Dusenberry Heads Social Sciences At College

Dr. William Dusenberry has been promoted to chairman of the Department of Social Sciences of Waynesburg College. The promotion was effective as of January 24, the beginning of the second semester.

Dr. Dusenberry had served the first semester as acting head of the department.

Academic vice president, Dr. Paul D. Walter, stated that Dr. Dusenberry had received his appointment in recognition of the "administrative talents which he possesses in addition to his scholarly attainment and teaching skill."

"The cooperation which Dr. Dusenberry has received from members of the Department of Social Sciences is an acknowledgement of his leadership and shows the respect given to him by his co-workers," Dr. Walter continued.

Dr. Dusenberry, an alumnus of Waynesburg College, received his Doctor of Philosophy Degree from the University of Michigan, and was an associate professor Redesign of the dangerous Paisley intersection south of Carmichaels is included in plans for the reconstruction of 1.8 miles of Route 21 between the intersection and the Masontown bridge.

The State Department of Highways has indicated that the new four-lane section of highway could be constructed this summer if funds are available.

John H. Cassler, plans engineer at the highways department, said the new section of road would begin at the western approach of the Masontown bridge in Greene County and continue to the intersection of Route 88, at Paisley.

Included in the construction plans are a modernized intersection at Route 21 and 88, where numerous accidents have happened in the past.

The 1.8 mile section of road has been in the planning stage for several years, and had tentatively been scheduled for construction in 1962. It is the only section of Route 21 between Waynesburg and a point near Uniontown which has not been modernized.

Plans call for a new concrete highway to contain four 12-foot lanes with a four-foot concrete divider in the middle and stabilized shoulders on both sides.

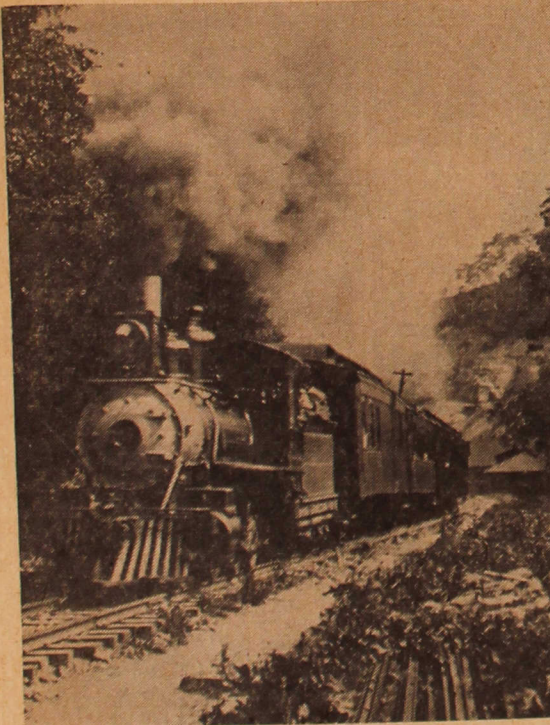

Relocation of the proposed roadway would eliminate two existing small bridges on Route 21 and would mean extensive grading and straightening.

The Paisley intersection became the subject of a safety survey last fall after serious collisions happened there, one of them resulting in the death of 13-year-old Faith Elaine Callahan of Moundsville, W. Va.

At that time it was brought out that motorists approaching the intersection from Masontown, particularly those not familiar with the road, tended to miss seeing the stop sign, and as a result entered the busy intersection without stopping.

The plans for the new road have redesigned the intersection to eliminate this hazard.

JayCees Told of Plan to Revive Historic Line for Two-County Tourist Attraction

The idea of reviving the historic Waynesburg and Washington Railroad as a tourist attraction was presented to the Waynesburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at its annual "Bosses Night" banquet Tuesday evening.

Harry K. Sutherland Jr., executive director of the new Washington-Greene Tourist Promotion Agency, suggested that the local Jay Cees join with the Washington Junior Chamber of Commerce in spearheading a campaign to gain public support for the project.

Sutherland, who was principal speaker at the banquet, said that several other sightseeing railroads in the state not only attract tourists to their area, but operate at a profit.

In 1962, he said, the East Broad-top Railroad in eastern Pennsylvania carried some 50,000 persons, while the Ashland Area Railroad, operating only on weekends, carried 14,261 passengers in two-and-one-half months.

"The W and W is a natural."

Photographic Proof

Communist Slave Labor

One of the "come-ons" the Mistaken use in their never-ending attack on free men and free institutions is that they alone are interested in men and women who work with their hands.

In fact, the Communist Manifesto clearly states that the communists have no interests separate from the interests of the working class.

That statement has as much truth in it as other Mistaken propaganda, which is none.

A documented report entitled "Slave Labor in the Soviet World" has been issued by a special committee of the American Federation of Labor. It contains photographs of official reports dealing with the use of slave labor in the Soviet Union, and points out that forced labor is one of the basic means of punishment in Soviet socialist criminal law.

Even though innocent of any crime, Soviet citizens can be condemned to forced labor by the secret police. They need only to be "socially dangerous" in the eyes of the secret police.

Of course, to be "socially dangerous" an unhappy resident of the Iron Curtain countries has only to reveal a craving for freedom. Persons may be condemned to forced labor by the secret police without a trial.

How are these slave laborers treated by a regime that proclaims itself the only true friend of working people? The documented report of the AFL-CIO committee tells us. The 75-page document specifies the food rations for labor camp inmates of different categories, children of inmates, horses, cattle, hogs, and guard dogs. The rations are fixed down to the last gram of bread.

Prisoners under discipline or investigation receive what has been calculated as 716 calories a day, an amount utterly insufficient to support life of a person doing physical labor.

Men and women engaged in mining and timber logging are given daily rations of 1,292 calories. In contrast, the ration for dogs for guard duty is 1,183 calories.

In this documented report, there is presented from official Soviet sources conclusive confirmation of the charge that a program of starvation, inhumanity, and brutality is characteristic of the Soviet slave-labor system.

Only by working beyond the limits of physical endurance can the slave laborer increase his food ration to the point where it will keep him barely alive. (These figures were compiled before the present food shortage in practically all communist countries.)

We are grateful to the AFL-CIO special committee for making this information available to all Americans who want to learn how labor fares in a communist country.

What can free Americans hope to gain by negotiations with a government that treats its own citizens in such a brutal fashion?

We have the privilege of citizenship in a nation where personal enterprise produces goods and incentives which better the lives of all its citizens.

The U. S. is a symbol of hope in the eyes of millions of people throughout the world.

Today more than ever, we need to appreciate our heritage of freedom more fully. We need to count our blessings, and to rededicate ourselves to active participation in preserving the principles upon which our nation was founded.

When freedom is threatened, as it is threatened in America today, no patriot should remain silent.

WILLIAM L. OLTMANS

Wm. L. Oltmans Will Give Talk In Opera House

"Let's Sell America Strong" is the title of a talk which Mr. Oltmans will give at the Opera House Convocation at 11 a. m., March 1, in the Opera House.

Mr. Oltmans' appearance here, which is sponsored by the college's Visiting Artists Series committee, is open to the public.

"What has happened to the world prestige America so long enjoyed" is a question Mr. Oltmans asks in his lecture. A decade ago, the people of the world recognized in the United States the champion of the individual, the foe of colonialism, the protector of freedom and religion.

Mr. Oltmans reviews the conduct of American foreign affairs since World War II, as it is seen by the leaders and peoples of Europe, Asia, and Africa. "Let's stop selling America short," he says. "Let's sell it strong by exploring our greatest political creation—a free democratic society."

Fire Destroys Old College

MACON, Ga.—The largest and most destructive fire in Macon's history Sunday, completely destroyed the buildings of Old Wesleyan, one of the oldest women's colleges in the United States.

No injuries were reported from the blaze, which broke out early today in the college conservatory.

Fanned by a slight breeze, sparks ignited apartment buildings across the street from the college, completely destroying two apartment buildings and four automobiles and heavily damaging another building.

At least 35 families were evacuated from their homes after being alerted by police and newsboys.

Estimate of damages ranged in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Cause of the disaster has not yet been determined.

George I. Bloom To Be Honored

HARRISBURG — Commonwealth Secretary George I. Bloom will be honored at a Republican testimonial dinner here March 19.

Bloom served as G. O. P. state chairman for six years, resigning last month to take over as Commonwealth secretary. He was succeeded in the chairman's post by Craig Truax.

Mr. Truax, in a statement released Friday, praised Bloom for serving as state chairman "with-out accepting one penny of the $20,000-a-year salary authorized by the committee."

Mr. Truax said invitations have been sent to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Governor William W. Scranton, Lieutenant Governor Raymond P. Shafer and leaders of the Republican National Committee.

Attorneys Named To Bar Committees

HARRISBURG — Five Greene County attorneys have been appointed to committees of the Pennsylvania Bar Association by the newly elected president, Desmond J. McTighe of Norristown.

Mr. McTighe, who took office at the close of the Association's recent 67th annual meeting in Pittsburgh, made a total of nearly 800 appointments, to more than 50 bar committees.

"While it might be assumed that most of these committees are concerned with purely Bar Association matters," he observed, "the actual fact is that the reverse is true. Approximately two-thirds of all the working committees and sections in the Pennsylvania Bar Association are engaged in some form of service to the public."

A new feature of the committee appointments this year, Mr. McTighe said, is the assignment of two Junior Bar members to each committee as associate members—a move intended to draw the

Robena Blast Blamed on Shift In Ventilation

The coal mine explosion which killed 37 men at Carmichaels, last December 6 apparently followed a temporary change in the mining sequence which affected the ventilation, the Bureau of Mines reported Monday.

The explosion in the Robena No. 3 mine of the United States Steel Corporation coal division resulted from the ignition of gas that had collected in a working part of the mine when the ventilation there was temporarily interrupted, the bureau said. The gas was ignited by friction sparks or an electric arc, the report added.

The bureau said the findings of its safety experts were confirmed by a series of ventilation tests in the affected section of the mine which simulated the conditions presumed to have existed just before the explosion.

The mine liberated explosive gas rather freely, the bureau said, but under ordinary conditions it was rendered harmless by "a very commendable ventilation system."

"However, a temporary change from an established simple mining routine to a more complex sequence to facilitate opening a new set of entries... made the ventilation more difficult to direct and control," the bureau continued.

"Apparently, the fact that this rather drastic deviation from the usual development system would adversely affect ventilation of the working faces was overlooked, and areas with sluggish ventilation inviting gas accumulation as well as reversal of airflow direction resulted."

Volunteers Needed For Easter Seal

Men, women, and teen-agers are needed to assist in conducting the 1963 Easter Seal Parade held by the Greene County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Parade chairman John M. Cowan states that the 400 volunteers who will participate in the Easter Seal Parade starting March 7, will provide an invaluable contribution to the well-being of more than 30 crippled children and adults in Greene County.

Mr. Cowan said the greatest need is for volunteers to call at homes of their neighbors to deliver sheets of Easter Seals, explain services provided by the society, and accept contributions to help finance these services.

Paraders will cover all residential areas in Greene County. Mr. Cowan said that enthusiasm is the only requirement needed by the volunteers. Majors are responsible for the fund-raising campaign in five different areas: Carmichaels — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Atalski, Carmichaels, R. D. 1.

Greensboro — Mrs. Margaret Piper, Box 503, Greensboro.

Jefferson — Morgan — Oliver Robson, Box 147, Mather.

Waynesburg — John M. Cowan, 664 East Greene street, Waynesburg.

West Greene — Byron Hughes, Holbrook, R. D. 1.

New German Instructor Named

James P. Underwood, an instructor of German at West Virginia University, has assumed the teaching responsibilities of the late Ira Owen Walker at Waynesburg College.

Mr. Walker, an assistant professor of modern language, suffered a fatal heart attack February 13.

Harry K. Martin Jr., acting chairman of the Modern Language Department at Waynesburg, commented:

"We are extremely fortunate to obtain the services of Mr. Underwood. It is almost impossible to secure such a highly qualified instructor in the middle of a semester."

Harold Dulaney, present Register and Recorder of Greene County, and Leroy Minor, incumbent Prothonotary, announced their candidacies for reelection, Tuesday. Mr. Dulaney, the third Democrat to enter the field for the office, with previous announcements having been made by George Black and Jack L. Tedrow, both of Waynesburg.

Mr. Dulaney will be running for his fifth consecutive four-year term, having been first elected to the office in 1947.

Mr. Dulaney, who has been active for many years in his state organizations, is president of the State Register of Wills Association and vice president of the Pennsylvania Association of Elected County Officials.

The Greene County official said he is particularly anxious to continue the fight these organizations are making to defeat proposed legislation which would eliminate the clerk of courts, register of wills, recorder of deeds, and prothonotary as elected officials.

"In their place," he explained, "the legislation would have the court appoint a clerk of courts who would be responsible for running all these offices which are now the responsibility of elected officials. We feel that if they are made appointive positions, they would be subject to political pressures and the people would lose a lot of control over county government."

Mr. Dulaney, as vice president of PAECO and the delegate from the Register of Wills Association, is one of five men who is on a PAECO committee which review all legislation pertaining to county government.

"I want to continue the fight we are making to prevent this further centralization of government," he said, "and that is one of the primary reasons I am running for re-election."

Mr. Dulaney has been active in Democratic politics in Greene County for many years and is a former county chairman. He is also a veteran wool buyer and is president of the National Delano Sheep Association.

Mr. Minor, the present prothonotary, is past president of Pennsylvania Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts' Association, and is a delegate to the Pennsylvania Association of Elected County Officials, and endorses Mr. Dulaney's stand on proposed legislation.

Other candidates, who have announced their candidacy since our last edition, are:

John L. Bradley of Washington Township, Democrat candidate for clerk of courts.

George D. Black of Waynesburg, Democrat candidate for register and recorder.

Levi A. Fuller of Waynesburg, Democrat, for county auditor.

W. D. Goodwin of Carmichaels, Democrat, for county auditor.

Jim Hook of Waynesburg, Democrat, is the only candidate, so far to announce for District Attorney.

Al. Darney of Carmichaels, Democrat, for Clerk of Courts.

Mrs. Edna Moredock Long of Carmichaels, Republican, for county auditor.

Virginia McCoy of Whiteley Township, Republican, for county treasurer.

Wilma Sayers Milliken of Waynesburg, Republican, for clerk of courts.

Roy E. Hartley of Waynesburg, Republican, for county commissioner.

Your Health

Pennsylvania Medical Society

"Always rise from the table with an appetite and you will never sit down without one."

William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, made that remark.

When a man has lived with his stomach for a number of years he ought to know how to feed it.

Unfortunately, such is not always the case.

When people have stomach upset from careless and poor eating habits, many will try any diet casually suggested to them.

Brillat-Savarin, famous French epicure, said that "Animals feed, men eat, but only men of intelligence know how to eat."

He was speaking gastronomically.

There is no trick to proper eating.

If a person is healthy, there is no need to worry about proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins and fats.

All people have to do is to acquire the knowledge of what a sensible meal is for them, and then put the knowledge into practice.

The essential constituents of diet will be in such a meal.

There are many well-intentioned people who feel they know instinctively exactly what other people should eat for a reducing diet for acid stomach, and for a roughage diet.

If one has digestive discomfort it is not safe to accept blindly the advice of amateurs.

Prolonged digestive trouble may be serious and should be properly diagnosed by a doctor.

It is true that more die by way of food than famine.

FAMOUS AMERICAN TAVERNS

Bill Zuber's in Homestead, Iowa

The Proprietor Knows His Onions

Fittingly enough for a man in the food business, Bill Zuber, proprietor of the restaurant of that name, started on the road to fame and fortune with a mighty loss of an onion. As a youth, he was working in the communal onion-sorting shed of the Amana Church Colony, when a stranger observed Bill make a dextrous shot with an onion.

The stranger handed him one about the size of a baseball.

"Can you hit that barn over there?" he asked.

"Don't know if I can hit it," Bill said, "but I can throw over it." And he let the onion go.

The next day Bill signed a contract to play a game called baseball, a sport strange to the communal churchly Amanas but one which Bill was to discover was highly regarded elsewhere. The arm so capable with an onion proved just as strong with a baseball and carried Bill through ten seasons in the major leagues, to a pennant with the Boston Red Sox, a world's championship with the New York Yankees and other good years with the Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators.

Then Bill and his wife, Connie, returned to the Amana Colony and purchased the old hotel in Homestead, one of the colony's seven villages. In the language of Bill's religious sect, "Amana" means "remain true" and Bill found that his talented hand had remained true to his vegetables, onions plus. Soon "Bill Zuber's" became famed for hearty German food. Good food's partner, beer, is served with the meals and they come to the table family style, so that the diners can help themselves.

Bill's menu features baked steak, oven baked chicken, Amana ham and such specialties as "Schinken Salat No. 1" (ham salad), "Schnee Kuchlein No. 2" (fritters) and "Suz-Sauere Roteruben" (pickled beets).

Solidly lodged in a brick building, the main part of Bill Zuber's is nearly a hundred years old. Above the pine wainscoting in the dining room, Bill displays autographed photographs of his friends in the athletic and film worlds, and of celebrities who have been attracted to Bill's while traveling coast to coast. They are legion.

ELECTRIC HOUSE HEATING GROWS — DOWN COMES COST

In 1954 West Penn Power served only 2 electrically heated homes. Today the number is nearly 2000.

This growth is due almost entirely to customer satisfaction with electric house heating and its comfort and cleanliness.

Up to 1959, heating customers paid 2¢ a kilowatt-hour in the low block of the rate. Since that time, this charge was reduced successively to 1.65¢, and then to 1.55¢ per kilowatt-hour. Now West Penn is proposing a third reduction!

A new rate has been filed with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission which would reduce the low block in the house heating rate to only 1.2¢ a kilowatt-hour—to bring the total reductions since 1959 to 40%.

This latest reduction will be of real importance to anyone who plans either to modernize a heating system or to acquire a new home. Present users would receive an average annual reduction of $50 in their electric house heating bills.

The ability to offer this new low cost grows out of our experience in supplying electricity for house heating. From the start, we have conducted extensive studies of the way electric heating equipment operates in customers' homes by day and by night. The results encouraged us as well as Monongahela Power Company and The Potomac Edison Company, the other operating units of the Allegheny Power System, to request the 1.2¢ kilowatt-hour price for this modern electrical service.

Many families have considered the inherent advantages of electric heating and the benefits they could enjoy in their homes. Now, substantially lowered operating costs will enable them to experience the joy of Total Electric Living much sooner than they had believed possible.

Additional information is available at all our offices. Or contact your favorite West Penn who is dedicated to helping everyone Live Better... Electrically.

Not that we blame you for looking forward to "forty winks", It's Sunday—the best day of the week. And that's a good chair. You fit in it fine. Nice program of music on the radio. Not too loud. Right for relaxing.

But what about the headlines in that paper you just put down? Can you really relax after reading about some of the current happenings in the news?

Your church down the block can help . . . you find the remedy for some of these happenings. Try attending its services, and see if they won't help you. Religion doesn't come by proxy, or in your easy chair. But in church you'll find some answers to those headlines. Your church and its message can do that for you. But you'll have to GO yourself, you know . . .

Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead and Christ shall give thee light. Eph. 5-14

Then come home. There's that good chair—still waiting, still comfortable. In it again you can quietly look over those headlines in the light of the services you just attended.

There will be real relaxation for you as you realize that in the coming week you and your church will be in the fight together—to make it a brighter world, a cleaner world, a better world for all . . .

Special Symphony Programs Listed

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra shuttles between Syria Mosque and Carnegie Music Hall in Pittsburgh in the next few days to play three imaginative programs under the baton of two conductors.

Charles Munch, recently retired music director of the Boston Symphony, conducts an all French music program at Syria Mosque, March 1 and 3, and Herbert Grossman, associate conductor of the Pittsburgh Orchestras, directs the annual Young Adults Concert at Carnegie Music Hall Wednesday, March 6.

Munch, one of the great conductors of the music world, will be making his first appearance with the Pittsburgh Orchestra, when he conducts the programs for March 1 and 3. Now living in France, Mr. Munch handled the reins of the Boston Symphony for thirteen years before retiring last season.

The Young Adults concert is a special event programmed for area teen-agers. Students from high schools will attend the concert with their dates and, following the musical event, will participate in a "coke" party in the foyer of Carnegie Music Hall in the Oakland district of Pittsburgh.

Tickets for the annual Young Adults concert, which annually attracts nearly 2,000 area teen-agers, are priced at just $1.00, and are available in high schools and at the offices of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society, 1305 Farmer's Bank Building, Pittsburgh 22.

Scott Introduces Own School Bill

WASHINGTON — Senator Hugh Scott has introduced a substitute for the President's federal-aid-to-education bill.

The Scott measure would provide a three-year program to cover construction of class rooms only, for elementary and secondary schools.

Public schools would be eligible for grants; parochial schools for loans.

But in the case of public school grants, the school district would have to show that it had tried to obtain conventional financing and had failed.

Parochial schools could benefit by the loan program only if they did not bar Negroes.

End Your Water Heating Troubles

Are you always waiting for hot water in your house? Probably there's many a time when somebody beats you to a bath, or there's been a big washing done that day, and the hot water has run out. Or, with old-fashioned water heating, maybe you just never have enough really hot water for a luxurious bath or shower and all the other household needs.

Everyone in the family is inconvenienced when hot water turns to lukewarm—then cool—then cold. You wait for enough hot water for bathing, or for washing clothes or dishes. And it's no fun!

Why put up with an inadequate supply of hot water? Plenty of hot water is one of the cheapest luxuries you can buy if you have a quick recovery water heater.

Completely automatic, your quick recovery electric water heater is on the job 24 hours a day to give you dependable, safe, carefree hot water service. Two 4,500-watt heating elements automatically provide accurately measured heat in the exact amount necessary to insure an abundant supply of hot water.

The convenience of electric water heating is perhaps most appreciated by homemakers. After the heater is installed and in operation, it requires no further attention. There are no more trips to the basement to adjust the fuel or fire, and no more flues or burners to check and clean. There's no flame—no danger of explosions—once you install a quick recovery electric water heater. See your dealer or plumber.

Saints' Remains Found in Casket

VATICAN CITY—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said today a casket containing remains of St. Benedict and his sister, St. Scholastica, was found in a Benedictine monastery at Subiaco, in the Sabine Mountains 30 miles east of Rome.

The casket was discovered during repair work on the main altar in the monastery church, which is dedicated to St. Scholastica. The lead casket had an inscription in Latin saying it contained remains of the two saints. St. Benedict was the founder of the Benedictine Order of the Sixth Century. St. Scholastica was the first Benedictine nun.

Pennsylvania City Has Short Life

HARRISBURG — Four months after oil was discovered on Pithole Creek on January 7, 1865, Pithole City, Pa., was laid out and, by September, the city had more than 50 hotels, two banks, two churches, two telegraph offices, a newspaper, an opera house and more than 15,000 residents.

By January of 1866, it was a ghost town.

Postman Wins $3,000 for an Idea

WASHINGTON — A Florida mailman who suggested the use of cooking pot lids as mail truck mirrors to get rid of blind spots got a $3,000 bonus last week.

The bonus, given to Harry M. Knarr Jr. of Sarasota, was the biggest suggestion award ever granted by the Post Office Department.

Knarr, a superintendent of vehicle maintenance, suggested that pot lids be attached to the upper front windshield frame of trucks as a safety measure.

Unlike conventional mirrors, the curved surface of a polished pot lid enables a driver to leave a parked position to check the area around both front wheels and other blind spots where children might be playing.

Postal officials said many truck accidents involving children have been caused by inability of the driver to see such blind spots.

They said Knarr got the idea for the use of pot lids as truck mirrors while helping his wife dry dishes and cooking utensils.

He received the award from Richard J. Murphy, assistant postmaster general in charge of personnel.

Tiny Gift Cheers Salvation Army

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Among gifts received at a Salvation Army rehabilitation center here, is a one-legged canary in a cage. It sings for about 70 men being rehabilitated there.

"It has a lovely voice," said Maj. Paul Branum, manager of the center.

Terrier Repays Debt With Love

PEKIN, Ill.—When fire broke out in the two-story home of Mrs. Louis F. Brumer, Pekin, Ill., in the early morning hours, "Friskie," a part-terrier dog, barked insistently until he awoke his mistress, Mrs. Brumer, who wears a hearing aid, lives alone. Friskie came to Mrs. Brumer's bed and woke her, then stayed by her side as she groped her way through the smoke-filled house to safety outside. Before she left the house, Mrs. Brumer was able to dial the operator and report the fire.

Friskie, adopted by Mrs. Brumer from the Tazewell Animal Protective Society in Pekin, was awarded the Stillman Certificate.

Charles A. Lindbergh refused to take his mascot, a pet kitten named "Patsy," on his pioneering transatlantic flight in 1927 because he felt it would be "too dangerous a journey."

Betty Crocker Winners Named In County Schools

Named winners here in the 1963 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow and thus eligible for one of 102 scholarships totaling $110,000 are:

Syble L. Santee of Waynesburg High School; Ruth E. Daugherty of Mapletown High School; and Patricia A. Lewis of Jefferson-Morgan High School.

Each girl ranked first in her school in the knowledge and attitude test given senior girls December 4. Her paper has been entered in competition with those of other state high school winners for state-wide honors.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named in the spring. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, sponsor of the program. A $500 award will be made to the second highest ranking Homemaker of Tomorrow in the state. The school of each state winner will receive a set of Encyclopedia Britannica.

Later, State Homemakers of Tomorrow with their advisors will enjoy an expense-paid educational tour of New York, Washington D. C. and Colonial Williamsburg, Va., which will culminate with the naming of the 1963 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The national winner's scholarship will be raised to $5,000, with second, third and fourth place winners being granted $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships respectively.

The 1963 Betty Crocker Search reached another all-time high in enrollment, with 410,466 girls in 12,964 schools participating. Since the program started nine years ago, approximately three million girls have enrolled, and, including this year, scholarship awards will approach the million dollar mark.

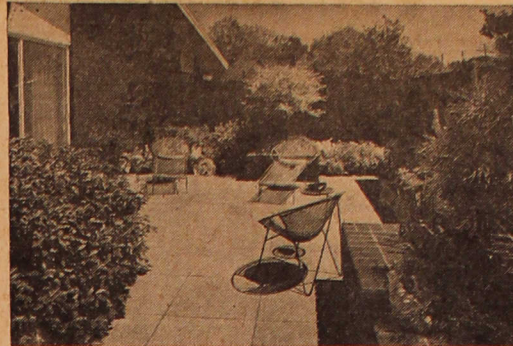

Scott Anderson Is Eagle Scout

Scott Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Anderson of Saginaw, Michigan, was one of a group of boys honored during Boy Scout Week at a testimonial dinner held in recognition of their achieving the highest honor in Scouting — the Eagle Scout Award.

Young Anderson, who is a top student in chemistry at Arthur Hill High School in Saginaw, was sponsored at the testimonial by W. R. Collings, president of Dow Corning Chemical Company, Midland, Michigan. Prior to the dinner, he had the privilege of working for a day with Mr. Collings at the chemical plant.

Scott Anderson is a grandson of Mrs. Anna M. Anderson of East Greene street, Waynesburg.

Texas Patio Is Lovely Anywhere

Texas cities are as crowded as cities anywhere despite the bigness of the state, but patios are a must. Beautifully planted, they can be as lovely in Chicago, Los Angeles and New York as they are in Dallas or Houston.

$945 in Prizes In Wildlife Aid Projects of FFA

HARRISBURG — Cash prizes totaling $945 have been awarded to 24 members of the Future Farmers of America for scoring the largest number of points in FFA "And to Wildlife" projects throughout the State.

The awards are provided by the Pennsylvania Game Commission in a program sponsored jointly by the Commission and the Department of Public Instruction. FFA boys compete through such projects as planting trees, shrubs, and vines for food and cover; locating nests and protecting them from farm operations; fencing wildlife areas; building and placing nesting boxes and game feeders; winter feeding and shelter; developing ponds, streams, and marshes; raising pheasant or quail chicks to 12 weeks; controlling foxes, raccoons, weasels, opossums, great horned owls, crows, or other predators; and completing fire-arm safety courses.

The prizes in most cases will be presented by the Game Commission's field officers. Presentation ceremonies usually occur at banquets of organized sportsmen's groups or at high school assemblies, FFA chapter meetings or such FFA occasions as parent-son banquets.

The top Statewide award in the competition, $125, goes to James M. Denkenberger of Troy, R. D. 2, Bradford County, member of the FFA chapter at Troy Community Joint High School. There are two other Statewide awards — second prize, $75, to Dennis Catherman, 6 Kirkwood Street, Oil City, and third prize, $50, to James R. Wilson, Oil City, R. D. 2, Catherman and Wilson both are members of Cranberry Area High School in Venango County.

The 21 remaining prizes are awarded geographically, to high scorers in the Game Commission's six field divisions.

Trout Stocking Begun by Game Commission

HARRISBURG — The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has started distribution of the more than 1,730,000 trout scheduled to be released in Commonwealth fishing waters prior to the April 13 opening of the 1963 trout fishing season.

Albert M. Day, executive director of the Commission, said initial releases will be confined to the larger trout lakes and other trout waters which are accessible under present weather conditions.

Day emphasized that the Commission will make every effort to meet stocking schedules. However, he said that serious interruptions could occur in case of major breakdowns to the Commission's tank trucks. Many of these trucks have extremely high mileage and are in need of costly repairs or replacement.

Early planting schedules this year have been influenced by necessity due to a sharp cut in manpower at the fish cultural stations, according to the Commission spokesman. Day said this cut in manpower is in keeping with the strict economy measures invoked by the Commission in an effort to stay within the limits of revenues from present license fees and related sources.

388,000 Deer Estimated in State; Next Season More

Biologists of the Pennsylvania Game Commission have placed the number of deer in Penn's Woods this winter at 388,000.

Harvey A. Roberts, commission research chief, said the herd consists of about 53 per cent young of the year, 40 per cent adult females and seven per cent adult males.

Assuming normal spring production of about 150,000 fawns, next year's pre-hunting season population should exceed a half million animals.

Population calculations are based on information gathered during the 1962 deer season by biologists and other commission personnel.

More than 2,400 legal bucks were aged, weighed and antlers measured at three check stations. Thousands more deer were examined at hunting camps, cold storage plants and in the field.

Data obtained in this manner permits the research men to calculate the age classes and sex ratios in the herd. By knowing the proportion of breeding females in the population, average fawn production and life expectancy, the biologists can compute the status of the herd.

Roberts emphasized that no reports have been received of any unusual winter mortality among deer to date.

How About the Toes?

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — M. E. Riden of Knoxville says that one morning when the temperature was below zero three boys came into the laundry and dry-cleaning establishment he operates.

Each put a dime in one of the hair dryers he has in the lobby and sat under the drier for 10 minutes or so—to get his ears warmed up.

$25 SHARES IN THE PEOPLE'S CAPITALISM

A few years ago a representative group of Americans gathered at a university round table to discuss our economy, and named it "people's capitalism."

Reaction from the Communists was instant. They were appalled. They scorned the idea. They called it "impossible as fried ice." They mobilized their professors who wrote papers proving to their complete satisfaction there could be no such thing as "people's capitalism."

The fact is that much of the capital that runs America comes from the millions of people who make up America. It flows into our economy through their savings accounts, pension funds, stock and bond purchases, life insurance premiums. And through the $45 billion worth of U. S. Savings Bonds held by tens of millions of Americans.

This stake the American people have in their country is evidence of our abiding faith in our way of life and our determination to keep our freedoms intact. And to help mankind all over the world in its fight against slavery and oppression.

Are you in the fight? Show that you are by buying Savings Bonds at your bank or through Payroll Savings where you work. And see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

How U. S. Savings Bonds help build your own capital

1. You get $4 for every $3 at maturity.
2. Your Bonds are replaced free if lost.
3. You can get your money anytime.
4. You can save automatically on Payroll Savings.
