John Minor Is Named Cashier of First National

JOHN MINOR

The Directors of the First National Bank and Trust Company have announced the election of John Minor as cashier to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. Wood Ganear.

Mr. Minor is a veteran of World War II having served in the Army in the South Pacific. He received his honorable discharge December 27, 1945.

In 1946, he became associated with First National and in 1953 was named assistant cashier.

In 1955, Mr. Minor graduated from Mellon National Bank & Trust Company's concentrated course in banking. He also has attended several courses given by the American Institute of Banking. In June 1960, he graduated from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey, with a degree in Commercial Banking.

Mr. Minor has served as treasurer of the Pennsylvania Grange since 1960. He is a member of the board of directors of the Greene County Chapter, American Cancer Society and is treasurer of the Children's Aid Society of Greene County. Mr. Minor is a trustee of the First Baptist Church and is a member of the Veteran's Housing Authority.

He married Miss Helen Hartley of Rice's Landing, and they are the parents of two children.

New Librarian For Children

Mrs. John D. Berryman of First avenue, has been appointed head librarian of the Waynesburg Children's Library.

Mrs. Berryman assumes charge of the library which in the month of July loaned 3,825 books from among 12,707 books on the shelves of the Children's Department and loaned 748 books from its rapidly increasing number of 2,953 books in the Youth and Reference Rooms.

Mrs. Berryman, a native of Waynesburg, is a graduate of Waynesburg College.

The library will hold its annual picnic August 15, at two o'clock, in West Park, for the 187 children enrolled in the various reading projects.

The library, in a special effort to have overdue books returned has designated August 26-27 as "Bring Your Book Back Days." All fines will be automatically eliminated from overdue books, provided they are returned within those two days.

The summer nature program will close in September.

Delinquent Tax Sale Scheduled

The Greene County Tax Claim Bureau list of properties to be sold for 1962 delinquent taxes is published on page 8 of this issue.

The sale will begin Monday, September 9, at 10 o'clock in front of the court house. If all properties are not sold the first time, the sale will continue with adjournments to such other days and times as may be announced.

Waynesburg Borough Council will accept bids until August 20, for contracts for collection of trash and refuse in the borough. Operation of the service will begin October first.

The contractor will also operate the sanitary land fill; and the borough dump which has been condemned by the state.

A five-year contract will be awarded on the basis of what the contractor would charge residents for collecting garbage and rubbish; the fee he would charge persons who haul their own trash to their sanitary land fill; and the amount he would pay the borough for the privilege of operating the land fill.

The proposed contract provides for one-a-week collections from October through April and twice-a-week collections from May through September. Each household would be entitled to three refuse cans of not less than 10 gallons or more than 32 gallons in capacity.

All household refuse except ashes and building materials would be placed in the cans. This would include newspapers, tin cans, glass, garbage and refuse of all types.

The operator will be responsible for collecting his money from residents.

The contract will also stipulate that the operator negotiate his own agreement with commercial, industrial and institutional establishments which desire the service. The contract with the borough will cover only residential charges, although any non-residential establishment which can be accommodated within the limit of three containers weekly shall be considered a residential unit.

The contractor will be responsible for putting the present dump in a sanitary condition within 45 days after he receives the contract.

U. S. Census Now Set 189,478,936

NEW YORK — The population of the United States stood at 189,478,936 at noon July 30. That was the figure given by a miniature of a "people counter" that will be exhibited at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair.

The counter, known as a demograph, will be exhibited by the Equitable Life Assurance Society. It uses electronics and figures supplied by the Census Bureau to compute the population.

1854 Penny Stamp Sold for $30,800

LONDON — A world record price of 11,000 pounds ($30,800) was paid Wednesday by an anonymous Italian stamp collector for a one-penny stamp issued in Bermuda in 1854.

The red-on-blue stamp was the only known example on an envelope of a provisional issue by the local postmaster. A spokesman for the auctioneers said it was a world record price for a provisional issue on a cover.

Storm's Damage Put at $14 Million Estimate Made by Federal Agency

Allegheny County took a $14-million pounding from last week end's wild windstorm, a federal spokesman has estimated.

The figure came from F. A. Thomassy, branch manager of the Small Business Administration, a federal agency offering low-interest loans for home and business reconstruction.

Calls poured in from Glassport, Clairton, McKeesport and Carnegie where the savage wind hit hardest during a Saturday night thunderstorm.

Hundreds of buildings were wrecked or damaged, including industrial plants, and in Glassport two men were killed. At least 70 were injured in the storm.

Some of the economic shock was alleviated Tuesday with the announcement that one of two firms crippled by the storm will begin production August 19, sooner than had been expected. Copperweld Steel Company's main plant at Glassport suffered

An Editorial

WHY 'OLE MISS'?

As "Bull" Connor of Alabama, says, "The trouble with the country is Communism, Socialism, and Journalism." This has a slight ring of truth, when our Patriotic President and innumerable misinformed "Press" rant about the violations of the Fourteenth Amendment by eight of the original 11 seceding States of the Confederacy.

Let's examine closely the text of the Fourteenth Amendment, why it was introduced, and why it was eventually ratified by the Confederate States, but by no other States in the union.

In the first place the Confederate States were divided up in to five military districts, under the command of officers of no lesser rank than a Brigadier-General. Each Union officer was to make his own laws as he thought fit and proper to contain the Confederacy during the "Reconstruction Period."

The result was that every white man who took up arms against the Union was disfranchised for life; every white man who aided or abetted or sympathized with the South was disqualified for a period of 10 years.

The Fourteenth Amendment was introduced in 1866 and ratified in 1868—two years after the Freedman was given the right to vote. Its context gives each state the privilege of granting the Negro the right to vote or cut its representation in Congress in proportion to those refused the right or franchise.

The Fifteenth Amendment, ratified by 21 of the 27 States, made it obligatory to give the right of franchise to the Negro.

There is nothing in any Amendment to the Constitution, however, about integration, either forced or implied. So where did our Patriotic President get his power to spend five million dollars of the taxpayers' money to integrate one Negro student in "Ole Miss" just for one semester?

So, as "Bull" Connor says, Communism is back of all the recent riots and hell-raising which suddenly erupted throughout the country, and Journalism has kept it hot and on the front pages ever since.

An interesting aside on the origin of "Bull" Connor. Edward T. Leech and the writer went to Birmingham in January, 1921, and in 21 days purchased a building, erected all necessary machinery, and printed the first edition of THE BIRMINGHAM POST, a Scripps-Howard newspaper.

At the State Fairgrounds in Montgomery, was a huge statue of Vulcan, the Iron Man. On top of the Alabama Power Company Building in Birmingham, was a statue of "Miss Electra" which at night was surrounded and "protected" with streaks of lightning. Mr. Leech ran a daily column under the pseudonym of "Bull Connor". In this column he carried on a daily courtship between Miss Electra and Vulcan. Hence the appellation of "Bull" to every man named Connor in Birmingham, even 42 years later, which we think is a tribute to the memory of a great editor. Mr. Leech, who died a few years ago in Pittsburgh while editor of THE PITTSBURGH PRESS, another Scripps-Howard newspaper, was instrumental in bringing the writer north of the "Smith and Wesson" line.

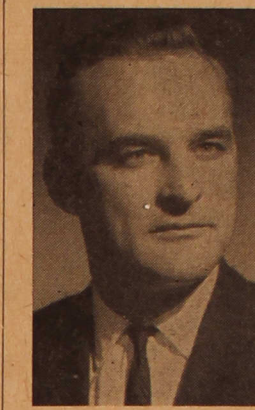

We have always contended (and we haven't changed our mind) that, through legislation, you cannot force any person. The most you can do is to make a liar and deceiver out of that person.

We believe every man, to command respect and equality, must, through hard work and with self-admitted humility reach the goal of respect of every other man.

There is no race of people upon God's green earth which has made the strides of the Negro race in the last 100 years. Look at George (Turn to Page Four)

Dean of Student Life Appointed by College

ALEXANDER G. SIDAR

Alexander G. Sidar, Jr. of New Brunswick, New Jersey, has been named Dean of Student Life at Waynesburg College. He will assume this position at the college late in August according to Dr. Bennett M. Rich, president.

Mr. Sidar's responsibilities will be in the general areas of student life, including the counseling program; the work of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women; athletic programs; extra-curricular activities; student financial aid; and admissions.

Mr. Sidar comes to Waynesburg from Rutgers, the State University, located in New Brunswick, New Jersey, where he served as assistant director of admission from 1955 to 1962 and as associate director of admissions since 1962.

Dr. Dusenberry's New Book Out

A book "The Mexican Mesta: The Administration of Ranching in Colonial Mexico" has been published by the University of Illinois Press, Urbana, Ill.

The author, William H. Dusenberry, chairman, department of social sciences and professor of history at Waynesburg College, tells the story of the first stockman's association in America from its origins in the old world to its influence today.

By providing a chapter in the history of the middle years of the colonial period, the story also throws new light on an important aspect of public administration in colonial Spanish America and provides details necessary for an evaluation of Mexican colonial government and administration.

This book is winner of the 1962 Agricultural History Society Award.

SUMMER DEADLIEST

NEW YORK—Summer is the most deadly time of year in terms of accidental deaths. The accident death toll, according to Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., runs to 25,000 in the June to August period in the United States. That figures out to 270 fatal accidents a day.

117 Jobs Filled By Scranton On Interim Basis

HARRISBURG—Governor William W. Scranton made 117 interim appointments to State boards and commissions Tuesday and named 25 justices of the peace. The interim appointees will serve until the end of the 1964 session of the Legislature, unless confirmed sooner by the Senate.

Leading the appointments were U. S. Senator Hugh Scott, Republican, and Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, to the State Planning Board. Clark was reappointed and Scott will fill a vacancy.

Other appointments to the State Planning Board include Harry Boyer of Reading, president of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO; Dr. Alfred H. Williams of Wallingford, Delaware county, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank; Dr. David H. Kurtzman of 2601 Parkway, secretary of administration in the cabinet of former Governor David H. Lawrence, and Edward Hopkinson, Jr., Philadelphia investment banker.

Eight of Waynesburg College Faculty Have Each Served More Than 25 Years

Eight faculty members have attained twenty-five or more years of service to Waynesburg College. Together they have served 274 years.

Ranking first with fifty-three years is Dr. Paul R. Stewart, who became the college's first chancellor on July first, after serving forty-two years as president of the college. Dr. Stewart received his first appointment to the college in the spring of 1910.

Dr. James M. Miller, emeritus professor of English and American Literature, is second with thirty-eight years. Dr. Miller first came to Waynesburg in September 1925.

Miss Mary D. Inghram, lecturer in French, has been at the college thirty-seven years, receiving her appointment in September 1926.

Dr. Arthur M. Mintier, professor of History, has been on the faculty of the college thirty-six years, having first come to Waynesburg in September 1927.

Dr. Lester T. Moston, professor of Mathematics and chairman of the Mathematics Department, has been with the college thirty years, having come in September 1933.

Dr. Dawn Logan, emeritus professor of English, first came in February 1935. She served on the faculty twenty-eight years.

Dr. Harry E. Gardner, professor of Bible on the Amanda J. Beeson Foundation and chairman of the Religion and Philosophy Department, has been on the faculty since July 1936, being in service at the college twenty-seven years.

M. K. Talpas, registrar, has served twenty-five years. Mr. Talpas entered the faculty of the college directly after graduation from Waynesburg in 1938.

Nuclear Test Treaty Ban Goes To U. S. Senate

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy sent the new nuclear test ban treaty to the Senate Thursday. Hearings lasting an expected two to three weeks will begin Monday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk in the chair.

When completed the historic agreement "will be assigned the highest priority" on the Senate floor, ahead of Civil Rights and Foreign Aid bills, said Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

"I feel our prospects are good for its ratification by the necessary two-third majority," he said.

Undersecretary of State W. Averill Harriman, who negotiated the pact in Moscow, also predicted passage.

The treaty, framed by Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States, bans nuclear tests in the air, space and under the sea but not under ground.

Rumor reaches us that one of Davey's BIG Stoooges went a-cullin' to Washington, D. C.

(better known today as Father Joseph's Boystown)

And was enveloped in Davey's lovin' arms

 However, when he baldly hit Davey for a job

He was given the inimitable Davey brushoff!

With this admonition from the "Old Pro": "Go back to Pennsylvania.

D-Day HQ Visited By Eisenhower

PORTSMOUTH, England—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower received an enthusiastic welcome at the nearby village of Southwick Tuesday while visiting the headquarters where he commanded the 1944 Normandy D-Day invasion.

Mr. Eisenhower spent two hours taking moving pictures in the command room at the former headquarters, which he was visiting for the first time since the Second World War.

It was he who gave the order to launch the invasion on June 6, 1944, in the Southwick command room.

Electric Room Air Conditioners Offer Comfort

"C'mon in, the weather's fine," says this young homemaker as she adjusts room air conditioner controls. Her home is kept comfortable by room units throughout the house. Notice the traditional furniture front on this electric room air conditioner that fits snugly over the unit, muffling operating sounds and eliminating direct drafts. The cooled air is channeled into the room through the top of the cabinet; doors are opened only when necessary to use controls.

WHY 'OLE MISS'?

Washington Carver, an erstwhile slave, who became one of the world's greatest scientists. And Booker T. Washington, the founder of Tuskegee Institute in Alabama. He, as no other person we can recall, was honored by President Theodore Roosevelt, with a banquet at the White House. His successor, Dr. R. R. Morton, was a personal friend of the writer. And take Dr. Ralph Bunche, one of America's most famous diplomats, who is still rendering to his country valiant and honorable service.

This is a drop in the bucket to the number of Negroes who, both North and South, have pulled themselves up to honor, respect, and remunerative executive and judicial positions, without executive orders from Washington.

We have always been taught to honor and respect every person, regardless of race, color or creed, who are trying to make something of themselves. And so far as integration is concerned, we Southerners lived with the Negro and the white, side by side, and thought nothing of it.

We hope to see the day soon, when the best news for the Negro community is no news of the Negro community. The impression has been given by the press that what the Negroes seek in these demonstrations is a disappearance of lines of separation in his community. The Negro will have attained the status he seeks when he attains person prominence and gets publicity as a person. He will then realize that there is no civil right to special treatment in publicity for him or anybody else.

SYNONYM FOR SLAVERY

The American belief in personal freedom is so great that the declared enemies of freedom have been forced either to conceal that part of their creed which scorns freedom, or make excuses for it. They must contend that real liberty is not nearly as good as the "new freedom" which they offer through collective thought, action and living. Their "new freedom" is in truth as old as the hills and its correct name is slavery.

Because love of liberty and respect for the individual are characteristic of Americans, no direct appeal for giving up freedom, even for some supposedly noble cause, would work. So, the collectivists have resorted to an age-old trick. They tell us that an all-conquering "historic process" is on the march, and that it requires us to give up more and more of our personal liberties. They say the principles of individual liberty on which this country was built are outdated, and only the ideas of collectivism are modern.

To start with, it is false to say that collectivism is a new, modern idea. It is as old as the first colony of ants, or the earliest primitive tribes ruled absolutely by customs which no member of the tribe was allowed to question.

In fact, it is the idea of individual liberty as an inalienable right which is new, challenging and exciting. The idea has been at war with collectivism ever since the dream of freedom was first shaped in ancient Greece.

But, we are told, there are many more people in America now than there were 50 years ago. We have many machines and a complex industrial society which lives closely-packed in great cities. Because we live and work more closely together, it is supposed to be necessary to take away more and more of the individual's personal liberties. We are told that this is happening everywhere; nothing can be done about it; it is inevitable; we are foolish if we protest.

But this "historic process" of growth, industry, and living more closely together did not make itself. It started and is being carried on by individuals. Americans, with their traditional love of independence and self-reliance, have been in the vanguard of this social and economic progress in which freedom is the vital factor.

It is absurd to talk about an "historic process" as though it were a being in itself, beyond all human control and second only to the decrees of God. But this is exactly what the communists say. They tell us that we are helpless creatures of our environment. They tell us history follows a set, unchangeable pattern. They say no person can alter the course of pre-determined events in any way whatsoever; that men can only observe the changes of history. It is this theory that leads them to stress that their Mistaken ideals and goals will eventually conquer the world.

Make no mistake about it, freedom is essential to progress. Whenever these foes of freedom take over a nation, they find that "growth" stops short. Then they turn their propaganda machine to the unpleasant task of explaining deficits, failures and unrest among the people.

The Mistaken use the changed conditions of life in our time as a basis for building up the centralized power structure they hope to control. Instead as necessary to cope with a "new age," believers in freedom should be looking for ways to make freedom even stronger and more secure in these times, to lessen the interference of power, and to remove controls rather than impose them.

Individual liberty can never be outdated because it is something all men will wish for as long as they remain men.

The dream of personal liberty brought the first American settlers across the broad Atlantic—as great and terrible a barrier in their day as interplanetary space is in ours. That dream inspired the patriots who fought and won the American Revolution. It is in our Constitution. No abstract argument or claim of "historic destiny" can destroy the desire for liberty.

Such arguments and claims may cause some to give up hope that fuller personal liberty can be won in our time. That is the trap we must avoid.

THE BASIC ISSUE

The ultimate guarantee against a communist takeover of the world is a deep awareness on the part of all non-communists that freedom is inherently superior to communism.

The Mistaken falsely pose the issue as one between communism and capitalism. In reality, the struggle is between slavery and freedom.

The Mistaken would have us believe that freedom can be attained only under their system. Yet the history of every nation behind the Iron Curtain shows conclusively that the Mistaken version of freedom is only a new form of total slavery.

There is a sound approach here for those who seek to throw back the threat of communism in our neighbor countries in Latin America. We need to do all within our power to bring home to the peoples of those countries a full realization of the advantages of freedom over communism. Such a realization can galvanize the whole non-communist world into a purposeful program against the master plan of the Mistaken.

This program, under responsible and informed leadership, must be expressed through the indigenous institutions of each nation—the government, the churches, the schools, the labor unions, and other groups—working in close cooperation. The effect of such a program surely will be a revitalization and a reinforcement of the national traditions of each country.

This, in turn, surely will give rise to a determination in each nation to pursue its own destiny, not by following the stereotyped Mistaken blueprint, but according to its own freely chosen values and ideals.

The first step is to make the basic issue clear to the non-communist world—the basic issue of slavery versus freedom.

Peru Echoes Spain

The Spaniards brought their culture, architecture and manners to the Western Hemisphere, and much of this is still to be seen in Peru. In addition to the late dinner hour, balconied buildings and tiered patios, the tourist will especially notice the grove of olive trees in downtown Lima. Now centuries old, it is a picturesque touch of old Spain in the New World.

Transfusions Can Be Overdone Doctors Warn

WASHINGTON—Doctors have been urged to stem the rising tide of blood transfusions.

Dr. Arthur F. Schiff, a Miami pathologist, warned that "the physician cannot think of transfusion as a minor procedure," he "can order on the run."

"This danger can be translated into cold figures: In 1962 approximately 3000 patients died in American hospitals because an unexpected event occurred during a blood transfusion."

Citing American Red Cross statistics, Dr. Schiff said an average of one pint of blood is transfused every 7½ seconds in the U. S.

"With that kind of traffic," he said in the Current Medical Digest, "many mistakes in judgment are bound to creep into the operation."

Besides causing fatal reactions, Dr. Schiff said blood transfusions can transmit such diseases as hepatitis and malaria.

He said hepatitis is "the most frequent and disturbing complication." This is a virus-caused liver infection often referred to as "yellow jaundice."

Dr. Schiff said there still is no commonly accepted laboratory test for detecting hepatitis virus in blood.

Consequently, he said, blood banks have to depend on a donor's word he never had the disease. Yet this "in many instances is highly unreliable" because, for one thing, the donor may have had such a mild touch of hepatitis it wasn't even diagnosed.

Thus, Dr. Schiff emphasized, physicians must weight the "expected benefits" of a transfusion against the possible bad effects "in a cosmetic sense"—like tonics.

"If blood be needed—and there are certain definite indications—use it," said Dr. Schiff. "If not—no blood."

Many State Schools To Read Bible Despite Ruling

WASHINGTON — Many U. S. public schools will continue prayer and Bible reading this fall despite the Supreme Court's ruling that such religious exercises are unconstitutional.

A nation-wide survey showed Tuesday that the court's June 17 decision is being defied in some areas and circumvented elsewhere by interpretations which ignore the plain language of the ruling.

Orders for the discontinuance of religious exercises have been issued in only a few States. Many others said they were still studying the matter. And some States were not affected because the ruling confirmed existing laws or policies.

Pennsylvania and California were the only two States turned up in the survey which are acting on this court's suggestion that it is all right for public schools to engage in "objective" study of the Bible and America's religious heritage.

Defiance of the ruling has been especially forthright in the South, where on Monday the Alabama State Board of Education made Bible reading required in public schools, Governor George Wallace said that if the courts rule out the practice in a specific Alabama school "I'm going to that school and read it myself."

Broadway Drama To Be on Television

NEW YORK — Westinghouse Broadcasting Company said a few days ago it will present a taped television version of a play next October to audiences in five cities simultaneously with the play's opening on Broadway.

The historic project, rumored for almost a year, became official today with the signing of contracts.

Under the plan, said Westinghouse President Donald H. McGannon, a taped version of the new play "The Advocate" will be beamed into Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and San Francisco October 13—the night the play opens on Broadway.

McGannon described the venture as one that could put a "certain new dimension" into television and the theater.

Indoor Winter Garden Begins With Cuttings

Almost anyone with a bright green thumb knows that the indoor gardening season begins early—about now.

The usual routine has been to come back from vacation, look around for plants in the garden that might outlast the winter indoors, such as geraniums, then transfer them to pots, hack them back and hope for the best.

Tired old geranium plants lifted from the garden may survive but usually they'll have unsightly bare branches.

Young plants, on the other hand, will take up less room and generally will be more attractive.

To get your vigorous young cuttings you'll have to operate on your old plant. Using your scapel (a sharp knife will do), cut off the tops of young branches, four or five inches long.

Slice straight across the stem just below a place where the leaf joins the stem. Remove the lower leaves and flower bud if there is one. Keep only two or three leaves.

Dip your cutting in a plant rooting hormone if you want to improve your chances.

Then place your cuttings without delay in 2 1/2 to 3 1/2-inch pots of sandy soil, without fertilizer. Set the cuttings an inch or an inch and a half deep, firm the soil around them and water them thoroughly.

Place the pots in partial shade on a moist surface. You can provide this by putting an inch of screened cinders, sand, small gravel, peat moss or sphagnum moss in a shallow box or tray and keeping this base thoroughly moist.

Cuttings won't wilt because they'll be surrounded by humid air.

Water when the soil becomes rather dry and then do a thorough job.

Cuttings will root in about four weeks, and then they'll need lots of sun.

As soon as the tops begin to grow, pinch out the tip. This will insure a bushy, attractive plant.

After eight or 10 weeks from the time you made your cuttings, move your little plants to four or five-inch pots.

You can root cuttings of fuchsias and winter flowering begonias the same way.

This really isn't as complicated as it sounds. But if you attempt it, be sure you have the right place in the house if you expect flowers.

A window that sheds direct sunlight on your plants all day is best. Plants in sunlight less than three hours a day can't be expected to flower.

Plans for an extensive communications exhibit in the new William Penn Memorial Museum in Harrisburg were announced this week by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

Dr. S. K. Stevens, Commission executive director, said the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania will erect an exhibit portraying the past, present and future of communications techniques and services.

He added that the five-story round museum and its companion 20-story archives building are expected to be completed by the middle of next year. The new structures, a $9.1 million project are located immediately north of the main capitol building in midtown Harrisburg.

Bell's exhibit will occupy 2,000 square feet of space on the second floor of the museum. Other exhibits on this floor will relate to the development of Pennsylvania science, industry and technology. Another portion of the floor will be devoted to the archaeology of the Pennsylvania Indians.

Replicas of early telephone instruments and manual switching equipment will be displayed along with colorful panel exhibits tracing the development of sound and sight in modern communications.

World push-button calling and satellite communications will be illustrated and the exhibit will include a small theater with regulation projector, film slide projector and screen for visual presentations.

Dr. Stevens added that many of the Bell displays will be visitor-operated. He said one will be an illustrated, psychological explanation of the sense of hearing, including a device which the visi-

Wall Flowers Are Popular

Artistically-minded home decorators will have fun and will brighten any room in the home when they make this geometric flower pot wall decoration. It's a framed, fiberboard panel with various sized pieces of wood arranged in a creatively simple and interesting design.

For the frame, use 1/2-inch thick pieces of wood. For the inner sides of the frame, use 1/4-inch strips of wood molding mitered at the edges. You can use a variety of small wooden objects for the flower pot itself: round wood plant stays, building pegs, wooden dowels, spoons, or pieces from an old Tinkertoy set.

When the pieces are arranged in an artistic design, glue them to a sheet of white paper covering the fiberboard panel with Elmer's Glue-All, the white plastic glue that dries in a few minutes.

Detailed instructions for this wall decoration plus many other do-it-yourself projects appear in McCull's Needlework and Crafts Magazine, now available at most pattern counters and newsstands.

tor can use to see and hear his own voice.

He added that the telephone company's display is in line with the Commission's desire to have Keystone State industries and businesses represented in the new museum.

Veto Unused By Scranton

HARRISBURG — Governor William W. Scranton has not vetoed a single bill during the six-month session of the Legislature.

This, say legislature observers, is most unusual.

The Governor has signed 161 bills and now is in the process of acting on 44 more.

DON'T BE MISLED

ABOUT DIAMONDS

When you shop for your ring, you'll get plenty of talk about "genuine diamonds," "magnificent quality," etc. But how could you judge what diamonds you are really getting? What can you believe? When we show you our Artcarved PERFECT guarantee you will read that these diamonds are guaranteed to be PERFECT according to the standards enforced by the Federal Trade Commission in Washington. Not a vague, misleading claim, but GUARANTEED PERFECT — the finest quality by official standards. Compare this with the other descriptions — then decide. Come, see our Artcarved PERFECT diamond rings from $100. Ring enlarged to show detail. Prices incl. Fed. Tax.

Horsemen Eye Waterford Mile Silver Plate

Now that the fourth running of the West Virginia Derby has been decided at Waterford Park, all eyes are turning to the upcoming Waterford Park Mile Silver Plate, a handicap for three-year-olds and upward, going one mile for a purse of $3,500 added, and to be run on Saturday, August 17. The race also carries a nomination fee of $15 and $25, to start, with all fees added to the winner's share of the purse. Nominations for the race close on Saturday, August 10.

The Mile was first inaugurated at Waterford Park in 1962, and was won by Gay's Pal in the fast time of 1:38. The race was worth $3,630 to the winner, with $1,000 to the second horse, Sierra's Cloud; $500 to Besteater, finishing third; $300 to Sham Battle, fourth; and $100 to Shan Pac, the fifth horse.

Nominations have already been received from trainers in various parts of the country. These include Chicago, Detroit, Canada, Kentucky, Maryland, New England and Ohio racing sectors.

At present it appears that a full field of at least 12 starters will vie for honors in the second running of the Mile and in all probability an assault will be made on the track record of 1:36 3/5, established by Solid Jive on June 27, 1958.

Post time for the Waterford Mile Day program is set at 2:00 p. m. and the feature race is expected to go postward at approximately 5:45 p. m.

Tooth Decay Lessens

QUEBEC — The Provincial Health Department said that in a survey of 15 towns, the incidence of tooth decay in communities with fluoridation was 60 to 65 per cent less than in those without fluorides added to their water.

Bald Eagle Served Iroquois

The bald eagle, symbol of the United States, was also the great symbol of the Iroquois Indians. The Iroquois believed the eagle watched over them and helped in time of trouble.

Prison Camps For Confederates At Fort Delaware

There was a prison for Confederate soldiers during the War Between the States at Fort Delaware, on Pea Patch Island, which lies in the middle of the Delaware River between Delaware City, Del., and Fort Mott State Park, N. J.

By 1863 some 12,000 Confederate prisoners were held there, including all those captured by Union forces at Gettysburg.

Many died of disease during their confinement and 2,436 of these men lie buried in Finn's Point National Cemetery in Fort Mott State Park on the New Jersey side of the river. Their names and home States are noted on an obelisk in the cemetery.

The land for Fort Delaware was ceded to the Federal Government in 1813 by the State of Delaware for the erection of a fort to guard the river during the War of 1812. The original fortifications were completed in 1824. Fort Delaware also was garrisoned during the Spanish-American War and, to a limited degree, during both World Wars. Declared surplus property, it was returned to Delaware in 1947 and now forms a State park and museum.

$20 Million Set Up For 'Bible' Film

PARIS — Columbia Pictures announced Tuesday it has allocated $20 million for a film production of "The Bible".

The announcement said the film will be produced by Dino de Laurentis of Italy and directed by Orson Wells, Luchino Visconti and two other internationally known directors.

Meadows Plans Expansion For Next Meeting

The Meadows, Western Pennsylvania's new pari-mutual harness track, has grown too big for its knee boots after just 34 nights of racing.

So, says Delvin Miller, president of the Washington Trotting Association, plans already are being made for expansion before next summer's meeting.

And plans already have been made for a sort of "sidewalk cafe" to accommodate patrons for part of the remaining 16 nights of racing, Miller added.

"We will put seats along that bank at the far (left) end of the grandstand before next year," Miller said. "They will be out in the open, but will be the same type of seats we have in the grandstand at present."

"We can get about 600 seats there, and while that doesn't seem like too many, it will relieve the seating situation considerably."

"No we haven't made any plans as yet to expand the grandstand itself, but maybe we will have to do that, too, in the future."

Miller said tables and chairs would be set up at one-end of the grandstand, and that prime ribs with trimmin's would be served patrons from a cart during races in the near future.

"We hope to have it ready by a week from Saturday when we have the Henry W. Oliver Trot, with SuMac Lad and those other 'big' horses here," Miller said.

"We will serve prime ribs daily, and will have fish available for Friday night patrons."

"It will be similar to those sidewalk cafes in Paris."

Boating Tips...

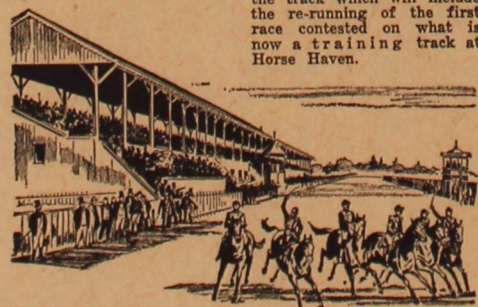

Each of the familiar buoys shown above has a story to tell. If you haven't been "getting their messages", here's what they mean: 1) Red, even-numbered nun buoys—keep them on your right entering a channel or going upstream (remember: red, right, returning). 2) Black, odd-numbered can buoys—keep them on your left entering a channel from seaward or going upstream. 3) Black-and-white vertical stripes — mid-channel marker which can be passed on either side. 4) Black-and-red horizontal stripes — obstruction marker which should be passed on side indicated by topmost color. For example, if the top color is red, keep the buoy on the right entering a harbor. Clear all buoys by at least 50 feet, caution Mercury boating experts. Also, don't tie up to a buoy—it's a federal offense.

Spirit of the Times

An interesting part of the display at the National Museum of Racing at Saratoga during this summer's Centennial Celebration of the nation's oldest Thoroughbred racing center, will be a bound volume of Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, covering the Saratoga inaugural meeting 100 years ago. A gift from the Keeneland Library, Lexington, Kentucky, to George D. Widener, president of Saratoga's museum, the volume is a token of the Keeneland Association's esteem for Saratoga and its place in racing. The anonymous, but prolific turf writer covering the Saratoga inaugural also proved to have been a pretty fair prophet. Of the four-day meeting, he wrote: "It must have laid the foundation for a great fashionable race meeting at the Springs, like that at Ascot in England . . ." In addition to the races at the excitement at the hotels — "The United States alone having 2,000 people staying at it" — the writer in six full columns described the gala parties Saratoga bound a board the Francis Skiddy from New York to Troy. The Francis Skiddy no longer cruises up the Hudson, but gala parties still arrive aboard private yachts. On Saturday, July 27, the NYRA will recapture something of the spirit of old Saratoga with an all-day "Open House" party at the track which will include the re-running of the first race contested on what is now a training track at Horse Haven.

Some Load—

1.3 Million Pounds

NEW YORK — The heaviest price of freight ever shipped by an American railroad was a 1,300,000-pound oil refinery vessel, called an isocracking reactor column, shipped from Memphis, Tenn., to Pascagoula, Miss. The vessel, constructed by Combustion Engineering, Inc., was installed last March at the Standard Oil Co. (Kentucky) refinery at Pascagoula.
