

Auditors Say Former Treasurer Owes County $3,235

By BOB EICHENLAUB
 Greene County Editor

WAYNESBURG — The Greene County auditors are charging that former County Treasurer T. William Barnes owes the county $3,235.50 for county firearm permit fees issued by his office from 1972 through 1979.

After meeting Monday with their solicitor, the auditors — Viola G. Donovan, Genevieve M. Morrow and Betty June Long — notified Barnes that they will hold a hearing in the county commissioners' hearing room at 10 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 30, to give Barnes "an opportunity to appear at such hearing and to show cause why you should not be surcharged in that amount."

When contacted Monday, Barnes said he would be at the hearing and "would have an explanation for them." He declined to say what the explanation would be, but did say that he had already met with attorney Ewing B. Pollock, solicitor for the auditors, relative to the matter.

According to the auditors, the fact that the fees had not been turned over to the county came to light when Barnes left office as county treasurer in December 1979. At that time, he delivered $665.50 in firearm permit fees to the county. "That was the first we knew that any such fund existed," the auditors said Monday. "It had never been audited."

Following that, the auditors said, they made a special audit going back to 1972, when the county treasurer's office was changed from a fee office to a salaried office. They have determined that 7,802 such permits were issued during the eight year period, with fees from their sale totaling $3,901.

The $3,235.50 that the auditors are attempting to collect represents the difference between the $3,901 and the $665.50 which Barnes turned in last year.

Before 1972, the treasurer was entitled to keep all fees earned by his office. The revenue was used to operate the office and pay salaries. But after it became a salaried office, all fees collected were to be paid monthly to the county.

The auditors are charging this was not done in the case of the firearm permits, which are issued to persons who wish to carry handguns when they hunt or fish.

Pollock said that the auditors had no knowledge that such a fund existed because no bank account was ever set up as a depository for the permit fees. He also said that the number of permits issued was determined from receipts in the treasurer's office.

He said there were receipts for every year but one from 1972 to 1979. The exception was 1977, for which no receipts were found. "We estimated the amount for that year by averaging the number of permits issued for 1976 and 1978," he said.

The solicitor also said that when Barnes met with him, Barnes explained the discrepancy in amounts by saying the money was among that taken from the office safe when the treasurer's office was burglarized in 1977.

He said the auditors considered the explanation but were not satisfied with it since the money had not been included in the insurance claim which was filed after the burglary.

"The auditors feel it is their duty to collect the money if it is due the county," Pollock said. "And if that is their finding after the hearing is held, they will take steps to obtain it. If Mr. Barnes can show the money is not owed, that will be the end of it."

Pollock also explained that the hearing is civil in nature and has nothing to do with any charges that might be brought. "That would be a matter for the county to consider," he said.

Waynesburg Council Takes No Action On CATV Bids

By ROBIN ROBERTS
 Staff Writer

WAYNESBURG — Waynesburg Borough Council surprised many of those present at last night's meeting by taking no action on the bid proposals which it has received from three vendors to supply cable television service to the borough.

As late as Monday afternoon, Waynesburg Borough Manager James Ealy had said he anticipated a recommendation from a special CATV committee. The committee has been studying the proposals for several weeks. Just last week, it held a public meeting to discuss the three proposals.

Although David Godisart, chairman of the CATV committee, had said late last week the committee might make a recommendation at Monday's meeting on which of the three vendors should be awarded the non-exclusive franchise for the borough, it failed to do so.

Councilman James Eichenlaub, who is chairman of council's public utility committee, said his committee had no report on the proposals and asked members of the committee who were present to remain for a committee meeting following the council session.

The three firms which have submitted proposals are Central Video, Commonwealth Cable, and Tele-Media, all of Waynesburg. Tele-Media recently purchased the existing Kleeer Kable Television System.

No indication was given as to when a recommendation will be forthcoming on the CATV proposals.

Charles Berryhill, a council member who is Waynesburg's representative on the Northeastern Greene County Solid Waste Disposal Authority, said he feels that the authority will probably dissolve after its November meeting. The authority is made up of 11 municipalities from the northeastern corner of the county.

Berryhill reported that the authority has worked for years in an attempt to remedy the area's solid waste problems. He explained the group had originally investigated the feasibility of establishing a large landfill in the area to service all of the municipalities which are members of the authority. He then went on to explain the authority had also looked into the possibility of constructing a transfer station complex, a central gathering point to which all solid waste would be hauled by garbage haulers from each of the municipalities, compressed and then hauled to another landfill outside of the county.

Berryhill told council that no Federal monies seem forthcoming to the authority and that it is the authority's opinion that the local municipalities can not afford to construct the transfer station.

"We received something like a $10,000 grant for property acquisition and engineering, but it doesn't appear any further federal grants are coming this way," Berryhill told council. "Sometime it has been like beating your head against a wall."

He said it appears now that the garbage collectors from areas not serviced by a state-approved landfill will be forced to haul to landfills outside the county.

In other action council approved the vacating of approximately 90 feet of Fruit Street and gave permission for Ealy to advertise an ordinance which calls for vacating about 100 feet of the unopened portion of West Street, between Hillcrest and Sixth Avenue.

It also approved the annual Lions Club Halloween Parade which will be held at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 29. The Lions Club will offer treats to all children who participate in the parade.

In a related matter, council also approved Friday, Oct. 31, as trick-or-treat day in the borough. Trick-or-treat hours will be from 4 to 6 p.m. Children must be accompanied by an adult, and residents who are willing to participate in the trick-or-treat activities are asked to turn on their porch lights.

Ealy also announced the Waynesburg College homecoming parade will begin at noon Saturday.

Council adopted a resolution requesting $30,000 in county aid from the county's liquid-fuels allocations for a comprehensive street repair program next year.

Greene County Historical Society Museum, site of annual Fall Festival.

National Dulcimer Convention Feature Of Annual Fall Festival

WAYNESBURG — The Annual Fall Festival at the Greene County Historical Society Museum will be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18 and 19.

This year's feature is the National Dulcimer Convention with musicians attending from several states to demonstrate the sound of both the Hammer and Mountain Dulcimer. Russell Fluharty, of Mannington, W. Va., nationally recognized dulcimer musician, will be honored.

The festival will begin Saturday morning with demonstrations in woodcutting, spinning and leather tooling. The old Waynesburg and Washington Railroad narrow-gauge steam engine will also be fired and make its short trip on 100 feet of track.

There will be plenty of food for festival-goers with the aroma of homemade bread, apple butter being stirred in copper kettles and barbecued chicken adding to the atmosphere.

Shuttle buses will provide free transportation. They will leave every 20 minutes from the Greene County fairgrounds, located on Route 21 just west of Exit 3 of I-79, and from the Ft. Jackson building in the center of Waynesburg.

The museum, recognized as a top-20 tourist attraction in Pennsylvania in 1978, is located on old Route 21, east of Waynesburg. Festival hours will be from 10 a.m. until late afternoon.

Another attraction of the festival will be soldiers recreating scenes of the Civil War and demonstrating the flint-lock rifle, various war uniforms and early troop encampments.

The museum features 52 rooms of frontier through mid-Victorian antiques. Many additions have been made to compliment the Indian artifacts collection, great-grandmother's kitchen and the 15 rooms of mid-Victorian furnishings. An early Greene County log cabin is being reconstructed with attention being given to detail.

Supervisors Approve Project

By JIM MOORE
 Staff Writer

WAYNESBURG — The Franklin Township supervisors, at their regular meeting Monday night, gave tentative approval for the construction of Greene County Duplexes, a development north of Route 188.

Because the township has not received a letter from the developer spelling out the plans for road construction, the township offered only tentative approval of the project. The township, at this point, does not know if the developer will build and maintain interior roads or if the township will be expected to take them over.

Should the township be expected to maintain the roads, construction must conform to township specifications.

The township engineer was also directed to contact the developers of Mountainview Gardens as to their intentions on the access road from Porter Street to their development. The township has received no communication spelling out the developers' intention.

A request from Donald Patterson to sub-divide a 20-acre site on Dark Hollow Road was tabled until the township engineer could determine the status of a 50-foot right-of-way on the plans.

Rick Kalsey, a resident of the western section of Franklin Township, who said he was representing other residents, asked the supervisors if they were aware of any plans by the Waynesburg Southern Railway to erect a grade crossing in West Waynesburg.

The supervisors said they knew of no plans, but John Hook, the township solicitor, informed the board that grade crossings, overpasses or underpasses on a state highway require a Public Utility Commission hearing and approval by PennDOT.

Kalsey said residents have been talking to survey crews which have been active in the area for the past several days.

"The residents are concerned because it is the only direct traffic route to the western part of the township and long trains could create a safety hazard," he said.

The township supervisors said they would contact residents and bring any such plans to the public's attention if and when they occur.

Kalsey also approached the supervisors to open Oakland Boulevard in the North Waynesburg plan of lots just across the borough line in the township. The lot plan was laid out near the turn of the century and the township has been receiving liquid-fuel aid for it since 1941, even though the road has never been opened.

The board unanimously agreed to ban trick-or-treat in the township and instead voted to donate $100 to the Waynesburg Lion's Club to help sponsor a Halloween parade in Waynesburg.

Coal Show Scheduled

CARMICHAELS — The King Coal Association (KCA) has broken with tradition of scheduling its annual State Bituminous Coal Show for the week ending with Labor Day.

The 1981 Coal Show at Carmichaels will be held Saturday, Aug. 22 through Saturday, Aug. 29. The decision to change the show dates was made because Labor Day falls later than usual next year.

In other action at its meeting Thursday night, the association voted to make a $50 contribution to the Carmichaels Chamber of Commerce toward expenses for the Chambers' community Halloween parade for children.

A financial report was given by treasurer Joe Baker for the 1980 Coal Show. Prizes have been sent to all winners in the 125-unit parade.

The 1980 State Coal Queen Lisa Gavlik and her parents will be guests at the meeting of the Pittsburgh Coal Mining Institute of America to be held Nov. 7 in Pittsburgh.

The next meeting of the KCA will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 13, in the Carmichaels fire hall.

Waste Authority's Future Questioned

WAYNESBURG — William Hook, solicitor for the Northeastern Greene County Solid Waste Disposal Authority, Tuesday responded to statements made by Waynesburg Borough Councilman Charles Berryhill during a council meeting Monday.

Berryhill, chairman of the authority, had said he felt the November meeting of the authority would probably be its last and that the authority would in all likelihood dissolve following the meeting.

He said the authority had been unable to obtain federal funds for the construction of a transfer station for solid waste and that some members of the authority feel the cost of constructing the facility with local funds would be prohibitive.

However, Hook noted that Rep. Austin J. Murphy just last week announced that the authority had received a $75,000 grant from the Farmers' Home Administration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to be used for land acquisition and development of a solid waste transfer station near Mather.

Hook also said that the authority has received a $7,500 grant from the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources to pay for legal counsel and engineers in the early stages of development of the transfer station.

Waynesburg Borough Manager James Ealy also confirmed that Waynesburg has been offered the grant by FHA and has completed its obligation forms to receive the federal money.

Hook said he feels the authority will apply for and eventually receive a low interest FHA loan for approximately $300,000 for the construction of the transfer station.

Hook also said he has received verbal confirmation from the Pennsylvania director of the FHA that the $75,000 is forthcoming.

He did point out, however, that some of the 11 municipalities which are members of the authority may be considering withdrawing and considering alternatives to the collection center for fiscal reasons. "We may see a restructuring of the authority, but I sure don't think the entire thing is going to go down the drain. The transfer station is too badly needed by most of the municipalities involved," Hook said.

ACS Honors Volunteers At Its Annual Awards Dinner

The Greene County Unit, American Cancer Society recognized volunteers during its 1980 crusade during an awards dinner held Monday at the Greene County Fairgrounds.

The unit exceeded its crusade goal of $25,700 by $238. H. Leonard Frye, the 1980 county crusade chairman, will again serve as county chairman for the 1981 crusade.

Betty Lee Frye, chairman for the Lippencott area, received the annual William E. Gabler Memorial Award presented for outstanding service to the crusade.

Special recognition was given to Verona Shanan, chairman for the Whiteley Township area.

Ten-speed bikes were presented to Lisa Greenwood and Jerry Zvonkovich for collecting $304 each during the Save-a-Life Swim for Cancer.

Special recognition was also given to Mrs. Thelma Harry, a volunteer in the Lippencott area, who collected over $200.

The following were recognized for their many years as volunteers for the annual crusade:

✓ Della Miner of Clarksville, 30 years.

✓ Bessie Fox of Mt. Morris, Mrs. Randolph Bayard and Flossie Craft of Rices Landing and Bertha Bradford of Waynesburg, 25 years.

✓ Irene Gopen of Franklin Township, 20 years.

✓ Annabelle Hackney of Clarksville, Mayme Morris of Eastview, Allif Anderson of Jackson Township, Mrs. Loren Small of Rices Landing, and Mrs. Charles Booth and Margaret Rush of Waynesburg, 15 years.

✓ Carol Rush of Oak Forest, Freda Husk of Carmichaels, Goldie Cox of Greensboro, Jeanne King of Mt. Morris, Mrs. Joseph Blasic of Rices Landing and Mrs. Ralph VanDruff of Whiteley Township, 10 years.

Recognized for five years service were Margaret DeFrancisco, Clarksville-Teagarden; Susan Kartley, Crucible; Arlene Kiger, Franklin Township; Dottie Hopkins and Goldie Bamberger, Morris Township; Sandy Kiger, Mt. Morris; Janet Rhodes, Springhill Township; and Marilyn Johnson, Virginia Scott, Joyce Baldwin, and Brenda Boyd, Waynesburg.

Southeastern Greene School Strike Settled

WAYNESBURG — A contract agreement reached at 2 a.m. Tuesday ended a four-week strike of 22 non-professional employees in the Southeastern Greene School District.

The new three-year pact was ratified by both school board and by members of Local 585, Service Employees International Union, following 14 hours of concentrated negotiations which were held in court under supervision of Judge Glenn Toothman.

Mapletown High School and the district's three elementary schools were open Tuesday, although attendance was down to about 60 percent.

"A lot of the parents probably didn't know the strike had ended and others were probably afraid the buildings would not be heated," Superintendent Gerald Marcink said. "We expect attendance to return to normal today."

Two of the elementary schools — Bobtown and Penn Pitt — are heated by coal and even though janitors were not to return to work the boilers were fired and the buildings were warm, with the work being done by Elementary Superintendent Charles Wyda and two school board members, Floyd Hornick and Dave Bierer.

Marcink also said that all cafeterias would be back in operation today.

The 22 striking employees who will be back on the job today include cafeteria, janitorial, custodial and maintenance personnel.

John Stets, who served as chief negotiator for the school board, said the new contract calls for wage increases during each of the three years of 35 cents an hour during the first six months of the year and an additional 15 cents in the final six months.

"The union had been holding out for 50 cents an hour, and this was the final compromise we reached," Stets said.

The contract also provides one personal day for nine-month employees; an additional $25 clothing allowance for cafeteria workers; a 17 cents a mile travel allowance for employees while on the job; an increase from $5 to $10 in payment upon retirement of unused sick days, up to a maximum of 100 days; a job security clause; the right to continue health insurance at the district's group rate following retirement, and an improved life insurance package.

Commissioners Claim Airport Paving Work Inferior

By BOB EICHENLAUB
Greene County Editor
WAYNESBURG — A letter from a contractor rejecting any responsibility for damage which may be done to the asphalt taxiway leading to a block of 10 new T-hangers at the county airport has been labeled a smokescreen by the Greene County commissioners.

The commissioners, at their meeting Tuesday, charged the Fritch Construction Co. of Belle Vernon with raising an issue in an attempt to avoid responsibility for what they claim was inferior work.

The letter from the construction company warned the commissioners that lack of a gutter and drainage system around the new hangers could result in water running onto and under the new asphalt laid for the hangar taxiways, which in turn could cause the asphalt to break.

"We hope that by calling your attention to this condition now you will have ample time to prevent any problems. However, we feel justified in waiving ourselves, our subcontractors and our bonding company of all responsibilities and guarantees in this matter.

We trust you will understand our position and consider this letter an attempt to save us all aggravation and expense," the letter concluded.

In response, the commissioners said they are dissatisfied with work done by the paving subcontractor and several weeks ago refused to accept the work because the asphalt had low spots and was rutted.

"We signed a contract for results and have not gotten them," Commission Chairman Joseph Pawlosky said. The commissioners said the contractor was to have placed a new top on the taxiway by Oct. 15, but has not done so.

They also authorized the airport manager to begin renting the new hangars, even though the question of completion of the taxiways remains to be resolved.

"We've been waiting for almost a year to start renting the hangars and have lost a lot of revenue because of the time consumed in getting the taxiway built," Pawlosky said.

In other developments at the meeting, the commissioners announced they will be going to Harrisburg next month in an effort to obtain a grant from the Department of Community Affairs for installation of an elevator in the new county office building which would permit them to convert the unused third floor of the building for office space. They will also explore the possibility of obtaining funding for replacement of the manually-operated elevator in the old county office building.

Rep. H. William DeWeese, who was at the meeting, promised his support in the effort to obtain the grant.

Pawlosky, who will serve this year as chairman of the legislative committee of the Pennsylvania Association of County Commissioners, asked for DeWeese's support in several areas where the local board feels new legislation is needed.

The commissioners said they feel counties should have the same right to exonerate senior citizens from the payment of per capita taxes as school districts now have. At the present time, a county can excuse payment only where the individual has annual income of less than $3,200, regardless of age.

They also said the State Game Commission should be required to increase the amount it pays to local municipalities, counties and school districts for property which is purchased as game lands.

"We have 14,000 acres in game lands in Greene County and get $900 a year from the state for it," Commissioner L. R. Santore said.

Dr. Stanley Falor met with the commissioners to discuss equipment for the medical examination and first aid room at the new county jail, where he will serve as physician.

He pointed out that by state law all prisoners must be given physical examinations with 48 hours, and that having facilities for them at the jail will save the cost of having them done at the hospital. He was authorized to purchase the equipment, which will cost an estimated $1,700.

Mrs. Rhonda Madlock was appointed assessor for Jefferson Borough to fill a vacancy.

A request from Waynesburg Borough for a $30,000 allocation from the county's Liquid Fuels Fund was tabled for action at a later date.

The commissioners announced there will be no meeting Friday of this week.

Man Jailed On Drug Charges

WAYNESBURG — A 22-year-old Waynesburg man was arrested early Wednesday morning by Waynesburg Borough Police, who claim they have evidence the suspect was selling hard drugs to children as young as 11 or 12 years old.

Being held in the Greene County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond is George A. Riess III, of Waynesburg R.D. 5 (Oak Forest Road), formerly of Carmichaels. Riess is a self-employed contractor involved in remodeling and painting homes.

According to Waynesburg Borough Detective Dave Clark, the investigation had been going on since the first of September and involved three informants, one of whom made four separate drug purchases from Riess. At one time during the investigation, five police officers were watching the suspect and at times taking photographs.

Clark told reporters at a press conference Wednesday afternoon the police informer purchased marijuana from the suspect on September 24 and September 30 and then on October 2, purchased cocaine, hashish and amphetamines. The final purchase which led to the arrest occurred on Tuesday night when the informer purchased LSD.

The LSD was contained in small blotters measuring about a quarter inch wide and an inch-and-a-half long. There were five such blotters in a plastic bag. Clark said each of the blotters sell for $5.

Shortly after the purchase was made, police stopped Riess driving on East Greene Street. He offered no resistance and cooperated fully, police said.

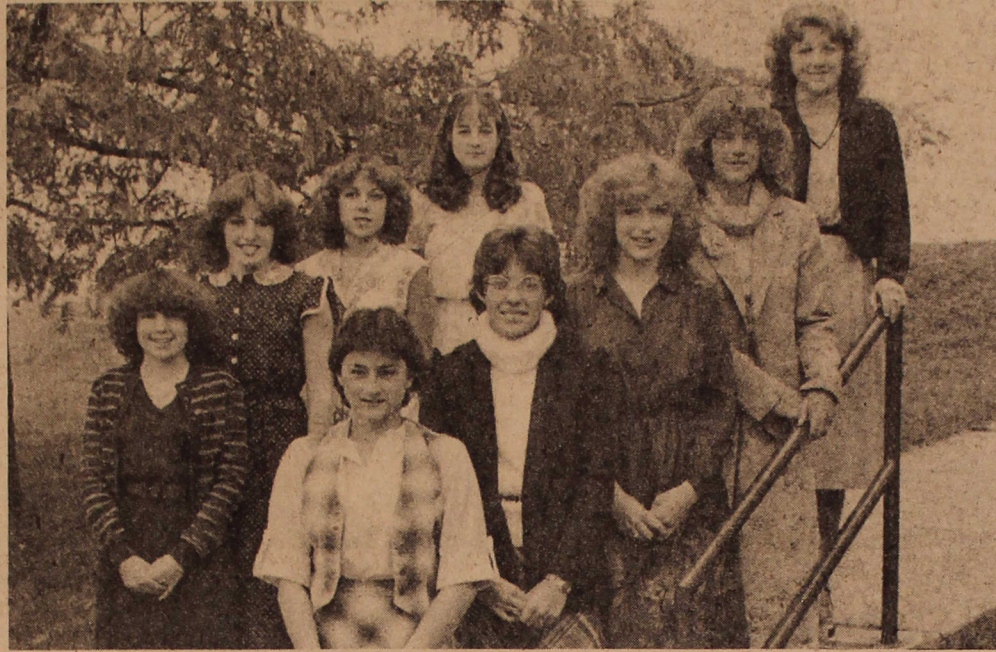

The vehicle was impounded and police obtained a search warrant for the suspect's home, a rented garage on the North Side and his automobile. Drug paraphernalia, including pipes, bowls, roaches to hold cigarettes, a bong, papers and baggies such as used to hold drugs, were found at his home and his rented garage.

Riess was charged with four counts of possession of drugs with intent to deliver and also with possession of a small amount of marijuana. The marked money used in Tuesday's purchase and the LSD blotters were being held by police. Prior purchases have been sent to the crime lab in Greensburg.

Clark praised the citizen cooperation in the case and warned parents that youngsters are turning to harder drugs in greater numbers.

"Dealers do not have to worry about smuggling drugs across the border. They can have drugs manufactured easily enough in the U.S.," Clark said.

The suspect, who has signed a confession, will face a preliminary hearing at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, October 16, before Magistrate Ruth Hughes.

Carmichaels Homecoming Court

College Homecoming This Week

WAYNESBURG — Waynesburg College celebrates its annual homecoming this weekend with an alumni and friends mixer Friday night, an alumni brunch Saturday, the traditional homecoming parade and football game, and a Saturday night homecoming dance.

Friday night's schedule of events includes an alumni board of directors meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the private dining room of Benedum Hall, and the alumni and friends mixer.

The mixer, from 9 p.m. to midnight, will be held in the Waynesburg Borough council chambers, located on High Street behind the police station. The special events commission, a Waynesburg community group, sponsors the annual alumni and friends mixer. This year, there will be a $1.50 admission charge that will cover snacks, and will help to fund other community projects.

On Saturday, the alumni brunch, sponsored by the alumni association, will be held at the Elks Club on Greene Street from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Cost is $3 per person. Also on Saturday morning, the alumni office in Miller Hall will be open for ticket pick-up beginning at 9:30 a.m., and the college bookstore will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

This year's homecoming parade, organized and sponsored by the student senate, will use the traditional High Street route, going down High from West Street to Morgan Street, turning right on Morgan Street to Lincoln, and then going to College Field.

The Waynesburg College Yellow Jackets will host the Frostburg State College Bobcats in the homecoming game.

Kick-off is set for 1:15 p.m. at College Field. Waynesburg defeated Frostburg last year by a 13-7 score and this year has posted a 1-3 record, having lost to Westminster College last weekend, Canisius, and Indiana University of Pennsylvania. The Jackets defeated Geneva in their second game of the season by a 24-7 score.

The 1980 homecoming queen, court and escorts, all elected by the student body, will be presented at halftime of the Waynesburg-Frostburg game.

Following Saturday's game, the Yellow Jacket

Booster Club will host a post-game party that will be held upstairs in the Waynesburg Moose Lodge, at the corner of Greene and Morgan Streets. All alumni and friends of the college are welcome, and donations to the Booster Club will be accepted. New members may also join club at the time.

Also on the schedule for Saturday night is a homecoming dance, featuring orchestra music. Alumni and friends are invited to attend as guests of the student body.

A week of pre-homecoming activities has been scheduled this year, including movies, concerts, and orange-and-black day, and a homecoming festival of games and carnival activities Friday night.

The festival, in the College Quad, begins at 7 p.m.

Debra Lee Grim was welcomed as a new member. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. William Hewitt and Mrs. Mildred McGlumphy.

State 4-H Show Winners

WAYNESBURG — Months of competition in local and district shows by members of Greene County 4-H horse and pony clubs paid off last week when several of the young men and women won awards at the State 4-H Horse Show at Harrisburg.

Four members won place ribbons and seven others received participation ribbons at the show, which was held Oct. 10-12.

Rochelle Kovalcheck, a member of the Carmichaels club, took second place in pole bending and seventh place in the cloverleaf barrel race.

The county also had two other second-place winners. Wendy Taylor of the Eastern Greene club was top runner-up in junior saddle seat equitation and Melanie Bennett of the Mt. Morris club placed second in western pleasure pony competition.

A fourth place award was won by David McLe of the Mt. Morris club in the working hunter horse competition.

Others who took part in the show were Kim Batcho and Lisa Warner of the Mt. Morris club; Kim Hoy, Leah Hoy and Amy Willison of the Waynesburg Club; Sherry Hvizda of the Eastern Greene Club, and Christi Stiles of the Ruff Creek club.

Approximately 500 riders and their horses from throughout Pennsylvania, all of them winners of county and district eliminations, competed in 29 different classes.

County Extension Agent Roger W. Smith said the state contest gave members an opportunity to display their skills in horsemanship and ability to groom a horse for showing.

"The primary purposes of the state 4-H program are to develop riding skills, gain self confidence by competing in shows, receive training in leadership and citizenship, and to learn the meaning of responsibility by caring for an animal," Smith said. The state show climaxes the year for more than 9,500 Pennsylvania 4-H members enrolled in horse and pony project work.

Responsibility for utilizing the library program will lie with the Greene County Probation Office. Charlene Carper Johnson, adult proba-

Jail Library System Approved

WAYNESBURG — The Greene County Library System has received initial approval of its application for a $19,175 grant to provide library services to the new Greene County jail, which will be placed in service on Oct. 27.

The contract is subject to appropriations by the U.S. Congress for 1981 fiscal year Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) Title I funds. Grant applications exceed available LSCA funding this year.

Mrs. Jean Wilt, administrative librarian of the Bowly Public Library, received notification of the initial approval from Elliot L. Shelkrot, state librarian. "I congratulate you, your staff and the (library) board for your continued efforts to secure funds to provide better library services to Greene County," he wrote.

Once the money has been made available and final approval received, the library would receive an initial payment of 16 percent, followed by 10 equal payments to reach 90 percent of the grant. Shelkrot said the final 10 percent payment would be made following a final audit of the project.

The proposed jail library would include a small collection of legal books, a reference and resource collection with audio/visual materials, and leisure-time reading.

One of the major objectives would be to provide materials which could be utilized in rehabilitation and job training programs. Starting date for the project is April 1981. Currently there is no library program for inmates at the county jail.

Responsibility for utilizing the library program will lie with the Greene County Probation Office. Charlene Carper Johnson, adult probation officer and community treatment specialist, has been named to oversee the program, with active involvement of the county sheriff's office, Bowly Library, the county bookmobile and Operation Outreach. It is estimated that approximately 490 inmates per year will benefit

Sewer Authority Awards Contracts

WAYNESBURG — The Franklin Township Sewer Authority, Tuesday night voted to defer penalty payments on sewer bills until after Jan. 1, 1981, and awarded bids on three sewer projects to Shipman Sanitary Service of Waynesburg.

Originally, the authority was charging a 10 percent penalty on unpaid bills but on a motion by Thomas Albert and a second by Robert Teagarden, the board voted to defer the penalty. Mark Morris, the only other member present, voted with the majority.

Shipman, upon filing a $5,000 maintenance cash bond, will officially be given the contract to lay 2,930 feet of new sewer line and construct 12 manholes at three separate locations in the township.

Shipman was low bidder on all three projects at a $49,067 aggregate price.

In line with the new construction, the authority voted to charge each property owner $10 per front foot, the same as the recently completed project. However, the tap-in fee has been increased from $500 to $750 since the completion of the major sewer project.

In other action, the authority reversed their decision of Oct. 7 and awarded the authority's insurance package to Baily Insurance. At the last meeting, because of a misunderstanding of the bid, the package was awarded to the Morris Agency. The insurance committee held a meeting with all three bidders and explained the situation last week. Annual cost of the package is $5,213.

The authority also directed its solicitor to send official notices to 20 property owners that the authority will move within five days to hire private contractors to complete tap-ins for owners who have failed or refused to connect to the sewer system.

The township supervisors will send an itemized bill to the property owner when the job is completed and the property owner will have six months in which to pay or a lien will be filed against the property.

Women's Club Honors Senior

CARMICHAELS — Susan Hathaway, the September Girl-of-the-Month at Carmichaels High School, was the guest of honor at last week's meeting of the Carmichaels Area Women's Civic Club.

A senior at Carmichaels High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hathaway of Jefferson R.D.

Mrs. Roger (Susan) Spahr was introduced as a new member.

The program on membership orientation was conducted by Mrs. Walter Atalski and panelists Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. William Hanley and Mrs. Joseph Hodgess.

It was announced that future meetings of the club will be held in the Greene Academy with the exception of special events such as the Christmas party.

Members were urged to participate in the Federation of Women's Clubs postcard project. When a member approves or disapproves of a television program, she is to express her opinion on a postcard and send it to the television station.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. Ray Hathaway and Mrs. Fred Stewart.

Police Report

Gasoline Stolen

Waynesburg Borough Police are investigating the theft of 20 gallons of gasoline and a 12-volt battery from a truck owned by Agway.

The theft occurred sometime between 7 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday while the truck was parked on First Street.

Wringer Taken

A wringer from a washing machine stored at the Busy Bee on East High Street was stolen sometime between 10:55 p.m. Tuesday and 11:15 p.m. Wednesday according to borough police. Value to wringer was placed at $30.

Purse Theft

Waynesburg Borough Police are seeking two white males, about 14 years old, who are suspected of taking a purse owned by Jacqueline Wolfe, of Jefferson R.D.1.

The purse was on the seat of the Wolfe car which was parked on South Morris Street.

Teacher Reinstated At Bobtown Elementary School

MAPLETOWN — The Southeastern Greene School Board has been ordered to reinstate a head teacher at the Bobtown Elementary School. Any appeal from the ruling must be filed within two weeks.

The grievance, involving fifth grade teacher Robert Long, was submitted to an arbitrator this summer. Long received notice he had won the case about two weeks ago.

Last January the board, for budgetary reasons, eliminated the head teacher position at Bobtown, a position Long had held for several years. Contacted last night, Long said he understood the position had been eliminated because of money and that his job performance had always been rated satisfactory.

After he lost the job Long filed an appeal through the Southeastern Greene Teachers Association with the Pennsylvania State Education Association (PSEA) and an arbitrator ruled in his favor.

When the board dissolved the head teacher's job, they moved Assistant Superintendent Charles Wyda's office to Bobtown. There is a head teacher at both the Penn Pitt and Glassworks Elementary Schools.

"That's why I appealed it, I couldn't see their reasoning behind it," Long said. The position paid $1,100 a year.

Following Tuesday night's meeting the board stayed to discuss whether they should appeal the Long decision and also three other grievances brought before them by teachers. Superintendent Gerald Marcinak said the board met in executive session prior to the regular meeting about the grievances but hadn't had time to review them thoroughly.

Robert Scheeren, the district's architect, will be contacted to help resolve a problem with the sewage treatment plant at Mapletown High School. A recent inspection by officials for the Department of Environmental Resources (DER) revealed a chlorinator and dosing pumps out of service and a sand filter not working properly because sewerage was traveling through one filter only, not alternating between two.

A letter from DER indicated the district had until Oct. 22 to notify the agency how they would proceed to correct the problem, a violation of the Clean Streams Act of 1937.

Superintendent Marcinak said any decision to revise the school calendar to make up for days lost during the strike by non-professional employees would be made before the next board meeting. Five days of school were lost during the strike. "Hopefully we have enough built-in time that we can continue with our present calendar," Marcinak said, indicating vacation days at Thanksgiving or Christmas.

Students who missed classes, when the schools weren't officially closed during the strike, will be counted as absent on an official excuse. Official excuses include those such as doctor appointments or funerals. Students are permitted 13 parental excuses for absences.

Marcinak said attendance Tuesday ran close to 75 percent and the buildings were all heated. "We hope to be in full swing tomorrow with all the cafeterias open," he said.

The board appointed Fred Answine to serve as administrative assistant while High School Principal Bill Guappone is away on medical leave.

The board hired Louise O'Brien as girls basketball coach and agreed to solicit bids for replacing wrestling mats.

'You Can't Buy Much With A Nickel These Days'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three articles dealing with Greene County agencies supported through the United Way.

WAYNESBURG — Once there was a little boy named Tim, a good swimmer who tried — but never succeeded — swimming the length of the pool. Seeing this, his teacher, who was a Red Cross volunteer, offered him a nickel to try once more.

That time Tim made it. As he climbed out of the water he said: "Could you make it a dime? You can't buy much with a nickel these days."

And then there was the time the instructor taught her beginner's class the prone float, only to find out the next day that they were calling it the prone or chrome float.

Viola Walker, a one-time Altoona resident who has made her home in Waynesburg for many years, enjoys telling others about some of her memorable experiences as a volunteer worker. And she has a lot to remember, for at 87 Viola has been a Red Cross swimming instructor for 30 years.

"I've been teaching for so long that I now have students who are the children — and in some cases grandchildren — of students who were in my first class at the Central (Waynesburg) Swimming Pool," she said.

Mrs. Walker, who taught six Red Cross classes of 25 students each this past summer, didn't learn to swim until she was 35. She learned by taking advantage of the water safety services offered by the American Red Cross, a United Way agency.

The Greene County Chapter of the American Red Cross also does other things besides providing swimming classes. It provides emergency shelter and other help in case of fire, flood or disaster; services to military families; classes in first aid; safety and nursing services; and blood services.

This year, the United Way allocated $4,000 to the Greene County Red Cross chapter.

To Mrs. Walker, a Red Cross worker from way back, all the services are important, but she likes to give her time at the swimming pool.

"Swimming is the best exercise for older people because all the muscles get a workout out and it helps breathing, too," she said. "As long as you can get into the water there is no limit to what you can do."

Her activities aren't limited to swimming, however. When she isn't busy attending her church group activities or reading mystery novels, she might be practicing a new song on her violin. She has been an avid violinist since the age of nine and performs locally many times during the year, playing for shut-ins, at the Curry Memorial Home, for other senior citizen groups, and in the orchestra pit of the local theater group. She also played regularly with the California Symphony Orchestra, Washington County, until last year.

A fan of all sports, Viola readily admits that swimming isn't her only love. She used to be a champion archer and would still be shooting today except for a transportation problem in getting to the field.

"I am on the President's physical fitness team and swam 50 miles for the Red Cross patch I wear," she says proudly.

Mrs. Walker has been a widow since 1967 and is the mother of two daughters. One of them, Betty Walker, supervises Greene County pools at both Waynesburg and Carmichaels. It was through Betty that she became an instructor.

"Swimming instructors were scarce years ago, so I agreed to teach an adult evening class and beginners in the morning. I've been doing it ever since and the Red Cross now offers every course you would want from beginners on up to instructors," she said.

She says she has found it very satisfying and is grateful for the opportunity it has given her to work with people.

"When you work with a student on one particular stroke or technique and see the progress and eventually the accomplishment of that goal — that's what makes it worthwhile."

But she also teaches for other reasons.

"It's important to keep on going mentally and physically. I am happy to say I feel good today instead of complaining about aches and pains. Last year I quit my babysitting career, and maybe I'll retire from swimming at 90."

But her main goal is to help the Red Cross organization.

"I received all my experience and training from the Red Cross. I've always believed in paying my debts, and volunteering to work as a teacher is one way to wipe the slate clean."

At 87, Viola Walker of Waynesburg may have missed her chance to compete in the Olympics, but that doesn't stop her from keeping her body in trim as a volunteer Red Cross swimming instructor.

Board Okays School Sale

JEFFERSON — Subject to court approval, the Jefferson-Morgan School Board at a special meeting Thursday morning okayed the private sale of its Dry Tavern elementary building and property for $62,000 to John Gill of Jefferson R.D.

District solicitor Robert McCall said he would petition the Greene County Court next week to set a hearing date to approve the property sale. Court approval is needed for any private sale of school property.

With the opening of its new $4.2 million consolidated elementary school this year, the district had closed five elementary schools at the end of the 1979-80 term. The Dry Tavern property is the last of three of the elementary properties the district plans to sell.

The Lippencott school and property were sold during a public auction in June for $49,500 to the Faith Baptist Church and the Pitt Gas school and property were sold in July by sealed bid for $21,777 to Thomas C. and Beverly M. Howard of Fredericktown R.D.

During the June public auction, the board had rejected a $43,000 bid for the Dry Tavern property entered by John Pochron of Dry Tavern. A similar sealed bid was entered by Pochron in July with that too being rejected.

The board had rejected previous bids in hopes of getting at least the $62,000 appraised value for the property.

The Dry Tavern building is located on slightly over six acres of ground near the intersection of Routes 88-188 at Dry Tavern. The brick building is approximately 80 feet by 130 feet and contains a gymnasium, six classrooms and various other smaller rooms.

Terms of the sale are for Gill to post a $1,000 deposit with the remainder purchase price to be paid following court approval of the sale. Gill will also pay the two percent realty transfer taxes. The district will continue fire insurance on the building until sale approval.

In the only other action during the meeting, it was announced a dedication and open house for the consolidated elementary school will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 17. The board's regular November meeting will be held prior to the dedication at 6:30 p.m.

NO TRICK-OR-TREAT

The Freeport Township supervisors have announced there will be no trick-or-treat activities permitted in the township this year, according to secretary Lucille Haines.

Center Township School Reunion

A joint 50-and 49-year reunion of the Classes of 1930 and 1931 of Center Township Vocational High School, which located at Rogersville, was held at the Mansion House at Old Concord Aug. 30. This was the first reunion ever held by either class and was attended by 18 of the 21 living members of the two classes. Members attending, including the high school principal, were: from left to right in the front row, Callie Ely Rees, Dorothy Mitchell Walker and Evelyn Phillips Stewart (class of 1930, Miriam Rees Pears and Josephine Harvey Kinney (class of 1931) and Leota Mitchell Gray (class of 1930). In the same order in the second row they are, Robert

Vo-Tech To Get Grant

Norman Waldman, director of the Greene County Vocational-Technical School, reported to the school's Joint Operating Committee meeting Thursday night he feels the school will receive a $3,000 grant from the Keystone Bituminous Coal Operators Association to complete a conveyor belt system for its mine maintenance program.

Since the inception of the mine maintenance program at the school the coal operators association has made an annual donation to the program. Waldman said he recently met with officers of the association to present various needs of the program for grant possibilities.

Of the various grant proposals Waldman made during the meeting, he said completion of the conveyor belt system with portable capabilities was met with the greatest favor from officers of the association.

The committee approved salaries of $250 each for Vocational-Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) advisors James Walters and Lee Wyatt. Approval was also granted for the two club advisors and 15 members of the schoolwide club to attend a VICA Leadership Conference at Seven Springs Oct. 29 through 31.

Waldman was also granted permission to attend a Vocational Administrators of Pennsylvania workshop at Carlisle on Oct. 26 through 28.

IN USMC EXERCISE

Marine Gunnery Sgt. A.P. Falls, son of Mary M. Wolfe, of Dilliner, is participating in exercise "Team Work 80" in the North Atlantic.

He is a member of Marine Aircraft Group 40.

An open house will be held at the school from 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 22. Teachers will be in attendance to met with any parents who have questions about individual students or programs at the school.

American Legion Posts To Hold Installations

MT. MORRIS — Installation of officers for American Legion posts in Waynesburg and Mt. Morris will be held at 5 p.m. Sunday, October 12, at Mt. Morris Post 992.

Also, the following department appointments were made in District 25 by Commander Walter Pasierbek:

Renardo A. Matteucci, Rices Landing, sergeant-at-arms; Laurent Cox, Cecil, assistant sergeant-at-arms; Michael Cvetan, Rices Landing, poppy chairman; Walter Pasierbek, Washington, advisory committee; Charles Meadows, Rices Landing, children and youth; Roger Fischer, Washington and A.J. DeMedio, Donora, legislative committee; Wayne Philp, Centerville, retirement committee; Joe Harshman, Centerville, scholarship endowment committee; Roy Garrett, Houston, Sons of Legion and Rev. William Smith, Donora, state veterans homes.

The next district meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, November 9, at West Alexander Post 656.

College Expands Teaching Faculty

WAYNESBURG — Twelve new members have joined the teaching faculty at Waynesburg College this fall. Six of the new appointments are to full-time positions, while the other six are part-time.

With the 12 appointments, the teaching faculty now numbers 54 full-time and 19 part-time members. More than 56 percent hold doctoral degrees, which college officials note is "well above the national average."

New full-time faculty members are Leonard J. Barish, instructor in English; Christine A. Bell, instructor in business administration; Joseph A. Graff, lecturer in business administration; David T. Jones, instructor in business administration; William A. Londley, instructor in chemistry, and Eberhard W. Werner, instructor in geology.

Those named to part-time positions are Ruth E. Belasco, lecturer in art; Carol D. Carter, lecturer in mathematics; John W. Hardisty, lecturer in business administration; M. Jeanne Harris, lecturer in mathematics; Marjory Ann Johnston, assistant librarian, and Eleanor K. Keller, lecturer in mathematics.

Barish earned his bachelor's degree at Rochester Institute of Technology and his master's at Clarion State College.

Bell received her bachelor's and master's degrees from Temple University and has taught at Olivet College and Miami University of Ohio.

Graff, a certified public accountant, earned his bachelor's degree at Duquesne University. He has taught at Duquesne and at Florida International University and has 12 years experience in public accounting.

Jones, a 1979 graduate of Waynesburg College, earned his master's degree at West Virginia University, where he held a teaching assistantship.

Lindley is a 1973 Waynesburg graduate and received his master's degree from West Virginia University, where he held a teaching fellowship.

Werner earned his bachelor's degree at the University of Pennsylvania and his master's degree from Rutgers University. He has held teaching assistantships at both Rutgers and West Virginia University and has four years of experience as an oceanographer and three years as a consulting geologist.

Belasco earned her bachelor's degree from Appalachian State University and her masters at West Virginia University, where she held a teaching assistantship.

Carter, who has taught at Fayette Campus of Penn State and the Uniontown Area School District, earned her bachelor's degree at Otterbein College and her master's degree at Michigan Technological University.

Hardisty, a 1972 Waynesburg College graduate, earned his law degree from Duquesne University and is a practicing attorney. He joins the business administration department as a lecturer in business law.

Harris received her bachelor's degree from Fairmont State College and her master's from the University of Pittsburgh. She previously taught at Fairmont.

Johnston, who earned her bachelor's degree at Oberlin College and has master's degrees from the University of Michigan and Case Western Reserve University, fills the position of assistant librarian.

Keller, a 1973 Waynesburg College graduate, earned her bachelor's degree in mathematics. She also teaches at Waynesburg Central High School.

Court Role Important In Ending School Strike

The vital role which the courts can play in bringing an end to labor disputes where the public interest is directly involved was strikingly demonstrated in Greene County this week.

The walkout involved service employees in the Southeastern Greene School District. It began on Sept. 16 and quickly reached the point where pickets were interfering with the holding of classes, forcing officials to shut down the schools.

An injunction was handed down by Greene County Judge Glenn Toothman which limited picketing and forbade any activities which would interrupt the orderly conduct of classes, but this did not prevent incidents which the district claimed violated the court order.

When union members were brought into court to face a hearing on a possible contempt citation, Judge Toothman decided instead to demand that both the full school board and striking employees engage in concentrated negotiations at the court house to resolve their differences.

It took about 14 hours to get the job done, but at 2 a. m. Tuesday the last details of a contract agreement were hammered out and it was then ratified by both sides.

Both the union and school board, prior to that, had been working at negotiations for months, at least halfheartedly. Without the intervention of the court the strike could have dragged on and on with classes being held only when sufficient police protection was provided to prevent militant action by pickets.

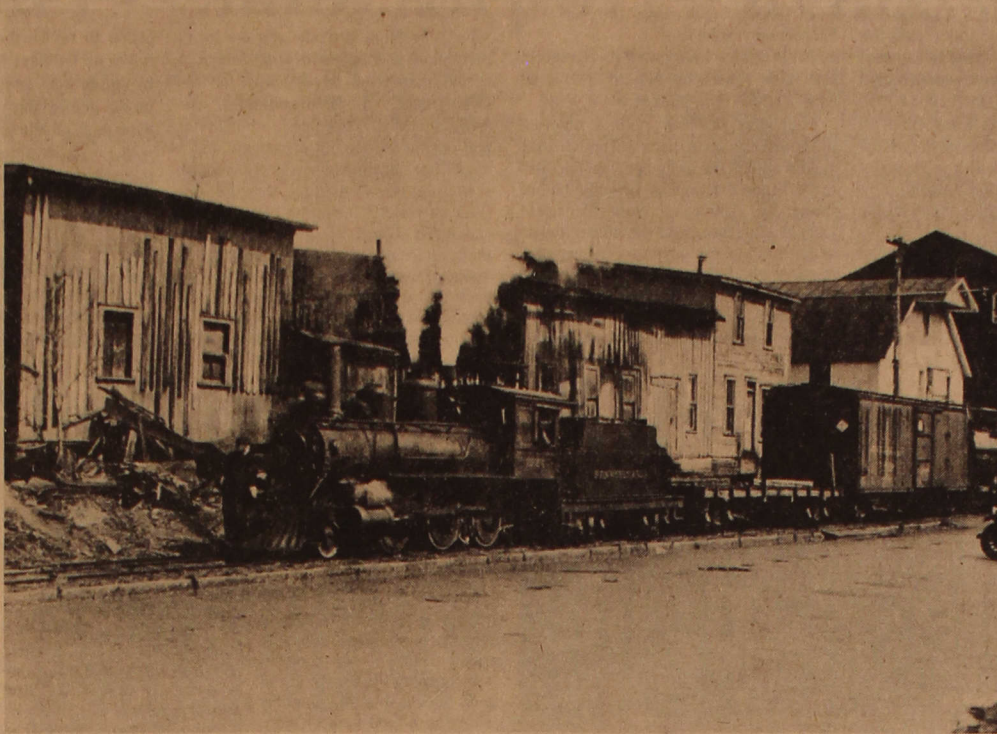

Louis Kushner, a veteran union attorney who represented the striking non-professional employees, credited the court with exerting the pressure required to get both sides moving. It was particularly effective because Judge Toothman remained at the court house during the entire 14 hours to make sure there was no letdown.

The settlement marked the third time in recent years that similar action by Judge Toothman has been successful in ending difficult school strikes.

"If you keep them talking long enough, they reach the point where both sides are willing to compromise. And that's what negotiation is all about," the Greene County jurist said.

It seems to work in Greene County, and it's surprising it isn't tried more often in other places.

LeFaiver To Offer Modified Proposal

By ROBIN ROBERTS
ROGERSVILLE — The long-debated and ill-fated building program of the West Greene School District will be brought to center stage again next Wednesday evening when the district's superintendent, Elliott LeFaiver, will recommend that the district's school board go through with a modified proposal of the plan which was rejected by the board earlier this year.

LeFaiver, who came to the district after the building and renovation plan had been rejected by the board in late May, confirmed Thursday afternoon that he has been directed by the board to review the plans and submit a recommendation.

LeFaiver also confirmed that he will recommend to the board that it reconsider the construction of an addition to the existing high school building and renovations to the building.

LeFaiver said Thursday that the major area of change in the recommendation he will present to the board concerns the lessening of gymnasium size in the addition.

The original plan, which was long-considered by the board, called for the construction of a large gymnasium for interscholastic competition, and the construction of an auxiliary gym and a remedial gymnasium.

In the proposal LeFaiver will present Wednesday, the large gymnasium will be eliminated, but the remedial and auxiliary facilities will be retained. LeFaiver estimated that the elimination of the large gymnasium would reduce the total cost of the project by approximately $330,000, which would represent between one and two mill per year for real estate taxpayers in the district for the life of a bond issue to finance the project.

When bids were received by the district this spring, they came in at approximately $6 million. LeFaiver said Thursday that under his proposal cost of the project would be reduced to about $5,070,000. He also said he did not feel it would be necessary to go through the entire procedure prescribed by the state for such a building/renovation plan. He said the district has already completed the procedure and that probably only two areas of the district's long-range plan would have to be reviewed.

LeFaiver said if his recommendation is accepted by the board, the timetable for completion of the project would be reworking of the drawings during November and December; accepting bids in February or March; breaking ground in April and project completion in September of 1982.

LeFaiver said that his recommendation is accepted by the board, the timetable for completion of the project would be reworking of the drawings during November and December.

Meeting Draws Crowd

By THELMA CALLAGHAN
Staff Writer

CARMICHAELS — A meeting called Friday night by the group Parents Against Drugs had a standing room only crowd in the Carmichaels United Methodist Church sanctuary, demonstrating the concern of parents on the drug problem in the community.

The question at the meeting was "What can we do concerning the drug problem?" Dick McWilliams, president of the new group, conducted the meeting. He introduced state trooper Joseph Albani, William Ewing of the governor's drug council, Rep. H. William DeWeese and Mike Hillsmen, a former drug addict.

The group Parents Against Drugs was organized, according to McWilliams, solely to get support of the community for children in the area. The group believes the schools are not doing enough and the group will be on the agenda for the Oct. 16 school board meeting.

The school board also said they would like to have a special meeting with the group to allow enough time for full discussion on the problems. The group also plans to attend the meeting of Carmichaels Borough and the Cumberland Township Supervisors to ask for help and to offer help. If ordinances are needed, the group has volunteered its assistance. It was stressed that the group is not a vigilante group, but will do anything within the limits of the law, in an orderly manner to handle the problem.

William Ewing, executive director of the Washington-Greene Prevention agency for the Governor's Council on Drug and Alcohol Abuse, said a drug is any substance that provides changes in all or any aspects of life. He showed a film presenting factual drug and alcohol information. It was the consensus of Ewing and state police that the problem in the Carmichaels area is mainly from alcohol, quaaludes, marijuana, hashish (which is increasing in use), and a little cocaine. Ewing gave a chalk talk on those specific drugs, relating the ingredients of each on how each affects a person.

Brochures were given to the audience on the general characteristics of drug users. Ewing said the first step in solving the drug problem is in the home. He said parents must set a good example and raise children in a responsible manner. "Keep the lines of communication open," he stressed and told the group to be "the best parents you can."

Ewing said organization to combat the drug problem is essential and a group such as Parents Against Drugs is the proper step to alert the community and the schools that the parents want to help.

Intermediate Unit I will hold a special meeting Nov. 3 with all school administrators to discuss school policy guidelines to be implemented in the school.

The Carmichaels Area School District's schools have held special classes to educate children and teachers concerning drug abuse, but the parents believe the classes should be on-going. Ewing said the group can also go to the owner of any business selling drug paraphernalia and make known their anger of those sales within the community.

Trooper Albani said he will show a complete drug kit at

Community Health Center Has Meeting In Bobtown

BOBTOWN — The Southeastern Greene Community Health Center Corp. will hold its annual meeting at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 21, at the Bobtown Health Center, with new members to be elected to the board of directors.

A nominating committee will be appointed prior to the meeting to seek candidates for positions on the board and to conduct the election proceedings.

Any person who has used the services of the Health Center, either at Bobtown or at Greensboro, is considered a member of the corporation. Any member of the corporation who attends the meeting may nominate a candidate for a position on the board.

Purpose of the corporation is to provide basic medical and dental care to residents of the southeastern section of Greene County. The board of directors establishes policies governing function of the health center and periodically reviews programs offered to the community and the financial status of the health center.

An event which has become one of the highlights of the year for a lot of people in Greene County and surrounding areas will be held this weekend at the Greene County Historical Society museum at Waynesburg.

It is the Fall Festival which has been held during October for several years, and which always attracts thousands of visitors.

Each year it has gotten bigger and better, and this year promises to be no exception.

The old Waynesburg and Washington Railroad narrow-gauge steam engine will again be fired up to make its short trips on 100 feet of track. The local Civil War memorial unit will be holding its annual encampment and recreating skirmishes from that war, and flintlock rifle buffs will be on hand to display their weapons and other frontier-era accouterments.

Spinning and leather tooling will be among early-day crafts which are demonstrated. Gleaming copper kettles filled with homemade apple butter, homemade bread and barbecued chicken will be among food offered. And as always, the barn at the museum will be filled with craftsmen displaying their wares.

The special feature this year will be the National Dulcimer Society convention, with musicians from several states expected to attend. Both the hammer and mountain dulcimer will be demonstrated, and Russell Fuharty of Mannington, W. Va., a nationally-recognized dulcimer musician, will be honored.

Setting for the festival is perfect. The 52-room museum, filled with attractions for history buffs, is surrounded by a large treed lawn which provides ample room for visitors to move about and enjoy the fall weather which has always seemed to be perfect on Fall Festival weekend. Hopefully this year will be no exception.

As in the past, free shuttle bus transportation will be provided every 20 minutes to and from the county fairgrounds to relieve parking pressure at the museum itself.

Much of the credit for the fall festival has to go to Mary Childs, assistant curator at the museum, and to Miss Josephine Denny, its biggest supporter.

Festival activities will begin at 10 a. m. on both Saturday and Sunday and run until late afternoon.

The weekend provides a perfect opportunity for those who have not as yet visited the museum to do so. And those who have attended before will undoubtedly welcome the opportunity to return.

AROUND TOWN

By THE STAFF

Two former Waynesburgers have returned to their homes in Florida and New York State after making their annual summer visit at the home of their mother, Mrs. Ronald Kurtz Sr., who resides in the former Warren Shul property at South Morgan and East Elm Street. They are Ronald Jr., an engineer with the I.B.M. Corporation in Binghamton, N.Y., and Col. Melvin Kurtz, a 35-year-old career officer and pilot with the U.S. Air Force now living in Destin, Fla. Mrs. Kurtz and her late husband lived at LaBelle, Fayette County, before moving to Greene County where they operated a tavern for several years at the site of the former Double Bridge, where the county's first shopping mall was created a few years ago. Ron was a state champion wrestler at Waynesburg High and also wrestled at Pitt.

Atty. Stephen White of Waynesburg, one of the county's new group of barristers, is walking with a cane for a few days because of a sprained ankle suffered while playing in a pickup game of volleyball earlier this week. He is associated with the Thompson and Baily law offices here.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Schlenger of Northfield, N.J., have returned home after spending the past weekend at the home of her father, Paul McNay, of First Avenue, Waynesburg. Mr. McNay is a retired oil and gas operator and has been active in local horse shows for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Annas Whitman have moved from Rogersville to their newly purchased home in Rolling Meadows, near Waynesburg. He is a retiree of Columbia Gas Corporation.

Mrs. Betty C. Yonie, a former Waynesburg resident now living in Downey, Calif., is spending the weekend at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Baily of Fifth Ave., Waynesburg, on the north side section of town. She will also visit her mother, Mrs. George Cowan of Waynesburg.

Another long time resident has moved to the Pittsburgh suburban area to be nearer to her family. She is Mrs. Lucille Cowell Troutman, long time resident of Sherman Ave., whose husband, the late Michael Troutman, died recently. Her son, Barry, has been a Pittsburgh area resident for several years.

There will be plenty of shooting in the Greene County hills during the regular small game hunting season and particularly the deer season, Dec. 1-13, but both of those combined will be as quiet as a Quaker meeting compared to the banging that will start during the two-day doe season Dec. 15 and 16, for which the county has been allocated 6,800 doe permits—if the applicants haven't already shelled out enough for their small game licenses. About all the game wardens have to say on that carnage is "may the lucky ones survive."

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grandon of Richhill Street, left Wednesday to visit her brother, Lieut. Col. Paul Campbell and wife in Virginia with the hope that Col. Campbell will have improved sufficiently from a heart attack to return with them to Waynesburg for the college homecoming football game against Frostburg State College Saturday afternoon at College Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Annas Whitman have moved from Rogersville to their newly purchased home in Rolling Meadows, near Waynesburg. He is a retiree of Columbia Gas Corporation.

Edwards Makes Move Miss Smith Weds Simkovic

The Washington-Greene county scholastic football scoring race has again become a two-man battle thanks to last Friday's four-touchdown performance against Washington by Charleroi High School tailback Jim Edwards.

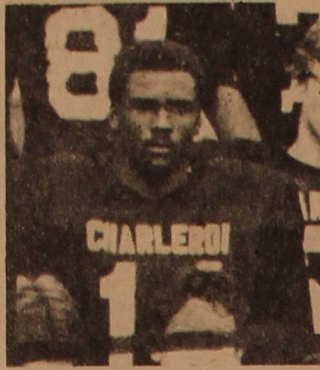

Edwards, who scored on runs of 46, 42, 15 and three yards in the 42-21 victory over Wash High, now has 14 touchdowns for 84 points, to trail Mon Valley Catholic's Jonathan Green, also a junior tailback, by only six points.

The Cougars' ace has achieved his total despite seeing limited action in two games with a twisted ankle.

The four touchdowns represented Edwards' season high for one game. He has scored three apiece against McGuffey and Southmoreland; two against Laurel Highlands and one apiece against South Park and Beth-Center.

Green, who has crossed the goal line 15 times for 90 points, scored twice in the Spartans' 30-21 loss to Carmichaels on a pass play covering 70 yards and a one-yard plunge. He also went over the 1,000-yard mark in rushing for the season. He is attempting to become MVC's second individual champion in three seasons as Andre Smith, whom Green succeeded at tailback, won the 1978 title with 111 points.

Both contenders, with three games still remaining, are far ahead of the 70-point total registered by 1979 district scoring champion Tom Croftcheck of Carmichaels.

No other district player is close to the two top scorers with Trinity's Joe Cario and Burgettstown's Terry Fowler sharing third position with 48 points apiece, while Brian Schaum of California has taken over fifth with 44 and Mark Dobryzinski of McGuffey and Kevin Donovan of Peters Township share sixth place with 42.

The top ten also includes Chuck Coles of Jefferson-Morgan and Rick Hribal of Carmichaels with 38 and Tom Lapevic of Bentworth and Dick Krause of Carmichaels with 32 apiece.

Mon Valley Catholic continues to hold the lead in team offense with a total of 170 points for an average of 24.2 per game, while Carmichaels, with 160, a 22.9 mark, is a close second.

Burgettstown has taken over the lead on team defense, allowing only 34 points for an average of 4.9 per game. Chartiers-Houston, after giving up only 12 points in its first six games, bowed to South Fayette 26-11, and has allowed a total of 38 for a 5.4 average.

CARMICHAELS — Denise Rena Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Smith of 545 Old Wayneburg Road, Carmichaels, was married Saturday, September 27, 1980, to Thomas Leonard Simkovic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Simkovic of Nemaocolin.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 2 p.m. at St. Hugh Church, Carmichaels, by the Rev. Ralph V. Stack, with Stan Ferek III as organist and Marsha Rendina as soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She appeared in a floor-length gown of white chiffon with a Queen Anne neckline, long tapered sleeves, natural waistline and A-line skirt flowing into a cathedral length train. The neckline, bodice, sleeves and waistline were accented with imported chantilly lace and seed pearls, and the hemline and train were trimmed with Venice lace and deep pleated ruffle.

Her opera-length veil of silk illusion was outlined in lace petals attached to a molded cap of lace encrusted with seed pearls and lace petals. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, six white roses and stephanotis. Peggy Chiera of Fredericktown attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Andrea and Patricia Simkovic, sisters-in-law of the bridegroom; Laurie Smith of Hershey, cousin of the bride; Sharon Kormanik of Brookfield, Conn., cousin of the bridegroom; Lynn Urbany of Washington, cousin of the bridegroom, and Carolyn Thomas of Carmichaels. Kimberly Duke of Hopwood served as her cousin's flower girl. The maid of honor wore an apricot gown, while the bridesmaids wore tea rose gowns.

David Simkovic of Uniontown served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Mark Simkovic of Carmichaels, Steve Cehula of Uniontown, Mark Urbany of Washington, John D. Kormanik of Brookfield Center, Conn., Cameron Cehula of Uniontown and Jerry Kozlowski of Uniontown. Jerry Simkovic of Uniontown was ring bearer.

A reception for 800 guests was held in the Carmichaels Fire Company social hall, with out-of-state guests attending from Arizona, California, Oregon, Ohio, New York, Connecticut, Maryland and Virginia.

Both the bride and the bridegroom are graduates of Carmichaels Area High School. The bride is a student at Pennsylvania State University, where she is majoring in chemistry. The bridegroom attended Pennsylvania State University and is employed at U.S. Steel's Cumberland Mine.

Following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, the newlyweds are residing at Nemaocolin.

Elliott, Barger Vows

Sheila Kay Elliott and James Edward Barger were united in marriage Saturday, September 27, 1980, in the Rogersville Christian Church.

The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Garvin Hupp. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Elliott of Waynesburg R.D.4. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Barger of Beallsville.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected a silk organza gown with a Queen Anne neckline, long bishop sleeves and fitted undersleeves accented with lace. The bodice was adorned with chantilly lace, accented with pearls. A full skirt extended into a chapel sweep.

Her picture hat of chantilly lace was trimmed with silk illusion veiling and she carried white roses and carnations with burgandy forget-me-nots. She wore her mother's pearls and for "something new" a gold pin which was a gift of her aunt, Aldine Whyte.

Attending the bride were Brenda Horner as maid of honor, and Penny Elliott, Sherri Elliott, Kelly Gumbert, Paula Lemley and Rita Loring as bridesmaids. They were attired in burgandy gowns with caplets of sheer polyester.

Billy Barger served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Bob Barger, Brad Baker, Glenn Pitzer, Mark Rohrer and Warren Miller.

A reception for 400 guests was held at the Waynesburg Moose Lodge with out-of-state guests attending from Indiana, Colorado and New Jersey.

The bride is a graduate of Wheeler School of Modeling and is a sophomore at Waynesburg College. The bridegroom is a senior at Waynesburg College, where he is majoring in business administration. Both are employed by Migyanko's Market. The newlyweds are residing at 177 East High Street, Waynesburg.

Holds Meeting

The monthly meeting of the St. Ann's Women's Guild was held Oct. 1 with 24 members attending. A number of subjects were discussed.

Ruth Zavora gave the Deanery report and Carol Hartlage gave the report on the CCD program and announced that the Inquiry Class will begin on the evening of Oct. 15 in the social hall of the church. The Inquiry Class is for anyone, Catholic or non-Catholic, who is interested in a study and review of the Catholic doctrine.

Linda Nalitz gave a report on the Bowlby Public Library and a pro-life report was given by Arlene Mulholland.

St. Ann's will sponsor a Pro-Life Day Oct. 12. There will be a viewing of the film "Assignment Life" between the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. masses, beginning at 9:30 a.m. There will also be a Respect Life puppet show for five to nine year olds and babysitting during the showing. There will be a second showing at 1 p.m., but there will be no babysitting for the second showing. A pro-life meeting is also set for Monday, Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in McCance lecture room in Buhl

Hall on the Waynesburg College campus.

The Oct. project is a smorgasbord Oct. 26 from 12:15 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The Nov. project is being planned and will be "Breakfast with Santa Claus." It will be a Saturday morning affair open to the entire community. There will be a 7:15 p.m. Mass Oct. 13 at the Curry Memorial Home with the Rev. Ralph V. Stack as celebrant.

Following the meeting, Marilyn Jones and Helena Van Cleve gave a report on senior citizens activities and refreshments were served.

The Nov. meeting will be held on the fifth and two films will be presented from the teen crisis center at the Greene County Memorial Hospital.

HONORED AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin L. Miller, of Haines City, Florida, formerly of Clarksville R.D. 1, were recently honored by family, friends and members of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church of Castile on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mt. Morris Wins Title

WAYNESBURG — The Mt. Morris entry in the Greene County Junior Football League, with a 24-6 victory over Richhill, clinched the league championship with a perfect 6-0 record. The Waynesburg No. 2 team finished second in the league with a 4-1 record and Bobtown was third with a 3-2 mark.

Carmichaels finished 2-2, Richhill was 1-4, Waynesburg No. 1 was 0-3-1 and Brave was 0-4-1.

The league playoffs will be held Sunday, Oct. 12 and Sunday, Oct. 19, between the four top teams in the league. The playoff games will be held at 1 and 3 p.m. on each Sunday and will be played at College Field in Waynesburg. An admission fee of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children will be charged for the playoff games. All funds raised at the games will go to the league treasury.

Blue Devils, 27-0

BURGETTSTOWN — Saturday's 27-0 victory over Waynesburg gave Burgettstown High School undisputed possession of first place in the Century Class AA football conference.

The Blue Devils, who have won six games in a row since an opening loss to Carlynton are 4-0 in the conference where they have the only perfect record with Albert Gallatin at 3-0-1 after being tied Friday night by Monessen.

Terry Fowler scored on runs of one yard in the first period and nine in the third with Bob Alvarez passing to Chris Maropis for two points after the second touchdown. Both drives covered 58 yards in 10 plays.

Steve Gavatorra recovered a fumble at the WHS two to set up Pete Gianfrancesco's two-yard touchdown run with 4:38 left in the game with Karl Malm kicking the extra point and only 1:21 later, Gianfrancesco intercepted a pass and raced 41 yards to score.

The Raiders threatened only in the second quarter when they advanced to the Burgettstown nine but a fake field goal attempt resulted in an incomplete pass on fourth down.

Burgettstown had an 11-5 advantage in first downs and a 155-71 margin in total yardage with Fowler gaining 108 yards in 20 carries.

The Raiders are 1-3 in the conference and 2-5 for the season.

Mikes, 30-21

MONONGAHELA — Carmichaels erupted for 24 fourth-quarter points to shock Mon Valley Catholic 30-21 in Class A high school football action Saturday night.

The MVC defense could not stop the Mikes' offense as they rolled up 402 total yards, 274 yards coming on the ground. Mikes' running back Rick Hribal ran for 167 yards on 22 carries while quarterback Dick Krause hit eight of 14 passes for 128 yards.

Krause hit Joe Durco with a six-yard pass in the second quarter to give the Mikes a 6-0 lead as the extra point attempt failed. Mon Valley came back with two unanswered scores when quarterback Jim Miale hit Jon Green for a 70-yard touchdown pass midway through the second quarter. Miale then hit Brian Sento with a 47-yard bomb to give MVC a 14-6 third quarter lead.

But Carmichaels drove three times in the fourth quarter for scores. The first came on a 28-yard run by Krause while the other two came on three- and two-yard runs by Hribal. Hribal's two-point conversions after both TDs gave the Mikes a stunning 28-21 lead with 27 seconds left to play.

MVC's record falls to 5-2 in the Tri-County A Conference while Carmichaels ups its record to 5-2.

Trojans, 23-12

CALIFORNIA — Quarterback Brendon Folmar had a field day here Friday night, leading California High School to a 23-12 victory over Jefferson-Morgan in a Class A Tri-County South Conference football game.

Folmar rushed for 94 yards on just eight carries, including a 35-yard touchdown run in the first quarter. Folmar also completed six of 11 passes for 70 yards, including a 14-yard TD strike to Brian Schaum.

Jeff-Morgan, now 2-5 overall and 2-4 in the conference, scored in the third and fourth quarters on a five-yard run by Mark Policz and a 23-yard scoring pass from quarterback Dale Davis to Chuck Coles.

The victory raises California's record to 2-5 overall and 2-4 in league play.

Titans Keep Streak Alive

NEW WILMINGTON — All of the unimportant things in Saturday afternoon's Waynesburg-Westminster College football game came out about even, except the most important thing.

The score. Westminster claimed a tight 7-3 win over the Yellow Jackets to stretch their unbeaten homecoming streak to 30 straight.

The two teams were so evenly matched that Waynesburg came away with 13 first downs to Westminster's 11 and each team had a total of 213 yards offense.

It was a four-yard keeper by Titan quarterback Rich Dalrymple with 8:59 gone in the fourth quarter that sent the Jackets down to defeat for the third time in four starts. Dalrymple's four-yard sprint capped a 44-yard, seven-play drive which was nearly ended prematurely when Titan halfback Steve Ferringer, who rushed for 127 yards in 29 carries, fumbled at the Waynesburg five. But wide receiver Dave Boughton recovered after a mad scramble among Waynesburg's defenders.

Two plays later Dalrymple faked to Ferringer into the left side of the line and then sprinted around his left end and outraced Waynesburg cornerback Marc Steele into the end zone.

Waynesburg had moved ahead with just 12 seconds remaining in the third quarter on a 19-yard field goal by Ted Rodavich which capped a 99-yard drive.

The Jackets then mounted the drive which ended in Rodavich's field goal.

JOHN SCHULLER

BOB ASTLEFORD

Yellow Jackets Of The Week

Nose guard John Schuller, one of only three seniors on the Waynesburg College football team, and freshman fullback/safety Bob Astleford, were selected as Yellow Jackets of the Week by the Waynesburg College coaching staff for their play against Westminster Saturday afternoon.

Astleford, who got his first start at the fullback position, carried the ball 16 times for 68 yards, tops among Jacket ground gainers against the Titans. He also caught three passes for 61 yards.

Schuller keyed the Jacket defense which surrendered only seven points in the 7-3 loss to Westminster, including a brilliant goal line stand in the third quarter of the game.

Runners, 22-0

ROGERSVILLE — The Fairchance-Georges Runners scored in each of the first three quarters here Friday evening to hand the West Greene Pioneers a 22-0 Tri-County Conference football defeat.

The win leaves the Runners with a 4-3 record while the Pioneers are now 1-5.

The winners got on the boards first when tailback Pat McDonough sprinted around his right end for 57 yards and the touchdown. The pass on the two-point conversion attempt failed.

Midway through the second quarter Runner quarterback John Kopas connected with McDonough on a 10-yard scoring pass for the second FG touchdown. Kopas tossed to Jerry Dean for the two point conversion which made the score 14-0 at the end of the first half.

A Steve Burns fumble late in the third quarter was recovered at the Pioneer 23 yard line and six plays later fullback Larry Chapman bowled in from a yard out and Kopas flipped to Dale Smith for the final two points of the game.

The Runner defense so dominated the game, that the Pioneers were limited to just 55 yards rushing and minus 19 yards through the air for a total of only 36 yards total offense.

WG Girls Win

ROGERSVILLE — The West Greene High School girls' volleyball team swept Fairchance-Georges Monday 16-14, 15-12 and 15-8, for its fourth win in 15 outings.

Becky Watson scored 14 points for the Pioneers, including six straight in the second game. The victory came on the heels of a win last Thursday in which West Greene swept Frazier.

Bearcats, 29-6

MAPLETOWN — Halfback Tom Lapevic scored two touchdowns on runs of 46 and two yards and caught a two point conversion pass from quarterback Dan Vose to lead the Bentworth High School to its first win of the year, 29-6, over Mapletown.

The game evened the Class A Tri-County South Conference records of both schools at 1-5 and both are now 1-6 on the season.

Gary Paterini got the scoring started for the winners on a 42-yard run with just less than four minutes gone from the game. Mike Magera booted the point after and the Bearcats actually had all of the points they were going to need.

With just less than three minutes gone in the second quarter Lapevic scored his first touchdown by rambling 42 yards. Less than two minutes later Mark Richards was credited with two points when he tackled Maple halfback Bruce Fiala in the Mapletown end zone for a safety.

Mapletown finally got on the scoreboard midway through the fourth quarter when Corny Robinson blocked a punt and Ted Kelley picked the ball up and dashed 10 yards into the Bearcat end zone for the only Maple points of the night.

Waynesburg Ups

Volleyball Mark

WAYNESBURG — The Waynesburg College Women's volleyball team upped its season record to 10-2 here Saturday winning a quad against Salem, Wheeling and St. Francis colleges.

In game scores for the tournament Waynesburg was 3-0; Salem College second with 2-1; Wheeling College, 1-2; and St. Francis, 0-3.

Countian Plays In Yugoslavia

WAYNESBURG — Scott Smoggie, a junior at Waynesburg College and a member of the Yellow Jacket basketball team, is touring Yugoslavia with a United States all-star team sponsored by the Croatian Fraternal Union of America.

The two-week tour includes an eight-game schedule.

The 6-5, 195 pound Beth-Center graduate is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smoggie of Clarksville R.D. and is a member of the Cokesburg Croatia Lodge. He was selected for the team last Spring following a game in Harrisburg.

Smoggie broke into the starting lineup at Waynesburg last year as a sophomore when two regulars were out with injuries.

Don't pull that trigger until you know your bull's-eye won't hurt anyone.

Shooting at the insulators on a power transmission pole could leave hundreds of customers without electricity. Even worse, it could cut off power to a helpless person on life-support equipment. But that's not all. Damaged insulators cause unnecessary and costly repairs that add to the cost of electric service. And if you're pulling the trigger, you, too, might find it expensive because West Penn Power will provide law enforcement officials with information needed to prosecute anyone who intentionally damages insulators or other West Penn Power equipment.

So, remember, the wrong kind of target practice could hurt someone miles away. And it could hurt you, too.

HEAT, 11 Community Groups Will Sponsor Home Energy Fair

WAYNESBURG — The Greene County Home Energy Alternatives Team (HEAT), in conjunction with 11 community organizations and agencies in the county, will sponsor a Home Energy Fair Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 6-9, at the Greene County Fairgrounds, Waynesburg.

The Energy Fair, with accent on renewable energy sources and home energy conservation, will consist of demonstrations, commercial and educational exhibits, and workshops covering solar, wind, wood, biomass and other alternative sources of energy. It will have a special focus on preparing the inexperienced for wood heating of their homes.

The fair will have specific themes and guest speakers for each day. The tentative schedule calls for Thursday, Nov. 6, to center on home conservation. Friday will stress solar uses, including solar water heaters and ovens, passive and active systems, and related matters. The focus on Saturday will be on heating with wood, and Sunday will be set aside as a "general day."

The fair will also have continuous workshops dealing with specific problems or subject areas. On Saturday, for instance, visitors will be able to choose from among such diverse mini-workshops as chimney maintenance, chainsaw sharpening and safety, installing a wood stove, and others.

There also will be demonstrations of home-still alcohol production and wind generators, all with an eye toward producing energy with cheap or recycled materials.

In conjunction with the Energy Fair, HEAT will sponsor three contests for local school students. Categories will be science or industrial arts projects, project designs or blueprints, and a renewable-energy poster contest.

Ideas for conservation methods or alternative energy systems, such as solar houses and wind generators, will be considered. Schools also will be encouraged to use the fair for field trips on Nov. 6 and 7.

As part of its community education program prior to the fair, HEAT will make available to schools and community groups educational films on new energy sources and the ideas and inventions that harness them.

Area businesses or organizations that wish to participate by setting up booths and/or demonstrations at the fair can obtain an application by contacting Brenda Lemley at 852-2893. A donation fee of $25 for commercial organizations and $10 for non-profit group is being requested. Income will go to HEAT activities and to promoting the fair. Commercial firms will be permitted to solicit and sell at the fair site.

The Home Energy Fair is being held as a regional event for Washington, Greene, Fayette and Monongalia (W.Va.) Counties.

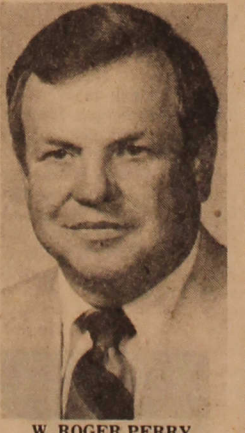

HEAT is an independent organization which originated through the Greene County Community Action program. Other participating groups are Association for Rural Conservation, Waynesburg Chamber of Commerce, Greene County Vocational-Technical School, Housing

The Electric Consumer's Corner

What rights do I have as a West Penn Power customer?

You have a variety of rights, including the right to know how we figure your electric bill and how you can check it for accuracy.

Also, you have the right to know when you may have to pay a security deposit... what steps to take if you question or disagree with our policies or actions... and under what conditions we can terminate your service.

Of course, you have certain responsibilities as a West Penn Power residential customer, too.

What responsibilities do I have other than paying my bill?

Paying your bill on time is very important. So you must make arrangements for paying your electric bills if you plan to go away for more than one billing period. And if you move, you're responsible for notifying us beforehand.

Another responsibility is keeping the electric meter accessible for our meter readers. That may mean restraining your dog, trimming shrubbery, or removing obstacles.

How can I find out about all my rights and responsibilities?

By requesting a copy of the booklet, "Your Rights and Responsibilities as a Utility Consumer." The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission prepared this booklet and it's available, free of charge, from West Penn Power. You can get a copy by returning the coupon included with one of your upcoming electric bills... by contacting the West Penn Power office serving your location... or by writing West Penn Power, c/o The Electric Consumer's Corner, Cabin Hill, Greensburg, PA 15601. This message paid for by West Penn Power.

Drug Arrest

WAYNESBURG — Waynesburg Borough Police made a second arrest Thursday night in a continuing drug investigation.

Held in lieu of $50,000 bond at Greene County Jail is Michael Paul Jochynek, 23, of 191 North Porter Street, Waynesburg. He is being charged with seven counts of drug act violations.

Detective Dave Clark said they had warrants for Jochynek's arrest on five counts of delivering a controlled substance, including marijuana, cocaine, hashish and LSD. While Jochynek's car was being searched police seized a quantity of marijuana, LSD and drug paraphernalia and charged him with two counts of possession with intent to deliver.

Police confiscated Jochynek's car and he was later arraigned before Magistrate Emil Bertugli.

Clark said the arrest was the result of a month long investigation by Police.
