Drastic Spending Cut Ordered by Scranton

Roads Overspent By $42 Million Blamed for Deficit

HARRISBURG—Money problems piled up for Governor William W. Scranton Saturday when it was learned that the State Highway Department had overspent some 42 million dollars on two programs during the previous administration.

The overspending occurred on the State-paid construction program and on maintenance of the roads.

The rate of spending was so much in excess of the authorized and planned schedule that the pinch developed.

John W. Ingram, new secretary of administration, and Henry D. Harral, the incoming secretary of highways, both are digging into the complicated figures involved to get the true picture.

It is estimated that even if the Highways Department sharply curtails, or almost halts, spending for these two programs during the remainder of the fiscal period which ends June 30, it would be able to make up only about 30 million dollars of the sum.

This would mean that, even with austere belt-tightening, there would still be a gap of 12 million dollars which would have to be filled by July 1.

This money could be obtained by selling tax anticipation notes or by borrowing temporarily from some other fund in the Highway Department or another State agency.

The general fund pays for normal operating expenses of State government. The Highways Department's road-building and maintenance program are paid for out of the motor fund, whose chief source of revenue is the seven-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax.

$1,000 Damage in Blaze in House

A fire started by an attempt to keep pipes from freezing caused an estimated $1,000 damage to a two-family dwelling in North Waynesburg, owned by E. W. Ross of Waynesburg, Saturday afternoon. The first floor was occupied by Mrs. Alta Lantz and the second floor by Mrs. Louise Pierce and her two daughters.

Fire started under a corner of the house where a water pipe entered. The pipe had been wrapped with straw and an electric light bulb on an extension cord was placed under it to give heat. Apparently a short circuit developed in the cord.

There was smoke and water damage to the house, but firemen were able to keep the blaze confined to the corner of the seven-room frame house although it did get between the walls.

The company remained at the fire for two hours.

Two Race Horses Lost in Barn Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a barn and two thoroughbred race horses belonging to Tony Mancuso of Waynesburg.

The barn was located at Dark Hollow on Route 21, west of Waynesburg.

U. S. Farm Surplus May Be Used Abroad

WASHINGTON—The United States may donate some of its farm surpluses to help finance youth conservation camps organized in underdeveloped countries.

Programs of this kind are under consideration in Algeria and Colombia.

Unwed Mothers' Aid Is Attacked

HARRISBURG—Senator Albert R. Pechan, Ford City Republican, Wednesday renewed his campaign against unwed mothers on relief rolls.

Governor William W. Scranton put the state on a drastic austerity program Friday in an effort to overcome a projected $32 million deficit by June 30, the end of the 1962-63 fiscal year.

The Governor exploded the financial bombshell at his first news conference and disclosed that he had ordered cutbacks in every agency of the government.

He described his program as one of "stringent economy" and said that even with it, he would have to ask the General Assembly for deficiency appropriations.

But Mr. Scranton ruled out a tax increase "in the near future, certainly not for this fiscal year."

He said he hoped the economies would reduce the deficit to $26 million by the close of the fiscal period, and added that he hoped operating requests for the 1963-64 budget would be cut by as much as 20 per cent. The last budget exceeded a billion dollars.

Mr. Scranton said he had ordered every department head to submit revised budgetary requests by February 1, and directed that the cuts be "drastic, except for those items which are mandated by law."

"This reduction must, of course, include a sizable cut in personnel, since this is where most of the losses lie," the Governor's order said.

To reduce the deficit as much as possible in the remaining six months of the current fiscal year, Mr. Scranton called for:

A review of all positions "with the aim of eliminating every unnecessary job, or determining whether the position can be filled by an employee in a lower salary classification."

A freeze on all vacancies existing on January 15, the day Scranton took office, with no new hiring except by special permission of the Governor's office. Mr. Scranton said such permission would be given only to vacancies which are "absolutely essential" for the continuation of vital functions.

All new appointments to be made at the lowest pay classification for the job, except by special permission.

The elimination of all "but the most essential of expenditures" for travel, office equipment, professional fees, automobiles, repairs, capital improvements or special and unusual expenses.

"By the practice of these and other economies, I am hopeful that we can reduce the more than $32 million deficit before June 30

W. C. Bracey Buys McKee Stores

William C. Bracey, well known Waynesburg business man, who has been a partner in the McKee Home and Auto Supply Store and McKee Tire and Service Station, has purchased Russell McKee's interests, and will operate both businesses under the same names.

Mr. Bracey, who had been employed by the B. F. Goodrich Company in Maryland and West Virginia, entered into partnership with Mr. McKee in 1951.

Recently Mr. McKee was elected a vice president of the Rice's Landing National Bank and is manager of the bank's newly opened Mt. Morris branch.

The same fine service will be maintained and employees of both businesses will be retained.

Mr. Bracey's son, Terry A. Bracey, who has been in the auto supply store, will now become manager there.

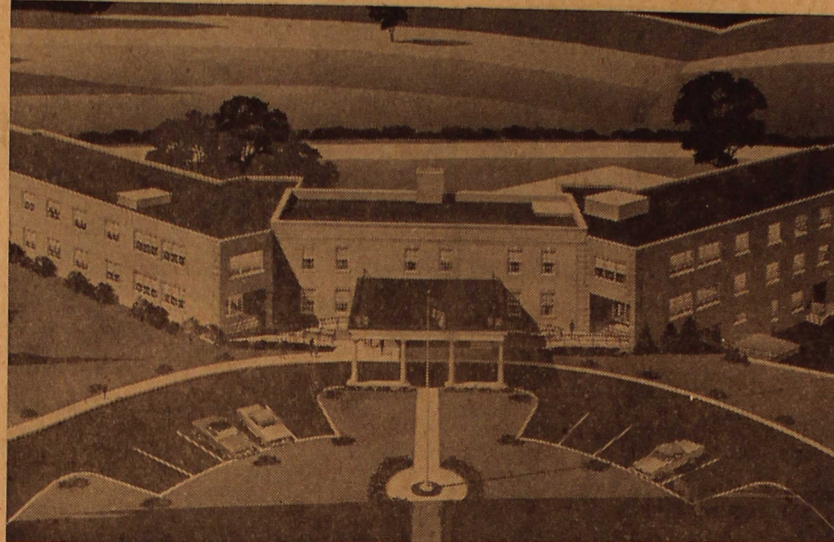

U. S. Funds Go To Fight Blaze

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Department of the Interior has been allotted $84,000 for use in controlling a fire in an abandoned coal mine which is threatening the residential area of Coal Run, Pa.

The funds to battle the fire will be provided under the Accelerated Public Works program.

A matching amount will be provided by Pennsylvania, according to the Interior department.

Gallatin Bank Declares Large Stock Dividend

At the sixty-seventh annual meeting Monday, stockholders of Gallatin National Bank authorized a stock dividend of $30,980. The new shares, which will be issued on the basis of three shares for each one hundred owned, will increase the number of shares outstanding by 3,098 for a total of 106,375.

Re-elected to the board of directors were J. Allan Brookes, James M. Driscoll, G. Eberly, Robert Eberly, I. N. Hagan, James H. Hankins, Paul Malone, Joseph W. Ray, Jr., J. Watson Sembower, Daniel B. Swaney, Thomas M. Whyel and J. Lewis Williams.

In addition, two new directors were elected: Attorney Herman M. Buck of the law firm of Ray, Buck and John; and Edward J. Monaghan, president of Monaghan Chevrolet, Incorporated, both of Uniontown. Both men are prominent in civic affairs in the area.

All the present officers of the bank were re-elected by the board of directors.

Reviewing the bank's progress during the year, Mr. Malone, president, stated: "1962 was one of remarkable growth for Gallatin National Bank. Total resources have now reached $85,829,676.49, an increase of eleven million dollars since December 31, 1961, when they were $74,575,102.84.

"With the addition of offices in Meyersdale and Salisbury in Somerset County, and Waynesburg in Greene County, the bank has a total of 16 offices in four counties: Fayette, Greene, Westmoreland and Somerset.

"Plans are being drawn for the construction of a modern banking room, complete with a drive-up and parking facility, in Waynesburg. The new drive-up facility next to the downtown Uniontown office will be ready early this year."

Robena Mine Now $59,172

UNIONTOWN, Pa.—Contributions to the Robena No. 3 Disaster Trust Fund swelled to $59,172 Tuesday with two sizable gifts.

Masontown Volunteer Fire Department donated $1,000 and the Uniontown Area Council of Churches and the Asbury Methodist Church contributed a total of $500.

The fund was established to provide for the future health, education and welfare of the families of 37 men who lost their lives in an explosion Dec. 6.

Red Ship Loads Milk in Mexico

VERACRUZ, Mexico—A small Soviet vessel, described by one of its officers as a fishing boat, took aboard 35,000 cans of condensed milk at this Gulf Coast port last week. The officer said the milk was for the crew.

Mexican sources who doubted the crew could consume that much milk, said it apparently was destined for Cuba.

Completed plans and specifications for enlarging and remodeling Curry Memorial Home, were presented to the Greene County Commissioners Tuesday.

Estimated cost is $1,350,000, one third of which will be from a federal grant. The county has set aside $325,000 from the sale of the Children's Home for this project.

The commissioners, A. R. Varner, Herman Gugliotta and John B. Carter, stated bids for construction will be advertised in a few weeks.

The north wing of Greene County Memorial Hospital is in process of being made into a 28-bed nursing home for bed patients who must depend upon the county for care.

When this is completed, patients from the Curry Home will be transferred to the hospital and this will allow construction to begin on enlarging the home.

On completion of the Curry Home, inmates in Greene Hills Farm will be transferred to the new home and the Greene Hills Farm building which is more than a 100 years old and has been condemned, will be abandoned.

When county institutions meet state standards and adequate care is provided, the county will be eligible for nursing care grants and other state money under programs with requirements which cannot be met.

Sutton Printing Co. Sixty Years Young In January, 1963

By THE EDITOR

A print shop, a second floor walkup, was started in 1903, by "Mr. Charlie" Sutton.

Mr. Sutton was a good friend of my father's; and after his death in 1919, consoled, advised and aided in any way he could, my mother, who had to shoulder the responsibilities of editor and publisher of the Republican.

And my advent into assisting my mother after graduation from Barnard College, was made much easier and more comprehensive through the advice of "Mr. Charlie" Sutton.

Today the Sutton Printing Company, under the leadership of his son, James T. Sutton, has become one of the largest and best-equipped printing plants in Western Pennsylvania.

"Jim" is a chip off the old block. While the Republican does some job printing, there has never been any competition between us. If we need something we don't have, we just call "Jim."

If "Jim" needs a "lift" on composition, he calls on us. This, we believe, is reciprocity, in its truest sense.

While we won't live to see it, we hope the Republican will celebrate its two hundredth year of continuous publication, along with the Sutton Printing Company's one hundred and twentieth.

Congratulations to a great company and a wonderful friend. (See Sutton Printing Company advertisement on Page Two).

John Wilkes Booth Was Oil Prospector

John Wilkes Booth (President Lincoln's assassin) went to Franklin, Pennsylvania in 1864. He purchased 60 acres of land and set up an oil company. In April, 1865, he left Franklin. Nothing was heard from him until the assassination of Abraham Lincoln was announced. Booth's wardrobe, books and papers remained in his room in a Franklin boarding house. Letters, pictures and newspaper clippings about Booth are on display at the Venango County Museum, Franklin.

Borough Tax Remains Same; To Hire Manager

J. F. K.'s Budget Would Cost State Six Billions

HARRISBURG—The $98.8 billion Federal budget which President Kennedy submitted to Congress for fiscal 1963-64 would cost Pennsylvanians $6,471,400,000, the State Chamber of Commerce estimated Tuesday.

The estimate was based on a statistically weighted formula which shows that residents of this State pay 6.55 per cent of the cost of operating the Federal Government.

Interest payments on the national debt alone will cost $10.103 billion next year, The Chamber said. Pennsylvania's share of this cost will be $661.7 million—more than enough to pay for the biggest item in the state's general fund budget for 1962-63.

The estimated total tax bite for the state amounts to more than 90 per cent of the $6,926,970,000 received by manufacturing employees in wages and salaries during 1961.

The statewide total of property assessments for county tax purposes was $15,290,071,565, or less than 2½ times the one-year Federal tax liability of Pennsylvanians.

Dog Owners Warned License Date Is Past

County Treasurer Leroy Titus on Monday warned dog owners that January 15, was the deadline for renewing licenses.

Licenses to date are only about one-fourth of the number last year, and apparently there are many dogs in the county without new licenses.

The licenses are available at the treasurer's office. The cost is $1.10 for male dogs and $2.10 for females.

Miners Go Back In Robena Mine

Miners returned to work at Robena mine Monday for the first time since it was rocked by an explosion on December 6, that killed 37 men.

Members of United Mine Workers Local 6321 agreed to return to work Saturday by a vote taken at a meeting at nearby Masontown. Some 600 attended the meeting.

U. S. Steel Corporation, owner of the mine, ordered miners to return to work on two previous occasions, but the orders were ignored. Miners said they wanted assurance that safety procedures had been changed to prevent explosions.

U. S. Steel said work has been scheduled for five days in all of the vast Robena complex with the exception of the area in the Frosty Run shaft of Robena No. 3 where the explosion occurred.

The mine, the largest soft coal operation in the world, employs about 1,000.

A public hearing probing the cause of the blast closed January 15. A final report is pending.

Named Head of Securities Group

John W. Hoy, Jr., of Mt. Lebanon, who is associated with Parish and Company of Pittsburgh, members of the New York Stock Exchange, has been elected president of the Pittsburgh Securities Traders Association.

Mr. Hoy graduated from Waynesburg High School in 1938, and from West Virginia University in 1942. He served in Europe during World War II, and following service became associated with Parrish and Company.

Mr. Hoy is the son of Mrs. John W. Hoy of Brave, and the late Mr. Hoy. He married Miss Mary Lee Ullom, daughter of Mrs. Jesse F. Ullom of Waynesburg, and the late Mr. Ullom. They have one daughter, Nancy, 11 years.

The tentative 1963 budget for Waynesburg borough maintains the 17 mill real estate tax levy which has been in effect. The $5 per capita tax, 10 per cent amusement tax, mercantile tax and trailer tax will also be maintained.

Elmer B. Everett, chairman of the finance committee, anticipates expenditures of $157,995.

Cash balance on hand the first of this year was $20,465 which will take care of the deficit, and leave $11,500 unappropriated.

The budget includes an increase in salaries for regular employees, $5,000 for the fire company beyond the amount received from the one mill fire tax, and more material for street improvement.

A breakdown of general fund expenditures calls for $24,330 for general government; $46,440 for protection to persons and property; $18,325 for health and sanitation; $48,600 for streets; $2,200 for recreation; $12,500 for miscellaneous expenditures, and $5,550 for capital expenditures.

In the sinking fund, $12,000 will go for payment on the bonded indebtedness incurred when the sewage treatment plant was expanded.

Council unanimously overrode the veto of Mayor Roy Shultz to hire a borough manager, and instructed Attorney Robert Keener to prepare advertisements for applicants for such a position.

The mayor explained it was his belief that the borough is not large enough to employ a manager. He also stated he believed this is the opinion of a majority of residents.

Council voted to purchase a hand operated tractor with a plow to clean snow from park walks. The cost will be $106.

They also voted an annual contribution of $400 to the Waynesburg playground to offset the loss of this amount which in previous years had been received from the Waynesburg school board. Since the borough school board is now part of the Central Greene merged district, it can no longer appropriate money for this purpose.

The street committee was requested to investigate a request that Alley B be closed to traffic. The alley runs from Porter street to Woodland avenue, just south of the borough line in the east end. The request was made by a property owner who contends the alley is not in general use between Porter street and Jackson run.

M. A. Milinovich, treasurer, reported that in the past year the general fund cash balance was increased from $16,283 to $20,465. Total revenues in all funds, he reported, amounted to $192,220, while expenditures came to $189,952.

And J. F. K. Claims Recession Is Past

Continued claims for unemployment compensation benefits filed in Pennsylvania increased, while initial claims declined during the week ended January 11, William P. Young, Secretary of Labor and Industry, reported today.

Secretary Young pointed out that the current weekly continued claims volume was the highest since April 1961. He noted that the 270,819 continued claims filed represent an increase of 23,809 over one week ago and an increase of 25,703 over the number filed in the same week one year ago.

The construction, apparel, textile, stone-clay-glass, tobacco (cigars), food, trade and service industries were chiefly responsible for the current increase and together with primary and fabricated metals for the bulk of the continued weeks claimed volume.

Initial claims decreased to 55,293 or 1,529 less than the number filed in the previous week. The decrease was concentrated in apparel, textiles, stone-clay-glass, construction and food. The magnitude of the decline was lessened by sharp increases from bituminous mining, trade and service.

During the week 252,396 Unemployment Claims checks amounting to $7,860,790 were issued to regular Unemployment Claims claimants.

Drastic Spending Cut Ordered

by at least $6 million," Scranton said. "This will leave a deficit of some $26 million."

"This will have to be erased—the deficit of $26 million—in the next fiscal year."

To this end, he said, he is calling for the belt-tightening by department heads.

Mr. Scranton said the deficit projection was based on revised forecasts of revenues which will find collections falling $18 million below original estimates for the remainder of the 1962-63 fiscal period.

In addition, he said, mandated expenditures—those ordained by law—will be $24 million higher than expected. But a "lapse" of $10 million in unspent appropriations will reduce the deficit to $32 million. He added.

Before he left office, former Governor David L. Lawrence had announced that the budget would be balanced for the calendar year 1962. Previously a $16.6 surplus had been announced. It was used for expenses and education and to help pay for the veterans' bonus.

Mr. Scranton said he anticipated revenues to fall shortest was expected to be the corporate net income tax payable in April. He estimated that it would be $9.7 million short of the $147.3 million anticipated.

Most of the loss in anticipated corporate net income taxes will be due to new regulations passed by Congress last summer—retroactive to January 1, 1962—which allows corporations an improved situation on depreciation write-offs.

In addition, the Governor said the Industrial Development Fund, Public Assistance and Public Instruction departments also would record deficiencies by the end of the fiscal year.

Scranton said that despite the hoped-for 20 percent slash in appropriations, he did not know whether the cost of State government would go down by 200 million for the next fiscal year.

The Governor was asked whether he planned to "junk" any programs.

"We don't talk about junking programs but . . . about the analysis of expenditures and functions. Certainly programs are included in functions," he said.

It was pointed out that if the State's payroll were cut by 20 percent, the saving would come to $40 million. Scranton was asked whether he felt such a slash would be too drastic.

"I don't think anything is too drastic, if it will continue to carry on the operations effectively that we must have carried on in order to do the service job that has already been indicated by programs for the State govern-

Congress Dunned On Civil War Bill

SAN FRANCISCO—California has dusted off an old bill and served it to the federal government—a $7,500,000 bill dating from the Civil War.

It has to do with paying for troops and equipment to keep open the Overland Trail and preventing the Confederates from pushing into Arizona and New Mexico.

At President Lincoln's urging, says Attorney General Stanley G. Mosk, Californians coughed up more than $4,500,000. Now California wants it back with interest.

For 90 years neither the House nor the Senate has agreed at the same time on repayment. Mr. Mosk has urged congressional committees to get together.

He says the money will come in right handy to meet another kind of invasion—a population rush from North and South alike—that has sent California's bills soaring.

ment and people in it," the Governor replied.

He said he felt that tightening of tax collections—particularly in the sales and use tax—would help the situation but once again expressed doubt that the State could pick up $50 million a year by closing loopholes and improving collections.

There are two ways to look through a telescope

But only one way to see the future of Natural Gas

Look into the wrong end of a telescope and things seem tiny and remote.

Look through the other end and the image is large . . . the horizons more distinct.

At the end of World War II, your natural gas company and the gas industry took a hard look at the future. Fortunately, it chose the right view. This is what it saw: An enormous desire for the comfort and convenience of natural gas. Huge capital expenditures for pipelines, regulator stations and other equipment. A wide-spread drilling and exploration program. A need for tremendous underground storage fields. Intense competition from other energy sources.

Today . . . your gas company has met successfully the challenge of a 600 per cent increase in heating demands in this area. Long range planning has made it possible to supply your home, and the homes of the future, with all the gas that is needed—regardless of the temperature.

Thanks to the exploration program, proved natural gas reserves are greater than ever before—assuring plentiful supplies for many generations to come.

As your gas company views the future, it sees the need for a continuing expansion of facilities—making it possible to serve the demands for natural gas in homes and industry—at a cost lower than any other energy source.

West Penn Offers Scholarships

West Penn Power Company has announced it will again this year award two memorial scholarships worth $3,200 each to children of employees, to children of employees who lost their lives in company service, or to junior employees.

The scholarship program was established in 1946, as a tribute to the utility's fifteen employees who gave their lives in military service during World War II.

Providing $800 educational assistance per year for four years at any accredited college or university, the 1963 scholarships will be awarded on the basis of scholastic record and competitive examination.

The examinations, which require no special preparation, will be held on March 23, at the University of Pittsburgh, under the guidance of Dr. Paul H. Masoner, dean of the School of Education.

Since establishing its scholarship program, West Penn has assisted 21 young men and 17 young women in achieving higher education, with financial grants totaling $65,900 to date. During this 16-year period, a total of 683 applicants have competed for scholarship awards, an average of almost 43 each year.

Details may be obtained from any West Penn office.

CHURCHES KEEP PACE

NEW YORK — The gain in church membership in the United States last year was about equal to the increase in the population — 1.9 per cent, increasing the total of members to 114,449,000.

Trade School Opportunities Now Open To 70 Young Men on Scholarships

The Williamson Trade School, Media, Pa., will offer opportunities to approximately 70 young men to participate in its September 1963, scholarship program.

Applications for these scholarships should be received at the school by March 7.

The deed of trust, under which the school was established in 1888, provides full three-year scholarships which include board, lodging and instruction in trade and technical courses.

The Williamson School is one of the older and better trade schools in the country. It offers training in machine shop, carpentry, painting and decorating, bricklaying and power plant operation with an opportunity for students to prepare for positions in areas where there is a shortage of skilled craftsmen. In addition, opportunities for technology level, are available to more advanced training, on the successful candidates, who have earned grades of "C" or better in high school mathematics and science courses.

The number of applicants is considerably in excess to the number which can be admitted, so the school makes its selection on the basis of the strongest qualification in scholarship, character, personality, interest and performance in co-curricular activities of the prospective students. A high school diploma is desirable and places the applicant in a more favorable competitive position. Young men between the ages of 16 and 19 years may apply.

Williamson School is situated on a 240-acre campus and offers a wide variety of co-curricular activities including sports, band and clubs in which the students are encouraged to participate. Almost 3500 students have graduated in its 74-year history and many of them have attained positions of leadership in the nation's industry. The school also maintains a graduate placement service with leading industries.

A prospective student is asked to submit a transcript of his school record upon application. If this is satisfactory, he is notified to appear in early spring for the entrance examinations consisting of standard mental and mechanical comprehension aptitude tests. Personal interviews are given in May to applicants who meet the school's standards.

Additional information may be obtained from John G. Boyd, educational director, who will send an application and illustrated booklet outlining Williamson's scholarship program and the activities of the school upon request.

The school's address is: Williamson School, Middletown Road, Media, Pa.

Birth Defects from Thalidomide Spur Mothers in March of Dimes

Grave concern about the widespread problem of birth defects, recently spotlighted by tragic infant deformities caused by the drug, thalidomide, will inspire some two million Marching Mothers to seek their neighbors' support for the 1963 March of Dimes during the last week in January.

For volunteers in the Mothers' March, this concern is not a recent development. The National Foundation-March of Dimes, which observes its 25th anniversary this year, began to attack the long-neglected field of birth defects back in 1938.

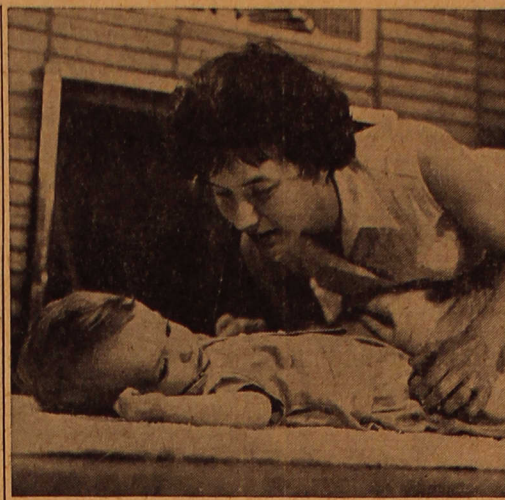

Then, as now, medical authorities recognized that birth defects, in hundreds of disabling forms, overshadow all other child health problems. Every year, more than 21,000 deaths throughout the United States are caused by defective prenatal development. Every year, more than a quarter of a million babies survive despite significant defects.

To bring expert help to such children all over America, The National Foundation-March of Dimes—which helped conquer paralytic polio by totally supporting the development of the Salk and Sabin vaccines—now has a treatment program well under way.

Also in 1958, the March of Dimes organization initiated a program in the field of arthritis—equally neglected and shrugged off by the public as an inevitable hazard of aging, despite the fact that its severest form strikes children and young adults with alarming frequency.

This year, Marching Mothers will proudly report to their neighbors that a nationwide network of March of Dimes-financed study and treatment centers for birth defects and arthritis is operating at full capacity. Nearly 50 such centers are now open in communities across the country—double the number that were in existence just a year ago, and only the beginning of the network envisioned.

In addition, seven respiratory centers are maintained for

WHY IT IS WORTH IT—Marching Mothers believe every child's birthright entitles him to a full, useful life. They will brave the elements late in January to seek public support for the March of Dimes which finances treatment centers and research for victims of birth defects and crippling arthritis.

polio victims for whom the vaccines came too late. Aid for thousands of polio patients is still a prime responsibility of the March of Dimes.

The birth defects and arthritis centers supported by March of Dimes contributions emphasize early and correct diagnosis, which is the key to effective treatment and rehabilitation. Such detection and care requires the skills of many different specialists, all working together with patient and family.

Until the development of the March of Dimes program, such top-quality attention was generally available only in large medical centers. The families of children afflicted with these crippling have often had to settle for less than the best because facilities were lacking or inaccessible.

The tiny victims of disease and deformity who are born today must rely on current medical knowledge to detect abnormal conditions in time for proper treatment—or on "repair work" to correct disability. Wonders can be, and often are, accomplished.

But the ideal solution—that of preventing disability or warding it off at the very beginning of life itself—is the goal of research scientists whose work is supported by March of Dimes grants. They are adding constantly to the treasury of medical knowledge of how best to treat and, ultimately, to prevent crippling conditions that take such a grim toll of our children's health.

As they pin on their badges bearing the symbolic "Golden Key of Hope," Mothers' March volunteers are convinced that a concerted effort of the public in partnership with science—as persistent as the program that triumphed over polio—can speed the day when the problems of birth defects and arthritis will be solved.

Science Students To Visit Labs for Heart Research

In observance of Heart Research Day the Southwestern Pennsylvania Heart Association has arranged two tours for high school science students to visit the heart research laboratories at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh and the West Virginia Research Center at Morgantown.

The students from the Washington County high schools will visit Children's Hospital and those in Greene County the West Virginia University Medical Center.

Last year a similar tour was sponsored by the Heart Association to the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center for students in both counties. In order to accommodate more students this year, the Association has arranged to charter two buses. The tour for the Greene County students is scheduled for Tuesday, February 5, and the bus will leave the bus terminal in Waynesburg at 8:30 a. m. The tour for the Washington County high school students is scheduled for Thursday, February 7 and will leave the side entrance of the George Washington Hotel at 8:30 a. m. Students are requested to meet not later than 8:15 at the appointed place.

An interesting program has been arranged for the students by both the medical institutions and will be of interest to the students privileged to make the tour. The students appointed to attend have been selected by school officials based on their interest in science.

The students in the Washington County schools will have an opportunity to visit the experimental laboratories at Children's in which heart research is being conducted and it is quite probable that they may view a heart operation performed on an experimental animal during this period. The afternoon will be devoted to films and lectures by the medical staff on the advances in heart surgery.

The students making the tour to the West Virginia University Medical Center will visit the various research laboratories and such clinical facilities as the cardiac laboratory, the angiographic x-ray unit and perhaps the cardiac operating room. The afternoon will include one or two discussion sections led by members of the faculty.

In its February fund appeal, the Southwestern Pennsylvania Heart Association is campaigning for funds to support its program of public and professional education, community service and medical research in the prevention and cure of heart disease—the nation's No. 1 killer.

Enters Contest For Mademoiselle

Patricia Marino will represent Waynesburg College this year on Mademoiselle's national college board.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Marino of Washington and is majoring in English. Her college activities include cheerleading and membership in the French Club.

The annual College Board Competition is designed for women students with talent in art, writing, fashion, merchandising, promotion, or advertising. Each board member was selected on the basis of an entry that showed her interest and ability in one of these fields.

Miss Marino will report news from her college to Mademoiselle and she is eligible to compete for one of the twenty guest editorships that will be awarded by the magazine in May.

The twenty college board members who win guest editorships will be brought to New York City for the month of June to help edit, write, and illustrate Mademoiselle's August issue. They will share offices with the magazine's editors, advise the staff on campus trends, interview well-known artists and writers, and represent the magazine on visits to publishing houses, stores, and advertising agencies.

They will also be photographed for the college issue, and will be considered for future staff positions with Mademoiselle and other Conde Nast publications.

Phi Sigma Kappa Buys Large House

Phi Sigma Kappa, the oldest social fraternity in Waynesburg College, has purchased a 15-room frame house at 440 North Richhill street, from Mrs. Dell Headley Parson.

Psi Tetartion Chapter is now moving into the property.

The fraternity was founded in 1906, as Phi Sigma with Senator Edward Martin as one of the original founders. Other prominent alumni of the fraternity are the late Senator Albert M. Cummins of Iowa; the late Colonel Thomas S. Crago, congressman at large from Pennsylvania; and Federal Judge John C. Knox of New York.

Phi Sigma became the 73rd chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa in 1961, when initiation ceremonies were held for 34 undergraduates and four alumni members.

Phi Sigma Kappa was founded in 1873, and at present has 74 chapters with more than 30,000 members. The national headquarters are at Drexel Hill.

Dr. Ullman is a former member of the teaching staff under the Huteson administration of Juilliard School of Music in New York and formerly a faculty member of the Biarritz American University in France.

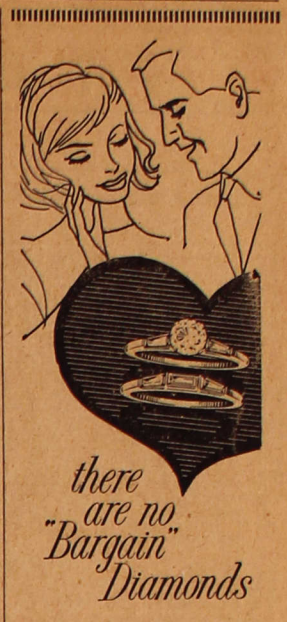

He was twice-wounded and eleven-times decorated for his five years of service in the United States Army.

Champion Westminster Hosts Luckless Waynesburg Cagers Monday

High Scorers In West Penn Cagers League

Sharp-shooting Sandy Williams of St. Francis College, listed fifth among the nation's major college basketball scoring leaders, continues to be the scoring leader in the West Penn Basketball Conference.

The Red Flash ace scored 30 points against Westminster and 17 against Grove City in his last two league appearances to run his season's total to 175 markers in six games.

That gives the sensational point-maker a 63-point lead over runnerup Pete Croud of Geneva who has hit 112 points in five games.

Williams also has the best average with a sensational 29.16 points-per-game mark. Williams' high games were 37-point efforts against St. Vincent and Geneva.

The St. Francis star is shooting at near the 50 per cent mark with 62 baskets in 125 attempts.

One guess, who the West Penn leader is in rebounds. Williams is on top with 83 grabs.

Rounding out the top five scorers (total) behind Williams and Croud are Geneva's Jim Irons (92), St. Vincent's Jim Wirth (79), and Grove City's Dave Marovich and Curt Carson (75 each).

Trailing Williams in points-per-game are Croud (22.40), Duquesne's Ron Willard (20.00), Irons (18.40), and Westminster's Dave Schreengost (16.00).

Behind Williams in rebounds are Irons (68), Jerry Friedrich of St. Francis (59), Marovich (51), and Westminster's Bob Oravetz and Loub Skurenski (41 each).

Irons, the fine all-round performer from Geneva, is listed 15th in the national NAIA statistics in rebounding with a 15.3 game average.

Westminster is listed four times in the NAIA statistics. The Titans are 10th in team defense (56.2), 16th in team field goal shooting (.497), 5th in team free throw shooting (.759), and 17th in winning margin (12.8).

The New Wilmington club is listed three times in the NCAA small-college listings. Westminster is 7th in free throw percentage (.759), 17th in field goal shooting (.497), and team defense (56.2).

Trinity Wrestlers Down Jefferson

Washington's Trinity High wrestlers defeated Jefferson-Morgan Friday night on the Rockets' mats.

The match gave Trinity a 4-0 record for the season and Jefferson evened their mark at two and two. The next match for the Rockets will be at McGuffey.

Geneva and St. Francis share the lead in the West Penn Basketball Conference with four wins each.

Defending champion Westminster is resting in third place with three wins, but the Titans will probably force a three-way deadlock for the lead when they host cellar-occupant Waynesburg on Monday.

All three teams have tasted defeat in league play. Geneva is 4-1, St. Francis 4-2, and Westminster 3-1.

All the setbacks have come on foreign courts.

Geneva lost at Westminster (87-39), Westminster lost at St. Francis (84-76), and St. Francis lost at Geneva (89-77). The Franks' second loss came at the hands of Duquesne, 67-59, in Pittsburgh.

Return games are on tap in each of the four cases so a deadlock for league honors is a real possibility.

Each of the three clubs play ten league games, however, St. Francis is the only team which plays Duquesne which went to the National Invitation Tournament last winter.

Duquesne plays only two conference games and has no chance for the crown.

Home teams have won 12 of the league's 15 contests thus far this winter.

St. Francis is the league's scoring leader with 82.7 points-per-game. Westminster (.803) and Geneva (76.4) rank second and third.

Westminster has the best defensive mark giving up only 57.5 points-per-game. Then comes Geneva (69) and St. Francis (74.7).

Jacket Scorers In Close Race

Two-tenths of a point separates the leading three scorers on the Waynesburg College basketball team.

Sophomore Chuck Kelley of Brownsville, had the best average with 11.7 points-per-game. Then comes junior Ernie Chadderton of Pitcairn, at 11.6, and sophomore Bill Stohl of Mt. Pleasant, at 11.5.

Chadderton (93) and Stohl (92) are the total point leaders as Kelley missed one game because of an injury.

Kelley is setting the pace in rebounding with a total of 49 grabs. Tied for second with 46 each are Stohl and junior Todd Augustine of Addison.

Kelley (there's that name again) is leading the pack in field goal shooting with a fine .45 mark. Following Kelley are Chadderton (.36) and Baer (.35).

Chadderton is tops in free throw shooting with a mark of .79. Then comes Kelley (.69) and Stohl (.67).

Overall the Yellow Jackets of coach Pete Mazzaferro, 26 for the season, are shooting 44.8 from the field and 65.6 from the charity stripe.

Next game for the Yellow Jackets is at West Liberty State on Friday.

Fitness Mapped For 'Flabby 40s'

WASHINGTON—Now that the only thing left of the holiday fruit cake and eggnog is their legacy of flabby poundage, the patriotic thing to do is to exercise yourself back into good physical condition.

This is the attitude of the President's Council on Youth Fitness, which is bringing out a new booklet shortly containing a New Frontier home exercise program—for Old Frontiersmen, veterans of the continuous Battle of the Bulge.

Up to now the council, headed by Oklahoma football coach C. B. (Bud) Wilkinson, has centered attention on improving the fitness of youngsters in school, both public and private, by encouraging institution of physical fitness programs.

The council is considering putting out a college fitness handbook and is testing students on four campuses. But the adult handbook, an illustrated guide to getting into shape through exercises and recreation, is definitely in the offing.

Your Health

Pennsylvania Medical Society

To be, or not to be: that is the question, according to Shakespeare.

TB or not TB is the question put forth by the medical profession.

Tuberculosis was on its way to eradication in this country, following a vigorous attack waged over many years.

Then complacency set in and much of the advantage over this dread disease has been lost.

The marked reduction in death and case rates have been mistakenly interpreted as indicating the end of tuberculosis was near, and it would soon die out without further effort.

There was over-enthusiasm regarding the use of antituberculosis drugs and resectional surgery giving the impression they were a cure-all.

Also there has been recent complacency because tuberculosis sanatoriums are no longer being used to capacity.

The actual facts about tuberculosis today are that the tubercle bacille have taken refuge in approximately 50,000,000 people in this country, 50,000 are reported with new active tuberculosis each year, and more than 10,000 die annually of the disease.

Tuberculosis still causes more incapacity and death than all other communicable diseases combined.

At the beginning of the 20th century, tuberculosis in this country took about 200 lives annually for each 100,000 of population.

In 1959, the tuberculosis death rate had been reduced to 6½ per 100,000.

But so long as 50,000,000 of our citizens harbor tubercle germs, many will develop active and contagious tuberculosis infecting others and the vicious cycle will go on.

Discovery of active tuberculosis cases with isolation and treatment of such cases must continue, if the disease is to be eradicated.

Fishing License Price Hike Asked

HARRISBURG — The State Fish Commission proposed Monday that the price of fishing licenses be raised by $2 in an attempt to obtain between $1 and $1.2 million in additional operating revenue.

The proposal was included in a $2.9 million legislative program the commission developed at its annual meeting here.

To supplement the increased license revenue, the commission voted to request a $1.1 million general fund appropriation from the legislature.

Albert M. Day, executive director of the commission, said the additional revenue was needed to relieve the commission of its "desperate" financial condition.

Under the proposal, both resident and tourist fishing licenses would be raised from $3.25 to $5.25. Non-resident licenses would go from $7.50 to $9.50.

SAFE DRIVING TIPS

KEEP PENNSYLVANIA "THE SAFE DRIVER STATE"

Beware of the "Silent Killer"

Not all fatalities occur in traffic accidents. During the winter months, especially, many motorists are killed needlessly by carbon monoxide gas, the "silent killer." Odorless, tasteless and colorless, carbon monoxide is deadly to the unwary!

Protect yourself and your family from the dangers of carbon monoxide by heeding these safety tips:

- Never run your car's engine in a closed garage.
- Always keep at least one window open an inch or two while driving.
- Have your muffler and exhaust system checked periodically against leaks and clogs.
- When starting a car that has been standing outside, clear snow from the exhaust pipe.

Draft Dodging Excuses of 1871 Found in File

HARRISBURG—Nice try, but it didn't work!

An old letter found this week reveals that a young Philadelphian pleaded for excuse from military duty in 1781, on grounds that he was too busy picking violets and catching butterflies for the King of France.

Not exactly in those words, but—

State Historian William A. Hunter said the petition turned up in files of the Supreme Executive Council of Pennsylvania currently being searched by the historian for new information on the state's early military history.

The plea is from one William Young, Jr., who claimed to be "employed by his Excellency. His Most Christian Majesty's Minister, the Chevalier de la Luzerne, and am daily in his Service for making extensive collections in Botany and natural History, of which even some are intended for his Majesty Louis XVI and his family."

Young pointed out that his service was "not Lucrative But generous on purpose for to propagate science" and that in comparison to a hitch in the militia to which he was subject, his scientific efforts "will Equal Make Me of Credit and Service to America."

Young also thought it prudent to add that "I pay All my Taxes with pleasure and seldom A Collector has occasion to Call a Second time."

It is unknown whether Young ever did enter the local militia, or pay a fine in lieu of service, but the Supreme Executive Council disposed of the matter with a note on the petition. "Ordered to lie on the table." A polite turn-down.

Mr. Hunter said Young's plea to be excused was novel, but by no means without company. The law provided fines for those who refused militia duty (a way to accommodate the many Friends and others whose religions forbade military service) and this prompted numerous petitions from young men who wanted neither to serve nor pay the fine. Other excuses included pleas that the petitioner was needed at home "to fight the Indians," or that his "wife was pregnant," or that he was "too sick and unfit for duty."

Truman Anxious To Leave Hospital

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Former President Harry S. Truman now has reached the stage where he "is anxious to go home." Research Hospital said Tuesday in reporting he continues to make excellent progress.

However, his doctor hopes to keep him in the hospital until the end of the week, the spokesman said. The 78-year-old former President underwent surgery Friday for a hernia.

CAIRO—The United Arab Republic will receive $7,500,000 from the U. S. under an agreement between the two countries. The grant is part of the proceeds of the American agricultural surplus and will be used for building silos in the Nile Delta and Upper Egypt.

ITALY'S PARADISE IN THE ALPS

Sestriere, nestled in the Val d'Aosta Alps of Italy, is one of the favorite ski resorts in Europe. Established in 1931 by Fiat tycoon Senator Gianni Agnelli, its trademarks are the two round buildings at either end of the village. Each is a hotel: the La Torre, inexpensive and informal gathering place of the younger set; and the luxurious Duchi d'Aosta, famous for its gourmet cuisine and elegant nightclub.

The snow comes to Sestriere from late November through late March, but the most popular months are January and February. There are over 60 excellent ski runs to choose from — enough to satisfy skiers of all qualifications, from "snow bunnies" to experts, and all are served by lifts or cableways.

In addition to ski slopes, Sestriere offers an excellent ice stadium, where national and international hockey matches as well as curling exhibitions take place, and an outdoor heated swimming pool. It's not unusual to see skiers in shorts and guests soaking up the sun on the many terraces overlooking the valley.

The sun may end the skier's day around five in the afternoon, but the night life is active and the party-spirited fill the many bars, restaurants, night-clubs and coffee houses by seven.

Bill to Separate Politicians From Racing

HARRISBURG—Legislation to drive politicians out of the harness racing business has been drafted by Representative Maurice H. Goldstein, Pittsburgh Republican.

It was introduced Monday. One object will be to forfeit to the state any race track stock held secretly in trust for political figures or public office holders.

Mr. Goldstein's bill appears to have a good chance of getting to the floor of the House or an open vote.

Except for the forfeiture feature, Mr. Goldstein said, the proposal is advocated by the Republican platform and Gov. William W. Scranton has committed himself to such legislation.

The bill also would ban minors from the tracks, where parimutuel betting will be legal.

The proposed legislation would give any public officer, public employe or party officer who has a financial stake in any track license one year in which to dispose of his holdings.

The secretary of the Harness Racing Commission would be required to keep open for public inspection a docket listing the names of all stockholders in all corporations licensed, the number of shares held by each and the dates he acquired the stock. Each licensee would be required to furnish this information to the commission.

If the law was violated, the commission would seize the stock, sell it at auction and turn the proceeds over to the state's general fund.

The first track license was issued to the Liberty Bell Track near Philadelphia. This was founded and controlled by the late James P. Clark, Philadelphia Democratic finance chairman.

The other three licenses were awarded to the Bucks County Racing Association, which will lease the Liberty Bell plant for meets; the Anthracite Racing Association, in Luzerne County, and the Washington County Trotting Association.

281 Million Paid Jobless In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG — State Treasurer Grace M. Sloan reported Monday that checks totaling more than 281 million dollars were issued in Pennsylvania last year for unemployment compensation, manpower retraining and redevelopment.

She gave this breakdown: For regular unemployment compensation, 8,286,783 checks totaling $254,092,220.65.

For ex-servicemen's unemployment compensation, 311,090 checks totaling $9,357,452.

For veterans' unemployment compensation, three checks totaling $66.

Take Tax Refund In Savings Bonds, Chairman Urges

If you're in line for a refund on your 1963 Federal income tax return, Robert E. Lind, County Savings Bonds Chairman, has a word for you. Two words, in fact: Buy bonds.

This year for the first time, Mr. Lind points out, Uncle Sam is making it possible for you to take your refund in Series E Savings Bonds by the simple expedient of putting an "X" in the appropriate box on the tax form.

Last year some 40 million taxpayers received cash refunds on their taxes. Judging from samplings of opinion, a lot of them would have preferred to get their money in Savings Bonds if they'd had the chance.

The way the bond option works is simple. The Treasury will issue the smallest possible number of E Bonds of the largest possible denominations to cover the amount of the refund. If there's anything left over, a check will be written for the balance. The one complication comes if the cash balance is from one to 99 cents, since the check-issuing apparatus can't handle anything less than a dollar. Details are given in the instructions.

What about joint returns? Mr. Lind gives the answer to that one too. "John and Mary Smith" on the tax return becomes "John or Mary Smith" on the bond registration, making them co-owners.

Thousands Flood G. O. P. With Pleas For Jobs Now

HARRISBURG — Republican leaders throughout Pennsylvania are being flooded with thousands of applications for state jobs under the administration of Governor William W. Scranton.

There are 81,000 jobs on the state payroll, but only 56,000 come under the so-called patronage or spoils system, under which appointments are made on the basis of political recommendations from county leaders.

Of those under the merit or Civil Service System, 18,000 are protected by statutory law, 10,000 by executive order.

So great is the demand for jobs that one county Republican organization—Allegheny—has already received 9,500 applications, according to Paul W. Hugas, county chairman.

"The economic situation in Western Pennsylvania has resulted in a great demand for state jobs," Hugas said.

Other Republican chiefs from smaller counties indicated the demand upon them was above normal and were fearful they might not be able to meet all requests.

One factor which may stand as an obstacle to a complete turnover of the state payroll is the fact many of the jobholders are former Republicans who registered as Democrats during the last eight years for the sake of expediency.

Many of this group, as well as a sizable number of Democrats who foresaw a Republican victory, aligned themselves with the Scranton candidacy with the hope of retaining their jobs.

FAMOUS AMERICAN TAVERNS

The Murphys Hotel in Murphys, California

"The Gentlemanly Stagecoach Thief" Stopped Here

There were two Murphy brothers—Dan and John—who came to the Mother Lode country in California in 1848. By late 1849 they left the area forever, exceedingly rich men. John Murphy was said to have had in his possession more gold than any other man on the Pacific Coast, taking out on the backs of six mules between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

Though they left, the Murphys gave their name to the town, considered one of the richest of all the Mother Lode diggings. Wells Fargo alone hauled out $15,000,000 by stagecoach in the first 10 years. And, eventually, their name was attached to a hotel (originally the Sperry) built in 1855 of adobe and limestone. Both town and hotel have a fabulous history.

In the early days of the hotel, the doors were never locked and tradesmen, whose descendants still serve the caravansary in the same jobs as their ancestors, used to deposit their wares in the basement in the middle of the night. On his way out each man would stop at the bar, draw a beer and leave his glass with the correct change in front of it.

As a stopping place the hotel attracted the famous and the infamous. In 1880 one of the guests registered as "Carlos E. Bolton, Silver Mountain." Not until three years later was he unmasked as "Black Bart," the gentlemanly stagecoach thief. But President Grant, J. P. Morgan, Mark Twain, John Jacob Astor and Henry Ward Beecher are also found on the register.

Physically, Murphys Hotel has changed little. A bullet hole scar in the front facade bears mute testimony of a gambler's death. Inside, at the far corner of the long bar, stands the same poker table at which Black Bart lost a fortune to a San Francisco card sharp, only to recover it by stealth. Mementoes of all kinds may be found in this town of 750—once 5,000. With its graceful cork elms and locust trees lining both sides of the street, its unaltered appearance and quiet charm, Murphys is perhaps the place where the Forty-Niners would today feel most at home.

For Federal employees' unemployment compensation, 105,318 checks totaling $3,059,697.

For payments authorized under the Area Redevelopment Act, 11,708 checks totaling $362,037.

For temporary extended unemployment compensation, 463,250 checks totaling $13,169,626.

For ex-servicemen's temporary extended unemployment compensation, 18,086 checks totaling $514,043.

For Federal employee's temporary extended unemployment compensation, 9,569 checks totaling $209,169.

38th Governor, 103rd Head of State

HARRISBURG — William W. Scranton is the 38th man to hold the governorship of Pennsylvania since 1790.

He is the 103rd to head the state government.

In the early days, the chief executives were not called "governor" but were "proprietors" and "chairmen of the executive committee."
