later, 700,000 disabled workers were receiving benefits totalling about $62 million monthly. Another $14 million monthly went to 500,000 dependents of these workers.

Recent surveys have shown that many disabled workers delayed filing claims more than 18 months after they became disabled because they were unaware that cash disability insurance benefits were payable under social security. For every month over 18 that the worker delays applying for disability insurance benefits, he loses a month's benefits.

If you are disabled now or become seriously disabled in the future, the Washington, Pa., social security office will assist you in the completion of an application and will help you secure the medical evidence and other information to support your claim. We will also advise you of your rights under the law and inform you of any possible benefits to which you and your dependents may be entitled.

To avoid the loss of benefits, you are urged to get in touch with your social security office at once. Do not risk losing disability insurance benefits by failing to file for them. They are not paid automatically; you must apply for them.

The Social Security Office is located at 307 Washington Trust Building, Washington, Pa., telephone BA 2-7780.

Volunteer Firemen Serve Large City

York, Pennsylvania (population 60,000) is the largest city in the nation without a professional fire department. In the town common, given by William Penn's grandson in 1704, stands a statue in color of a blue frock coated fireman, lantern in one hand, child in the other arm. It commemorates York's firemen heroes who have given their lives since 1900.

The Greene County Council of Republican Women met Saturday afternoon on the lawn of Mrs. Albert A. Sayers of North Morris street.

Mrs. Dan McCoy, president, was in charge of the meeting.

E. Bryan Jacobs, chairman of the county committee, discussed losses and gains of political parties in the county for a period of several years.

Mr. Sayers, who is the candidate for General Assembly from Greene County, spoke on behalf of the state ticket, stating that William W. Scranton, candidate for governor, and James Van Zandt, candidate for United States Senate, are both men well qualified for the offices.

Nearly a hundred women were in attendance.

Singin' Shelves

This swing-out shelf is typical of the conveniences made possible with steel kitchen cabinets which feature such added advantages as roll-out shelves, special units for sewing machines and desks, sliding tables, mixer units and bins for sugar and flour. Steel's durable, can't-warp cabinets feature easily cleaned finishes in a whole rainbow of decorator colors, with wood fronts, and many-hued plastic and vinyl coatings.

Summersgill Family Reunion on Sunday

The Summersgill reunion was held Sunday, August 12, in Thompson Park, East Liverpool, Ohio.

Thirty-seven attended and enjoyed a picnic dinner at noon. The afternoon was spent in swimming, hiking and visiting.

Oldest member attending was Carl Baxter of Cleveland. The youngest was Gary Murray of Chester, W. Va. Those traveling the longest distance were the Clifford Schneider family from Oskosh, Wisconsin.

Since the last reunion in 1959, there has been one death—Laura Summersgill. There have been three marriages: Jack Pettit to Bonnie Chappel; Mary Meanor to Robert Murray, and Patricia Paxton of Chester, W. Va., to Arthur Hunt of Washington.

The following births occurred: Marianne Crittenden, Lois Crittenden and Terri Brion, of Mansfield, Pa.; Geri Linn Pettit and Robin Plants of Washington, and Gary Murray of Chester, W. Va.

Officers re-elected were: president, Alvin Dickey; vice president, Fred Wiggins; secretary, Mabel Baxter, and treasurer, Margaret H. Pettit.

Mrs. Fred P. High of Waynesburg, who at the age of 90 is the oldest member of the clan, was unable to attend. However, she sent a letter to the group which was read during the business meeting.

Those attending prepared a souvenir booklet for Mrs. High in which every person attending wrote her a message.

New School Gets Bell Cast in 1773

PLYMOUTH, Mass. — A bell cast in 1773 may be used to summon children to the $2.5 million Plymouth-Carver Regional High School — which is still in the planning stage.

The bell, 15 inches high and 23 inches across the base, was cast for a pre-Revolutionary War school, later used in a fire house.

The Pilgrim Society has presented it to the regional school committee, which has not yet decided whether to use it. The school is scheduled to open in September 1963.

Miss Marilyn Elaine Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Brock of Lakeland, Florida, and John Philip Fredley, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Fredley of Lakeland, formerly of Waynesburg, were united in marriage Friday afternoon, August 17, 1962, in the First Methodist Church.

Dr. Clare Cotton and Rev. R. E. Rutland, Jr., performed the ceremony before the altar which was decorated with white gladioli and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk organza gown over taffeta, trimmed with alencon lace and seed pearls. Her skirt ended in a chapel train and her veil fell from a lace crown. Her bouquet was white orchids, carnations, and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, sister of the bride, was Miss Judy Brock. Bridesmaids were Miss Thera Brackney and Miss Carol Ann Gizzard, and Miss Priscilla Lyon, all of Lakeland.

The attendants wore aqua chiffon gowns with matching head bands. Their flowers were yellow carnations.

T. R. Fredley, Jr., of Birmingham, Mich., was his brother's best man. The ushers were Timothy Austin, David Christjansen, Bill Chambers and Nick English, all of Lakeland.

The bride's mother wore a beige silk organza dress and the groom's mother wore an aqua floral embroidered voile dress.

Miss Patsy O'Neal, organist, played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. John M. Harris, violinist, sister of the groom.

A reception was held in the church social rooms. The bride attended Southern Methodist University, where she was a member of Delta Zeta sorority, and Florida State University. Both the bride and the groom are students in the University of South Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredley will reside in Lutz, Florida.

Socials

Mrs. Thesie Smith Ray, Smith Acres, Sycamore, will be guest of honor at open house in her home Sunday afternoon, August 26, in celebration of her 80th birthday anniversary. Friends of Mrs. Ray are invited.

Lady Greene Garden Club will meet Friday evening at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Irene Gopen. Mrs. Matilda Cosgray is co-hostess. Members unable to attend are requested to contact one of the hostesses. Mrs. Thelma Rice will lead the devotions, and Mrs. Elizabeth Miller will be the speaker. Mrs. Mayme Morris will conduct a flower quiz.

MRS. JAMES M. DENT
WAYNESBURG REPUBLICAN
S. WASHINGTON STREET
WAYNESBURG, PA.

DEAR FRIEND:

Your generosity in donating the "Give Your Bucks" ad as a public service in the August 16th edition of your paper is much appreciated. You shared the sponsorship of the ad equally with Mr. Boyd, Chairman of the Democrat County Committee, which was as it should be. Citizens can not vote if they are not registered so the first responsibility of party leaders is to urge the people, all the people, to register.

Beyond this point, with proper enlightenment on public issues, we can only hope and rely on the intelligence of American citizens to exercise their voting privilege with an open mind and a conscientious desire to return to and preserve, a Government of, for and by the people. This is my prayer and I am certain it is the same with millions of Americans regardless of party affiliation.

Thank you for your thoughtfulness and consideration.

Sincerely,

E. BRYAN JACOBS, Chairman
Republican County Committee

WAYNESBURG REPUBLICAN

Where is Waynesburg's Civic Pride?

Today, I walked around "Old Waynesburg," the part I love and remember, and I saw many instances of not-caring.

Small bits of paper littered alleyways and grassy spots near curbs and fences. Paper cups, old straws, candy wrappers, and paper bags were too much in evidence along the route I followed.

I passed through the Commons in front of the college and was shocked to see old wooden boxes and tin cans cluttering the once-proud little pond. True, it has been a dry season, and the water is too low to make the pond the beauty spot it usually is.

But it is also a good time to "get to the bottom of things" and to know who has been carelessly tossing "junk" into the pond at one time or another.

As I came down Washington street, I was truly amazed to find scrawled on one of the brand new tombstones at the monument shop the words, "I Love You."

On a freshly laid cement sidewalk someone had scribbled "Cliff" and "Marlene" in big scrawling letters, defacing for all time what should have been a project of which to be proud.

What can be done about these two annoyances — litterbugging and defacing property? Children should be taught at an early age proper respect for the rights and property of others, both public and private.

All citizens should unite to do away with litterbugging. On some public highways there are signs posted which say: "$100 fine for littering."

This means that an item even as small as a gum wrapper must not be dropped. Waynesburg people should adopt the same idea.

Attractive metal containers should be placed at convenient spots along the main streets, on parking lots and near the park entrances. And these should be made use of by all who wish to dispose of even the slightest bit of paper.

If every person resolves never to drop anything on the sidewalks, the grass, the streets or the parking lots of this town, and never wantonly deface any property, the whole place will take on a new appearance and the words, "We are Proud of Our Town," will shine forth as though they had been written on banners unfurled.

Polio Epidemic Reported in Cuba

MIAMI, Florida — A refugee Cuban physician reported Thursday that an outbreak of poliomyelitis of near-epidemic proportions is raging in Cuba despite the widespread administration of Russian-made oral polio vaccine.

Dr. Augustin Castellanos, a prominent Cuban pediatrician now living here, said information reaching him indicates that at least 150 Cuban children have been stricken. All of them had taken the Soviet-made vaccine, he said.
