State Police, Sheriff Look Into Picket-Site Incidents

MASONTOWN — State police and Sheriff Remo Bertugli were at the site of a strip mine strike near the Mason-town bridge for most of the day Monday to investigate reports of damage to vehicles and injuries to one picketer, as well as to enforce court restrictions on picketing activities.

The picket, Carl Petro of McClellandtown, was originally reported as having been hit by a car entering the L&J Equipment Co. job site in Monongahela Township, adjoining the Hatfield Ferry power plant.

Petro, who is president of Emerald Local 2258 in Waynesburg, is also a rank-and-file organizer for the United Mine Workers of America which is attempting to work out a contract with James Filiaggi, president of L&J Petro has been assigned to the L&J dispute on a temporary basis, according to Larry Pasquale, UMWA Region I organizing coordinator.

Petro was taken by ambulance to Uniontown Hospital for treatment of a back injury following a confrontation at 8 a.m. between pickets and Bruce A. Ithier of Hicksville, N.Y., who state police said is an L&J employee.

Police said Ithier's car was halted by pickets as he attempted to enter the gate to the strip site off Route 21. Following a dispute, he allegedly nudged his car ahead and then accelerated, forcing Petro to jump to one side to avoid being hit. In doing so, Petro said he wrenched his back.

Pickets at the site Monday morning said they thought Petro had been struck by the fender of the car as it went by, but police said Petro told them he suffered the injury in jumping clear. He was permitted to go home after being treated at the hospital.

The pickets said they had stopped the car to ask Ithier to honor the picket line. They identified him as a man they knew as "Big Dutch" who was originally hired by Filiaggi as a security guard after the strike started in July.

Two Arrested For Robbery

WAYNESBURG — Waynesburg Borough police have arrested two men in connection with the robbery of a woman who was making a night deposit at a Waynesburg bank on June 4, 1983.

Stewart Gordon Summersgill, 24, Prosperity R.D.2, has been charged with robbery and criminal conspiracy. Ronald Lynn Hall, 30, of 56 West Lincoln Street, Waynesburg, has been charged with criminal conspiracy.

Police said an employee of the Greenwood Oil Co. was robbed of a money bag in front of the Waynesburg office of the First National Bank of Carmichaels.

Police said that Ithier's car, which is owned by Spectra Corp, CID, Greensburg, sustained $50 in damage during the incident, and that an investigation is being conducted.

Police also reported that two other vehicles sustained some $1,000 in damage Monday "when struck by stones and boards by 23 pickets." They added that arrests are pending.

One of the vehicles is owned by L&J. The other, a van, is owned by Fred M. Sparks Jr. of Indianapolis, Ind., a photographer hired by Filiaggi.

Both Bertugli and Pasquale expressed concern over the escalation in potential violence being created by the strike.

"I just hope we can get this settled before somebody gets hurt seriously or killed," Pasquale said, pointing out that on Friday of last week someone threw a fire bomb at the shed set up along Route 21 by the pickets. He also charged that company guards are still carrying firearms despite a court ruling prohibiting them from having them.

Pasquale said that UMWA President Rich Trumka had come to Greene County last week to meet with Filiaggi in an effort to reach a contract agreement.

"We thought we had reached agreement on everything he (Filiaggi) wanted and that he would sign the contract last Friday," Pasquale said. "But it hasn't happened yet."

School Districts Get $10 Million In Grants

HARRISBURG — Greene County's five school districts received more than $10 million in state grants and subsidies during the 1982-83 fiscal year which ended June 30, 1983.

According to a breakdown of the Department of Education payments, released by Assemblyman Bill DeWeese, the total of $10,011,815 was made up of payments of $1,594,287 to the Carmichaels Area School District; $3,248,994, Central Greene; $1,583,891, Jefferson-Morgan; $1,527,306, Southeastern Greene, and $2,057,337, West Greene.

The bulk of the funds, $7,163,066, consisted of basic instruction subsidy payments. Added to this were payments totaling $375,664 in "equalized supplement," a special payment based on average daily attendance.

Other major categories were pupil transportation, $1,064,835, and state payments on building payments, $1,436,210, a category which is listed as authority rentals and sinking fund requirements.

The breakdown of state funds received by each of the five school districts:

Student Turnout Is Large

JEFFERSON — A television movie about a boy who was kidnapped and slain was credited in large part with the unexpectedly large turnout for a "Fingerprint a Kid" day program held Saturday at the Jefferson fire hall.

"It was amazing," Sue Rice, public relations chairman of the Jefferson-Morgan teacher association, said. "We had hoped to get 200 or so children, but nothing like this."

During the four hours the program was held Saturday morning, the teacher's organization and the Jefferson-Morgan Parent-Teacher Organization, with Colleen Valosen as chairman, fingerprinted 403 boys and girls, most of them pre-schoolers and primary grade students.

The two organizations scheduled the free program to provide parents with an opportunity to get fingerprints of their children for use if an emergency should ever arise. Neither the school nor police kept copies.

Mrs. Rice said she had the idea for the program before the television film, "Adam," was shown. The movie dramatized the lives of John and Reve Walsh, whose attempt to find their missing son led them to persuade Congress to change laws to ease the search for other parents of missing children. At the end of the film, the photographs of 55 of the more than 2,000 missing children registered with Child Find, Inc. were shown.

Mrs. Rice agreed that the coincidence between showing of the film and the scheduled date for the "Fingerprint a Kid" program had a lot to do with the large response.

"A lot of parents were talking about the movie and about what they would do if their children were missing," she said.

While the program was intended for students in the elementary grade, many parents took younger children to the fire hall as well.

"We took everyone who came," Mrs. Rice said. "A lot of them were pre-schoolers."

The teacher representative gave credit to George Popp, the state police officer who instructed the group in the taking of fingerprints and who helped at the fire hall, and to Sheriff Remo Bertugli, who also assisted.

Seven fingerprinting kits were used in an effort to speed up the process as much as possible, but the large numbers of children still meant long waits in line.

"It was slow but no one complained," a PTO member said. "We were very pleased with the way everything went."

Railroad Run Last For Year

WAYNESBURG — The narrow-gauge Waynesburg & Washington steam locomotive at the Greene County Historical Society museum will make its final run of the year on Sunday.

Officials at the museum, located on old Route 21 three miles east of Waynesburg, said the locomotive will be operating between 1 and 4:30 p.m. Weather permitting, Joe DeNardo and Paul Long of WTAE-TV will arrive by helicopter and will be on hand to greet visitors.

DeNardo's grandparents once owned the building at 120 West High Street in Waynesburg which now houses a bake shop. DeNardo has a number of relatives in the county, including the Russo and Mancuso families.

The W&W locomotive, which made its last commercial run in 1929, has been restored by Greene County Historical Society members Tim Sposato and Brad Lester, among others, and is the last of the old railroad's fleet of locomotives.

Patrolman's Firing Upheld

WAYNESBURG — The Waynesburg Borough Civic Service Commission has upheld action of borough council in firing Patrolman Michael J. Fuller for refusing to obey a direct order from his superior officers.

The opinion handed down Thursday was based on testimony taken at a public hearing the commission held on Sept. 28 to consider Fuller's appeal, which was based on the contention that the order he received from Lt. David Clark and Police Chief Timothy Hawfield was illegal and an infringement on his right of free speech.

Fuller's dismissal stemmed from an incident on Aug. 19 when Lt. Clark overheard part of a conversation at the police station between Fuller, Patrolman Glenn Bates and a state police officer. He reached the conclusion that the borough officers were being critical of the police department to an outsider in violation of a policy which prohibits public critical discussion of matters involving police department affairs.

Bates complied with an order from Clark to write a report about the subject matter of the conversation, stating that no matters of departmental policy were discussed.

Fuller, who was off duty at the time of the discussion, was given the same order the following day by both Clark and Chief Hawfield.

As a result of his refusal to obey the order, Fuller was suspended by Mayor Roy Huffman until the next meeting of council, which was held on Sept. 12. Council, at that time, dismissed the officer, a veteran of five years on the force, for disobedience of orders — the decision which Fuller appealed to the civil service commission.

The opinion by the civil service commission, made up of Ewing B. Pollock, Michael A. Mulholland and Kenneth Willison Sr., points out that the question before the commission was not the contents of the discussion but whether Fuller refused the order without proper justification and the manner of his refusal.

"Patrolman Fuller admitted that he could have written a letter indicating that the conversation was private in nature and that no matters of departmental policy were discussed. Patrolman Fuller could have complied with the order without violating any personal rights or disclosing any private matter," the opinion states.

With regard to the policy concerning discussion of internal affairs with outsiders, the commission said:

"While a police officer does not lose his right to speak freely, this right is not a totally unfettered one. Public employees' statements about internal operations are not protected. When he assumed the position of a police officer he also agreed to refrain from public discussion of certain matters pertaining to police business. Public discussion, in this case, would be a discussion of police matters in the presence of a person not a member of the Waynesburg Police Department."

Library Move Considered

WAYNESBURG — The board of trustees of the Bowlby Public Library in Waynesburg will actively consider relocating the library as a means of solving the problem of inadequate space in its present building on North West Street.

At its meeting this week, the board of trustees voted to obtain appraisals on the former Bowlby home to determine its marketability and the price they could expect to receive if it were sold. The board will also explore other potential locations and what it would cost to move into a larger building.

Over 17,000 Eligible To Vote In Election

WAYNESBURG — Greene County has 17,180 registered voters eligible to vote in the election on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Oct. 11 was the final date to register for the November election. The rolls have been closed until Dec. 8.

Teacher Faces Charge

WAYNESBURG — Alice Souders of Waynesburg, a teacher at Jefferson-Morgan High School, faces a hearing at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 26, before Magistrate Ruth Hughes.

Mrs. Souders has been charged with simple assault against a student on Sept. 1. Jerry Patterson, father of the student, brought the charges.

The total is a net increase of 192 over the 16,988 county residents who were registered for the primary election last spring.

Chief registration clerk for the county, Betty Ray, said 329 new registrations have been taken since the primary election. The gain, however, was partially offset by 99 deaths and removal from the rolls of 38 people who have moved from the county.

The new total includes 13,379 Democrats, a gain of 142; 3,485 Republicans, a gain of 35, and 312 Independents, a gain of 15. There also are two voters registered as members of the Constitutional Party and two voters who have "no party" affiliation.

Women voters outnumber men, 8,860 to 8,310.

Ryerson Lake To Be Renamed

WIND RIDGE — Ryerson Lake at Ryerson Station State Park in Greene County is to be renamed in memory of a former park superintendent, the late Ronald J. Duke.

A special ceremony marking the occasion is planned for 9:30 a.m. Thursday, with Secretary Nicholas DeBenedictis, Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources participating. The DER's Bureau of State Parks administers the state park system in Pennsylvania.

Others who will take part in the rededication of the lake include William C. Forrey, director of the Bureau of State Parks; Ray Martz, regional park superintendent; and David Barrett, superintendent of Ryerson Station State Park.

The 44-year-old Duke, who died March 4, had been superintendent at the Ryerson Station State Park since October 1975.

He was vitally concerned with energy conservation and pioneered the development of a solar heating system for the park office and his residence. He was a member of the Bureau's Energy Committee, the Handicapped Committee, and the State Park Safety Committee.

A multi-media instructor since 1976, he was actively involved and provided the necessary access facilities for the handicapped, was active in the Greene County Chapter of Open Doors for the Handicapped and recently was posthumously honored by that organization with a citation given to the park.

He was also an active participant in the Handicapped Camp-O-Thon at Gifford Pinchot State Park in York County for two years.

WHEN PRESSURE GETS TO YOU

How come in a world that operates largely by machine and computer there is so much PRESSURE on the individual?

Maybe the answer is that few individuals are as well adjusted as our machines, as soundly programmed as our computers. Human beings are always encountering the unexpected for which we are unprepared.

Religion in every age has helped men meet and overcome the pressures that beset them. The simple realization that God cares about us is the beginning of a new sense of our mission in the world. We are not alone. Life is partnership with Our Lord. His power empowers us. His peace calms our turmoil.

There's much more to successful living than enduring pressure. Discover that in regular worship.

More Rooms To Be Added To Jaycees Haunted House

CARMICHAELS — Eerie music, screams and haunting cackles will resound through an old farm house on Glades Run Road near here as it has during three previous Halloween seasons.

The sounds will seem to accompany strange flashing lights which can be seen through cracks in the old house, but strangest of all are the long lines of people curious to be taken on a tour of seven rooms in the house and risk meeting some of its occupants.

The scene will be the fourth annual Haunted House sponsored by the Carmichaels Area Jaycees. Proceeds will be used for various Jaycees projects which include a toys for children program during Christmas, Easter egg hunt and community betterment programs.

Joe Tokish and Mark Prodan, Haunted House co-chairmen, along with committee members Jim Mitchell and Rick Schaum, said they are working on several new rooms of horror including a much longer maze. They said the maze has always been one of the more popular attractions of the Haunted House and this year will wind its way through three rooms.

In addition to the maze, there will be rooms featuring a swamp, execution, black and white, haunted cattle, chainsaw, and wall room. Members of the Jaycees, in appropriate costume, will lead tours through the two-story house.

The tours will be conducted from 7 p.m. until midnight Saturday, Oct. 22, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 23 through Thursday, Oct. 27, and from 7 p.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday, Oct. 28 and 29.

The Haunted House is located on Glades Run Road which runs between Route 88 and Route 21 near Carmichaels.

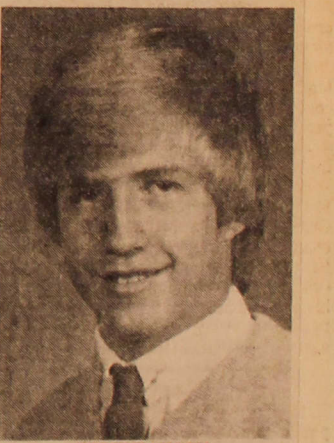

Winner Named

Kent Ganocy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Ganocy of Greensboro, has been named winner of the annual Bausch & Lomb Science Award at Mapletown High School.

The science award, a bronze medal, is presented each year to winners at more than 8,700 participating schools throughout the U.S. and Canada.

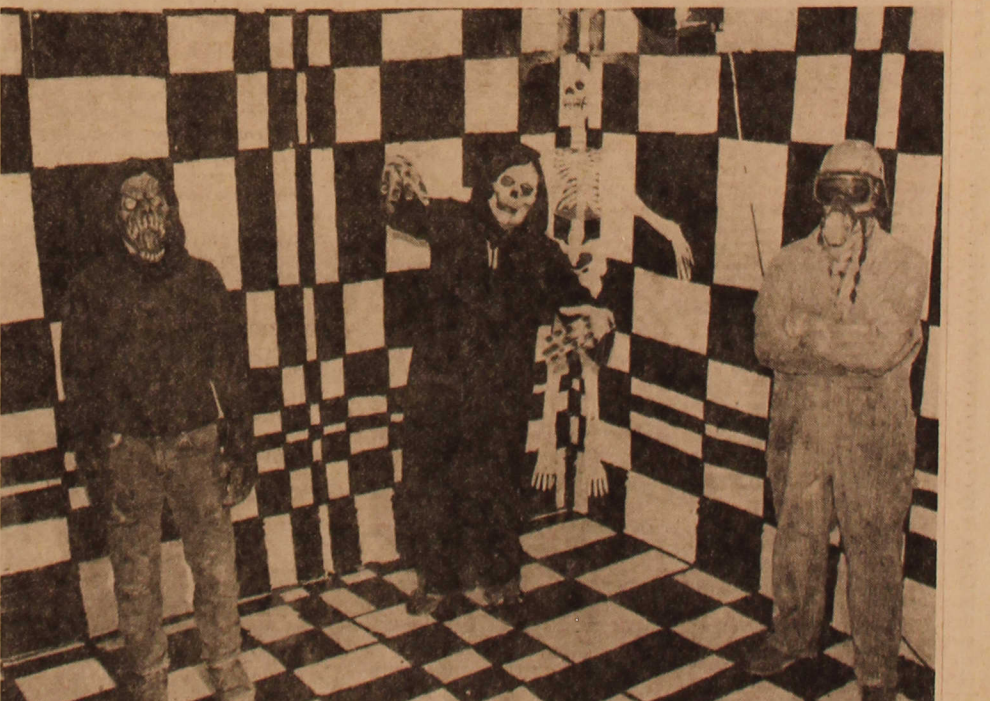

According to guidance counselor Valeria Burchianti, who made the presentation, "The Bausch & Lomb Science Award is especially significant because it recognizes the senior student at our school who has attained the highest scholastic standing in science subjects."

As winner of the award, Ganocy is eligible for one of several four-year Bausch & Lomb science scholarships at the University of Rochester. Win-

Faces From The Past-Do You Recognize Them?

This picture, believed to have been taken in 1930, was of construction of the new bridge over the Ten Mile Creek in the Morrisville section. The new span replaced the old double-bridge on the northside of Route 21.

Fact and Folklore
 John O'Hara

"A rose by any other name would smell as sweet," is one literary quotation with which almost everyone is familiar, but perhaps because it is so true. Though not always.

In Waynesburg, for instance, practically everyone knows where Main Street is. Or rather, where they think it is.

Actually, though, they couldn't know where it is because there is no Main Street in Waynesburg. It's right name is High Street and it is so designated on all official maps.

It was named, presumably, because it was the highest street in town when it was first laid out. But for all practical purposes it might just as well be officially designated as Main Street, the name by which it is often known.

Waynesburg also has a First Street, but it is not actually the first street in the town from the south boundary line (Ten Mile Creek) going north to Main, pardon, High Street.

The first street in town — continuing from the creek north — is Water Street. It starts at the Smith Creek bridge at South Morgan Street and extends west to the south end of Richhill Street, a distance of three blocks. Only the eastern end of it is used.

Waynesburg also has a Church Street where no church stands. Church Street runs north and south to one side of the Greene County Courthouse. There was a church there once — the First Presbyterian Church — but it burned to the ground in December, 1925 during the Downey House fire which also destroyed the Downey House Hotel on North Washington Street and burned part of the courthouse. The church was rebuilt on its present site on the corner of Richhill and College Streets and Church Street became a misnomer.

The young nation's leaders were remembered by Waynesburg's early engineers who named some streets, for them — Greene, Washington, Franklin, Wayne, and Lincoln.

Nor were the names of trees forgotten either. Some streets are known as Elm Street, Locust Avenue, Walnut, Birch and Maple Alley, there is one named Ashland, Oakland and finally, the all-encompassing Woodland Avenue.

Smaller streets, or alleyways, were given names of fruits. Thus we have Blackberry Alley, Strawberry Alley, Cherry Alley and Fruit Alley.

As the town spread to its northward boundaries, it seems as though its planners grew tired of thinking up new street names and resorted to a simplistic system of numbering them. Therefore we have First Avenue to Sixth Avenue on the western north side and Sixth Street to Eleventh Street on the eastern side of town.

All in all, it's apparent that in many cases it would be a case of "a rose by any other name smelling just as sweet," but to older Waynesburg residents, other names wouldn't be quite as meaningful, especially in the case of Whiskey or Wine Alley. One, can only guess what historic events, took place for those two streets to be given such names!

By-Pass Study Needed To Provide Vital Data

The first reaction to a proposal for a comprehensive study on the need for an improved east-west highway corridor through Greene County, including the Route 21 by-pass around Waynesburg, might very well be "oh no, not another one."

County officials, after all, have been fighting for more than 20 years to get the road built and have carried their campaign to every state and federal government official who would give them a hearing.

Every study which has been made concerning future coal development in Greene County, and particularly in the western end of the county, has stressed the need for improved the east-west corridor and by-pass as the key to upgrading transportation facilities. Some have included traffic counts in the congested Morrisville section of Waynesburg to support the need for the improvement.

But while a great deal of information has been accumulated, much of the data is at least 10 years old. On top of that significant economic statistics are lacking and the detailed traffic surveys that the Department of Transportation requires in planning for highway development have never been done. Also lacking is a study of the effects of a by-pass on emergency services, business and overall economic development in the Waynesburg area.

In two recent visits to Waynesburg, state Highway Secretary Thomas Larsen said that chances of getting the project back on the state's 12-year construction program will depend on convincing his department of its need. When told that the Pennsylvania Economy League has proposed a study to establish that need, he agreed to have the Highway Department assist with both partial funding and technical assistance in preparation of the study.

The balance of the funding for the study would come from the Economy League itself, from coal companies which would benefit from the improvement, and from the county.

Viewed realistically, such a study would not guarantee construction of the road, but without it the chances of getting the project back on the state's long-range construction plan are virtually non-existent.

As Larsen said, "it will take persuasion, muscle and intelligence to make it happen since every part of the state has problems."

At the same time, he said that "jobs and economic revitalization are what the governor wants above all else and it is the squeaking wheel that gets the grease. Now that things are changing (in Greene County) it is up to you to make state officials aware of what is happening."

If Greene County is ever to get the highway it so badly needs, it will have to keep fighting for it. The study would provide the data it must have to carry on that fight.

Well, we have only so much time, and we certainly kill a lot of it.

In "Walden," Henry Thoreau cried out, "As if you could kill time, without injuring eternity." Ouch. Think of that one, the next time you catch yourself sitting around, just doing nothing. You can almost feel the ghost of Thoreau behind you, scolding about "injuring eternity."

I think of this phrase sometimes, when I'm, uh, just sitting around. It makes me jump up and get busy. But that wasn't exactly what Thoreau was talking about, either. When he used the phrase, he spoke of "the ladies of the land weaving cushions against the last day, not to betray too green an interest in their fates."

If weaving cushions to keep the mind busy while not improving it was his idea of busy work, what would he think of watching football games? Of soap operas? Of committee meetings where nothing gets done? Of anything we normally do, in fact?

Even the Pyramids received Thoreau's scorn of this count. "As for the Pyramids, there is nothing to wonder at in them so much as the fact that so many men could be found degraded enough to spend their lives constructing a tomb for some ambitious booby, whom it would have been wiser and manlier to have drowned in the Nile."

To class the Pyramids as busy work would seem a fairly radical idea, not to mention the drowning of pharaohs, but Thoreau elaborated: "Nations are possessed with an insane ambition to perpetuate the memory of themselves by the amount of hammered stone they leave. What if equal pains were taken to smooth and polish their manners? One piece of good sense would be more memorable than a monument as high as the moon."

Thoreau preferred simpler things. "I would rather sit on a pumpkin," he wrote, "and have it all to myself, than be crowded on a velvet cushion."

As proof of that, he built himself a little cabin near Walden Pond and lived there for about two years. He explained, "I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived. I wanted to live deep and suck out all the marrow of life... to drive life into a corner, and reduce it to its lowest terms."

He lived there poetically: "The winds which passed over my dwelling were such as sweep over the ridges of mountains, bearing the broken strains, or celestial parts only, of terrestrial music. The morning wind forever blows, the poem of creation is uninterrupted; but few are the ears that hear it."

Thoreau in his cabin and his woods stopped to hear the poem of creation. "The true harvest of my daily life is somewhat intangible and indescribable as the tints of morning or evening. It is a little stardust caught, a segment of the rainbow which I have clutched."

But even Thoreau sometimes failed to clutch rainbows. "We live meanly, like ants," he complained. "Like pygmies we fight with cranes; it is error upon error, and clout upon clout... our life is frittered away by detail."

Well, some days are like that. We're running around, busy, but killing time. And injuring eternity.

Sometimes, though, if we're quiet, listening, and trying hard, we can hear "the poem of creation."

Blood Testing Program To Be Held

WAYNESBURG — The Waynesburg Rotary Club will again this year sponsor a wide-ranging blood testing program for area residents.

The program, being held for the ninth time in the Waynesburg area, is referred to medically as the multiphasic blood biochemistry program. It is designed as an early detection program to prevent or provide prompt care for a broad range of diseases, including diabetes, forms of cancer, heart disease and kidney and liver diseases.

Over the past eight years, more than 4,200 people have taken part in the program. This year's program will last two weeks and the blood samples will be taken on two consecutive Saturdays, Oct. 22 and 29, in the social hall of the First Baptist Church of Waynesburg from 7 to 10 a.m.

Interested persons are asked to call toll free 1-800-742-0722 and make a reservation as to the time and date they wish to have blood samples taken. Reservations can be made Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., until Friday, Oct. 28.

The fee of $16 covers the cost of collecting the blood sample, laboratory processing, and mailing of information to the participant's personal physician.

Again this year, the blood specimen will pass through 34 computerized, automated tests. In addition to a complete blood count, which includes a red blood count, white blood count, hemoglobin, Hemacrit, CPK, electrolyte balance, MCV, MCH and MCHC, the tests also include the following: blood sugar (glucose), calcium, inorganic phosphorus, cholesterol, total bilirubin, alkaline phosphatase, LDH, SGOT, blood urea nitrogen (BUN), uric acid, total protein, albumin, triglycerides, SGPT, creatinine, chloride, sodium, globulin, A/G ratio, BUN/creatinine ratio, potassium, bicarbonate, cholesterol (total), chol/HDL ratio and high density lipoprotein.

Participation in the program has been recommended for all age groups from 10 years up, but particularly for those between the ages of 20 and 60.

Those taking part must fast for at least 12 to 14 hours before the blood specimen is taken. For most people, that means no food or beverage should be taken after the evening meal the night before. Water, however, can be taken in moderate amounts.

At the collection site, participants will be asked to complete some forms and to provide the name and address of their personal physician.

The blood specimens will be sent to the Kiski Valley Clinical Laboratory for the lab work. Test results will be sent directly to the physician designated by the person tested. The physician will then send a notice to the individual as to whether results of the tests were normal or whether further medical attention is needed.

Trained medical personnel will be provided at the test site and the average time at the test site per individual is estimated at 15 minutes.

Thomas G. Milinovich and Michael Mulholland, Rotary Club co-chairmen for the program, emphasized that although the tests can detect many disease states, they cannot detect all diseases.

Board Hears Of Proposed Curriculum Requirements

By Stan Diamond, Staff Writer

JEFFERSON — With the plethora of national and state reports on education and how it should be improved, a change in curriculum requirements for Pennsylvania schools may be as close as the November meeting of the state Board of Education.

Members of the Jefferson-Morgan School Board Monday night were given copies of the proposed version of the state Board of Education's Chapter 5, Curriculum Requirements which will be up for final adoption at the state board's November meeting in Harrisburg.

Ken Macek, district superintendent, outlined the major changes in the proposed secondary education curriculum requirements for the board. He said the changes for all ninth through 12th grade students would require three full courses in mathematics, three courses in science, and some portion of physical education in each of the four years. The changes, if passed, would begin next year and be completely phased in over a four-year period with the freshman class of 1988 being the first full class under the new requirements. Other changes would place more emphasis on languages and increase credit requirements for graduation.

While the board was adjusting to the information about the curriculum changes that may be upon them by next month, Macek added that he and board President Stanley Fowler had attended a meeting in Pittsburgh Monday at which Gov. Dick Thornburgh unveiled his ideas for improving the state's educational system to a gathering of school administrators, teachers and educators.

In a brief outline of the Pittsburgh meeting, Macek said Thornburgh proposes a computer literacy class be added to the secondary curriculum and that schools be required to give competency achievement tests to students in the third, fifth and eighth grades.

"Apparently with all the emphasis on education improvement throughout the country, Pennsylvania is planning to be out front in making changes," Macek said.

Should a bill to set new graduation requirements which is currently in legislative committee in Harrisburg gain final passage, the state Board of Education curriculum requirements would have to equal or exceed those in the legislation, Macek said, however, that it is believed that should the Board of Education requirements pass, the proposed legislation on graduation requirements would never be brought to vote.

In other action, the board placed Melaney Dufalla, who was on furlough status, in the position of elementary remedial math teacher, a new position under the ECIA-I program. Antonette Hoak, a reading specialist, was transferred from elementary remedial math and reading to secondary remedial math and reading which is also under the ECIA-I program. Her elementary position will be posted as vacant.

In another personnel matter, the board approved a sabbatical leave request for educational purposes from Linda Cosgray, secondary physical education teacher. The sabbatical will be effective this month. Her position will also be posted as vacant.

Chamber Discusses Parking Issue

CARMICHAELS — A Carmichaels Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday produced lively discussions on subjects as varied as parking meter violations and the town's Halloween parade.

Since Carmichaels has had two meter persons working in the borough for several weeks, James Clovis, chairman of the chairman's complaint committee, asked for the opinion of members on the program so that he could report it to borough council.

Although some complaints about over-zealous enforcement had been reported from merchants, Chamber members present stated that most of the complaints had come from persons whose cars had been tagged.

Stephen McCann, Chamber vice president, said "a spirit of cooperation is needed in the community. Everything possible should be done to keep business coming into town and to make people happy to come in."

Chamber members then agreed that they had no opposition to the meter persons as long as tagging is done in a fair and reasonable manner. They agreed to go on record in favor of the "spirit of cooperation" that McCann had suggested.

Chairman Mitch Brozik reported that the Carmichaels Halloween parade will be held Sunday, Oct. 30, with the time tentatively set for 2 p.m. He asked for and was given approval to buy 300 treats in order to have one for each child taking part in the parade.

Prizes will be given in three categories — prettiest, ugliest and most original costumes — in three different age groups. The Chamber will also provide prizes of $5, $3 and $2 in each category for each age group.

Members stressed that although the parade and party were financed at one time by community donations, the Chamber will bear the entire expense this year.

Chairman Sara L. Ruth reported that she is soliciting donations for the Christmas lighting and children's Christmas treats. She said the town's Christmas tree will again be donated by John Vrona and that she and her committee are working on arrangements for the installation of Christmas street lighting.

Coral Brodak reported that a drawing of the Carmichaels town square has been approved for placing on 500 Christmas tree bulbs that will be on sale in November. The bulbs will be a limited-edition and will be produced each year with a new drawing of a local scene and sold as a fund raiser to support Chamber projects.

Jackets Win

FROSTBURG, Md. — All last week, Waynesburg College head football coach Bill Tornabene said the game against Frostburg State College would be a stiff challenge because the Bobcats are talented, despite their 1-4 record.

The challenge was real, all right, right down to the very last seconds. Frostburg scored 17 points in the second half against Waynesburg Saturday afternoon before losing, 24-17.

But up until the last few seconds, the game was up for grabs.

The Bobcats mounted a final drive late in the fourth quarter to the Waynesburg two-yard line. The drive failed when the Bobcats missed on a fourth-and-goal pass.

It was the second goal-line stand in the game for the Jackets, who improved their record to 5-1-1.

"We played pretty well at times like on the two goal-line stands, but we made mental errors at times on both offense and defense," said Tornabene.

"They're a good football team and we bent on defense against them but didn't break. Our concentration certainly picked up when it had to."

Waynesburg dominated the first half of the game, though, outscoring Frostburg by 10 points.

The Jackets scored first on a one-yard run by sophomore fullback Pete Long to take a 7-0 lead. Long, (6-1, 250-pounds) finished with 49 yards on 16 carries.

Kicker Mike Zeglen added a 39-yard field goal for Waynesburg in the second quarter for a 10-0 lead.

But it was tailback Otto Birkhead who broke things open for the Yellow Jackets.

Birkhead used his speed to put the Jackets on the board when the 5-8, 190-pound junior caught a pass from senior quarterback Tim Garry and raced 72 yards for a touchdown. The score gave the Jackets a 17-0 lead in the third quarter.

Birkhead finished with 58 yards rushing on 14 carries and accounted for 150 yards in the air.

"Otto didn't do too bad," said Tornabene. "He had over 50 yards rushing and had over 200 yards total rushing and receiving so that says something for him."

Garry passed well, hitting 15 of 37 passes for 296 yards but was intercepted four times by the Bobcats.

OTTO BIRKHEAD

"Offensively we had some things go wrong and I think it was a case of not concentrating at times," said Tornabene. "We did have some excellent plays; some were outstanding. Tim did throw the interceptions, but overall we had 390 total yards on offense so he did well at times."

Frostburg finally scored in the third quarter when kicker Mike Lipold drilled a 34-yard field goal.

The Bobcats scored again when freshman quarterback Mike Mohler threw a 22-yard touchdown pass to Frostburg's leading receiver, Kevin Theis.

Waynesburg's defense stuffed Frostburg later in the fourth quarter when junior linebacker Joe Persichetti intercepted a pass and raced 48 yards for a touchdown.

"Joe just had an outstanding game and the interception was really big for us," said Tornabene. "The defense was excited most of the day and just came through when they had to. One thing that helps us is that we really believe we're going to win."

Frostburg scored for the last time in the fourth quarter when Mohler, who completed nine of 39 passes for 225 yards, threw a 66-yard touchdown pass to Tony Walker.

FLAK JACKETS — Waynesburg plays Westminster this Saturday in what could be a battle for an NAIA post-season playoff appearance. Westminster (5-0) crushed Duquesne University, 56-0, Saturday and is ranked No. 3 nationally in the NAIA Top 20.

Six 4-H Members From County Win Awards In State Horse Show

WAYNESBURG — Six Greene County 4-H members won awards in the State 4-H Horse Show held Oct. 7-9 in the Farm Show complex in Harrisburg.

Kim Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Palmer of Waynesburg R.D.5, led the way with a first-place award in Saddle Seat Equitation, Junior Class, and a second place in Saddle Seat, Pleasure Horse. She is a member of the Waynesburg 4-H Horse and Pony Club.

Amy Willison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Willison of Waynesburg, took a second-place award in Saddle Seat Equitation, Senior.

Both Anne Zalar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zalar of Greensboro Star Route, and Michelle Sisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sisler of Mather, won fourth-place awards.

Miss Zalar took her two awards in Hunter Seat Equitation (over jumps), Junior, and in Working Hunter Pony. Miss Sisler won her's in Saddle Seat Equitation, Senior.

Eva Willison of 2 Sunrise Park, Waynesburg, was eighth in Grooming and Showmanship, Senior. Heather Cunningham of Pine Bank R.D.2 also competed in two events, Hunt Seat Equitation, Junior, and Hunter Under Saddle, Pony.

In the 4-H horse production classes, Valerie Taylor was fourth with her quarterhorse yearling filly.

Greene County Extension Agent Roger Smith pointed out that contest classes gave members an opportunity to display their skills in horsemanship and in properly grooming a horse for showing.

He said the state show climaxes the year for nearly 8,000 Pennsylvania 4-H members who are enrolled in horse and pony project work.

"The primary purposes of the state 4-H horse program are to develop riding skills, develop self-confidence by competing in shows, to give training in leadership and to teach the meaning of responsibility by having young people care for an animal," Smith said.

The educational youth program is sponsored by Pennsylvania State University's Cooperative Extension Service.

Harris Changes Roles

By John Barker, O-R Sports Staff

WAYNESBURG — He no longer wears sneakers and a tank top. Craig Harris has switched his game attire to a pair of spikes and shoulder pads.

For two years, the sparkplug guard played basketball on the hardwood floor of the Waynesburg College gym for head basketball coach Rudy Marisa. He was the sixth man on the Jackets' basketball team that went to the semi-final round of the NAIA District 18 playoffs in 1982-83.

But, after two years of basketball, he called it quits. He wanted to play football.

"In the spring he decided to play football and that's what he's done," said Marisa. "He played both sports at Uniontown (High School) and he made a decision."

So Harris moved across town to College Field and now plays football on the grass for head football coach Bill Tornabene.

The transition, so far, has been successful.

According to Tornabene, Harris is now an integral part of the Jackets' football team.

The 6-0, 185-pound safety leads the team with four interceptions, including one against Emory & Henry in Waynesburg's 24-7 win.

"Our kids, we feel, have a lot of character and we talk about turning the ball over and making the critical plays like Craig has," Tornabene said.

The interception, which came midway through the second quarter against the Wasps, was a one-handed grab just inside the sideline.

"After looking at last week's game film against Duquesne, we felt Steve Burchianti's over-the-shoulder interception was a once-in-a-lifetime catch. But today, the people who saw Craig's catch saw another one of those," said Tornabene. "It was an outstanding play; just phenomenal."

"You see those catches in the big game, probably two or three times a game, but it was really something."

Harris, a junior, also recovered one fumble, made eight solo tackles and four assists. His performance earned him Jacket of the Week honors on defense, his first of the season.

"That catch and his game overall are a testimony to his athletic ability," said Tornabene. "But he also has a good mental outlook because we moved him to strong safety this week and he didn't complain at all. He'll play wherever the team needs him."

Waynesburg's kicker, senior Mike Zeglen, was named the special teams player of the week after converting three extra points, kicking a 43-yard field goal and kicking two of three kickoffs into the endzone.

Junior tailback Otto Birkhead won the honors on offense by rushing for 96 yards on 10 carries and catching four passes for 80 yards against Emory & Henry.

All entrants for this year's race are attempting to raise $7.50 a mile in pledges.

Waynesburg Upsets Devils

WAYNESBURG — Terry Jackovic probably didn't know it at the time, but the extra-point kick he converted in the second quarter here Friday night was anything but routine.

Jackovic's successful conversion kick, which followed a one-yard run by teammate Ron Throckmorton, was the difference as Waynesburg High School upset Burgettstown, 7-6, in a Section 4-AA football game.

The key play in Waynesburg's touchdown drive came on a 61-yard run by Paul Weber, which carried to the Blue Devils' one-yard line. Two plays later, Throckmorton scored the Red Raiders' touchdown.

Burgettstown, now 3-4 overall and 1-3 in the league, had taken a 6-0 lead with 5:46 left to play in the second quarter on a three-yard run by Paul Rock. But the Devils tried a two-point conversion pass from quarterback Vito Bovalina to Forrest Kiger which failed.

The hard-luck Blue Devils also had two field goal tries in the game of 24 and 20-yards that failed.

The victory raises Waynesburg's overall record to 3-4 and 1-3 in league play.

Trojans 33, Rockets 15

CALIFORNIA — Randy Wadsworth rushed for 235 yards on 24 carries and scored four touchdowns to pace California High School's football team to a 33-12 win over Jeff-Morgan Friday night in Section 4-A action.

Wadsworth opened the Trojans' scoring on an 18-yard run in the first quarter.

California, now 2-4-1 overall and 2-3 in the section, padded its lead to 21-0 at halftime on two touchdowns by Wadsworth. He scored on a 15-yard run and a 16-yard pass from Bob Perez.

The Trojans, who gained 408 yards on offense, put two more touchdowns on the board in the second half on a 32-yard run by Wadsworth and an 11-yard run by Butch Gray.

Jeff-Morgan, which falls to 1-6 overall and 1-4 in the section, scored its two touchdowns in the fourth quarter on a two-yard run by Don Durant and a 10-yard pass from Brian Virgin to Dave Jamison.

Virgin completed 12 of 22 passes for 105 yards, while fullback Alan Hager rushed for 91 yards on 14 carries. The Rockets gained 218 yards on offense.

Maples 34, Runners 0

YORK RUN — Mapletown High School's football team smothered Fair-Georges 34-0 Friday night in Section 4-A action.

The Maples, 5-1 in the section and 6-1 overall, scored three second quarter touchdowns to take a 21-0 halftime lead.

Willie Byrne scored from three- and six-yards out and George Chory caught a 53-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Ed Pekar to account for the first-half scores.

Francis Gansor took a 28-yard TD pass from Pekar in the third quarter and Ty Scott went over from the one in the fourth quarter to finish out the scoring.

The Maples' Bill Watson gained 98 yards on 14 carries while Pekar hit eight of 14 passes for 107 yards. Jay Record completed eight of 20 passes for 115 yards for the Runners, 1-4 in the section and 2-5 overall.

Library Board Completed

WAYNESBURG — A new board of directors for the Greene County Library System was completed Thursday when the county commissioners, at their meeting, appointed Commissioner Richard Cowan to continue as the county representative.

In other action at their meeting, the commissioners agreed to assume half of the cost of the county fire school held in June, authorized payment to the Waynesburg Volunteer Fire Company for ambulance service provided to Curry Memorial Home residents who do not have funds to pay for the service, and approved a tentative 1984-85 budget for the county Children and Youth Services agency.

The county library system board is being revised to conform with a new constitution recently adopted by the boards of both the Bowly Public Library in Waynesburg and the Fleniken Public Library in Carmichaels. The document was created to meet standards of the State Library.

Up to this point, services of the county system have been supervised by a board made up of all nine members of the board of trustees of the Bowly Library, plus one representative from the Fleniken Library board and by Cowan as the commission representative.

The new board will consist of one member of the Bowly board (Diane Morton), one member of the Fleniken Board (Isaac Bell), one member appointed by the county commissioners (Cowan), one member at large elected by the Bowly board (Debbie Hildreth), and one member at large elected by the Fleniken board (Donald Berkebile). Provision is also made for the addition of one representative from any additional associate library which might join the system in the future.

One of the principal functions of the county system board of directors will be to do long-range planning involving the delivery of library outreach services and programs to all sections of the county.

Annual Simmental Show, Sale Set At Fairgrounds

WAYNESBURG — The annual Pennsylvania Simmental Association Show and Sale will be held Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Greene County Fairgrounds.

Judging of the 75 head of breeding cattle, as well as 35 to 40 head of club and feeder calves, will begin at 10 a.m. The sale, beginning with the breeding stock, will commence at 1 p.m.

Many of the animals will be polled and halter-broken and all will be available for public inspection in the cattle barn.

The Simmental breed originated in Switzerland and first came to the United States through Canada nearly 15 years ago. The breed is rapidly growing in popularity as cattlemen learn of their docility, favorable milking qualities and ability to raise outstanding calves. Simmentals also have proved invaluable as part of cross-breeding programs.

Among the cattle to be exhibited at this year's show and sale are several animals from area farms that have been pre-screened and hand-picked by the show's organizers.

Cattle from West Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Connecticut also are part of the program.

County Is Trying To Collect $5,500 In Forfeited Bonds

WAYNESBURG — Greene County officials took action Tuesday to collect $5,500 in bonds posted on behalf of the defendant in a criminal case dating back more than two years.

The bonds were ordered forfeited by the Greene County Court on Oct. 9, 1981, after Ronald Ray Herrington, 27, Morgantown, W.Va., failed to appear in court for his scheduled trial on charges of aggravated assault, criminal mischief and carrying a concealed weapon.

District Attorney Charles Morris said extradition proceedings against Herrington are still tied up in the West Virginia legal system.

The civil proceeding instituted Tuesday by County Solicitor A.J. Marion claims $1,830 from John Pompora of Mt. Morris R.D.1 and $3,210 from Larry Herrington of Morgantown.

Pompura posted surety for the $2,000 bail set when Herrington was arrested for carrying a concealed pistol while in the New Martinsville Supper Club, Mt. Morris, on Feb. 23, 1981. The $170 he posted as a cash percentage has already been forfeited, but the balance of $1,830 remains unpaid.

Larry Herrington posted surety for the $3,500 bail which was set when Donald Herrington was arrested on March 22, 1981, for an alleged assault on Leonard E. Craver of Mt. Morris R.D.1 and for driving his car over the lawn of the home of Harold E. Bolyard of Mt. Morris R.D.1, tearing out shrubbery and causing other damage. The cash percentage of $290 which was posted has been forfeited, but $3,210 remains due.

The district attorney said Gov. Jay Rockefeller of West Virginia authorized Herrington's extradition about a year ago and directed Monongalia County authorities to pick him up and make him available to Greene County authorities.

Herrington's attorney, however, appealed the governor's action to the Monongalia County Court, which sustained the extradition. That ruling, however, has been appealed to the West Virginia Supreme Court, where it is still pending.

Study Is Finished

DRY TAVERN — Jefferson Township has met a deadline set by the Department of Environmental Resources (DER) to begin a study of sewage problems in the Dry Tavern area.

Betz-Converse-Murdoch of Pittsburgh, township engineers, have completed preliminary work on the study and will probably present the study to the township supervisors on Thursday, Oct. 28.

Homeowners in the Dry Tavern area have been having on-lot sewage problems for years because of the clay soil.

Although the community is within the area of the North Ten Mile Sewer Authority, the DER excluded the area from authority responsibility in a recent order. DER officials ordered the Jefferson Township supervisors to handle the problem area separately.

The engineers will present the supervisors with several options on how to solve the sewage problems and it will be up to the supervisors to select which plan to use.

Contest Winners

Martha W. McMillen, Greene County coordinator for the Pennsylvania State Sunday School Association Regional Poster/Poetry Contest, is shown with local winners who are now eligible for the state contest next week in West Middlesex. Eric Moore, 11, son of George and Annette Tustin, of Waynesburg R.D.3, was a poster winner. Joni Rush, 15, daughter of James and Mardy Rush, of Waynesburg, was a winner in the poetry category.

50TH ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pearson of Jefferson R.D.1 will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary by renewing their marriage vows in a ceremony at the East Bethlehem Baptist Church in Deemston on Saturday, Oct. 29. The ceremony will be held at 2 p.m., with their pastor, the Rev. Charles C. Flaesch, officiating. They will be attended by their son, James Pearson of Jefferson, and their daughter, Mrs. David (Jean) Shriner of Harrisburg.

An open house, hosted by their son and daughter, will follow in the church reception area. Mrs. Pearson is the former Louise Ross, daughter of the late Tony and Jenny Ross. Mr. Pearson is a son of the late Columbus and Annie Pearson.
