LOUIS M. WADDELL

Louis M. Waddell Of Colonial Place Dies In Home

Louis Morton Waddell, Jr., 62 years, retired professional civil engineer and hardware merchant died Saturday morning, March 16, 1963, in his home at Colonial Place, Franklin Township. Death was due to bronchial pneumonia.

Mr. Waddell was a son of Louis Morton Waddell and Elizabeth Rinehart Waddell, and was born June 11, 1900, in Waynesburg. He attended the old Waynesburg Academy, and was a member of Nu Chapter, Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Mr. Waddell graduated from Rensselaer Polytechnical Institute in Troy, N. Y.

He practiced the engineering profession in Atlanta, Georgia, and Albany, N. Y., and for a number of years was a member of the firm of Brown, Harris and Stevens in New York City, while residing in Rockville Centre, Long Island.

Twelve years ago, he returned to Waynesburg and purchased the Blair and Hampson Hardware Store, following in the footsteps of his father, who had been a hardware merchant in Waynesburg for many years.

Last fall Mr. Waddell closed out the business and retired.

His wife, Leah Crago Waddell, died December 28, 1962.

Mr. Waddell was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Fort Jackson Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution; the Isaak Walton League; B. P. O. Elks 757; and the South Shore Power Squadron based at Ocean-side, Long Island.

Surviving are one daughter, Margaret, wife of Charles E. Baker of East Greenville; one son, Louis M. Waddell, III, an instructor in Davis-Elkins College Elkins, W. Va.; five grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Ewing Montgomery of Bala Cynwyd.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in the Garrison Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. A. D. Sowers. Interment in Green Mount Cemetery.

Margaret Mead Boycotts School

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Noted anthropologist and author Dr. Margaret Mead, has announced she will not return to Greensboro College as guest lecturer until the small Methodist school is integrated.

Miss Mead, a Columbia University professor, told the students Tuesday it was "sheer, unadulterated hypocrisy" to claim the school was not segregated simply because its charter does not mention race.

In her final lecture, Dr. Mead told students "any institution that does not go forward goes backward."

Chemists Honor Atom Scientist

NEW YORK — The American section of an International Society of Chemists said last week Dr. Charles A. Thomas, board chairman of the Monsanto Chemical Company, will receive a medal for his work on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Can We Afford It?

The Results of Foreign Aid

The United States foreign aid program is threatening the American dollar. It is subsidizing foreign competition with our own manufacturers and industries. It is draining our gold supply and creating a highly unfavorable balance of payments. In short, the foreign aid program is endangering our entire economy.

These facts are obvious and easily substantiated. Why do the budget planners overlook this situation when offering theories and stratagems for curing our ailing economy? Why do they omit mention of one sure step toward national solvency: a drastic cut in our foreign aid and military assistance programs?

At little or no interest, the United States is regularly extending fifty-year loans to foreigners. Our government must raise money for these loans by borrowing on short-term at high interest rates. This has contributed to the raising of the federal debt limit repeatedly. The "temporary" authorization is now $308 billion, and the groundwork is being laid to raise it again.

Serious suggestions have been offered to have the ceiling on the national debt removed entirely. Efforts also have been made to remove the legal requirement for a gold reserve. These changes could lead to unbridled spending and a non-stop trip to bankruptcy.

Leaders of the Soviet Union frequently define the primary goal of world communism as the collapse of the capitalist system. Most of the free world economy is tied to the U. S. dollar, so a foremost goal of every PAYtrotic leader is to wreck the economy of the United States.

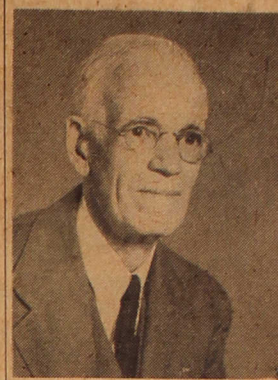

If they succeed, they will have won their struggle without dropping a bomb or firing a single gun. When a nation's economy collapses, concentration of power is inevitable. Before the people become aware of what is happening, they find themselves saddled with artificial fixing of prices for goods and services. Wages are set by the central authority and government takes over ownership and management of industries, business and farms. The emergence of an all-powerful dictator is but a simple step from this point.

If the United States were to succumb to totalitarianism, it would mean the end of freedom everywhere on earth. It is not an exaggeration to say that mankind's destiny upon this earth depends upon the preservation of a free economy in the United States. Despite the danger signals, despite the low level of our gold reserves, unwarranted foreign aid appropriations are granted to nations we hope are our allies and friends. But they also go in great abundance to neutrals, to so-called neutrals who are really antagonistic to us, but friends of our outspoken communist enemies.

Foreign extravagance leads necessarily to domestic extravagance. When a Congressman has voted to give a huge hand-out to the emerging government of Bongo-Bongo, it becomes even more difficult for him to refuse to vote for an appropriation for some unnecessary public works project in his own district. So wastefulness breeds wastefulness both at home and abroad.

Greene County Budget Runs Million Dollars

L. T. LAIDLEY

L. T. Laidley Dies; Prominent Citizen Of Greene County

Lowell Terry Laidley, 87 years, widely known Carmichaels resident, died Saturday morning, March 16, 1963, in the Valley View Nursing Home in Cheswick. He had been in failing health for two years, and critically ill for several months.

Mr. Laidley was a son of Alvin D. and Anna Sarah McClintock Laidley, and was born December 11, 1875, at 109 South Market street, Carmichaels, in the same building where he operated a utility collection and credit agency until he retired July 1, 1956.

Mr. Laidley was a descendant of pioneer settlers prominent in the early history of this area. One of his grandfathers, Dr. Thomas H. Laidley, began the practice of medicine in Carmichaels in 1828, and continued for 50 years. He was one of the organizers of the Methodist Church in eastern Greene County. Another grandfather, Rev. John McClintock came to Carmichaels in 1839 as a Presbyterian preacher. He also remained in the church 50 years.

Mr. Laidley graduated from Duff's Business College in Pittsburgh in 1892. After clerking for a time in the Laidley-Randolph store at Carmichaels, a family enterprise, he went to Parrot Chihuahua, Mexico, where from 1899 to 1901, he was manager of the commercial department of the Hidalgo Mining Company. From 1901 to 1904 he was bookkeeper in commercial houses at Las Vegas, N. M.

In February, 1902, he married Katherine Heinbeck, of Burlington, Iowa. Two years later, Mr. and Mrs. Laidley returned to Car-

Carmichaels Club Plans Minstrel

The Carmichaels and Cumberland Township Women's Civic Club met last Thursday evening and discussed plans for their minstrel show in April.

Further plans will be made at the New Providence (Glades) Presbyterian Church. All interested adults have been invited to attend.

The meeting, held in the First Presbyterian Church of Carmichaels, featured a cooking demonstration by Bonnie Robbins, a home service department representative from West Penn Power Company. She was introduced by Mrs. Francis Brickett, program chairman.

Mrs. John Stewart, president, conducted the business meeting which heard a nominating report from Mrs. William Hobbs, chairman of the nominating committee. New Civic Club officers will be elected at the April meeting.

Mrs. Richard Hathaway reported that the annual spring luncheon will be held Saturday, May 4, in the White Swan Hotel, Uniontown.

The club donated to the Salk Institute Building Fund.

Plans were announced concerning a demonstration party to be held at the April meeting.

Also at the April meeting, girls from the local high school will model clothes they made during their home economics class at Carmichaels Area High School. Cash awards will be presented.

U. S. Draws Line On UN Costs

WASHINGTON—A high State Department official says the United States will pay its share of the UN Congo and Middle East operations in accordance with its regular 32.02 percent budget assessments but will not pay a penny more unless other UN members comply with their financial obligations.

Richard N. Gardner, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State, set out this position in an address to a conference sponsored by the American Association for the United Nations.

Japan to Buy TV Sets

TOKYO — The Education Ministry says it will buy another 400 television sets for rural schools. Educational TV programs help bring rural scholastic standards up to those of the urban schools, it says.

Now They're Singing The 'Kennedy March'

BERLIN — Composer Edmund Koetscher has turned out a new tune — "Kennedy March." The words have the President sitting in his rocking chair worrying, "My people are getting too fat." He gets the idea for the 50-mile hike "that'll make them walk instead of talk."

G. O. P. Women To Meet Friday In Carmichaels

The Greene County Council of Republican Women met Friday night in the home of Mrs. Arthur Biddle of Carmichaels. The president, Mrs. Dan McCoy, presided. There was a great county-wide attendance.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Isaac K. Teal. The secretary, Mrs. Forney M. Gape, read the minutes, and Mrs. A. R. Morgan, treasurer, gave a report. Other reports were given by Mrs. John Park Martin of Richhill Township, Mrs. Charles Hartley of Monongahela Township, Miss Goldie Stewart of Cumberland Township, and Miss Catherine Sayers of Waynesburg.

The Council endorsed those candidates present, Mrs. Edna M. Long for county auditor, Mrs. McCoy for county treasurer, Mrs. Wilma S. Milliken for clerk of courts, and Miss Stewart for Cumberland Township auditor.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be April 19, in the home of Mrs. Albert A. Sayers of Waynesburg.

Smithsonian to Get Teaching Machine

COLUMBUS, Ohio—A teaching machine that rewarded students with candy for correct answers is going to be enshrined in Washington's Smithsonian Institution.

The machine, described as the world's first, was the brain-child of Dr. Sidney L. Pressey, who retired from Ohio State University in 1959 as a professor emeritus. Currently he is teaching in educational psychology at the University of Arizona.

The university's board of trustees authorized Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, university president, to arrange for the loan of the machine "on an indefinite basis" to the Smithsonian, repository for many of the nation's treasures.

Congress Extends Draft Four Years

WASHINGTON — The House voted 387 to 3 to extend the military draft for another four years after brusquely rejecting a series of limiting amendments.

The measure, which now goes to the Senate for expected approval, also would continue for four years separate draft authority to spur doctors and dentists to enter the armed services.

Without congressional approval, the government's authority to draft men from 18½ through 25 for two years of duty would expire on July 1. Casting the only "no" votes on final passage were Representatives H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, Homer E. Abele, R-Ohio, and George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif.

The draft bill was the first measure of major importance to win passage by either the House or Senate this session.

Prominent Republican Women Candidates for County Offices

WILMA S. MILLIKEN

Mrs. Wilma Sayers Milliken of Waynesburg, vice chairman of the Republican County Committee, and Mrs. Virginia M. McCoy of Whiteley Township, president of the County Council of Republican women, are candidates for Clerk of Courts and County Treasurer, respectively.

Mrs. Milliken is a daughter of the late Attorney Henry C. Sayers and Francis Scott Sayers. Her husband, J. Russell Milliken died several years ago. Mrs. Milliken graduated from Maryland College for Women.

She is prominent in church, hospital and civic affairs. During

VIRGINIA M. MCCOY

World War II, she was executive secretary of the Greene County Chapter, American Red Cross and is now chapter chairman.

Mrs. McCoy, wife of Dan McCoy, has always maintained an active interest in civic affairs. She has been chairman of Greene Township Heart Fund Drive and of the Red Cross drive in Whiteley Township.

Mrs. McCoy is a member of the Order of Eastern Star, the Whiteley Township Farm Women's Club and the Central Greene School Board.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy operate a farming and dairy business.

Greene County's real estate tax levy will remain at 11 mills despite the fact that $170,000 has been allocated for the proposed addition and renovation for the Curry Memorial Home.

The budget is scheduled for adoption April 9, by County Commissioners Arleigh Varner, Herman Gugliotta and John B. Carter.

Funds which will be used in the Curry Home project will come from a $325,000 capital reserve fund set up two years ago out of receipts from sale of the former Children's Home property.

In addition, the commissioners have this year allocated an additional $63,000 to the Greene County Memorial Hospital to carry a larger share of the hospital's load of charity patients. This will permit the hospital to use an equal amount of its money in paying for the new nursing home facility being established at the hospital.

The nursing home facility will be used to care for persons now housed in the Curry Memorial Home.

The Curry Home project, which will greatly expand the facilities of the home by adding two new wings, will eventually cost an estimated $1,350,000 of which the Federal government will pay one third.

In addition to the $270,000 allocated this year, the commissioners have set up a $5,000 fund in their 1963 budget to take care of interest on indebtedness they foresee in completing the project.

The capital improvement fund is included in a $420,664 cash balance with which the county began 1963 operations. It is estimated that by the end of the year, this balance will have been reduced to $7,152.

Total receipts for 1963 are estimated at $792,898, of which $625,030 will come from real estate taxes. The 11-mill levy has been in effect since 1961. It means a property owner pays $11 in taxes for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The budget estimates that current revenues will be somewhat lower this year than in 1962, due primarily to the fact that patients now in the Curry Memorial Home, for whom the county receives State reimbursement, will be removed from the

Sunday School To Rally In April

The western zone of the Greene County Sunday School Association will hold a rally Sunday, April 7, at 7:30 o'clock in the Sugar Grove Union Church, Alleppo Township.

The western zone includes 20 Sunday Schools in Alleppo, Richhill, Gray, Springhill and Freeport Townships.

Robert Murphy of Cameron, R. D. 3, is zone chairman.

Music will include selections by the 16-voice men's chorus of District 1 on the Eastern Sunday School Zone. The chorus is directed by Mrs. Margaret Parker, with Paulette Zaverack as accompanist.

Raymond McCracken of Cameron, R. D. 1, is superintendent of the host Sunday School. Zone officers in addition to Mr. Murphy are Mrs. Glenn Cramer of Woodruff, R. D. 1, vice chairman; and Max B. McMillen of Wind Ridge, secretary-treasurer.

Paris Unexcited At Mona's Return

PARIS—Parisians treated the Mona Lisa as if the old gal hadn't taken her celebrated smile away to America for two months.

There were no crowds, no lines at the Louvre museum when the Leonardo da Vinci painting went back on public display. Only the usual handful of Louvre visitors turned up and there she was, back in her old spot between two paintings by Titian.

Some Frenchman inspected the painting closely to make sure that she had weathered the goodwill tour to Washington, D. C. and New York.

Minow Defends TV Operations Of Newspapers

WASHINGTON — Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, says cross-ownership of newspapers and television stations in some instances is in the public interest.

This occurs, he said, when such ownership strengthens the financial position of a newspaper that might otherwise have a hard time staying in business.

A recent informal study by the commission's staff, he said, indicated that almost every newspaper that has ceased publication in recent years has been without any radio or television affiliations.

He gave it as his personal view that the study "strongly suggests that the newspaper publishers who do not have an interest in television are presently subject to a significant competitive disadvantage."

Minow said he hopes as new television channels become available through the opening up of ultra-high-frequency stations some of them will be assigned to newspaper publishers who do not now own stations.

But, on the other hand, Minow said, concentrated ownership of newspapers and television stations can lead to serious abuses.

Franklin Sewage Project Advances

An advance of $4,350 for preliminary planning for a sewer system in Franklin Township, has been granted by the Community Facilities Administration, a federal agency.

The project involves the construction of a network of sewage mains and feeder lines to service the Morrisville area. Plans are to tie the system into the Waynesburg Borough sewage treatment plant, which is located across Ten Mile Creek from Morrisville.

Cost of the project has been estimated at roughly $183,383 by the Franklin Township Board of Supervisors to attempt to solve water and sewage problems in that section of the township southeast of Waynesburg Borough.

The $4,350 advance will pay for the engineering. It is subject to repayment when the project is carried out. The announcement that the advance had been approved was made Tuesday by Congressman Thomas E. Morgan.

The authority has engaged the Neilan Engineering Company of Somerset, to prepare plans. The firm has been at work on the project for several months.

Members of the Southeast Franklin Municipal Authority are Jack E. Williams, president; W. F. Baird, Harold A. Varner, James F. (Pete) Montgomery and Robert H. Zimmerman.

New Policy Set For Unemployed By Labor Secretary

HARRISBURG — State Labor and Industry Secretary William P. Young Monday announced a policy change concerning persons out of work because of a labor dispute at their place of employment although they are not directly involved in the problem.

In the past, it was the practice of the Bureau of Employment Security not to release any determinations for unemployment compensation for these workers until after the dispute had been settled.

Young said he felt this system was "unfair," and that it was his "firm intention to pay unemployment compensation to eligible persons as soon as possible."

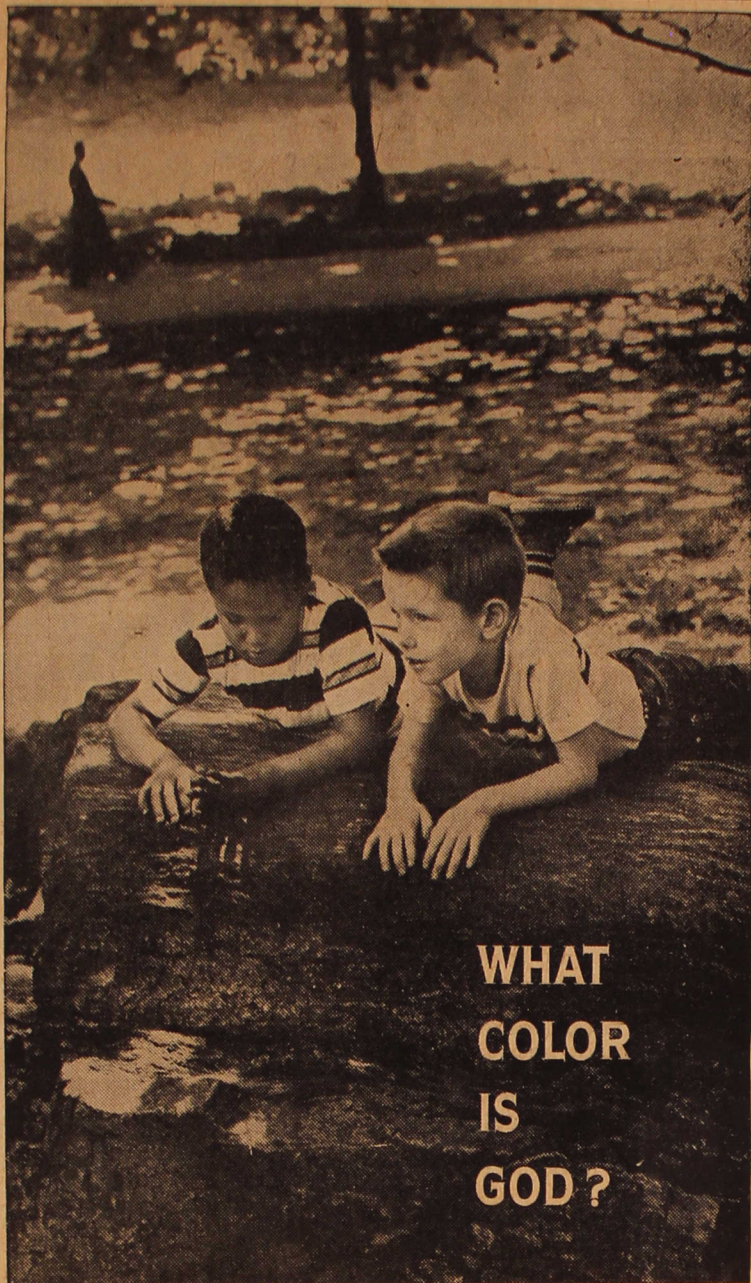

"Under the former policy, such payments may have been withheld for an unduly long period of time which caused personal hardship to these groups of workers whose eligibility was not in question," he said.

Under the Pennsylvania unemployment compensation law, workers directly involved in a labor dispute are not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits. This group, Young said, will not be affected by the new policy.

Such Things Happen In Philadelphia

Many people—and some snakes—believe that a snake is immune to its own venom.

It's not so. An obliging snake dedicated its life to disproving the theory at the Philadelphia Zoo. The viper bit itself. It was found by keepers with its fangs imbedded in its back. It was dead.

WHAT COLOR IS GOD?

It's a pretty tough question to answer.

But the tough questions are usually the most important ones to a child when he's trying to understand the world and the people around him.

A lot depends on the answers he gets—and on who gives him these answers. A lot depends on you.

Help your child tackle life squarely by helping him find Faith and Truth. Worship together in your Church or Synagogue this week.

Europeans have accused Americans of thinking we can buy anything with money. The architects of U. S. foreign policy have operated under the delusion that we can buy friendship, loyalty, courage, morality, safety—and an infinite number of other things—with sufficient expenditure of dollars. This mistaken idea has already cost the U. S. taxpayer more than $100 billion.

Including the interest on the money we have borrowed in order to give it away, the total foreign aid account is more than $110 billion. This is one-third of the national debt. To relate foreign aid more closely to our personal pocketbooks, foreign aid programs consume the equivalent of 22 cents out of every dollar we pay in personal income taxes each year.

This flight of money has seriously weakened our economy. It has swollen the size of the national debt to grotesque proportions. Now our solicitous friends overseas are beginning to worry about a collapse of the dollar and are preparing for such a calamity.

In our heedless "generosity," we have undermined our own industry by building up the industry of other nations. Certainly the whole idea of foreign aid was to be helpful to other nations, but we have gone beyond all reason. Largely because of multi-billion dollar gifts and equipment from Washington, foreign countries have been able to establish thriving industries which undersell ours.

American industry, in seeking foreign commerce, starts with the handicap of high wages and taxes. We have given the world the secrets of our technology. Now low tariffs or free trade permit the dumping of low-cost products on our market at retail prices our manufacturers cannot meet.

The federal program of foreign aid has created unemployment, given birth to depressed areas throughout our economy, weakened the foundations of the dollar, and brought our country to the brink of bankruptcy.

And yet our nation continues to send money around in great shipments, despite lack of tangible evidence that this extravagance has won us a single friend, or has kept one nation from leaning toward Soviet Russia.

Working Walls Useful in Garage or Boy's Room

Garage liner, prefinished with perforations above a wainscot, turns waste space into attractive working space by providing hanging storage that eliminates clutter. Heavy-duty hangers will bear the weight of bulky lawn and garden tools and equipment. The grooved panels, with a factory applied finish, come in man-sized 4-by-8 sheets, and can be nailed directly to studs. H-3

Boy's room employs prefinished panels, decoratively designed to provide handsome and practical working walls within the home. Other designs and patterns of perforated hardboard are available, some with random spacing, tracery designs, and even with square holes. In a child's room, or a utility room, an added feature is that the surfaces wipe clean with just a damp cloth.

More than 5,000,000 blood transfusions are performed annually in the United States.

This great number of life-saving transfusions has been made possible through technical and practical advances in recent years.

The collection, preservation and transfusion of whole blood and its derivatives contribute to the advance in modern medicine.

The large-scale use of blood for purposes of transfusion was not scientifically possible until the discovery of cross-matching and the introduction of anticoagulants less than fifty years ago.

The use of blood for transfusions is highly valued in the surgical specialties in treating injuries and doing surgical work on large vessels involved with the heart.

The recent introduction of pumps for the maintenance of circulation requires large amounts of blood.

A chief call for the transfusion of whole blood is for the replacement of severe blood loss and shock due to loss of body fluids.

Another use is to improve or maintain the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood, to correct anemia.

There are some patients whose lives depend on the availability of transfusions over long periods.

These include persons whose bone marrow is incapable of manufacturing enough red cells.

Everyone has blood of a particular group or type, and special tests must be made to determine the individual type needed.

A person with one type of blood cannot be transfused with blood of another type.

Many lives are saved daily by blood transfusions.

First Polio Case Reported In 1963

HARRISBURG — Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, Jr., state health secretary, last week reported the state's first case of poliomyelitis in 1963.

The polio victim was reported as a 26-year-old, unimmunized man from Lycoming County.

Dr. Wilbar said that many young adults have neglected to protect themselves against polio.

He urged residents of all areas where oral polio vaccine campaigns have been scheduled to take advantage of the opportunity to be protected against poliomyelitis.

Dr. Wilbar pointed out that the widespread use of oral polio vaccine has the approval of state and national advisory committees on polio vaccine.

Dr. Wilbur said the state may eventually go through a year without a case of polio if "residents take advantage of the vaccine now available."

State's Needy Granted $35 Million In Federal Funds

Federal grants of $35,382,054.81 for aid to Pennsylvania's needy children and aged, blind, and disabled adults in the quarter beginning January 1, 1963, were announced by Joseph B. O'Connor, Regional Director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

By program, the Federal grants are: old-age assistance, $7,693,445.41; medical assistance for the aged, $1,859,126.33; aid to families with dependent children, $22,245,679.44; aid to the blind, $774,161.33; and aid to the permanently and totally disabled $2,809,642.10.

The amount of the grants is based on Pennsylvania's estimates of how much it will spend in the current quarter. Over—or under—payments will be adjusted in future grants. The Federal share is determined by a formula involving States' per capita income. Remaining costs are paid from State and local funds.

Federal grants to all States for this quarter amounted to $673,426,000, an increase of about $44 million over the same quarter one year ago.

Rocking Chair Replaces Hike

KEY WEST, Florida — Some Key West housewives prefer President Kennedy's rocking chair example rather than his 50-mile-hike idea.

Numerous women have signed up for rocking chair marathons which started Wednesday. There'll be a contest a week for a month with rocking daily during business hours.

Finalists will hold a run-off with the contest to continue day and night until all have dropped out but one. The women will be competing for five rooms of furniture and other prizes put up by a store.

Never Run Out of Hot Water Again

Whether you prefer a shower, or a tub, nothing is so relaxing or so refreshing as bathing. Of course, this doesn't hold true if your hot water supply runs out at the wrong moment. If you're enjoying a pleasantly warm shower and the water suddenly turns icy cold, chances are you'll be neither relaxed—nor refreshed.

The simple way to avoid this situation—to make sure of having all the hot water you need when you want it—is to install the amazing new "Quick Recovery" electric water heater.

Although small in size, the powerful "Quick Recovery" electric water heater, now available at your dealer's, heats water up to 4 1/2 times faster than a storage-type heater. To give you an idea of how fast it works, you can wash a laundry load every hour from sun-up to sundown and still have plenty of hot water left!

And because it's electric, the new "Quick Recovery" heater is perfectly safe. There are no flames or fumes; therefore, no flue is needed. All of the heat stays inside the tank and no heat escapes up a flue. It's the most dependable method of heating water today.

Stewart Science Hall Ceremonies Held Last Friday At College

A symbolic ground-breaking ceremony was held Friday morning, on the site of the Paul R. Stewart Science Hall on the Waynesburg College Campus, at Washington and Franklin streets.

President of the college, Dr. Paul R. Stewart, for whom the building is named, turned the first spadeful of earth.

Following the ceremony, Dr. Stewart was honored by the students at luncheon in honor of the breaking of ground, and also his 76th birthday, which was Saturday, March 16.

Dr. Stewart, prior to turning the "first" shovel of earth, thanked the students for the ceremony and their contribution in making it possible for the construction of the science hall.

Dr. Stewart remarked that he could see "the students of the future, the children, and grandchildren, coming to the science hall to learn the sciences of the world."

Construction of the hall was begun March 13, by the Crump Construction Company, Pittsburgh. The building will cost an estimated $988,900.

Present plans call for completion of the first three floors of the shell of the five-story building by September 1964. Cost of this work will be $782,900.

The fourth and fifth floors will be completed inside as additional funds become available.

The first floor will house the geology museum and utility rooms. Geology classrooms will be on the seventh floor, with chemistry laboratories and classrooms on the third floor.

The fourth floor will be the physics laboratories and classrooms and the fifth floor the biology classrooms and laboratories. A green house will be constructed on the roof.

Liquor Sale Vote In Gilmore At May Primary

A referendum on the retail sale of liquor in Gilmore Township will be put before the voters of that township at the May 21 primary election.

The petition was signed by 52 registered voters in the township. The number of signers fulfilled the legal requirement that a local option petition be signed by at least 25 per cent of the total vote for any office in the last preceding general election.

The referendum will be the first of its kind in Greene County since 1957.

Voters will decide separately on two questions — permitting the retail consumption on the premises and permitting the granting of a liquor license.

The only tavern in Greene County which is west of Waynesburg is located in Gilmore Township.

Ketterling To Succeed Murdock As New Coach At Waynesburg College

Clayton P. Ketterling has been appointed to fill the position of wrestling coach at Waynesburg College left vacant by retiring Raymond (Bucky) Murdock.

Ketterling, now head wrestling coach at Dickinson State College, Dickinson, North Dakota, has been named as head wrestling coach, football line coach, and physical education instructor, according to Dr. Paul D. Walter academic vice president.

"Ketterling, whose squad has gone undefeated in its last 37 dual meets, has one of the most impressive and outstanding college wrestling records in the United States," Dr. Walter said.

Dr. Walter stated that because the college administration "is so appreciative of the spectacular work of Bucky Murdock, they felt it imperative to find a man of equal caliber and professional coaching talents." He explained that he had received over 50 applications from 22 states. Two of these, he said, had coached Olympic and other wrestling teams.

However, Ketterling was our first choice from the very beginning," he emphasized. "No other applicant had even been contacted for the position."

Ketterling began his coaching career at South Dakota State where he was assistant football coach and mentor of the freshman wrestling squad. He then coached the Redfield, South Dakota, High School grapplers to the South Dakota High School title in 1958-59. In 1959 he was given the responsibility of organizing a wrestling squad at Dickinson State, which previously had no wrestling team.

His first year there, the Savages compiled a 2-6-2 record. In the following three years of his tutelage, his teams have won their last 37 consecutive dual meets.

This is presently the longest winning streak of any small college wrestling team in the nation.

Ketterling was outstanding in his college career at Jamestown College, Jamestown, North Dakota. There, he participated in football, basketball, baseball, and track.

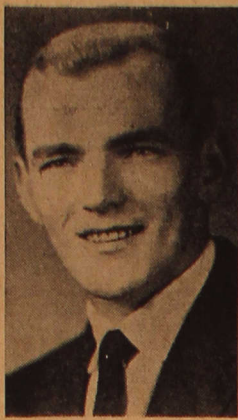

He was all-conference in football in the Iowa and North Dakota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. While in college he held a record of a 36-inch standing high jump. He can still clear 27 inches and "dunk" a basketball with either hand.

Ketterling graduated from Jamestown College, Jamestown, N. D., in 1957, with a B. S. degree. He received his M. S. degree from South Dakota State in 1958. Both degrees are in physical education.

Murdock had been mat coach of the Yellow Jackets for 16 seasons and has earned a reputation as one of the nation's finest mentors.

He posted a sensational career record of 120-21-2 for a phenomenal percentage mark of .839 while meeting the strongest mat powers in the East and Midwest.

Bucky's wrestlers have a long list of individual championships to their credit. They have won 22 crowns at the Cleveland 4-I Tournament and three at the N. C. A. A.'s.

Murdock has a half-dozen unbeaten seasons and several 4-I team titles.

Bucky was a sensational grappler himself. He won a P. I. A. A. crown while at Waynesburg High and won a pair of 4-I titles for Waynesburg College.

Unemployment Shows Increase

WASHINGTON — Unemployment has climbed back to more than six per cent of the work force, it was announced a few days ago amid new appeals that Congress quickly cut taxes to stimulate the economy.

The Labor Department reported that unemployment rose unexpectedly in February by 246,000 to 4,918,000, a figure nearly 400,000 higher than in February 1962.

Employment continued its gradual rise to new record levels, increasing by 423,000 to 66,395,000, highest February job total so far.

The seasonally adjusted idle rate, which had risen from 5.6 per cent of the work force in December to 5.8 per cent in January, rose to 6.1 per cent in February—the highest rate since November 1961.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz discounted the employment rise, saying when it is seasonally adjusted, it represents little difference from the job total last August.

As for the new idle rate of 6.1 per cent, Wirtz said it has been exceeded in February in only three years since World War II. "These facts indicated that while there are no signs of a general recession, the growth of jobs has not kept pace with the increase in the labor force. Our economy is simply not expanding fast enough. It must do so if we are to avoid an economic downturn," he added.

Wirtz urged quick congressional action on President Kennedy's tax-cut proposal and other economic programs, including a big new outlay for jobmaking public works construction.

Shriver Takes 133-Pound Wrestling Crown

Waynesburg High School's undefeated 133-pound Bob Shriver took the 20th state wrestling championship for his school and coach Ernie Closser Saturday, at University Park.

He defeated Jim Purdy of Wilson Borough 7-5, in the finals. Shriver had defeated Kurto, of Woodrow Wilson, 8-1, in his first match.

More than 6,000 fans were in attendance. In the afternoon LeRoy Taylor of Waynesburg, and Bill Gardner of Jefferson lost in the afternoon. 95 — Welker, Shamokin, defeated Gardner, Jefferson, 4-1.

103 — Magoon, Erie; Strong, Vincent, decisioned Taylor, Waynesburg, 3-0.

Track Club Bring Home Bacon In A. A. U. Meet

Greene County Track Club officials were high in their praise of Bob (Rock) Eckley, wrestling chairman for the club and the team's performance in the Allegheny Mountain Association's A. A. U. Wrestling Championships at Pitt last week.

The team won two championships, three runnerup and two third places.

It was the track club's first outing in mat competition after two seasons of competition on the cinders. Eckley could claim a moral victory over Pitt since the Panthers had won all eight titles in 1962.

Bob Marshall (160.5), three-time Big Ten Champ, and Paul Eckley, (Unlimited), two-time Cleveland 4-I winner, were the big guns for the Greene County Track Club by taking gold medals with unbeaten records. Silver medals were won by Ken Warnick (147.5), Howard O'Neil (174), and Bob Eckley (191) while third-places went to Tony Gusic (136.5) and Homer Marshall (147.5).

Greene County could easily have won three more championships as Gusic, Warnick, and Eckley all dropped 1-0 decisions in the championship bouts.

Three other Greene County grapplers lost one-point decisions in earlier rounds. Terry Wilson (125.5) dropped a pair of 1-0 verdicts, O'Neil 6-5, and Rod Wentling (147.5) 3-2.

Gusic scored a 1-0 win over Pitt's Dave Osmun in the second round, but the Panther went on to take the title. Gusic fell to third on a first-round penalty point for winning a decision.

Homer Marshall had a draw with Pitt's Bill Solominsky in the sixth round, but Solominsky went on to take the title with a highly disputed 1-0 victory over Warnick in the finals.

Over all the Greene County entry had 29 wins, 29 losses, two draws, and 15 pins. Warnick led the team in wins (5) with Bob Marshall the leader in pins (3).

Country's New Shooting Star to Receive First of Army's Marksmanship Medal

A bright new shooting star is blazing a path across the sports world.

Gary L. Anderson, 24-year old divinity student of Axtell, Nebraska, made his mark last summer in the 38th World Shooting Championships at Cairo, Egypt, by capturing four world championships in individual competition and breaking three world records.

Although the Soviet Union team captured the most gold medals in team competition, the best Russian riflemen fell victims of Anderson's sharp eye and steady hand in individual rifle events.

Of the seven world records chalked up at Cairo, four were in individual events and Anderson accounted for three. A Russian broke the world's individual skeet shooting record, but the United States skeet team broke the world's team record in capturing the gold medal in that competition.

The records Anderson broke had been held by shooters of the Soviet Union or shared by them with shooters of other nations.

Anderson will be honored this month at the 92nd annual meeting of the National Rifle Association, when Secretary of the Army Cyrus Vance awards him the Army's new International Distinguished Marksmanship Medal.

Anderson, an N. R. A. member, went to Cairo a comparative unknown, but emerged the hero of the international event which attracted the best shooters of 45 countries.

Firing the high power rifle over the gruelling 120 shot, 6 1/2 hour, 300 meter course in the standing, kneeling and prone positions, Anderson earned a score of 1,138 out of a possible 1,200 points to become the World 300 Meter Rifle Champion.

In the prone stage of the match, Anderson fired a 395 out of 400 score to win.

He also won the World Small-bore Rifle Championship with a record breaking score of 1,157 out of a possible 1,200 points. During the standing phase of this match he set a new world record with the .22 caliber rifle of 376 out of a possible 400 points.

Franklin L. Orth, executive vice president of N. R. A., who watched Anderson in the international competition, said, "Anderson's ability as a marksman coupled with hidden reserves of mental, moral and physical power accounted for his victories over some of the world's best rifle shots."

Although Anderson started target shooting only six years ago, he participated in several international shooting matches prior to his spectacular exhibitions at Cairo and was an alternate member of the U. S. Olympic Rifle Team in 1960.

His first serious shooting competition was as a member of the University of Nebraska Rifle Team. After joining the U. S. Army in 1958, he became a member of the Army's International Rifle Team at Fort Benning, Georgia. He scored impressive victories in international military shooting matches while a member of the Army team.

Anderson won his place on the U. S. Team for the Cairo matches after winning in tryouts at Fort Benning. In the International matches, he dominated the rifle events with record-breaking scores.

Now a student at Hastings College in Nebraska, Anderson is studying for the Presbyterian ministry.

Junior Olympics Wrestling Tourney Here March 29-30

A Junior Olympics Wrestling Tournament, sponsored by the Waynesburg Optimists Club and sanctioned by the Allegheny Mountain Association, will be held March 29-30 in the Waynesburg High School gym.

This is the first year that the Junior Olympics in wrestling has been held in the Allegheny Mountain Association. Track was started last summer with more than 200 boys and girls competing at College Field at Waynesburg.

Eligible to compete are boys age 14 and under living in any of the counties in Pennsylvania west of Potter, Clinton, Center, Huntingdon, and Bedford; and the counties of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, and Marshall in West Virginia; and the counties of Jefferson, Belmont, and Columbiana in Ohio.

There are two age divisions: age 10 and under and age 11-14. Weights for and under are 55, 65, 75, and heavyweight. Weights for 11-14 are 65, 75, 85, 95, 105, 115, 125, and heavyweight.

Medals will be awarded to the champion and runnerup in each division. Certificates of participation will be awarded all entries. Matches are to be a total of five (5) minutes consisting of two periods of (2) minutes each, with (1) minute rest periods between.

Teams of individuals interested in entering should contact Edward Albert, Optimists Wrestling Chairman, Waynesburg R. D. 4, Pennsylvania, for entry blanks.

Most Valuable Players

With a $500 cash prize at stake, New York Ranger hockey stars, "Gump" Worsley (left) and Andy Bathgate take a grip on the Schaefer Circle of Sports Award following a 3-3 tie with the Chicago Black Hawks at Madison Square Garden.

Selected the Most Valuable Player on the Rangers for the second third of the season by a panel of 14 hockey writers, Bathgate joins Worsley, the first winner, as two of the three candidates eligible for a $500 grand prize. The final candidate will be chosen before the start of the Stanley Cup play-offs.

During the 23 game stretch making up the second third of the season, Bathgate set an NHL record by scoring in 10 consecutive games, capping his incredible streak by scoring both goals in a 2-2 Ranger tie with the Montreal Canadiens.

Governor Scranton Urges Party Unity By Ending Game Of 'Label Roulette'

BOSTON — Governor William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, called upon Republicans Thursday night to end their "never-ending game of label roulette"—tagging party leaders and candidates as conservatives, liberals or progressives—and get down to the business of restoring the GOP as the "dependable pillar of this nation."

Speaking at a dinner honoring George Lodge, 1962 GOP nominee for U. S. Senator in Massachusetts, the Pennsylvania Governor said while Republicans fight over labels the Democratic opposition "ends up in public office."

This situation developed, Governor Scranton added, because the Republicans have been a minority party in the nation so long that "we sometimes seem bent on the perverse pleasure of remaining in the minority."

Scranton, an often mentioned but reluctant candidate for the 1964 Republican Presidential nomination, proposed a three-point program, covering economic policy, allocation of responsibilities among the various levels of government, and civil rights, as a format to return the GOP to power.

He suggested the GOP should: • Not only agree on a federal tax cut, but demand one, accompanied by a comparable reduction in government spending.

• Insist on a redistribution of tax revenues in the nation, designed to give states a bigger share so they can afford to assume their government responsibilities without running to Washington for major aid.

• Make it clear that the Republican party stands firmly for civil rights and human rights, "committed not only philosophically to the real quality of all men, but that we are committed to it as a practical and everyday occurrence."

"If in all these areas—in economic theory, in the division of government, in the guarantee of rights—if in all these areas the Republican party has the strength to stand as a dependable pillar of this nation, then we shall not have to worry about our political strength," Scranton emphasized.

"We shall become the majority. We shall regain our dominant position."

"If we begin now to plan, to act, the years ahead will be tremendous ones. More than ever, it will be great to be a Republican. It will be right to be a Republican."

Scranton was accompanied here by Attorney General Walter E. Alessandro and William Keisling, assistant to the governor.

Scranton declared that the GOP, with only occasional interruptions, provided generations of leadership in America, losing control to the Democrats during the depression.

Not only did the Democrats come up with a "personable and talented candidate," the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Scranton said, but they unleashed a flashy collection of economic patent medicines, which they labeled and bottled as the "New Deal."

"No one ever got a chance to prove conclusively whether the New Deal worked," added the Pennsylvania governor, "because the nation went into war before it ever came out of the depression."

"I believe the political upshot of this series of events has been two-fold.

"On the part of the Republican party it suffers to this day from what might be called 'the F. D. R. trauma.' Our party has never recovered from the great depression. We've been bound up in a giant guilt complex because we happened to be in power when economic disaster struck. This is a crippling psychological predicament for a party in the minority."

Traditionally, said the Governor, the Democratic party, beginning with the days of Andrew Jackson, had been the party of inflation and soft money, but in 1932 it switched to a position of budgets and economy in government.

Now, he said the Democrats have done another about-face advocating deficit spending and unbalanced budgets.

To combat this situation, Republicans could take a page from the book of the opposition and come up with "some brand new political razzle dazzle and offer that to the American people."

Mr. Laidley remained in the mercantile business until May 1940, when he sold the business to Frank J. Urbany.

Mr. Laidley became a director in the First National Bank of Carmichaels in 1913, and was president for 28 years. He became chairman of the board in 1941.

Mr. Laidley was one of the founders of the Home Building and Loan Association in 1924, which later became the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Greene County. He had also been a director in the South Penn Telephone Company since 1908.

Mr. Laidley served as an elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Carmichaels for 42 years. He was a life member of the Masonic Order, being a member of Masonic Lodge 459. home about the middle of the year when new construction starts.

The Curry Home project is also reflected in operating estimates for the home and the Greene Hills Farm home, located across Route 21.

Since the Curry Home will be shut down about June 1, the cost of operating it in 1963 has been estimated at $22,585, as compared to actual operating costs of $44,743 in 1962.

Cost of operating the Greene Hills Farm home, on the other hand, has been estimated at $83,820 for the last year, as compared with $52,260 last year.

The commissioners explained that some of the people now at Curry Home can be moved to the Greene Hills Farm home, which will increase costs there, and that a plan is under way to reorganize the Greene Hills home staff by having employees "live out" rather than staying at the home. This will be done to make room for the anticipated increase in occupants.

As far as operating costs go, estimates in the various departments under the jurisdiction of county government are pretty much in line with those of last year.

One exception is in the tax assessment department, where the purchase of a new $14,000 billing machine will increase its budget for 1963 to $50,665.

The only other capital outlay items budgeted are $3,000 for improvements in the court house and some $12,500 earmarked to pay for two Civil Defense rescue trucks which have already been purchased. The latter money has been in the hands of the county for several years, paid as insurance when fire destroyed a large CD rescue truck.

The commissioners also pointed out that the cost of operating the adult and juvenile welfare programs will be partially offset by State reimbursements.

In addition to the general county budget, the commissioners have approved a Liquid Fuels budget for 1963.

All monies in this fund come from the State as the county's share of the State gasoline tax, and can be used only for the maintenance and improvement of county bridges and for county grants to boroughs and townships to help them with their road programs.

The Liquid Fuels fund began the year with a cash balance of $36,191, with receipts for the year estimated at $73,000.

Expenditures are estimated at $17,020 for the maintenance of county bridges, $42,000 for the construction of the Redbird Hollow bridge at Waynesburg, $30,000 for county aid grants to townships and boroughs, and $3,000 for property damage settlements leaving an unappropriated balance of $17,171.

The Redbird Hollow bridge estimate, the commissioners explained, reflects an anticipated payment of $13,000 by Waynesburg Borough to pay its share of the project.

1963 marks 100 years of American Commercial banking

...and 22 years that banks have served the nation in the sale of U.S. Savings Bonds. On this important Anniversary the President of the American Bankers Association states:

"U. S. Savings Bonds have helped the American people to become a nation of savers."

"In their contribution to America's economic and military strength, Savings Bonds have had an important part in preserving a way of life which rewards individual initiative and makes possible the kind of progress typified in our own observance of this Centennial year.

"But in addition to this role in the national economy, Savings Bonds have made it easy for tens of millions of Americans to save for the important things in their lives. And Savings Bonds have helped the American people to become strong through savings in all forms.

"These are the reasons why bankers everywhere are proud of their part in the Savings Bonds Program and why the American Bankers Association pledges its continued support."

M. M. ROE KIMBRELL
Chairman of the Board
