

J-M Approves Sale Of Notes

JEFFERSON — It's that time of year when arbitrage is in the air for the Jefferson-Morgan School District.

At a special meeting Monday night, the school board passed a resolution accepting a proposal to purchase $725,000 in tax and revenue anticipation notes and at the same time issue a like amount of notes at a higher interest rate. The arbitrage is legal for school districts.

Last year, the district cleared $39,000 on an arbitrage of $690,000 which was transacted just as interest rates peaked. This year, however, even though the district qualifies to borrow more money, it only expects to clear about $14,000 on the transaction.

In other action, the board passed a motion to again purchase state income tax information to be used by the district's wage tax collection agency. Cost of the information is $250.

The board took no immediate action on a request from Sharon Cardilli of Mather. She asked that a student who is not being allowed to participate in graduation ceremonies as a disciplinary action for being in an altercation with her son be allowed to do so.

In making her request she told members of the board that graduation was a "once in a lifetime" occasion and would like to see the student be allowed to participate.

The altercation between Mrs. Cardilli's son and the other student occurred at a school bus stop after school but is considered to have happened while the students were still under school jurisdiction. Although the student will graduate if he meets all requirements, he will not be allowed to participate in the ceremonies with his classmates.

The board said they would take the request under consideration but did not want to make a quick decision in the matter. It also was explained that since it was a special meeting called for a specific purpose all board members had not been aware the matter would be broached.

Mrs. Cardilli also was told that since the board's regular monthly meeting was scheduled for June 20 and that graduation will be June 30, the board had time to consider the request.

Ballot Recount Confirms Winner

WAYNESBURG — A court-supervised recount Monday of votes in three of Waynesburg's five voting precincts confirmed Pauline Lucas as winner of the Republican nomination for borough tax collector.

The petition asking that the ballot boxes be opened was filed on behalf of Bonnie Baily after official results of the May 17 primary election indicated that Lucas had won the nomination by two votes, 176 to 174.

The recount cost Baily two votes, leaving the final total at 176-172 in favor of Lucas.

The two votes were lost in Ward 1, Precinct 2, where two ballots were disallowed for improper markings. There were no changes in the results in Ward 2, Precinct 1, or in Ward 3. There had previously been a recount in Ward 1, Precinct 1, and no request was made for opening of the box in Ward 2, Precinct 2.

Since no substantial error was found, the court ordered confiscation of the $50 bond which had been posted for opening each of the three ballot boxes.

Lucas, as the Republican nominee, will oppose Democrat Doug Wagener, the incumbent tax collector, in the November election.

Supervisors File Suit Against Strip Miner

WAYNESBURG — The Monongahela Township board of supervisors has brought suit in Greene County Court against a Uniontown strip mine operator in an effort to force compliance with the township's road weight limit ordinance.

The township has asked the court to impose a preliminary injunction to bar the Fillaggi Coal Co. from hauling over Township Route 688 until the company has signed a heavy hauling agreement and has posted a $17,000 bond to assure maintenance of the road. Approximately one mile of road between the Charles J. Hartley property and Route 21 is involved.

The complaint states that the coal trucks have not only reduced the road to a poor state, but that Fillaggi has badly damaged the road by blasting within 100 feet of the right-of-way, in violation of DER regulations.

It states that the defendant, on April 13, verbally agreed to sign the heavy hauling agreement and to post the bond, but has failed to do so.

The court scheduled a hearing on the case for Tuesday, July 5.

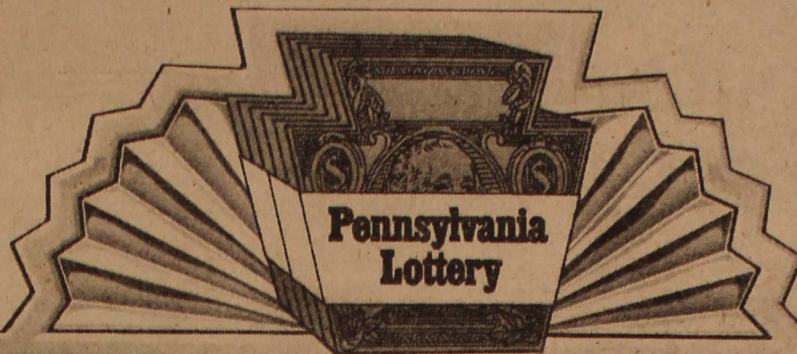

Power Outages Reported

WAYNESBURG — A storm that moved through the area caused a number of power outages Monday.

A spokesman for West Penn Power Co. said a 25,000-volt line between the Youth Development Center and the Lantz substation went out at 4:10 p.m. However, he was not sure how many customers were affected by loss of electrical power.

A report was received that stores and restaurants in the Greene Plaza near Interstate 79 also lost electrical power Monday afternoon.

Employment Service To Observe 50th Anniversary

WAYNESBURG — The Pennsylvania Job Service office in Waynesburg will join Monday with similar offices throughout the nation to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the national employment service program.

At their meeting Thursday, the Greene County commissioners commended Dana E. Filer, manager of the Waynesburg office, for the job the agency has done over a period of many years in serving residents of the county.

Born during the Great Depression — on June 6, 1933 — as a cooperative program between the federal and state governments to help people find work, it is still performing the same job today.

There are some 2,500 offices throughout the United States, with 78 of them located in Pennsylvania to serve the state's 67 counties. The office in Waynesburg, which is part of Region 5, serves Greene County.

"Today we have more tools and skills to meet the demands of America's sophisticated workplace," Region 5 Manager Donald Ruggery said. "Job service provides significant benefits to business, labor and the economy, and we are renewing our resolve to deliver quality service to both employers and the jobless."

Job service acts as a mediator to enroll, screen, test, counsel and refer applicants to jobs listed by employers, who pay a tax to fund the program. It represents the longest-established system of federal-state cooperation.

National cost of the program is some $800 million a year. In fiscal 1982, job service officed places almost five million individuals.

"Nationally, if factors of a 20-hour week and a minimum wage of $3.35 an hour are used, the total national placements represent wages of more than $316 million," Ruggery said.

Filer said the Waynesburg office placed 673 persons in jobs in fiscal 1982.

"Averaging a 20-hour week at $3.35 an hour for one year would total $2,344,732 in wages paid in the community," Filer said. Persons placed in jobs included 85 veterans, 51 Vietnam-era veterans, 95 economically disadvantaged persons, 285 young people under the age of 22, 279 women and 22 handicapped individuals.

Approximately 170 of these placements were subsidized through cooperative efforts of the CETA program. Of 205 individuals who received employment counseling, 81 were placed in employment.

There were 28 people placed in professional, technical and managerial occupations, 56 in clerical positions, 13 in sales jobs, 21 in domestic jobs, 256 in other services, five in processing occupations, three in machine trades, 50 in bench work occupations, 117 in structural occupations, six in motor freight transportation, six in packaging and material handling and 196 in mining occupations. A total of 1,627 persons were referred to potential employers for job interviews.

"Currently, the Waynesburg Job Service Office has a vast supply of skilled and unskilled applicants on hand for filling potential employment needs at no cost to employers or applicants," Filer said. He added that approximately 35,000 registrations are on file for coal mining jobs from individuals throughout Pennsylvania and adjoining states, of which approximately 5,000 are miners in possession of Pennsylvania papers.

"The Job Service Office belongs to the employers and residents of the state and is here to service all, so do not hesitate to use it," Filer said.

Elect New Chairman

CARMICHAELS — The Cumberland Township Planning Commission elected William Harr as chairman and Edward Begovich as vice chairman at a meeting Thursday night.

Harr, who had held the office of vice chairman, was named to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of commission President Richard Swift. Harr and Begovich will remain in office for the balance of 1983.

The township supervisors were present for the meeting and presented the commission with some suggestions for changes in the township zoning ordinance. Since the ordinance has been in force for some 14 months, some amendments are being proposed to make it a better working instrument.

The planning commission scheduled a meeting for next week to consider the proposed changes. When all have been agreed upon by the commission, supervisors and zoning hearing board, they will be presented to the county planning commission and then adopted.

Discussion of the ordinance prompted a motion by planning commission member Phil Donaldson that the board recommend to the supervisors that the zoning ordinance be rescinded.

"I don't think we need it in this township," he said. "I don't believe in zoning."

Donaldson got a second for his motion from Gertrude Busti, but the motion failed by a 3-2 vote.

Commission members agreed to study the present zoning of commercial areas in the township at next week's meeting with a view to making possible changes in their boundaries.

County OKs Equitable Gas Move

Mid-Penn Called On Complaints

ped in Mid-Penn's office in Waynesburg to pay her bill but because of a line, she dropped her $207 payment into a night deposit box.

Her phone was later disconnected and when she questioned the phone company, she was told it was because of non-payment. Although she said the payment was made, the phone company said they had no record of it. She called the district office in Kittanning and they too said they had no record of payment. Finally, the woman went to the state police and the district attorney for help. She was told to call the Consumer Advocate office in Harrisburg which in turn called the local phone company. Within 10 minutes, her payment was found and the phone service restored.

Shortly after the PUC became involved in the complaints, some refunds were made by Mid-Penn ranging from $5 to over $30. Some customers received notices with their bills about the possibility of refunds.

WAYNESBURG — Greene County commissioners, during their weekly meeting Thursday, placed their stamp of approval on plans by Equitable Gas Co. to move the firm's district headquarters from Waynesburg to a new building to be erected in the Airport Industrial Park, Franklin Township.

Endorsement by the commissioners is required because the two-story headquarters building and related facilities will be financed through the Greene County Industrial Development Authority, using state Industrial Revenue Bond financing in the amount of $1,350,000.

GCID Executive Director George K. Stennett said that no objections to the project were voiced at a public hearing held Wednesday night.

He also noted that the county will benefit because the new building will be erected by a private corporation, McKnight Plaza, Inc., for lease to Equitable, and will therefore be subject to property taxes. When Equitable sells its present building on First Street in Waynesburg, it also will be placed on the tax rolls since it will no longer be subject to the public utility exemption from local property taxes.

"The proposed facility will preserve 66 existing jobs for the Greene County area," Stennett said.

In another development at the meeting, the commissioners were notified by the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts that 97 percent of the long-overdue payment of 1981 court cost reimbursements will be forthcoming on or about June 10. The payment will amount to $70,000, with the final 3 percent being forwarded as soon as additional funds are appropriated by the legislature.

Going into the quarterfinals of the PIAA Class AA softball tournament today in New Castle, West Greene High School figures it has a slight advantage over its opponent, Iroquois.

No, they don't run faster or jump higher or hit the ball any farther than other teams who have already been eliminated from post-season action. The Pioneers' edge is its experience.

West Greene, in grabbing a third place in District 7, has played eight playoff games to reach this point and most of those have been in pressure-packed situations. It's been the success in these games which Pioneer head coach Bill Devore thinks gives West Greene a psychological edge.

"The attitude of these girls is they are not taking a back seat to anybody," he said. "They believe in themselves. No matter who they play, they're not going to be in awe of them."

In Tuesday's first-round 6-1 win over South Fulton, West Greene took advantage of lackluster play by the Indians to erupt for five first-inning runs.

"The WPIAL is very competitive," Devore said. "When we play anybody, it's like we're in for a battle as soon as we get off the bus. You just can't be lackadaisical. In our section, if you got off the bus you better be ready to go. It seemed like South Fulton was going through the motions and our kids noticed that."

Devore doesn't feel Iroquois (26-3), the defending Double-A state champion and three-time winner of the District 10 title, will be overconfident.

"We know they are good," he says. "I've heard their name before and I know over the last three or four years, they've been pretty tough. We've read the papers on them and they sound amazing."

Iroquois returns six starters from last season's championship team but lost standout pitcher Mary Butler to graduation. Shelly Brown is the starter for the Braves.

"If Iroquois takes us for granted, I guarantee you we'll start out on offense," Devore said. "We'll hit and run, steal and make things happen. That's the way we play. Our kids play with a lot of heart and desire. A lot of teams could match us with talent but I haven't seen a team match us with desire."

West Greene will once again depend on the arm of Helen Wise, who has started all the Pioneer games this year. The right-hander got off to a slow start against South Fulton but finished strong.

"It was good for her to get that game out of her system," Devore said. "She pitched good against South Fulton but it wasn't her best game. Knowing her like I do, she has a lot of confidence in herself. Against South Fulton, it was her first time in the PIAA playoffs and it's only natural for her to be nervous."

The Pioneers will also need another strong offensive effort from Wise, Cathy Cooper, Val Medden, April Sliko, Darena Riffle, Amy Smith, Deb Tedrow and Sheila Main.

A win over Iroquois would send the Pioneers to Shippensburg State College for the semifinals and finals June 16-17.

"We're looking forward to going to New Castle," Devore said. "We're planning on winning. We've had to play eight games to get this far and we've had an uphill road."

And it just may be that road which takes West Greene to a championship.

West Greene hopes to replay this victory scene today at New Castle when it meets District 10 champion Iroquois in the PIAA softball playoffs. The Pioneers need a victory to advance to Shippensburg State College.

Pioneers State-Bound

HEIDELBERG — West Greene's season was literally inches from its conclusion.

Or its revival. That's because a few inches could have changed the outcome of the PIAA Class AA qualifier game Thursday at Scott Park.

The West Greene High School girls softball team held off rallies in the fifth and seventh innings with stellar pitches and catches, by mere inches, to beat New Brighton, 6-3.

The Pioneers, now 17-4, advance to the PIAA Class AA softball playoffs and play Tuesday against the District 5 champion.

West Greene's ace pitcher Helen Wise was the best example of someone who escaped by inches. She struggled with her accuracy in the fifth inning, missing the plate by inches and sometimes feet.

Wise, with an impressive 17-4 record, walked two batters and gave up two singles in the fifth to spark New Brighton's rally. The Pioneers held tough, though, retiring the Lady Lions on two pop-ups and a grounder as New Brighton managed only one run and left three runners on base.

According to Pioneer head coach Bill Devore, Wise has some bad innings, usually one per game.

"Helen has problems about once a game that aren't physical," said

Devore. "She gets emotionally involved when there are mistakes and she reacts. It usually takes a couple of walks for her to settle down."

"But we came up with the big plays defensively when we had to. You have to make the big plays in the playoffs to win and we did."

"We had our chances and didn't come through," said New Brighton head coach Joe Uisida. "She (Wise) was off in that inning but we couldn't jump on her. Their defense made the big plays and just stopped us."

Wise struggled again in the seventh inning. After the Lions' designated hitter Wendy Dunham reached first on an error, leftfielder Patty Hill singled. Wise then threw a wild-pitch moving both runners up. Centerfielder Cheryl Grecich then hit a single that rolled just inches too far from Wise allowing Grecich to reach first and scoring Dunham. New Brighton was within three runs, 6-3, with only one out.

Then the inches began to favor West Greene.

The Lions' first baseman Kim Janetic hit a line drive that would have scored both runners, but West Greene's shortstop Pam Yanak stretched high enough to snag the liner then quickly threw to third baseman Val Medden to double-off Hill, who had reached third, for the third out of the inning to end the game.

"That was some play defensively and they made them all day," said Uisida. "We had another rally going."

West Greene scattered its scoring with two runs in the first inning, one in the fourth and three in the fifth. Wise was the offensive catalyst with two hits (a triple and single) and scored twice. Yanak and Debbie Tedrow each hit three singles while Medden and Darena Riffle each singled twice to spark the Pioneers.

New Brighton's offense, however, played a game of 90 feet thanks to the stingy Pioneer defense. The Lady Lions left nine runners on base, six of them in scoring position.

"We did our best but we couldn't drive in the runs," said Uisida. "We're not a veteran playoff team and I think it showed. This is the first time New Brighton has ever won a section and made it to the WPIAL playoffs. I'm not that disappointed with our loss, but the girls are."

"This is the first time West Greene has made it to the state playoffs in any sport except for wrestling," said Devore. "We made a lot of mistakes today. . . dropped fly balls and leaving runners on base, but we have strong pitching, which is a big plus."

"This is a young team with four first-year players, but we've been through it and we're ready. We'll have to be. From now on, we won't see any easy teams or pitchers."

SOMERSET — West Greene High School got a chance Tuesday afternoon to show off its version of Billyball.

No, not the type made famous by manager Billy Martin when he was with the Oakland A's. Rather this kind is named for Pioneer head coach Bill Devore.

Against South Fulton in the first round of the PIAA Class AA softball playoffs, the Pioneers just plain outsmarted the Indians and exploded for five runs in the first inning on their way to a 6-1 win at Maple Ridge Field here.

West Greene, a third-place finisher in District 7, now advances to Thursday's quarterfinals against Iroquois, which grabbed a 4-1 win over Lawrenceville Catholic Tuesday, at a site to be determined.

"We looked at them warming up before the game and we felt they were a little flat," said Devore of South Fulton. "We wanted to jump on them early, try to get on, try to steal if we could and bunt on them."

And the Pioneers did just that, using all the components of Billyball to perfection and leaving South Fulton dazed and confused.

"We just weren't mentally prepared," said head coach Mike Shade, who led the Indians to a 17-2 record and the District 5 championship this season. "They caught us in the first and we never recovered."

In the bottom of the first, Pam Yanak opened with a walk, went to second on a passed ball, stole third and scored on an error by the third baseman. April Sliko, who got aboard via a fielder's choice, went to third on a bunt single by Cathy Cooper.

Helen Wise followed with an RBI single to make it 2-0 and Val Medden followed with a single to score Cooper. Darena Riffle bunted home Wise and, knowing a good thing when he sees it, Devore had Amy Smith squeeze home Medden to make it 5-0.

South Fulton finally got out of the inning when Deb Tedrow popped out to second. But the Indians never fully recovered any momentum from that inning.

"We really weren't tested that much," said Devore. "We wanted to go out there and play offensive ball and we did for two innings. Then we laid back and waited to see if they (the Indians) could come back."

West Greene threatened to turn the game into a rout in the second inning. Sheila Main opened the inning with a walk and moved to third on a single by Sliko one out later. Cooper then lofted a sacrifice fly which scored Main for a 6-0 lead.

But South Fulton pitcher Janice Strait suddenly settled down and did not allow another hit throughout the game.

Her counterpart, Wise, who has accounted for the Pioneers' 18 wins and two defeats this year, lost her shutout in the fourth inning. After an inning-opening single by the Indians' Brenda Smith, Wise struck out Tracy Decker and induced Kim Smith to pop to second. But Angie Litton followed with a double which scored Smith.

Two Place First In Track Meet

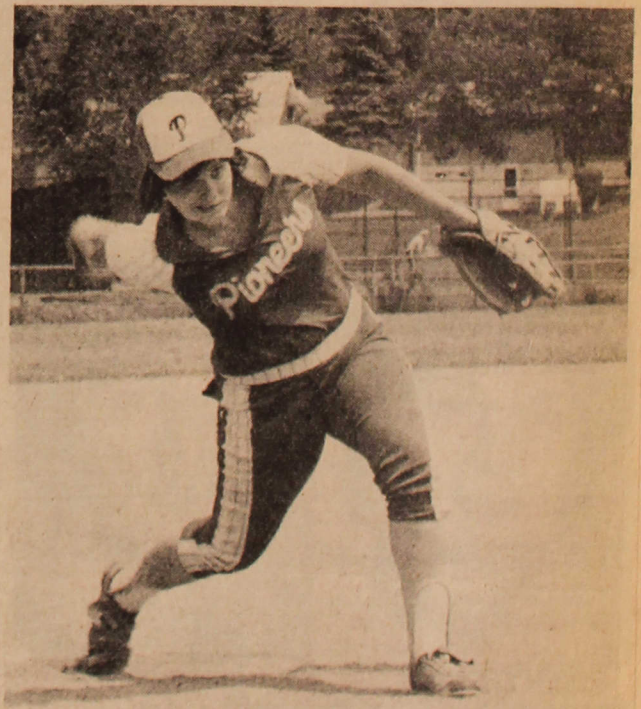

PITTSBURGH — Two members of the Greene County Miners Track Club won blue ribbons at a meet held recently at the Churchill Area High School track near Pittsburgh.

Lincoln Robinson, 17, took a first in the long jump and first in the triple jump. Tammy Bedilion, 16, won the 3,000-meter racewalk.

Second place winners included Jackie Bedilion, 8, in the 1,500-meter racewalk and the 400-meter dash, and Cyndee Bedilion, 12, in the shot put.

West Greene's Derenda Riffle slides into home safely under Lions' catcher Jan Bolland.

Helen Wise gives West Greene another winning pitch.
