Mr. Minehart is a Democrat elected Auditor General two years ago and still has two more years to serve.

Mr. Boyd, former Greene County sheriff, was discharged as a liquid fuels tax examiner in western Pennsylvania, when the Republican administration took over January 15. He had been named to the job by Governor David L. Lawrence, after he was defeated in his bid for a third term as sheriff.

LONG PENCIL LINE

Robena Local 6321, U. M. W. A. which went on strike Tuesday against the Robena Mine of the Frick Coal Division of the U. S. Steel Corporation, because of the "firing" of a fan attendant, at the Frosty Run shaft, remained out at four o'clock Wednesday.

John Ozonish, president of the local, said the fan attendant was ordered to the Blaker shaft leaving the Frosty Run shaft without an attendant.

Thirty-seven miners were killed December 6, in the Frosty Run shaft after an explosion.

At hearings to determine the cause of the disaster it was brought out that failure of the ventilating fan might have been a possible cause. Union leaders claimed that insufficient personnel were employed at the shaft to attend to the fan.

For some time after the disaster men had refused to go into the pit although the company had posted for work.

The mine has been working only a little more than a week after agreeing to go back if certain safety standards were maintained.

Following the union return to work vote, James Kelly, recording secretary of the local, said the company had given miners assurances that all mining equipment and ventilation apparatus would be maintained in safe condition and that blast-preventing rock dust operations would be increased.

Mr. Kelly said that the men would continue to work only so long as all State mining laws were strictly observed and provisions of the Union contract were observed.

J. K. Willison Named Chief County Assessor

J. Kenneth Willison, well known Waynesburg real estate broker, has been appointed chief county assessor to succeed Edward Donley of Mt. Morris, who resigned due to ill health.

The salary was set at $340 per month which is a cut from $450 which Mr. Donley had received. A mileage allowance is also stipulated.

The county commissioners made the salary cut due to the fact that Mr. Willison will have sufficient free time to carry on his real estate business in association with Glenn A. Arnold.

The county assessor fixes the market value of real estate for tax purposes.

Mr. Willison is a licensed real estate broker under the Real Estate Broker's License Act of the State Real Estate Commission.

He is approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways as an independent real estate fee appraiser. His most recent assignment is to collaborate in the appraisal of damages to all properties included in Section Five of the proposed North-South highway.

Mr. Willison has also done appraisal work for the Pennsylvania Department of Property and Supplies, many of the utility companies, and various individuals.

He has been affiliated with the Arnold Real Estate Agency since 1958, and has been an associate broker for the past year.

J. F. K. Take Notice!

The East Berlin Story

East Germany, which the Kremlin thought would be its prize satellite, is turning out to be a booby prize.

Production in East Germany has fallen short of its goals, and plans are now being revised downward.

The current seven-year plan originally called for a nine-to-ten per cent increase in production. But Karl Mewis, head of the East German State Planning Commission, said there would "probably" be a total production increase of only six per cent for 1962. Although the Soviet Union agreed to a new trade-and-aid pact worth $825 million to East Germany, this aid is evidently not enough to bridge the gap.

The East Germans were scheduled to start debt repayment to the Soviet Union last year. Instead of repaying the debt, East Germany is having to ask for more credit because it is facing an acute food crisis.

Part of the reason for East Germany's increasingly painful predicament lies in the fact that Red China canceled orders it had placed in East Germany to expand its power plants, explaining that it needed all its foreign exchange to purchase food.

East German shipments to Albania were stopped abruptly when Moscow broke off aid to that rebellious communist country.

Although the addition of Cuba to the communist domain should provide an outlet of exchange for East German plant equipment, the East Germans already have a surplus of beet sugar, and about all they can consume from Cuba is Cuban rum. And how much rum can one little country drink?

The burdens of production ordered by the Soviets have strained East Germany's economy badly. Leader Walter Ulbricht's collectivization of farms caused still another strain, as farmers fled the country in large numbers.

Mewis himself admitted that one of the economic difficulties came from "political weakness and insufficient persuasion of the workers." Writing in the party's theoretical monthly, "Unity," he also admitted that the flow of people westward prior to the building of the Berlin wall was partly responsible, and that the economy was still having trouble with the population dammed inside the country.

It was said recently that if the Berlin wall suddenly crumbled, East Berlin would be emptied within two hours, and all of East Germany within a week.

East Germany's housewives who line up at stores, are grumbling about shortages of such items as fruits, oil, pepper, rice, flour, salt, milk, matches, soap powder and bed sheets.

Life is becoming more drab, dull and miserable. Resentment and unrest are growing. Among older people, the suicide rate is climbing sharply. The young are increasingly unruly, and there is much drunkenness.

Anastas Mikoyan, Soviet First Deputy, said of East German leader Walter Ulbricht: "More and more people are standing with you. Only a blind man cannot see that." This was said at a reception given for Mikoyan. Although the communists had drummed up thousands of spectators to witness this supposedly gala affair, observers reported the streets were anything but crowded as Mikoyan drove through the city. There was hardly a sound as the official cars drove past. The absence of enthusiasm was so conspicuous, it looked almost like a spontaneous anti-communist demonstration.

It was Aristotle who said, "Poverty is the parent of revolution and crime." As the East Germans become poorer and more oppressed, there is little wonder that Soviet leaders can no longer conceal their worry about the increasing unrest and deteriorating state of affairs in their "booby prize" satellite.

Legislature Gets School Merger Delay Bill

HARRISBURG—Legislation to suspend the State school merger law for one year was introduced in the General Assembly on Monday.

The moratorium bill, sponsored by the Scranton Administration, was submitted to the Senate, received preliminary approval, and moved to position for final adoption there next week.

It then will be advanced through the House. Senators Robert D. Fleming, Aspinwall Republican, said the measure will give all parties an opportunity to re-examine the merger law.

At the end of one year, the law could either be amended or repealed for substitution of an entirely new merger act.

Senator Fleming said this approach is based on the premise that "school consolidation is desirable if it can be properly achieved."

Bills to repeal the 1961 merger law this year have been introduced in the Senate and House. But the assumption is that these will be shelved in favor of the one-year moratorium proposal.

Most Republicans and Democrats appear to be convinced that wholesale amendments are necessary.

Five children of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Gallatin died in a fire which destroyed their home at Davistown, about 4:15 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Gallatin and her son, Gary Ray, 17 years, a junior in Mapletown High School, escaped but were badly burned. Mrs. Gallatin is in critical condition in the University Medical Center, Morgantown, W. Va., and the son is in fair condition in Greene County Memorial Hospital.

Dead are, Linda Diane, 15 years, a freshman in Mapletown High School; Carson, five years; Jeffrey, four; Jedy, two, and Letha, one month old.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined. It apparently started in the back of the house where there was a coal stove.

Mr. Gallatin was at work in the Jones and Laughlin Shannopin Mine.

Gary Ray told officials that he and Linda had just been home from school a few minutes and that he had gone upstairs to change his clothes. When he came down the first floor was engulfed in smoke and flames. He had not been aware of anything unusual when he came home.

Gary Ray and Linda ran back up stairs to try to save the other children and Linda was trapped.

Neighbors were finally able to get Mrs. Gallatin to jump out a back first floor window.

Firemen from Mt. Morris and Bobtown fought the fire for more than an hour.

The fire companies were called by neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Donley, who live about 50 yards across the highway. Mrs. Donley saw the blaze as she passed a window.

Paint in the Donley house was blistered and window glass was cracked from the heat.

Firemen, Frank Behm, coroner, Sheriff Mark G. Shultz and State Police found the bodies of the children in the ruins.

Investigation into the cause of the fire was begun Wednesday by Fire Marshal Peter Scolari of Washington.

U. S. Sending Free Food Now to 100 Countries

WASHINGTON — Surplus American food is now going to more than 100 countries with populations totaling 1.3 billion, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said a few days ago.

Freeman joined Food for Peace Director Richard Reuter in stressing the vastness of U. S. contributions after President Kennedy launched a Freedom from Hunger campaign. The drive will culminate in a special Observation Week in March and a world Food Congress here in June.

Reuter told a news conference one purpose of the campaign is to demonstrate "no country in history has ever done so much to free the world from hunger."

He said his purpose in pointing this thing out was "not to brag, but to encourage other nations with surplus economies to share in this global mission."

Freeman said it is now "feasible, possible and almost inevitable to banish hunger."

In proclaiming the March 17-29 observance, Kennedy said there is need for a rededication of men's minds and hearts "to the inspiring possibilities of working together to free the world from hunger."

Freeman forecast some increases in food for peace shipments, which he said, have totaled $11.2 billion in six years.

Reuter said food distribution planning this year will be keyed to determine how best food can be used to speed up the social and economic development of recipient countries.

Reuter and Freeman said the largest area of food program expansion now is in Latin America, where they said the volume has just about doubled under the alliance for progress.

Presidents Hail March of Dimes Throughout Its 25-Year History

Four presidents of our nation have given recognition to the National Foundation-March of Dimes and its fight against crippling disease by greeting children who symbolized all the patients helped by funds contributed by millions of Americans. January, 1963 marks the 25th anniversary of the Dimes Drive. In 1941, Franklin D. His sister, Mafalda Torquato, a labor inspection supervisor for the Department of Labor and Industry's Bureau of Women and Children, at $6,090 annually.

His son, John R. Torquato, Jr., a field supervisor for public assistance eligibility audits, Office of the Auditor General, at $6,090 a year.

His first wife, Martha Lewis, a statistician for the Bureau of Employment Security, at $6,716 a year.

It was learned that Scranton's personnel staff is screening these employment records, as well as others in the Capitol. The Auditor General and Turnpike Commission are controlled by Democrats and, therefore, their employees cannot be touched by the Administration.

Employees of the Bureau of Employment Security are covered by legislative Civil Service and ostensibly could not be removed from their positions. But, if the General Assembly revamps the Civil Service law, the Governor conceivably could review the performances of all such employees within a year and determine whether they will be retained or replaced.

$12.5 Million Deficit Laid To Bad Guess

HARRISBURG—An anticipated $12.5 million deficit in the public assistance fund can be traced to bad guesses made about 18 months ago, the Public Welfare Department said.

Budget makers missed the mark by more than 10 per cent in the amount of money that would be needed for the relief program in the fiscal year ending next June 30.

They estimated the need would be $107 million, while the actual spending will run close to $120 million, according to the new welfare secretary, Arlin M. Adams.

The shortage is the largest single item in the $34 million budget deficit projected for this year by Governor Scranton.

"We were unduly optimistic," said Edwin J. McMahon, a staff aide who had served under the Democratic administration of Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting, Adams' predecessor.

Budget estimates are made far in advance and are pegged to the vagaries of the overall economic outlook of the state and nation.

In this case, the department underestimated the number of persons who would seek relief by as much as 25 per cent a month. This past December is a prime example. The department estimated 336,100 persons would be on the relief rolls, but the actual count was 451,498. Since last July the actual monthly figures were below estimates by between 60,000 and 115,000 persons.

Why? Well, the department planners took the forecasts of expert economists that there would be a sharp improvement in the nation's growth. But it failed to match the predicted rate.

Welfare planners were not alone in missing the mark. The Scranton administration says tax revenues will fall $18 million behind estimates for many of the same reasons.

Adams said the public assistance situation was made more difficult because his predecessor failed to provide for about $6 million worth of bills incurred this year, but which won't come due until after the fiscal period on June 30.

Gallatin to Match Development Contest Prizes

Gallatin National Bank has announced that if Waynesburg and Jefferson are winners in the 1962 Pennsylvania Development contest, the bank will match the cash prizes received.

This offer also applies to Fayette County communities, to Mt. Pleasant in Westmoreland County and to Meyersdale and Salisbury in Somerset County. The bank has offices in all these communities.

In the 1961 contest, the bank matched six cash awards amounting to $3,600.00. Receiving matching prize money were the Point Marion Chamber of Commerce, $1,500.00; Curfew Grange No. 1092 at Flatwoods, $1,000.00; Indian Creek Valley Lions Club, $400.00; South Connellsville Lions Club, $300.00; Uniontown Golden Age Club, $300.00; and Brownsville Chamber of Commerce, $100.00.

Our Board of Directors has also authorized matching awards for the 1963 community development contest." The Pennsylvania Community Development contest is open to any civic group engaged or interested in local improvements. Only one entry is accepted from a community, but any number of organizations may join forces at the local level to select and carry out the projects that are officially entered. Record books must be submitted before March 1, 1963.

IN HIS

Footsteps...

A little fellow's out for a trip in the snow—and using his head as well as his feet for a tricky bit of walking.

Of course, he has to stretch his legs a bit. But no matter which way those tracks go, that small son will follow them. The reason? That's simple . . .

Those are his dad's footsteps in front of him—and that's the way he'll go.

An old proverb tells this story in four short words: "Like father, like son." That's all.

But it can foretell the story of a lifetime. It is up to you—as your son's father—to decide what kind of a lifetime he will lead, simply because it will be patterned greatly after the one you lead.

My steps have held fast to thy paths, my feet have not slipped.

By going to church, for instance, you will be setting a powerful example that he will follow in later life. Just as your life is made more purposeful by participating in church activities, so will be the life of your son.

The message of the church that finds reflection in your life—that, also, will be reflected in the life of your son.

Think it over. Whether you can see them or not, you are leaving imprints in the years of your life right now.

Is it the trail you wanted to leave?
Is it the trail you want your small son to follow?

Your church can help you decide!

Famous American Taverns

Stonehenge in Ridgefield, Conn.

"We Charge More, We Care More, We Give More"

Stonehenge, in Ridgefield, Connecticut, is one of the most unusual of the famous inns and taverns in the eastern part of the country. Established only since World War II, it has achieved a remarkable atmosphere of antiquity in a comparatively few years. Converting a beautiful 125-year-old house was a good start in that direction, but it was something unseen, something more subtle which has truly made Stonehenge "an inn in the early Connecticut tradition" and a favorite resort of public personalities.

One does not have to look far for this elusive quality, this sense of "timelessness." It is to be found in the character of the innkeeper himself, Victor Gilbert. To make a point at once, he doesn't call himself an innkeeper; he calls himself "skinker," which in archaic English meant a taster of beers and ales. And Skinker Gilbert provides the best of traditional refreshments in the Druid Bar-Parlour of his inn.

The inspiration for a different kind of inn was genuinely acquired. During the war, while stationed near historic Stonehenge on England's famed Salisbury Plain, the idea for a "dream inn" came to Skinker Gilbert. The dream inn would have the best, house the best and be the best. The dream has been substantially realized, at some expense to both the host and guests.

"We charge more, we care more, we give more," Skinker Gilbert says.

Very few inns have so much to give as Stonehenge—rare antique furnishings, a collection of 200 ancient clocks dating back to the 16th century, breakfast in bed until noon, sixty-five acres of lovely field and woodland. And, on the modern comfort side—a heated swimming pool, television and radio in every room, outside window thermometer, color telephone in every bedroom and every bathroom and a superb pianist in the Druid Bar-Parlour, where one cannot refrain from raising one's mug of beer and crying "Wassail!"

What is Stonehenge? An unknown poet said, "It is the roofless past; man's ruinous myth; his uninterred adoring of the unknown..." Skinker Gilbert has put a roof on his Stonehenge where it is possible to adore the unknown in cozy comfort.

G. O. P. Discusses Jobs at Meeting Of Committee

The executive committee of the Greene County Republican Committee will begin screening applications for jobs next week, E. Bryan Jacobs, chairman, stated at a committee meeting Tuesday night in Albert's Restaurant. More than 85 committeemen were present.

To date more than 600 applications have been received.

Mr. Jacobs stated that under the Lawrence administration 430 Greene County residents were on the state payroll—170 of them employed by the State Highway Department and the rest in other departments.

"I know we won't have that many jobs available," Jacobs said. "One of the major factors which contributed to the tremendous vote of Bill Scranton was his pre-election promise to rid the state of, as he called them, political hacks.

"These are the people who, for political favors or influence, have been placed on the payroll and for which the overburdened taxpayers received little or no service in return. These jobs are, thank goodness, to be eliminated."

"Scranton's vote equaled 168 percent of the total Republican registration," Mr. Jacobs pointed out. He stated that figures would seem to indicate the Republican candidate received slightly more votes from registered Democrats than he did from Republicans.

"We have a favorable trend going for us if we can just be alert and interested enough to convert this trend into something concrete," he declared.

Miss Betty Jennings, chief registration clerk for the county, reported that since December 6, there have been 72 new Republican registrations and 56 Democrats. In addition 99 Democrats have switched to Republican while only one Republican has changed to Democrat.

Mr. Jacobs urged that all committeemen work toward encouraging this move toward the Republican ranks and that every effort be made to secure qualified candidates for the May primary.

Charles Broadwater, a committeeman, died November 29, 1962, his son, Edwin Broadwater was appointed in his father's place.

Lawrence Files For State Pension

HARRISBURG — Former Governor David L. Lawrence has applied for a State pension and will be eligible to receive approximately $4,000 a year in retirement benefits, it was learned Wednesday.

Although his application for pension has been filed, the State Employees Retirement Fund as yet has not acted on his request. Lawrence's pension benefit will be based on eight years of service with State, four years as Secretary of the Commonwealth under former Democratic Governor George H. Earle, and four years as Governor.

Air Study Bill Cost $74 Million. WASHINGTON — Senator Abraham Ribicoff, Democrat, Connecticut, introduced legislation to speed up a program to relieve air pollution.

The bill would authorize establishment of a national research and development program, a 10-year $74 million program of grants to state, local and regional agencies grappling with the program and federal enforcement actions through court suits to abate pollution.

Bill Would Allow Governor to Succeed Himself

HARRISBURG—Legislation to provide for another public referendum to decide whether a governor may serve two consecutive terms was introduced in the House Tuesday by four Allegheny County Republicans.

The bill was different from that which was voted down in the general elections of 1961 in that it would permit Governor William W. Scranton to succeed himself. The 1961 proposal to change the constitution would have denied succession to former governor David L. Lawrence.

Today's bill was introduced with the sponsorship of Republican representatives Lee A. Donaldson, Jr., of Etna, George K. Haudenshield of Carnegie, James C. Simmons of Bethel Park, and James A. Esler of Natrona Heights.

Whether the legislation itself is constitutional at this time is questionable. The constitution provides that five years must elapse before a defeated question may be put before the public again.

Some lawyers here argue, however, that the proposal as drawn by the Allegheny Countians may be acceptable because it differs from the question that was rejected in 1961 in allowing the incumbent governor to succeed himself.

Westminster Choir, one of the widely known choral groups, will appear at eight o'clock Friday, at Waynesburg High School under the sponsorship of the Waynesburg College Visiting Artists Series.

The concert will comprise works by Palestrina, Orlando Lasso, Bach, Brahms, early Italian and English composers, and folk songs from various countries.

Interested persons from the community are invited to attend as guests of the Visiting Artists Series committee.

Westminster Choir has earned fame far beyond its native shores, having appeared in most of the key cities of Europe, Asia, the Orient, Canada and Cuba, as well as the United States. Three times Westminster Choir has been commissioned to fulfill the function of good-will ambassadors.

Former President Herbert Hoover and the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt each bestowed this honor. More recently, the choir completed a five-month globe-encircling tour sponsored jointly by American National Theatre and Academy and the Department of State.

Founded in 1921, by Dr. John Finley Williamson, the choir is composed of students in Westminster Choir College, Princeton, New Jersey. The forty singers of this famous group are students in their late teens or early twenties whose rigorous training schedule is not unlike that of an Olympic team.

They are chosen for beauty of voice, musical ability and "outgoing personality," and their individual talents are blended into a singing organization which has delighted audiences in the United States and abroad.

Salzman, a veteran performer with the symphony, came to Pittsburgh via Australia. He had migrated to the land down under after escaping from Europe before the start of World War II. A master teacher and superb performer with chamber music groups, Salzman is an exciting personality onstage or off.

Pritchard will bring to Syria Mosque this week the music of at least two English composers, William Walton and Benjamin Britten. Salzman will play the music of Tchaikovsky, and the "King Lear" Overture of Hector Berlioz will also be heard.

Tickets for the February 1 and 3, appearances of conductor John Pritchard and cellist Theo Salzman with the orchestra, are available at Syria Mosque before each performance.

English Mastro With Symphony

John Pritchard, England's greatest conductor since the late Sir Thomas Beecham, makes his American debut with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra in Syria Mosque Friday evening, February 1 and Sunday afternoon, February 3. Theo Salzman, principal cellist of the symphony, will appear as special guest soloist.

Pritchard was invited to Pittsburgh by William Steinberg, music director of the orchestra, who describes the English maestro as "... the best in England today." The personable young conductor has been music director of the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Society since 1957, and is also regularly associated with the London Philharmonic Orchestra, the Edinburgh Festival, and famed Glyndebourne.

Each year, Pritchard also performs with such outstanding continental groups as the Vienna State Opera and orchestras in Rome, Berlin, and The Netherlands.

Salzman, a veteran performer with the symphony, came to Pittsburgh via Australia. He had migrated to the land down under after escaping from Europe before the start of World War II. A master teacher and superb performer with chamber music groups, Salzman is an exciting personality onstage or off.

Warning Given By Injured Fish

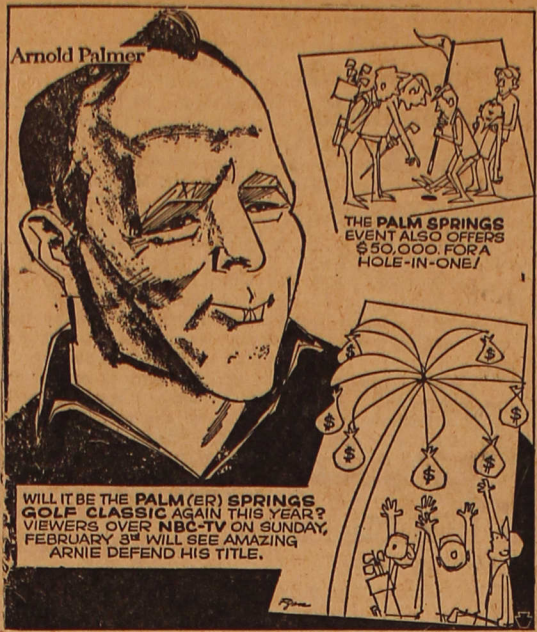

MENLO PARK, Calif.—An injured fish broadcasts a special alarm to warn others to stay away from it, according to a study by Stanford Research Institute.

Injured fish are special prey for predators, scientists say, and warn other fish to keep away lest they also become prey.

The alarm substance apparently is in the skin of salt water fish and is based on the highly sensitive sense of smell of fish.

Disorders of equilibrium occur in connection with many medical and neurologic diseases.

Dizziness, giddiness and vertigo are terms used to describe the sensation of disordered equilibrium.

Dizziness is a sensation of rotation, uncertainty, insecurity, unsteadiness, faintness, light-headedness and a swimming feeling in the head.

Giddiness is much the same as dizziness, but with more implication of altered consciousness, blurred vision, and sensation of swaying.

Vertigo seems a sensation of turning either of one's body or of the surroundings.

When the sensation is as if the external world is revolving around the individual it is known as objective vertigo.

If the individual himself feels he is revolving in space, the expression subjective vertigo is used.

Vertigo may result from disease of the inner ear, or from heart, stomach or eye disorders.

The symptoms of vertigo usually come on suddenly and last but a short time, although they have been known to linger for weeks or months.

If vertigo is severe, equilibrium is almost invariably affected and the individual reports his symptoms are most troublesome when he attempts to sit, stand, and walk.

Often his awareness of vertigo increases when standing up or making a motion that requires him to be careful, as when descending a stairway.

Disease of the brain is sometimes responsible for vertigo, and the condition may also result from neurological causes.

Medical men refer to vertigo as a conflict of stimuli within the vestibular system resulting in spatial disorientation.

Controversy On Firearms Some Thoughts On Private Ownership

Two points concerning private ownership of firearms need to be established right now.

One, no responsible person — in or out of the firearms industry, sportsman or not — wants firearms to be freely used by criminals or other maladjusted members of our society.

Two, by the same token, no responsible person should desire or attempt to limit the free use of sporting firearms by other responsible members of that same society.

Considering these two statements, certain factors in gun ownership should be recognized.

Outlawing the sale of firearms will not prevent their use by criminals. Most firearms used in crime are stolen — a great many from military and police arsenals — or smuggled into the country.

There is only one way to restrict the use of firearms by criminals: make the penalty for the use of guns or any deadly weapon in the commission of a crime so severe that criminals will be afraid to use them.

Low Accident Ratio

According to an editorial appearing in the Saturday Evening Post on Feb. 13, 1960, the fatality rate for all forms of accidents was 56 per 100,000 persons in 1957. Motor vehicles caused 22.7 of these deaths, falls accounted for 12.1, fires and explosions for 3.7 and drowning for 3.1. The rate for fatal firearms accidents was only 1.4, scarcely above the 1.2 rate from suffocating or choking on food!

All deaths by accident — regardless of cause — are tragic. Many could be prevented.

Party Days at Waterford Park Proving Popular

Party Days at the races are proving highly popular with racing fans of the area as many groups, organizations and clubs are already planning a "Day at the Races" at Waterford Park during the coming meeting that opens on March 16.

Harry Wright, special representative of the public relations department, is busily engaged in contacting and talking with various groups who wish to have their Party Day at Waterford Park. Many plan car caravans, but most are chartering buses for a carefree excursion to the races.

Last year there were more than 150 groups. These included such organizations as the Eagles, Elks, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legions, Kiwanis, Rotaries, Lions, Masons, Cities, Radio Stations, Television Stations, Newspapers, and many other fraternal, civic and social groups. The largest single society to have their day at the races was the Frogs Club of Pittsburgh which numbered over 300.

Highlight of the festive occasion is naming of the feature race in honor of the group with a presentation being made in the winners circle by the heads of the party. Photographs are taken by the track photographer and forwarded to the group free of charge.

Waterford Park offers several types of parties for large or small groups, such as buffet, luncheon or dinner and refreshments. Also included are reserved seats and free admissions to the grandstand and club house for the entire assemblage of the organization.

The public relations department at Waterford is always ready to answer any inquiries regarding a Party Day by mail, phone or in person.

Waterford Park opens the longest season in America on March 16, continuing through Labor Day, September 2, for 138 consecutive days of thoroughbred racing. Post time is set at one p. m. daily from March 16 through June 29, then two p. m. daily for the remainder of the meeting.

Covered Bridges

Pennsylvania today has about 350 covered bridges, more than any other state. The first covered bridge in the state was built over the Schuylkill River in 1800.

It was built by John Lewis at the foot of what is now Market street in Philadelphia. The most recent was built in 1956, a private venture. The oldest existing covered bridge in America is the Hays Bridge near Carlisle, Pennsylvania. It is 110 feet long and was built in 1825. The counties of Columbia and Lancaster, each with 37, have the largest number of covered bridges in the state.

Steelers to Play Basketball Here Monday Night

The Pittsburgh Steelers football team will meet the brothers of Theta Chi fraternity Monday night at eight o'clock in a basketball game, in the college gym.

Just to keep in practice, the Steelers play basketball in the winter.

Sometimes they break out in a dance as you see Red Mack twisting with a local spectator. Imagine waltzing around on the boards with a team that averages 240 pounds per man. Take Big Daddy Lipscomb, 6'6", 295 pounds or Myron Pottios, 6' 2", 240 pounds or even George Tarasovic, 6'4", 250 pounds. Its called "basketball by the ton."

The Steelers play basketball for many charities and fund raising events, such as Theta Chi's game Monday night.

The donation is $1.00 and proceeds go to the building fund of Theta Chi.

'Sterling' Derived From 'Easterling'

LONDON—The term, "sterling silver," dates back to the time of King Richard the Lion Hearted when traders from Eastern Germany began coming to the British Isles and used silver money of very high purity.

The English called these traders "easterlingers," and gradually this name was applied also to their silver, which in time was shortened to "sterling."

In Section 18 basketball Carmichaels easily held on to second place Friday night by defeating Jefferson - Morgan 73-60. It was the fifth win for the Mikes.

Atcheson led the Mikes for 21 points on nine field goals and three foul conversions. Vuknic was next with 17.

Vukmanic led the Jeffs with 20 points, and Yansenska had 18. Mapletown triumphed over West Greene, 68-57.

West Greene's Rick Sonneborn, the county's leading scorer, accounted for 29 points.

Tim Mohar led the Maples for 18 points, with Wallace 14, and Jones 12.

Waynesburg's Red Raiders defeated East Washington 42-37. East Washington is winless.

Larry Marshall netted 13 points, and Bob Kirk 12 for the Raiders. This is Waynesburg's second league victory.

Crisis Nerves Grow Jumpy

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Tense nerves got the best of some residents during the Cuban crisis.

Sheriff's deputies rushed to a rural area after receiving calls of an invasion by paratroopers. The officers found members of a skydiving club, practicing jumps.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Old Enough To Vote

Phoenix, Arizona is due for a minor invasion this week. Headed from all parts of the country are some 200 race track owners, officials, and others connected with the operation and management of what has become the King of Sports. The occasion is the 21st annual meeting of the membership of Thoroughbred Racing Associations, Inc., a group of 46 race tracks including most of the biggest and a few of the smallest in the country. Big or small, they all have one common purpose according to Spencer J. Drayton, executive VP of the TRA.

"Track management today is more public relations conscious than a political candidate on election day. The aim of every TRA track is to put on a good show and provide the facilities to make your outing to the races a pleasurable one. Our business meetings in Phoenix are planned months in advance to discuss ways and means for providing these facilities; to discuss common problems and exchange ideas." When in 1942, the original 22 tracks got together and formed TRA, the attendance the country over was 10,693,837. This year the turnout count will be something over 35,000,000 and the TRA's 46 tracks will account for better than two-thirds of that total.

Five Millions In Relief Aid Recovered

HARRISBURG — The State recovered more than five million dollars from reliefers or their estates last year, Secretary of Public Welfare Arlin M. Adams has reported.

The money represents grants to needy people who later repaid all or part of the aid they received and funds from liens on property owned by deceased relief clients.

In addition, the department recovered $539,362 from individuals or families who had misstated or failed to report facts which would have made them ineligible for benefits.

Total collections for the year, including both categories, reached $5,592,927. All public assistance grants for the same period totaled $220,538,508.

Gas Facilities Buildup Okayed; Total $36 Million

WASHINGTON — The Federal Power Commission has authorized 36 million dollars in natural gas pipeline and storage facilities in Pennsylvania.

Also, Transco was authorized to build and operate 15.5 miles of 24-inch loop line, costing $6,130,000, to be used with the Wharton field.

New York State Natural Gas Corporation, Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, and United Natural were certified to develop jointly the Ellensburg storage pool in Potter County, at a cost of $9,182,900. The New York and Tennessee firms were authorized to build connecting pipeline and United was authorized to buy a segment of line from the Pennsylvania Corporation.

Texas Eastern was authorized to build nearly nine miles of loops in its pipeline between Perulack Station in Juniata County and Station 26 in Hunterdon County, N. J. New York Natural was authorized to store gas for others and operate a compressor station near the Leidy storage pool in Clinton County.

2 German Guards Flee East Berlin

BERLIN — Two uniformed East German border guards were injured Friday in desperate 25-foot leaps from a house as they made good their escape to West Berlin.

The Red guards were taken to a hospital.

West Berlin police said the guards jumped from the roof of a house on the northern end of the Communist wall dividing the city.

Another escape attempt during the night failed. Western police saw a Communist search party of 10 guards with dogs track down a man near the wall. He was arrested and taken away.

sary to meet an avalanche of objections registered throughout the State.

Hundreds of school districts have loudly protested merger plans drawn for them by county school officials, assisted by the Department of Public Instruction.

Many districts — especially large and solvent ones — prefer to retain their independence, contending the merger law compels them to assume liabilities of neighboring districts.

The mandatory feature of the current law also is a prime target of merger critics, who have accused the State of trying to subject them to taxation without representation — that is, taxing them to support merged districts that have never been sanctioned by vote.
