Farmers Warned On Kennedy's New Frontier

The New Frontier is attempting to lead American agriculture further and further into the web of government control, the publisher of the Farm Journal charged in Pittsburgh a few days ago.

"Washington has our hats, our coats, our shirts and is now hell-bent on wearing the pants," said Richard J. Babcock. His speech, "The Fight for the Right to Decide," was delivered at a Penn-Sheraton Hotel luncheon of the Rotary Club of Pittsburgh.

Babcock declared: "Since the mid-Thirties, agriculture and the government have been engaged in a constant coldwar struggle over who shall control the nation's biggest business—the government bureaucrats or the farmers who own it."

"Early last year Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and company turned it into a red-hot pitched battle."

Babcock charged the administration with offering Congress an agricultural master plan that would have put farmers under compulsory controls, with the secretary of agriculture "calling the shots."

As time for the bill vote neared, pressure on legislators grew, Babcock said. "The President kept the phones busy applying every bit of pressure he could—promising, threatening, cajoling. It was an unparalleled power display aimed at a big power grab." The bill was defeated June 21.

"The powers that be haven't changed their minds one whit," Babcock said. "Just their tactics. Their aim is the same. They still want to take over and run America's biggest, most basic business."

He told the Rotarians free enterprise remains the key to agricultural progress. Even in Russia, he said, some farmers have been allowed private plots to raise crops for market.

"These plots account for three per cent of Russia's farm land. Yet, in this tiny fraction of her total, are produced 46 per cent of Russia's meat, 49 per cent of her milk, 50 per cent of her green vegetables, 65 per cent of her potatoes and 80 per cent of her eggs."

Babcock also predicted farmers will defeat the administration's wheat control program in a nationwide referendum May 21. Strong opposition, he said, will come from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Contracts Let For Waynesburg Armory Repairs

The General State Authority awarded $109,628 in contracts Tuesday for renovation and electrical work at National Guard armories in Waynesburg, Oil City, Scottsdale and Mt. Pleasant.

The projects, all similar, involve modernization of electrical systems, and construction of new fire escapes, metal stairs and railings, metal doors, enclosed stairways, additional exits and other structural revisions needed to meet safety standards of the labor and industry department.

Contracts awarded for the Waynesburg Armory went to Fairchance Lumber Company, Fairchance, Pa., $26,750 for general construction, and $14,543 to a Johnstown firm for electrical work.

Wins Sheep Fitting Award at Penn State

Robert C. Andrew of Nineveh, R. D. 1, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Andrew, was named champion sheep fitter at the recent 46th annual exhibition of the Little International Livestock at University Park, where he is attending Pennsylvania State University.

Students competed for showmanship and fitting awards in 20 classes of swine, sheep, beef cattle and horses.

Greene County Commissioners have been notified that the U. S. Public Health Service has approved a grant of $400,000 to aid in the cost of altering and enlarging Curry Memorial Home near Waynesburg. This sum will be approximately one-third of the cost.

The commissioners will now ask for bids. The project calls for construction of two wings and renovation of the present building. This will increase the bed capacity from 34 to 102.

Estimated cost of the project is $1,350,000.

The commissioners have set aside $325,000 from the sale of the Children's Home to the state, to apply to the Curry Home project. This amount, with the $400,000 Federal grant, will leave about $625,000 to be financed by the county. This would be done by a loan to be repaid over a period of time.

The expansion of the Curry Home and the establishment of a 28-bed nursing wing in Greene County Memorial Hospital, now nearing completion, are part of the county's plan to aid men and women who are dependent on the county for nursing home care. Patients in the Curry Home will soon be transferred to the hospital to evacuate the home for alterations and the building program.

When the Curry Home is completed persons in Greene Hill Farm, just across Route 21, will be transferred there, allowing the county to abandon that building.

After county institutions are raised to meet new state requirements, the county will be eligible to receive nursing care grants and other monies under state programs.

Dog's Howls Reveal Spy's Bugging Device

WASHINGTON—The State Department disclosed Saturday "the case of the howling dog," in which a U. S. electronic counter-spy uncovered an eavesdropping device planted in the home of an American diplomat overseas.

The department gave this account:

The department's most experienced electronic security specialist was inspecting the residence of a U. S. military attaché recently and "became disturbed by the howling and whining" of the U. S. officer's dog.

The dog was "obviously in pain and appeared to be in heated combat with an invisible enemy in a corner of the room." The security man stopped to investigate.

The investigator soon found that the parquet floor on which the dog was standing showed signs of recent tampering. Pulling up the parquet slabs, he uncovered the FM radio "which was transmitting to a distant eavesdropper all the conversations held in the room."

U. S. experts found that the small FM device was turned on and off by a sound control signal too high-pitched for detection by the human ear—but "disturbing, if not painful, to a dog."

John F. Reilly, State Department deputy secretary for security, declined to say where the bugging incident occurred.

The incident was related in "Department of State, 1963," a booklet issued by the department as a report on its activities.

Miss de Graaf's father is a wine merchant. She has three brothers and four sisters. Her mother runs the household.

Greene Units To Operate On $600,000

It will cost approximately $600,000 to operate borough and township governments in Greene County this year, according to a study of municipal budgets.

It is estimated that real estate and occupation levies in the 20 different townships should produce about $478,015. The same revenues from the six boroughs should total $109,900.

Assessed values for real estate levies in the county amount to $58,022,672. Occupation taxes are based on valuations totaling $1,391,675.00.

At least six municipalities have inflated minor decreases in real estate millage since last year, the study shows.

Book Brings $525

AMSTERDAM—An art book described as the biggest in the world—7 feet by 3 feet—has been unveiled here. It has only five pages—three of stained plastic glass, and two of printed pages—and was sold for $5,225.

Many Candidates Vie In Tuesday's Primary

State Democrat Registration Edge Slipping

HARRISBURG.—A trend toward increased Democratic voter registration margins over Republicans has reversed since last fall, State Elections Bureau figures for the May primary showed Friday.

Official figures from all 67 counties showed that the Democratic margin over Republicans was pared from 195,935 for the November 6 election to 85,225 for the municipal primary.

Total Republican registration for the primary is 2,624,370. Total Democratic registration is 2,709,585.

Republicans held the state voter registration lead through the 1960 presidential primary. However, Democrats moved to a lead of nearly 3,000 voters for the presidential election that year.

The Democrats increased that margin every election through last November when Republican William W. Scranton was elected by a landslide margin of more than 470,000 votes.

Total registration for the primary is 5,402,739, compared to 5,673,497 last fall. Traditionally spring registration is below fall registration.

The total registration figure included non-partisan and splinter party voters.

The key statistic in the registration figures is the margin between the respective parties. After taking their lead in the fall of 1960, the Democrats pushed their registration margin up to some 120,000 for the 1961 municipal primary—just two years ago.

The Republican swing back into power—discounted by some Democrats as a personal victory for Scranton—apparently wiped out more than two years of Democratic organizational effort to fatten the party's voter registration margin.

Central Greene Hires 5 Teachers For District

First reading of the 1963-64 budget for the Central Greene School District was heard at the meeting Tuesday night.

The sum of $642,697 is anticipated from real estate taxes, $27,086 from the per capita levy and $569,760 from state sources.

Expenditures are estimated at $1,294,117. This is about $35,000 more than last year, and is due to hiring several more teachers.

The board expects to purchase three houses below Waynesburg High School building, to be used for expansion.

Five teachers were employed by the board. They are: Mrs. Katherine Toothman of Waynesburg, home economics; Peter J. Jachour of Waynesburg, French; Mrs. Juanita Hopes Sandusky of Jefferson, librarian; two others, Mrs. Joan Nuss Brown of Waynesburg, and Mrs. Phyllis Ruth McCall of Ann Arbor, Mich., a former teacher at Kirby, are yet to be assigned.

Gulf Oil Gift To College

The Biology Department of Waynesburg College has received a gift of $1,000 from the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Edward L. Butcher, secretary of the Gulf's Education Committee, presented the gift to Dr. Paul R. Stewart, president, and Dr. Charles L. Bryner, chairman of the science department, at a luncheon on May 7.

Waynesburg will use the gift to purchase a micro-projector to be used in biology laboratories. The micro-projector will make it possible to project microslides onto a screen.

Nominations for judge of the State Superior Court, and nominations for all court offices with the exception of judge and sheriff, are at stake in Tuesday's primary election.

Harold L. Ervin of Delaware County, and J. Colvin Wright of Bedford County, Republican incumbents on the Superior Court, are again seeking nomination.

Democrats J. Sydney Hoffman of Philadelphia County, and Paul W. Mahady of Westmoreland County, are running for nomination on both tickets.

Each party is to nominate two candidates for Greene County Commissioners.

Republican candidates, as they appear in the order on the ballot, are: Jack Wright of Franklin Township, Michael Lucas of Carmichaels, Edward Albert of Franklin Township, Charles W. Van Druff of Waynesburg, Roy E. Hartley of Franklin Township, William Parry of Aleppo Township, and E. Bryan Jacobs of Waynesburg.

Virginia M. McCoy of Whiteley Township, is the Republican candidate for County Treasurer.

Democrats seeking nomination of County Treasurer are Donald Yarish of Cumberland Township, Frank F. Bryan of Waynesburg, T. William Barnes of Franklin Township, W. D. Goodwin of Carmichaels, and Gene A. Patterson of Franklin Township.

Two County Auditors are to be nominated by each party.

Edna M. Long, incumbent, of Cumberland Township, is the only Republican candidate.

Democratic candidates for County Auditor are, Kathryn Ganear of Waynesburg, Levi A. Fuller, incumbent, of Waynesburg, Joseph A. Nesto of Morgan Township, and Gordon B. Wood of Franklin Township.

Democrats seeking nomination for Register and Recorder are, Jack L. Tedrow of Waynesburg, Harold Dulaney, incumbent, of Franklin Township, and George D. Black of Waynesburg.

W. Bertram Waychoff of Waynesburg, is the only candidate for District Attorney. He is unopposed on the Republican ticket.

There is no Republican candidate for Prothonotary. Voters have the privilege of writing in names of candidates whom they prefer.

Democrats running for Prothonotary are, Charles L. Hoy of Whiteley Township, Leroy H. (Roy) Minor, incumbent, of Waynesburg, and Wayne M. Long of Cumberland Township.

Township supervisors, borough auditors, councilmen, school directors, assessors and justices of the peace are to be nominated.

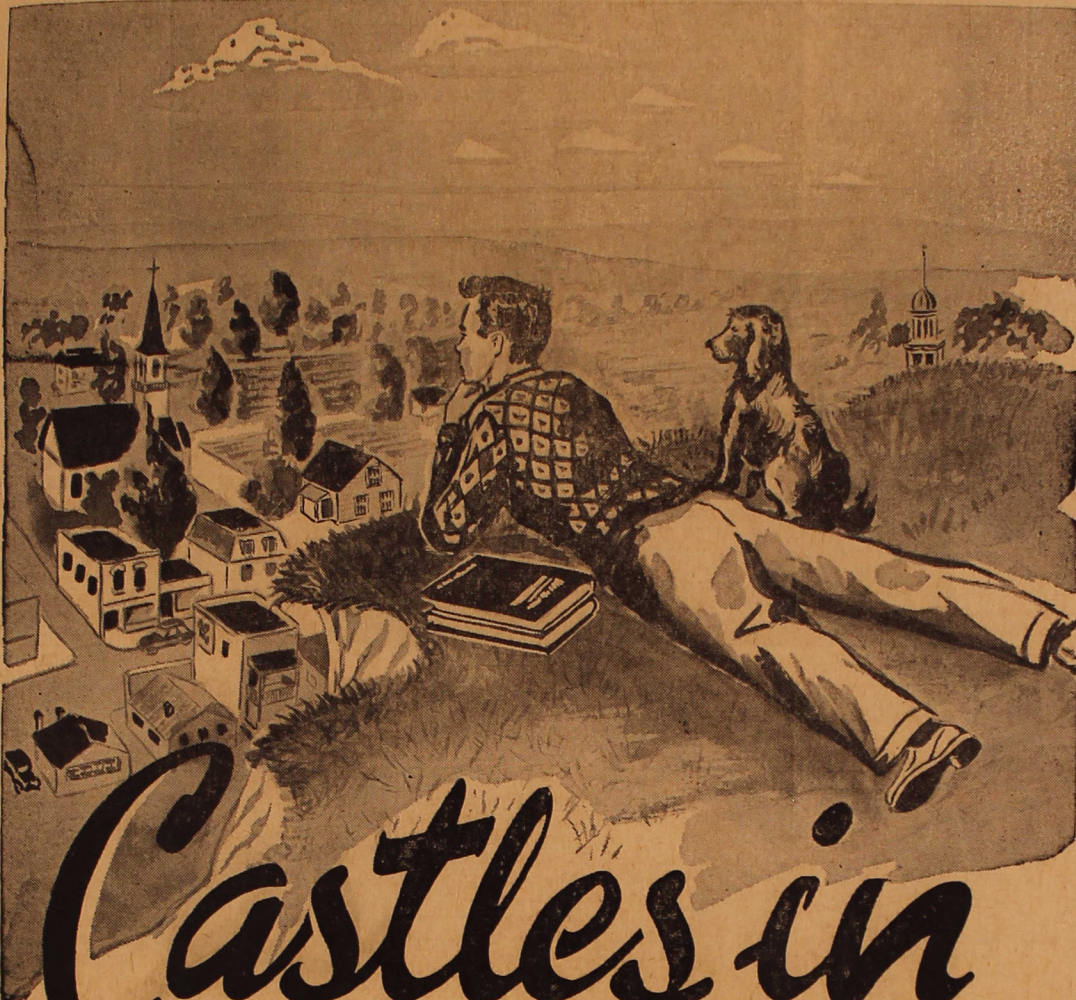

In Gilmore Township, electors will vote on the sale of whisky and the sale of malt and brewed beverages.

In Center Township voters will decide on a fire tax.

Castles in the Air

Walk softly, sir!
Don't interrupt this young dreamer, for he's hard at work on a mighty tough job. He's building himself a castle in the air. . . . In these United States we don't laugh at those castles. Too many men have built them into reality to stand as monuments to their genius: Edison, Eli Whitney, Robert Fulton, Henry Ford. You know the names. Of course, none of these castles "came easy." They took vision, planning, hard work, the ability to bounce back after failure and start all over again.

Now faith is assurance of things hoped for, a conviction of things not seen. —Heb. 11-1

They took faith—real faith; the kind that our churches help to build. Faith that is first imparted in Sunday School, and further strengthened in church. Faith that becomes a part of the fibre of personal character. Who knows what castle is being planned here by this young citizen? Yet we know that it will stick together if proper education forms the keystone of its arches, if perseverance forms its side-walls, if faith forms its foundation. Have you given your son or daughter the inspiration to establish this faith—now—through church?

The child was born September 28, 1955, in Barberton, Ohio. She was in the second grade at Cameron elementary school. Linda Lee was a member of the Church of Christ.

Surviving are her mother; one brother, Jack Craig McClead, and three sisters, Marcella A., Connie Sue and Kathy Jane, all at home; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Encil Wade, Cameron, W. Va., and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Hannah McClead, Cairo, W. Va.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in the Antill Funeral Home, conducted by Brother Wallace Skipper. Interment in Cameron Cemetery.

Northern Panhandle Rural Carriers Meet

The Northern Panhandle Rural Letter Carriers meeting was held Saturday evening, May 4, at the home of Mrs. Bertie Phillips of Cameron. Assisting Mrs. Phillips were Mrs. L. E. Weekly and James Kinsey. In the center of the beautifully appointed table was a large white cake honoring G. E. Briggs and Foster Burton, who retired recently.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

DEAR SIR:

Last week the Polly Wayne Garden Club purchased an English Elm tree and had it planted in Monument Park. This was one of the club's projects for the year. In discussing the planting of this tree, many reports were made of the abuse of the parks in several different ways.

The pond in College Park, once filled with clean water, fish, and water lilies, has become an unsightly spot, partially filled with all kinds of trash thrown into it by irresponsible persons of all ages, while the fountain bed has its quota of litter, also. Filth, broken glass and various unsightly objects are on the grass. Park benches are carried away, too.

In 1796, when the town was laid out in plots, three tracts were marked as "Commons". They are more commonly known today as, Sunset Park, Sunrise Park, West Park (the largest tract), Ritchie Park, College Park and Monument Park. The Commons were first used as cow pastures. In 1882, on the petition of 28 citizens, a Park Company was formed and trees were planted, fences built and the grounds were cleared of rubbish. At the present time a continuation of that organization is known as the Park Commission. Members are appointed jointly by the County Commissioners and Borough Council. They serve without pay, have a very limited budget, but have the responsibility for the upkeep and care of these parks. Since these grounds belong to all the people to use and enjoy, it seems that everyone should try to share the responsibility for their care, at least to keep them clean and usable.

The very worst part of the picture is the willful destruction of trees and shrubs. Many of these are expensive and take considerable care.

Children of all ages climb the smaller trees and break the shrubbery. Teen-aged children have been seen lately breaking off large armfuls of dogwood and flowering shrubs.

Last week, State Senator Albert Pechan introduced a bill in the State Assembly under which parents must pay for damage done by their children. It is a sad reflection on the attitudes of parents when a threat to their pocketbooks is more important than teaching their children right from wrong, which certainly includes respect for the property of others, private or public. No one wishes to deprive any child or youth of any happiness or pleasure, but this appeal is made to parents to teach their children to have pride in these parks and to help care for them. Also, to all adults as well, to show our appreciation of the thoughtfulness of our forefathers and to lend our efforts toward preserving these parks for the pleasure and enjoyment of future generations as they did for us.

Respectfully,
MRS. FLOYD H. MILLER
(Chairman of the Park Committee of the Polly Wayne Garden Club).

Waterford Park Is Sponsor Of Scholarship

Waterford Park is, through its membership in Thoroughbred Racing Associations, sponsoring the TRA-Grantland Rice Memorial Scholarship.

This four-year, all-expense scholarship, worth approximately $10,000, goes annually to a deserving high school senior. It provides a Bachelor of Arts education at Vanderbilt University, which was Grantland Rice's alma mater.

This scholarship is Thoroughbred Racing's tribute to one of the best loved sportswriters of our time, according to James F. Edwards, president of Waterford Park, who points out: "While the scholarship is designed for young men planning careers as sports writers, there are no strings attached. Recipients are chosen on a basis of their scholastic standing and samples of their sports writing for their high school or local papers."

Officer, Recruits Join Swiss Guard

VATICAN CITY — The Swiss Guard, the Vatican armed force which dates back to 1505, enrolled a new officer and 31 recruits Monday at a colorful ceremony in which they swore to defend the Pope.

Each recruit sprang to attention as his name was called, gripping the regimental colors with his left hand and, raising the right hand with three fingers outstretched, made his vow of obedience.

Earlier a wreath was laid on the monument to 143 guardsmen who died defending Pope Clement VII during the Sack of Rome in 1527.

Safety Record Earns Gas Firm National Honor

An outstanding record in on-the-job safety during 1962 has won a top national award for Equitable Gas Company for the second time in a three-year period.

The year's low accident frequency of 1.43 lost-time accidents per one million man hours worked has earned the utility first place in the National Safety Council's Public Utility Section, Group B. The average accident frequency in the group was eight per million man hours.

Group B includes utilities showing between 140,000 and 300,000 man hours worked each month.

The safety-consciousness of Equitable's more than 1,800 employees responsible for this achievement, 67 of whom live in the Waynesburg area, also resulted in a trio of additional awards — the National Safety Council Merit Award, the Safety Merit Award of the American Gas Association and the A. G. A.'s Accident Prevention Award.

The A. G. A. Safety Merit Award was given Equitable in recognition of recording over 2,000,000 consecutive man hours worked without a lost-time accident. Between April 28, 1962, and February 4, 1963, the firm's employees worked over 2,700,000 accident-free man hours the longest period the company has ever gone without a disabling accident.

This record of accident-free man hours was also the basis for the receipt of the National Safety Council Merit Award.

Reduction of on-the-job accident frequency by 50 per cent earned Equitable the A. G. A. Accident Prevention Award, given annually to firms reducing their accident frequency 25 per cent or better over the previous year.

Equitable had only five lost-time accidents in 1962, all of them in the first four months of the year, compared to ten in 1961.

No Count Down For Rocket Pioneer; Just Went Bang

ROSWELL, N. M.—The intricate count-down in launching modern missiles was unheard of on New Year's Eve of 1930, when Dr. Robert H. Goddard fired a missile in his first success.

It went up less than half a mile but helped earn for the scientist recognition as the father of modern rocketry.

Charles W. Mansur, now an aerospace engineer for the U. S. Army at White Sands Missile Range, N. M., was an assistant to Goddard.

"There was no such thing as a count-down in those days," Mansur said. "When we were ready to fire, we fired."

During firings, there was an observation point about 50 feet from the launching tower where they really got a "close" look at the launching behind a cellar door dugout, Mansur said.

For two years, Goddard and four assistants developed, and perfected rockets at Roswell. They worked in a shop 35 by 50 feet located about four miles north of the city.

Their 60-foot launching tower was put up seven miles away at Eden Valley.

"We were really enthusiastic and the fact that we had to start from scratch even to helping build our own machine shop did not dampen our spirits a bit," Mansur said in an interview in his modern laboratory at White Sands.

Mansur first met Goddard, who died in 1945, at Worcester, Mass. In the early 1920s, Mansur attended a grammar school there, across the street from Clark University, where Goddard was head of the Sciences Department.

While in high school, Mansur worked as a laboratory assistant at the university under Goddard. And in 1929 Mansur went to work full-time for Goddard, whose work in experimental rocketry dated back to the beginning of the century.

"We tried to launch rockets in Massachusetts but the public protested," Mansur recalled.

But the publicity aroused the attention of Col. Charles E. Lindbergh, who became interested in Goddard's work. Lindbergh, a national hero for his solo flight over the Atlantic Ocean, helped obtain money for Goddard's work from the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation.

Clark University gave Goddard a sabbatical leave and loaned machine tools and other equipment to his research. Goddard selected Roswell as the ideal location for intensified continuation of his work because of the climate and isolation.

The experiments at Roswell lasted about two years. At the depth of the depression, funds ran out and Goddard returned to teaching in Worcester, able to devote only spare hours to his rockets.

Plan Recreational Improvements At County Fairground

Greene County Commissioners are considering a major improvement construction program at the county fairground, to be financed by a Federal loan.

Joseph Bontempo, head of a Rochester architectural firm, was instructed Tuesday by the commissioners to apply for a Federal loan to take care of the planned program.

It is proposed to build a football stadium, available to all county high schools, in the middle field area, which is now used for parking and a riding ring.

A baseball field and tennis courts, shuffleboard and horse-shoe courts will be adjacent. These would be for all persons in the county.

New barns for livestock, rings for horse shows and rebuilding of the race track, are all in the plan to give residents recreation facilities.

A new grandstand is also being considered.

This work could be completed with a Federal loan under the accelerated public works program, which makes available to communities 50 per cent of the cost of capital improvement projects. The commissioners also anticipate establishing a prison farm on the site of the Greene Hills farm building which will be torn down when improvement of the Curry Home is completed.

Judge Is Hero 17 Years Later

ST. LOUIS — U. S. District Judge Roy Harper finally has the evidence that he was a hero 17 years ago during the Second World War.

Judge Harper, then a captain in the 35th Fighter Group, was awarded a medal for meritorious service on New Guinea.

He received the orders but never got the medal. An officer from Scott Air Force Base near St. Louis heard about the situation, pulled some strings and arranged a presentation in the judge's chambers of a medal more than 17 years late in coming.

Your Health

Health is the vital principle of bliss, and exercise of health, wrote the poet James Thomson, over 200 years ago.

One group of whom exercise is indeed the vital principle of health is comprised of the elderly.

A major problem in maintaining health in the aged is the tendency toward inactivity.

Of course there are elderly persons with chronic and long-term illnesses who cannot exercise to any great extent.

But too many old people who have worked hard all their lives suddenly have time for leisure, and feel inclined to do nothing but rest.

Unfortunately, inactivity has a deleterious effect on the human body.

Muscles waste and become shorter, weaker and stiffer, leading to a decrease in functional capacity.

Exercise is a stimulant to the body and mind, improving the tone of the vascular system and speeding up circulation of the blood.

The lung and heart action is aided by exercise, and the aging process delayed.

Selection of the type of exercise suitable for the normal elderly person should vary according to age, physical condition and personal preference.

For elderly people who must forgo strenuous sports, there are moderate and beneficial exercises available.

Exercise is even permissible in some degree to the elderly person with heart disease, and bedridden patients should be taught to exercise themselves.

Walking is one of the simplest and best types of exercise.

And walking in the spring of the year can put in the muscles and zing in the heart.

They're Old Pals And Only 104

Lewis is 104 years old and so is Davis. Their friendship began shortly after Lewis' 100th birthday.

Davis read a newspaper account of his contemporary's birthday and paid him a visit. They have been exchanging messages and visits since then.
